GRAND RAPIDS TRIBUNE.

DRUMB & SUTOR, Publishers. Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, Wednesday, Nov. 7th, 1906. VOL. XXXIII, NO. 28

The cheapness of a shoe lies in the SATISFACTION of its wear, not in the price.

JAMES MEANS SHOE

You want a shoe to be easy and COMFORTABLE to your foot. Thats the kind we sell.

WE have several times called your attention to our line of Gentlemen's foot wear. The response has been generous thruout, and now we wish to say that our Fall and Winter stocks are ready for you. James Means and W. L. Douglas make good shoes; they are not the cheapest in dollars and cents, but they are the cheapest in wearing quality and satisfaction. Just try them once to prove it.

If you permit us to fit the next pair of shoes you need it will be the best compliment you ever paid your feet.

James Means' patent colt, blucher cut, single good-year welt, potatoe toe, a dress shoe $3.50

Means' box calf, blucher cut, double sole, military heel, critic toe, a shapely shoe at a common price..... $3.00

Mens' vici kid, single sole, correct last, cap toe, a shoe for wear $2.50

James Means' patent vici, blucher cut, hand sewed, single sole, Lipton toe, a handsome dress shoe..... $5.00

THE W. L. DOUGLAS SHOE.

By making good honest reliable footwear W. L. Douglas has grown from a very limited business to over 20,000 pair of shoes per day, surely they must be all all that is claimed for them.

W. L. Douglas shoe, Jersey calf, blucher perfecto, or bull dog toe, sewed sole, large eyelets, military heel, general business wear..... $3.50

W. L. Douglas gilt edge shoe, gun metal, freak toe, blucher shape, sewed double sole, common sense heel, for kid top, a dressy shoe, only..... $4.00

Mens patent vici, blucher cut, gilt edge, Lipton toe, single sole, fancy trimmed fox kid top medium heel, a perfect shoe in every detail..... $5.00

W. L. Douglas box calf blucher shoe, cap toe, double sewed sole, military heel, orthopedic cap toe, a good every day shoe..... $2.50

JOHNSON & HILL CO.

BONDS FREE WITH EVERY PURCHASE.

SPECIAL CLOAK SALE.

Saturday November 10

MR. A. A. Walker representing the Alexander Black & Company of Toledo, Ohio with their famous line of A B C Cloaks comes here direct from the East for his second cloak sale here this season with an entirely new and up-to-date line of cloaks in black and mixtures in all the newest styles in cut and cloth, at prices ranging lower than the same high quality of cloaks were ever priced at before, at $10.50, 12.50, 15.00, 17.50, 20.00 and up,

No such values as these have ever been offered you; especially in blacks the prevailing seller this season is this line unapproachable.

Every Lady in Wood County is cordially invited to attend this sale whether you care to purchase or not.

ALL CLOAKS DELIVERED at TIME of SALE

I shall at this time replenish my stock of cloaks so if it is impossible for you to come Saturday come as early after that as you can as my stock will then be complete in every detail at right prices.

J. T. SCHUMACKER.

Just received a new and large stock of furs; come and seem them.

GRAND RAPIDS LOST.

Merrill High School Football Team Wins From the Locals by a Score of 11 to 0.

In one of the most hotly contested football games ever played on the Merrill gridiron, the Merrill High school football team won, for the first time in three years, from the local High school team by a score of 11 to 0. The two teams were so evenly matched that neither side could make consistent gains, either side being held repeatedly and forced to punt. The game was truely a punting contest, Merrill having the best of it all the way thru.

Although outweighed by 10 lbs. to the man, the local boys put up such a fast and snappy game that the big husky fellows from Merrill had all they could handle. And in spite of the fact that Merrill had the more experienced team the locals out played them pound for pound, for time and time again they stopped the fierce onslaugh of beef, forcing Merrill to punt.

Grand Rapids won the toss and chose the kickoff. Promptly at 2:45, Arpin kicked to Merrill who was downed on their 30 yard line, and not being able to make the required 10 yards in three downs they punted to Grand Rapids. Then Grand Rapids advanced the ball 20 yards but was forced to punt, Merrill getting the ball in their own territory from where they advanced to Grand Rapids' 35 yard line trying a drop kick which fell short and rolled over a Grand Rapids goal, Chase falling on it. The ball was taken out and kicked by Grand Rapids from their 25 yard line. Merrill got the ball and this time they advanced down the field by short gains until they finally pushed their big fullback over for a touchdown, House kicking goal. Grand Rapids kicked to Merrill who advanced the ball a short distance, but being held they puntoct to Grand Rapids. The locals then tried their hardest to oven up the score, but the Merrill line was too much for them. The rest of the half was a punting duel, neither side being benefitted. Score at the end of the first half was 6 to 0 in Merrill's favor.

The second half was merely a repetition of the first half. Merril, kicked to Grand Rapids who advanced about 20 yards but, was forced to punt, Merrill getting the ball on their own 40 yard ine. From there they advanced it to Grand Rapids' 35 yard trying a drop kick which Grand Rapids blocked, getting the ball in the center of the field where they punted out of danger. This time Merrill took a brace, carrying the ball down the field by heavy mass plays which the locals could not stop, finally pushing their right half back over for the second touchdown. House failed to kick goal. Grand Rapids then kicked to Merrill who advanced the ball into Grand Rapids territory and was there held for downs. The rest of the game was another punting contest with neither side having the advantage. The second half closed with the ball in Grand Rapids possession in their own territory, Merrill winning by the score of 11 to 0.

The local boys were well satisfied with the showing that they made and cannot even explain how it was that the score was not larger than it was for the Merrill boys have the advantage of a paid coach from the University of Wisconsin besides the great advantage of 19 pounds of weight to the man. That with the fact that they are all experienced men, having played together for three years, makes them a hard foe to beat.

Couch Douner of Merrill when asked what he thought of the local boys, said that they had an exceptionally strong team for their weight and that he did not want them to be a bit better if Merrill were to play them again.

Following is the lineup:

Merrill		Grand Rapids
Phillips	le	G. Arpin
Olsen-Kennidy	lf	Heiser
C. Winnaman	lg	Damon
W. Winnaman	C	Smith
Simonson	rg	Hill
Elsen	rf	Vover
Hassett	re	Earley
House	qb	Chose
Schroeder	fb	H. Arpin
Heldt	lhb	Crowns
Weisner	rhb	Corcoran

Referee—Bellis. Umpire—Widmer. Time of halves, 25 and 20 minutes.

Mr. Hubbard is trying to arrange a return game with the Merrill High school football team to be played on the local grounds so as to give the public the benefit of another good game here this season.

Albee-LaBreche.

Miss Bessie Albee and George LaBreche, both of this city, were married on Monday at the Catholic parsonage, Rev. B. Hugenroth officiating. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present, the wedding being a very quiet affair.

The young people are well known in this city, the bride being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Albee, and a most estimable young lady, while the groom is a sign writer and artist of no mean ability, and both of them have a host of friends who will wish them a long life of happiness. The Tribune unites in extending congratulations.

Dance at Derrich's.

There will be a social dance at Derrich's hall on Saturday night. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Good music and a good time.

Another Runaway Couple.

A dream of love was rudely disturbed on Wednesday of last week on the west side, when the husband appeared on the scene and took the runaway wife home with him. The story is to the effect that a man by the name of Ed. Staley, and a woman purporting to be his wife, appeared in the city about four weeks ago and rented a house on the west side. The man went to work in the furniture factory and everything went along lovely for a time. Then last Wednesday when the young man returned to his home he found that the woman who was supposed to be his wife had left, and several of his creditors were on the scene with bills and good advice. He settled the bill and made his escape as rapidly as the circumstances would permit.

It seems that during the day the husband of the woman, who is a farmer in the vicinity of Mt. Horeb, appeared on the scene and after a short talk with his wife the woman consented to go back home with him, and she and her husband left for their old home without notifying the young man of their intentions.

The story told by the husband was that he operated a large farm and that he kept three hired men and that his wife became enamored of Staley and ran away with him, leaving two small children to the care of their father. The man stated that it was on account of the children that he had followed his wife with the determination to take her home, as otherwise she might have gone her way.

Child Badly Burned.

The year old boy of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Gazeley was quite badly burned on Wednesday last, and only for the quick work of Mrs. Gazeley in extinguishing the fire the little one would probably have burned to death.

At the time of the accident the boy was playing about the floor in the dining room and altho nobody was in the room at the time it is supposed that the little fellow stuck a piece of paper into the front of the stove, and after it had become lighted, pulled it out onto his clothes, setting them afire. Mrs. Gazeley heard the boy cry out and hurrying into the room wrapped her skirt about the child and smothered the flames. As it was the little fellow was burned about the chest and one arm and the face, but the fire was put out so quickly that his life was saved, which would not have been the case had a few seconds more elapsed. It was a very narrow escape and Mr. and Mrs. Gazeley are glad that they escaped as fortunately as they did.

Sent to the Asylum.

Miss Nellie Bell, who has been living on the east side on Fourth street for a number of years past, was examined as to her sanity before Judge Conway on Saturday and adjudged insane, and the same day she was sent to the northern hospital for the insane at Oshkosh. The woman has been more or less weak minded or insane for a number of years past, and has been supported by a cousin who resided at Almond, but in times past her mental abberation has been of such a mild character that she has been allowed to live by herself and was a most peaceably inclined person. Of late however, she was apparently growing worse and it was thought by the neighbors that the best thing that could be done for her was to have her placed where she could receive proper medical attention, which has been done.

Another Bargain.

—We have just purchased the Crance farm of 323 acres one mile south of the city of Grand Rapids. Hundred acres cultivated; 75 acres timbered; 1200 rods wire fence; 2 story house 24x30; barns, sheds and spring creek with brook trout; school; good neighbors; daily mail; and good main roads. Land is level partly seeded with tame hay, must be sold at once. Will sell in one tract or in lots of 15 acres and up to suit buyer. Five years time, payable "on or before." Now is your last chance to get a piece of good real estate at a bargain near our prosperous manufacturing city of 6500 people.

Geo. N. Wood
Grand Rapids, Wis.

Had a Bad Accident.

Nic Marceau, who runs a butcher shop at Rudolph, met with a severe accident on Friday afternoon which will lay him up for some time.

Mr. Marceau was assisting James Case at the latter's slaughter house in the outskirts of the city, and was engaged in skinning a beef carcass when his hand slipped and the butcher knife struck him across the left wrist, cutting right into the joint, severing the cords and blood vessels.

His arm was bound up tightly and he was brought to this city where the wound was dressed and it is expected that he will be able to use the hand again when the wound is healed.

Elections Outside.

The state republican ticket is elected by about 75000 majority, according to figures now in, altho the returns are incomplete at this time.

McGovern was elected in Milwaukee over Bobb by a majority that is estimated at about 2000.

Congressman Babcock of the third district was defeated by Murphy, Democrat. Congressman Weise was re-elected giving Wisconsin two members in Congress.

John Stamm is quite sick at his home on the east side, his trouble being cancer of the stomach.

WELCH IS ELECTED.

Democrats Win Out on One Man in Wood County Against Overwhelming Odds.

The election held yesterday in Wood county put one democrat into office, the person being Julius Welch, who was running for sheriff. The remainder of the republican ticket was elected and the head of the ticket went republican by about one thousand.

At this writing, Wednesday morning, the returns are not complete, as two precincts are missing entirely, while in other places where the vote was sent in, one or two names would be omitted. However the general result can be told with moderate accuracy. So far as received the totals are as follows:

Davidson for governor received 2276 and Aylward 1370, giving Davidson a majority of 906. This is the complete returns in the county with the exception of three precincts.

Connor received 2325 and Benskt 1342 for lieutenant governor, giving Connor a majority of 983. This is the entire county with the exception of three precincts.

For congressman Morse received 2035 and Conway 1739, giving Morse a majority in the county of 296. These returns are also almost complete.

Brazeau received 2095 and Rawson 1247 in the county, giving a majority of 848.

Goldsworthy received 2059 and Pomainville 1936, making Goldsworthy's majority 123. Only two precincts are missing in these returns for member of assembly.

Davis received 2228 and Hahn 1302, giving Davis a majority of 926. Several precincts are missing on this count, which accounts for the apparant small vote.

For county treasurer Bean received 2158 and Reusch 1292, making Bean's majority 866, with several precincts still to hear from.

For sheriff Brown received 1661 and Welch the democratic candidate received 2208, giving Welch a majority of 544, with several precincts to hear from.

For clerk of court Bover received 2200 and Colvin 1333, giving Bover a majority of 867, with nine precincts to hear from.

For district attorney Andrews received 1947 and Wheelan received 1597, giving Andrews a majority of 350, with several precincts yet to hear from.

For register of deeds Powell received 1931 and Boles 1591, giving Powell a majority of 340. There are also several precincts not heard from in this vote.

Taken altogether the vote in the county is a most remarkable one, varying from over nine hundred on one side to more than five hundred the other way, demonstrating that enough of the people of the county understand how to split a ticket so that any man may be defeated or elected.

Are Putting in Gas.

Joseph Cohen is having an "F. P." gas plant installed in his store, the same being done by W. H. Carey. John E. Daly will also have his drug store lighted with gas in the near future, having engaged one of the same systems.

Murderer Caught at Wausau.

Leonard L. Leopold, charged with being one of the men who murdered Margaret Leslie, an actress, in the Grand Palace hotel, Chicago, on the night of Oct. 18, was arrested by the Wausau police Thursday evening. Officers have been on the look out for him in all parts of the country. He has relatives living at Wausau, but so far as known his presence in the city was unknown to them up to the time of his arrest. He arrived in Wausau the first of the week and registered at Hotel Northern under the name of George Manley, Montello. At Wausau he drank quite heavily and it was while intoxicated that he made the remark which led to his arrest. At first he was arrested for putting slugs into a slot machine but it was found that he could not be held on this charge and he was released, his arrest following later on the more serious one.

The Leslie woman was murdered by Howard E. Nicholas and Leopold and after she was dead the men took from her person diamonds to the value of $2,000. Howard was arrested soon after the murder and made a full confession, claiming, however, that it was Leopold who strangled and chloroformed the woman. At Wausau Leopold said it was Nicholas who applied the chloroform.

After Leopold's arrest he said he had had quite an exciting experience since leaving Chicago. "You know," he said, "that fellow they caught in Iowa. They knew I was on the train and a couple of officers boarded it and took a man who sat just back of me, mistaking him for the man who was wanted." When arrested Leopold had only $1.20 in his pockets. He is a drug clerk, having graduated from the pharmacy department of the Illinois university.

Showing Under Difficulties.

The members of the Earl Drake company that appeared at the Methodist church on Wednesday evening was badly handicapped in their performance. Their baggage, which was to have come here with them, got sidetracked somewhere, and the consequence was that they had neither music nor stage clothes for the occasion. They did the best they could under the circumstances, and there is no doubt but what they felt the need of their property even more than the audience. The four artists that formed the company rendered some very nice selections notwithstanding the drawbacks they had to contend with.

William Hawley Smith, the next number on the course of Popular entertainments at the Methodist church Friday, Nov. 16 at 8 o'clock. Mr. Smith was associated with "Bill" Nye whom he most ably assisted during the whole of the last and most brilliant season of America's greatest humorist. In this position Mr. Smith had the delicate and difficult task of sustaining the role of James Whitcomb Riley. The verdict of the public was that the "Nye Smith combination" was one of the best and most satisfactory ever made.

The plat of the floor will be at Daly's Drug store next Saturday at 9 a. m. Reserve your seats. Nobody should fail to hear such a noted orator and artist as Wm. Hawley Smith.

Miss Cora Christenson of Necedah was the guest of Miss Ida Grignon over Sunday.

FORM NEW COMPANY

Local Capitalists and Outsiders Will Engage in Making Furniture Next Year.

During the past week the arrangements have been about completed by which a new company will be organized in this city for the manufacture of furniture in this city. The details of the concern have not been settled as yet according to the projectors, but the plans are to organize a company with a capital of about $40,000 which will engage in the manufacture of a medium priced dining room suite.

George W. Brown, who has charge of one of the floors in the Oberbeck factory, will be president and manager of the new company and W. B. Wright of Pittsburg, Pa., will be secretary. Mr. Brown has been in this city for some time past, during which time he has been looking over the situation with the view to establishing such a concern, and Mr. Wright was here several days last week for the same purpose. The latter gentleman was favorably impressed with the prospects and will probably be one of the heavy stockholders of the concern.

Among those who are interested in the enterprise are E. P. Arpin, F. J. Wood and Taylor A. Scott, and there will probably be others in on the deal when the company is organized. The property of the Dexter Manufacturing Co was purchased by local people and it is the intention to use a portion of the machinery in the new factory.

The projectors have not settled upon a site for the new plant as yet, but as it is not the intention to commence building until next spring they have plenty of time to finish the details of the business before they commence on the actual work. Such a company will no doubt prove of benefit to the city as the concern will employ a number of men, altho the exact amount cannot be stated at the present time.

City Club Banquet.

The members of the City club, to the number of thirty-five, assembled at their rooms on Wednesday evening and indulged in a Hallowe'en dinner. T. A. Taylor had charge of affairs and it would be impossible to attempt to describe the layout that had been prepared for the occasion. There are not many organizations in the country that have such a jewel as Mr. Taylor to cater to their wants, the only drawback being that there are not more occasions during the year when it is necessary to indulge in a spread of this sort.

Will Hold Skat Tournament.

A skat tournament will be held at G. W. Mason's place on Thursday evening, November 8th, on which occasion all of those who have become addicted to this popular view are invited to be present and take part in the affair. It will be a Wood County event, and it is expected that there will be a number present from surrounding towns to participate.

J. T. Schumacher has made a very fortunate purchase of a traveling man's line of furs consisting of scarfs and collarettes in all known kinds of furs, and he will have a sale of them on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 9 and 10 at less than wholesale prices.

KRUGER & WARNER

SELLERS OF THE FINEST OF CLOTHING ready to wear.

Copyright 1906
The House of Kuppenheimer

Invite you to call and inspect the most complete line of HIGH GRADE CLOTHES shown in these parts.

It will be a pleasure for you, and also for us to show the line even if you don't purchase, we want to remove any prejudice you may have against ready-to wear clothes and if you come to us willing to learn regarding the point of the greatest importance in correct clothes we feel that you will go away a wiser man and with less prejudice in your mind than when you came, regarding the ready-to-wear clothes. You will observe on close inspection that the only difference between the high grade clothes we sell and custom clothes is the price. We save you money and give you more style.

See us about that Winter Suit or Overcoat.

RESPECTFULLY YOURS,

KRUGER & WARNER

3rd Door from Post Office. Grand Rapids, Wis.

BUILDING UP SAN FRANCISCO

Citizens Make Marvelous Progress in the Work of Restoration.

New Buildings, Finer Than Those Destroyed by the Earthquake and Fire, Going Up on Every Side—"City Beautiful" a Matter of Time.

San Francisco—One of the world's great sights is San Francisco. Cities have been ruined and ashes have covered them, but never before modern conditions. A city ruined by earthquake and fire in the old days meant that the time of recovery would equal the age of the city up to the hour of its destruction. In this age the very evidences of destruction are turned into agencies of repair and improvement. Fire has rarely failed to bring about better conditions in a city, and San Francisco is no exception to the rule. It is not the improvement of the city that will make them marvel, however, as much as the rapidity with which the work will be accomplished.

The earthquake of April 18 caused a few million dollars' damage; possibly $10,000,000 would cover that loss. The fire, which had full play after the quake had broken the water mains, burned over 514 squares, or 2,500 acres, or four square miles, the total loss being estimated at $500,000,000. On this property there was insurance amounting to about $215,000,000. Of this insurance about $150,000,000 had been paid in cash to policyholders up to September 15.

The fire, as everybody knows, destroyed the business district of San Francisco, but left the shipping and residence districts intact. Commerce continued without interruption, except such incidental disturbances as the location of new storage places and the accumulation of freight. Thousands of people left the city immediately after the disaster, but competent authorities estimate that 95 per cent. of these refugees have returned. Their homes being intact, they find that San Francisco is the place for them, after all, and they are straining to rebuild the city, either with their capital or their labor.

Bringing Order from Chaos.

When the fire died down on April 21, the people of San Francisco were confronted with mighty problems, some of them demanding instant solution. As this article deals with the San Francisco of the future and not of the past, it is not necessary to go into details regarding the remarkable ability shown by the committee of fifty in providing for the wants of the hungry and shelterless, writes Ira E. Bennett, in the New York Press. That is a story by itself, and a most interesting and inspiring one. Another pressing problem, however, was that of clearing the streets in order that communication might be restored. Thirty-six miles of streets were piled high with debris. Within five months this enormous mass of material has been removed, trolley wires have been strung, street car traffic reestablished and a system of debris removal inaugurated which disposes of 100 carloads a day. If more labor were to be had the work would go much faster.

Admission day was celebrated this year on Monday, September 10. I saw the city on that day for the first time since the disaster. The scene was appalling. With the exception of a worker here and there, the destroyed district was destitute of laboring men. Ruins, ruins in every direction, as far as the eye could see; millions of tons of bricks and mortar piled up in half destroyed basements; a strong breeze blowing dust and ashes everywhere; writhing steel beams and crumbling granite marking the sites of once imposing buildings, and the very thought of bringing order out of chaos sufficient to stagger the imagination.

On the next day a far different picture was presented. In every basement was a gang of workmen. They were struggling with girders, piled brick, sifted good material from refuse, handled pick and shovel, mixed mortar and loaded wagons with debris. Thousands of busy hands were to be seen down every street. Thousands of teams went about on the simultaneous task of removal and reconstruction.

Little Loss of Population.

To one familiar with the crowds that made Market street and the ferries famous, there does not appear to be any diminution of population. The car system is wholly inadequate, although herculean efforts have been made to establish communication. The ferries are as crowded as ever. Theaters are filled to suffocation. The St. Francis hotel put up a temporary structure in Union square, and it is turning away a hundred guests daily. Other hotels are filled and turning people away. It requires only a visit to San Francisco to disprove the report that the city has lost half its population.

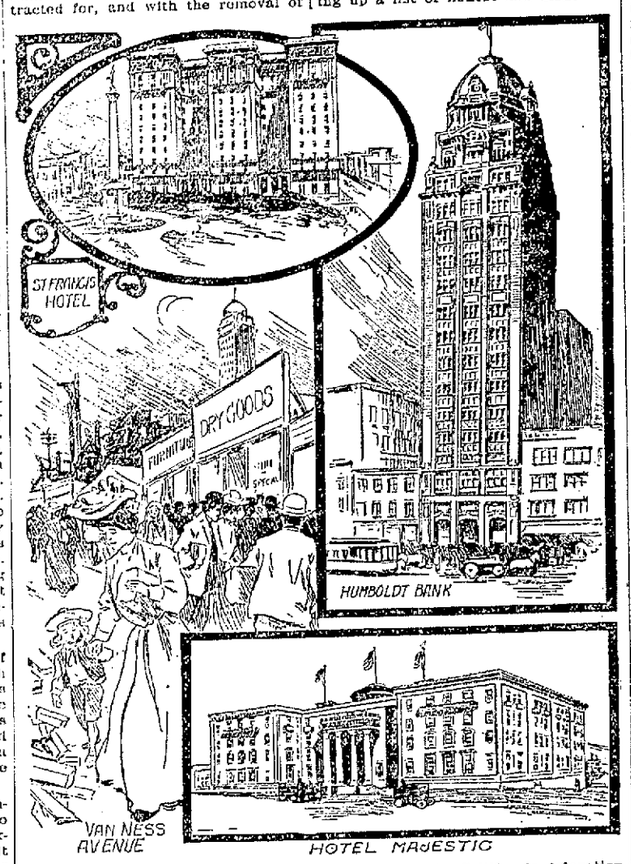

The quake shook the life out of some old firms and hastened the birth of many new ones. Dozens of stores bear the names of men who were clerks before April 18. Merchants from other cities have stepped in and established houses here. Competition is keen, and money appears to be more plentiful than for many years.

The scarcity of skilled and unskilled labor is the chief drawback to rapid construction. Wages are exorbitantly high, but this is the fault of contractors and proprietors rather than of the labor unions. The plumbers and stationary engineers thought they saw a chance to get rich quick, and raised their scale, but were not sustained by the labor council, which is an amalgamation of all the unions, and the old wages were restored. But the owners of buildings which were nearing completion at the time of the disaster are feverish in their anxiety to complete their buildings and obtain famine rentals, and their tactics in raising the wages of workingmen have caused labor prices to soar. On this emergency work plasterers are getting $9 to $11 a day; bricklayers, $10 a day; carpenters, $7 and $8; stonemasons, $8 to $10, and other skilled labor in proportion. San Francisco is a paradise for a workingman.

Unskilled Labor in Demand.

Unskilled labor is hard to find. The city needs 20,000 skilled men and could employ 30,000 unskilled laborers. Some of the shrewder unskilled men have clubbed together and formed little companies of their own. They take a contract to remove debris for a price, and perform the work during the noon hour and in the night. As unskilled labor is getting $4 a day, these willing workers who put in extra time are getting more money than they ever saw before. In much of the burnt district work is carried on by electric light.

Will San Francisco ever be rebuilt? Is the question asked by people in the east. The answer is that San Francisco is now being rebuilt. It is not a question of the distant future. The process is visible to the naked eye. Every steel building that was under construction at the time of the disaster is being rushed to completion. Other buildings have been contracted for, and with the removal of debris and the arrival of materials the work will proceed. Nothing could be more absurd than to doubt the recovery of San Francisco from its great misfortune, in the face of the work that is actually in progress. The contract for the reconstruction of the Palace hotel on its old site, on a grander scale than ever, has been let. The St. Francis is now completing its great steel annex. Business houses are arranging to build newer and stronger structures than those which succumbed to the conflagration of April 18 to 21. The city will not be rebuilt in a day, or a year, but it will go up with a remarkable quickness.

"City Beautiful" Must Wait.

There has been much talk of a "city beautiful," with winding avenues about the hills, broad boulevards, park extensions, and so on. It was thought that with the buildings leveled to the ground the opportunity was open for the construction of a model modern city, uniting utility and beauty to a degree never yet approached in America. A little study of the situation shows that this is nothing but a dream. San Francisco people have enough on their hands in the way of getting into business again, in any shape, without tackling the great task of forming a city on aesthetic lines. Here and there a street may be widened and a little park established, but in the main there will be no attempt to reform the plans upon which the city was built.

The railroads terminating at San Francisco are among the most potent forces in rebuilding the city. They saved San Francisco from panic and possible greater disaster during the time of stress by carrying away thousands of people, free of charge, and bringing in emergency supplies.

After the crisis the railroads turned in and assisted in the removal of debris. Temporary tracks were laid and rehabilitation was immensely assisted. Merchants ordered big stocks of goods from the east, and the railroads rushed the stuff to San Francisco. There was a time, indeed, when the stuff piled up to such an extent as to paralyze the operation of the roads. Five thousand cars of freight were congested at San Francisco and Oakland. By heroic efforts the lingering freight was disposed of and a serious situation relieved. Now that the railroads are able to look after their own business, they are expending great sums in permanent improvement, which will facilitate the reconstruction of the city.

Insurance Situation Hurts.

The insurance situation at San Francisco is exasperating to those who happened to have policies in shaky or dishonest companies, but on the whole the lapses of these companies have not affected the city as seriously as early reports indicated. Nearly one-half of all losses has been paid. Considering the fact that insurance records, as well as everything else, went up in smoke, this is a fairly good showing for five months. Payments are being made through the banks at the rate of nearly $1,000,000 a day. The money goes into circulation for the most part, and the resulting activity overshadows the fact that hundreds of other policy holders are waiting for a settlement.

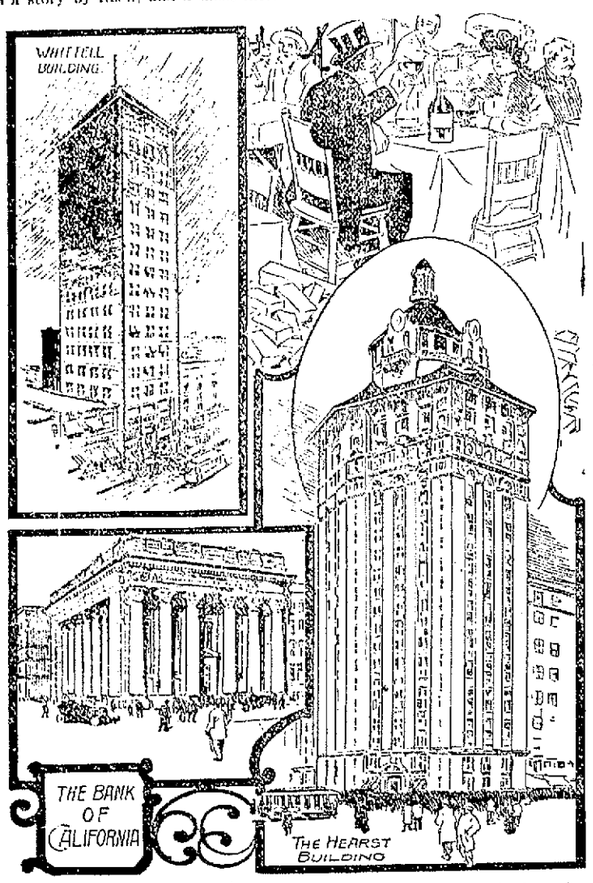

The people of San Francisco personally and through their commercial organizations, are watching the insurance companies with a jealous eye. Companies that come to the front with money are reaping a harvest of new business, while those which fought for time or actually repudiated their obligations in whole or in part will be made to smart for it.

The chamber of commerce is making up a list of honest and dishonest companies. The California delegation in congress will have something to say on the subject next winter. The names of defaulting companies are to be sent broadcast through the world, and the opinion is universal in San Francisco that in the long run the defaulting companies will discover that they played a losing game when they defrauded policy holders of their rights.

Insurance litigation promises to become great. Policy holders who have money enough to fight are not slow in invoking the aid of the courts. One or two important cases already have been decided, but the critical question is yet to be passed upon. This question is as to the part played by the earthquake in causing fire losses. Policies are variously worded, but in the main they provide that payment shall not be made if the loss is caused "directly or indirectly" by earthquake or other act of God. Of course, if there had been no earthquake there would have been no fire, but the man whose house was consumed three days after the quake does not think the indirect cause is quite close enough to the effect to justify the insurance companies in repudiating all liability.

Show True American Grit.

During the disaster the good humor and self-possession of San Franciscans astonished the world. Now, in the long tug of disposing of the ashes and rebuilding the city, this good humor never deserts them, and they are as confident as though they were beginning a city for the first time. There is inspiration in numbers, comfort in common trouble, and a spirit of brotherhood that has not deserted them, although it is not as marked as it was during times of danger. The love of good cheer in the way of eating, drinking and listening to music is as strong as ever. The climax is a continual tonic, and invites to hard work. The very size of their disaster seems to nerve the San Franciscans to hasten the reconstruction of the new city. They come very near to boasting when they show their ruins, and some of them display a remarkably fresh memory of history by comparing their disaster with the fate of other cities that have perished by earthquake and fire, and risen again. According to these men, who cite history while making it, the only bonfire that excelled San Francisco's was that which consumed Rome in Nero's time. The great fires of London, Boston, Chicago and Baltimore were mere hints of what a real conflagration can do. So say these dusty, smiling, tireless San Franciscans, who revel in the advertising that their city has obtained. Their belief in the speedy reconstruction of the city is absolute, and they are backing their belief with money and energy that balks at nothing.

ON FASHION'S HIGHWAY

By FRANCES RIVERS

(Copyright, 1906, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

Toward five o'clock, on a supremely hot July day, Mr. Godfrey Boyne strolled leisurely along the gravel path of the promenade.

He loitered, seemingly at random, making his way slowly between groups of animated people, stopping for no reason, and remained idly agaze over the heads of the crowd on fashion's highway.

At any rate, he thought, applying this recollection as healing unction to the scratches imprinted on his vanity by the acid of such general forgetfulness, Audrey has remembered; and he, smiling, recalled the facility with which intimacy with Lady Annandale had been resumed; the friendly informality with which she had reentered into relations with him; the bewildering immensity of her social influence; the celebrity which, at first as the wife, then as the widow, of a viscount, notorious in career and memory for his many vices, she had acquired.

He had taken himself to Fashion's highway, the purpose of joining Lady Annandale being less distinct in his thoughts than the wish to see her. So immersed was he in reflection that he failed to notice that a victoria had stopped opposite to him. Suddenly a footman addressed him:

"I beg your pardon, sir," said he, "but her ladyship sent me to say that she wishes to speak to you."

Godfrey turned; Lady Annandale was stepping from the carriage.

"You can go home," said she to the footman.

"Very good, my lady."

Then she gave to Godfrey her hand.

"This place—" she glanced round at the radiant prospect—"seems scarcely the spot suited to serious discussion. We might, perhaps, over there."

So, side by side, Lady Annandale and Mr. Godfrey Boyne walked across the soft, green turf and established themselves upon chairs under the sweet-scented lime trees, whose sheltering boughs masked them from observation.

He beamed amiably round.

"I have brought you here, that you may continue your last night's interrupted account of the woman with whom you were in love," said she.

"Was in love? It's absurd to use the past tense. I am in love with her. Love is not a state from which you can recover as from an epidemic. I am, of course, speaking of the real thing."

"I see; something other than flirtation."

"Flirtation is but the froth of love."

Lady Annandale laughed. "Passion! does your real thing include that?"

"Passion is love's drogs, besides being Cupid's pseudonym for the work he is ashamed to acknowledge."

"I had no idea I was speaking to an expert; but how, may I ask, did you come to study the subject so profoundly?"

"In Ceylon, beyond love's influence, I devoted some attention to the science."

She raised her eyebrows.

"Is that all you learned?"

"That, and to make money."

"To make money?"

"Certainly. I'm a wealthy tea-planter of Ceylon."

"A wealthy tea-planter, did you say? But to return to your love," she suggested.

"You can't return to a thing you've never parted from, can you?"

"Then you know more of the subject?"

"A great deal more."

"How much?"

"Here it is. I see a boy and girl, the joyful intimacy of their childhood deepening into the poetry of youth—"

"And, of course, the girl knows that the boy loves her?"

"Naturally; since not an hour of the day passes but he tells her so."

"Tells her? Surely not."

"By every means in his power, except his tongue. He doesn't put it into words, because he knows that to do so would be hopeless if she doesn't understand without that."

"Don't you think she might make a mistake if he says nothing?"

"But she must know that he dreams his dream of the future, in which, having made a nest and lined it softly with down, he will come to her and say: 'It awaits you.' Then he hopes that, with the gracious spirit manifest in all her bearing, the girl, with love and tenderness shining from her eyes, would, putting her hand in his, say: 'I am ready.'"

"Your vision is charming, idyllic; but how about the girl and her dreary days of waiting, for I suppose the boy to have gone off into the world?"

"He had to go into it to fill his man's part."

"Before going he should have told her in words of his love."

"You really think that his doing so would have made any difference—when all that he was then in a position to ask was faithfulness?"

Lady Annandale sighed.

"This particular girl was probably brought up to marry, as, had she been a boy, she would have been brought up to some profession. In your vision, what became of her?"

"She fulfilled what I see you consider to have been her destiny."

"Marriage?"

"Yes; she married a peer."

"And was happy ever after, according to the formula?"

"I suppose so. Isn't every woman happy who achieves rank and is an acknowledged beauty?"

"And the boy?"

"Woke from rosy dreams in the sunlight to find that in the time of his slumbering the sky had become overcast."

"And blamed the girl for a fault that was his own?"

"No; he didn't blame her, but for a time he was heartbroken."

"Did he lose sight of her altogether?"

"Not altogether; for when, in the fullness of time, she was again free, he came back to her."

"And he found her the same?"

"This woman's beauty is a fact of an astonishing order, and she is ten times more lovely even than she was."

"Her nature. Has that deteriorated?" Lady Annandale spoke earnestly; her face was grave and sad.

"To test that is very simple."

"Really?"

"I have but to say to her: 'Marry me, and let us together renew the simplicity of our youth.' The nest—you remember that I spoke of a nest—?"

She bowed her head.

"Is fairly lined. Will you with it accept my heart and name?"

Lady Annandale's arms of aggression, even of defense, were possibly close at hand, but she made no attempt to reach them, and was not maladroit in thus leaving them untouched; for this harmlessness of attitude on her part induced Godfrey to lay aside his buckler of suspicion, and in reply to her "Then this visit of yours is, I take it, a tribute—a small tribute to youthful sentiment, to a dead love?" he, as lightly rejoined:

"By no means. Love, amongst the other attributes which I have enumerated, resembles a sachet, with the scent of which we are so familiar that it is advisable sometimes to shake it up anew."

"I Couldn't Go," She Interrupted.

Then, seriously, he added: "Oh, my dearest, we have lost ten years!"

"You would wish to take me to Ceylon?"

He saw the pupils of her eyes contract at the unattractiveness of the suggestion.

"Of course, if—"

If Godfrey had come to her with the intention she believed, or even if this intention had been caused by the spell of proximity, he must be no longer mistaken in her meaning. "I couldn't go," she interrupted.

"Then we will leave Ceylon to take care of itself," he said, carelessly, taking no more notice of her words than if she had not said them.

"You seriously mean that?"

"I was never more serious in my life. I will abandon that nest and make another over here."

"Then we come to the second count—your heart. Are you quite, quite sure that it is negotiable flesh, not in a battered condition?"

"I swear—"

"You needn't; for, oddly enough, I believe you."

"You are the only woman I have ever cared for."

"Does not every man tell every woman that?" She looked into his eyes and laughed.

Then, across this chasm Lady Annandale lightly threw a plank, accomplishing with a woman's dexterity, more in one moment than Godfrey had been able to do in weeks of arduous work.

Vaguely, in a tremor of unformulated hope, Godfrey saw that that which had appeared to him as the end might really be but the beginning.

"In all the phrases, creeds, commonplaces which you have said of love, you have omitted to enumerate the only attributes that woman recognizes," said she, and paused to beg him, by a little Sphinx-like smile, to pay attention to her words.

"These are its power of over-riding every obstacle; of conferring upon woman a title higher than that of queen."

"Go on, please, go on," he stammered.

She looked straight into his eyes.

"You are dense and stupid if you cannot understand how dear to some women may be the name of 'wife.'"

Teeth the First Weapon.

Even Now Jaws Are Chief Means of Defense Among Apes.

Among all old world apes the teeth are the chief weapons for defense against natural foes and for combats for mates or tribal supremacy. The canines are in most cases enormously developed, insomuch that ill informed naturalists have suggested that a near relationship must exist between the primates and the carnivora. As a matter of fact, these formidable teeth have nothing to do with alimentation, but are as purely weapons of war as are the bayonet and the Maxim gun. In practically every emergency demanding unusual energy, obstinacy and courage they come into play.

In every conflict with the world, the flesh and the devil—as such things are understood in pitchecoid society—the temporal and masseter muscles are the chief arbiters of war. To become a great and powerful anthropoid it is absolutely and brutally necessary to have a large and strong jaw, to give them attachment to the teeth and good leverage to the muscles. That for an immense epoch our prehuman ancestors achieved success in life in like manner is as clear as the print of "Maga" to those who have learned to read nature's handwriting.

Since those days of true Arcadian simplicity our life has become bewilderingly complex and our methods for settling social difficulties have changed generally for the better. But here, as in so many other instances, the habits of a past age have left an indelible impress on the nervous system.—Blackwood's Magazine.

Quite So.

"I never met a man so happy as he is when he's looking for work."

"You surprise me. I always considered him lazy—".

"That's what I mean. When he's looking for work, of course, he hasn't any."

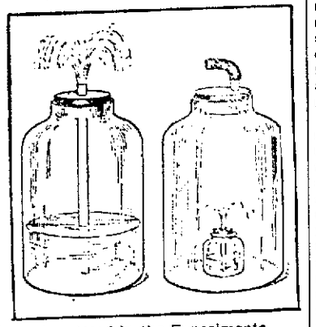

FOUNTAIN IN A BOTTLE.

Pretty Experiments Which Can Be Tried by Boy or Girl.

A large glass bottle, or jar, with a rubber stopper having a hole in it, is the simple foundation for your fountain. You will need besides, a glass tube with a jet at one end, and a piece of rubber tubing about two inches long.

When you have prepared your materials, place the stopper in the jar, and insert in the hole the glass tube, with the jet inside the jar. To the end of the glass tube that is outside fit the rubber tubing.

Now exhaust your lungs and, placing the other end of the rubber tubing in your mouth, suck out the air from the jar. When you have taken a deep breath, pinch the rubber tube so that no air will return to the jar, and again exhaust your lungs and repeat the process of drawing the air from the jar.

Jars Used in the Experiments.

Now, still pinching the rubber tube, or applying a pinchcock, turn the jar upside down and place the end of the rubber tube in a glass of water. When you release the tube the water will spurt up through the jet and your fountain will play in the jar. It is the outside pressure on the water in the glass that forces the spray into the vacuum of the bottle.

Instead of exhausting the air from the jar, here is a way to produce the fountain outside of it, says People's Home Journal. Reverse the glass tube so that the jet will be outside and the other end near the bottom of the jar. Pour water into the jar until it is about two-thirds higher than the end of the tube in the jar. Fit the rubber tubing over the jet and blow into the jar, thus condensing the air. Pinch the tube while you again fill the lungs and blow again into the jar. Now quickly pull the tubing from the jet, and the water will spurt out, producing a fountain. This time it is the pressure of the condensed air inside the jar that forces the water out.

In the same jar place a vaseline bottle with a piece of thin rubber cloth stretched over the mouth, and tied in place. Now, instead of the long glass tube, use a smaller one, and if you will exhaust the air from the jar as you did in the first fountain experiment the rubber will rise like a balloon, because the air in the small bottle will try to get out to fill the vacuum you have produced.

Now, if you will blow into the rubber tube, as you did in the other fountain experiment, the rubber will bulge downward into the small bottle, condensing the air there. By fitting the vaseline bottle as you did the outer one, with a glass jet, and placing water in it, and then exhausting the air from the outer jar, you will produce a miniature fountain in the jar from the smaller bottle.

THE GARDEN PIRATES.

A pirate's life is the life for me!
My mates are brave and bold;
Seven, and six, and five are we,
Or eighteen years all told.

Hard-a-lee with the Susan, boys!
Up anchor! Hard-a-lee!

A prize for the garden pirates, boys—
A vessel in sight I see!
Give chase o'er the deep, green garden, boys,
We'll capture her safe and sound!
But alack-a-day, and a-well-away,
The Susan has gone aground!
—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Desperate Girl

With a gesture of despair she laid down her ice cream soda spoon.

"I have decided," she said, in a hollow voice, "to renounce this vain and frivolous life forever. I am going out as a missionary to equatorial Africa."

"What has led you to this desperate resolve?"

"Papa won't give me an automobile for my birthday."

Diabolic Throttle.

Knicker—So the hero was gagged at the critical moment?

Bocker—Yes; how could he call for help when he was eating corn on the cob?—N. Y. Sun.

Worse.

"Humidity is worse that heat."

"Yes," answered the irritable person. "Much worse. It tempts so many bores to try to show off their knowledge."—Washington Star.

Lost Interest.

Jack—I thought you were very attentive to Miss Banker.

Tom—I was; but after what she said I shall have nothing more to do with her.

Jack—What did she say?

Tom—She said "No."—Tit-Bits.

No Evidences.

"Has there ever been evidences of insanity in your family?" was asked of the witness.

"No, sir. There has never been a scandal in it."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

A NEW BOX KITE.

How to Construct It and Fly It Successfully.

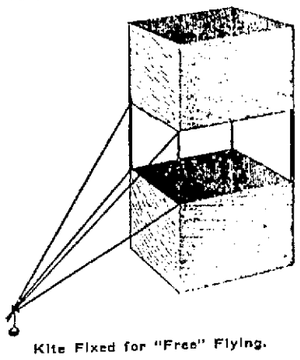

One of the very best fun-makers a boy can have for the September days is a box kite, and the chap who owns one will always be popular among his playmates and never lack for company when he goes out to fly it.

Get an old umbrella, four seasoned hickory sticks, or sticks of some other tough wood three feet long and a half inch thick. Rip the cover off the umbrella, being careful not to tear the material. Take eight of the ribs, the short ones that run from the frame to the stick, and lash their ends together with copper wire, making two squares. Now take four of the long ribs and break them each in half, thus getting eight more pieces the size of those you have just fixed. Lash these eight new ones together in the same way, making two squares each of four wires.

Now lash one of your hickory sticks by one end to the corner of one of your two first wire squares and fasten the other end of the stick to a corner of its mate. Place the other two sticks in position in the other corners of the two squares and fasten them firmly by lashing them to the corner of its mate. Place the other three sticks in position in the other corners of the two squares and fasten them firmly by lashing them to the corner and sides of the square with fine copper wire.

Now for your second set of squares made from the more pliable ribs of the umbrella: These slip outside of the framework you have made and are placed one foot from either end so that there will also be a foot between them, providing you have made your sticks three feet long. When these are firmly wired in place you are ready for your kite coverings, which is the covering you have ripped from the old umbrella. This is placed around either end, as shown in the illustration, and firmly sewn in place along all four edges of each square. Be sure and use heavy linen thread in doing this, and it is all the better if your thread be waxed. Your kite is ready to fly as soon as you fasten a "tail" on it.

Now make a "free" kite of it, which means a kite which will sail away without a string, explains the People's Home Journal. Get four more long umbrella wires and fasten them to the inner sides of your wire squares on the framework as shown in the picture. These wires must have their free ends brought together and lashed fast, with a small iron or brass ring at the extremity. In this ring you may hang a lead weight, which must be varied according to the force of the wind blowing. This weight nets just exactly like the drag of a kite string and will keep your kite steady and upright if you are careful to adjust the weight to the force of the wind. Your kite will not rise in the air, but will sail straight off before the wind for a long distance.

Kite Fixed for "Free" Flying.

SUCCESS WHICH ENDURES.

It Can Be Secured Only by the Sterling Quality of Strict Honesty.

Some young men are reluctant to accept, as the most vital truth in life, the most absolute honesty is the only kind of honesty that succeeds in business. It isn't a question of religion, or religious beliefs. Honesty does not depend upon any religious creed, or dogma, that was ever conceived. It is a question of a young man's own conscience, says the New York Weekly. He knows what is right, and what is wrong. And yet, simple as the matter is, it is astonishing how difficult it is of understanding. An honest course in business seems too slow to the average young man. "I can't afford to plod along. I must strike, and strike quickly," is his sentiment.

Ah, yes, my friend, but not dishonestly. No young man can afford to even think of dishonesty. Success on honorable lines may sometimes seem slower in coming, but when it does come it exceeds in permanency all the so-called successes obtained by other methods. To look at the methods of others is always a mistake.

The successes of to-day are not given to the imitator, but to the originator. It makes no difference how other men may succeed—their success is theirs, and not yours. You cannot partake of it. Every man is a law unto himself.

The most absolute integrity is the one—the only—sure foundation of success. Such a success is lasting.

Literary Chit-Chat.

"What, Thomas? Reading? I thought you were hard at work?"

And old Gobsa Golde looked at his burly porter with stern reproof.

"I wuz readin' a little," the porter admitted. "It's a story about the Russian troubles."

"The Russian troubles, eh? Who wrote it?"

"Wrote it? It ain't wrote, sir. It's printed."

Why Baby Cried.

Mamma—Tommy, what is the baby crying for?

Tommy—'Cause he doesn't know things. I had to take his cake and show him how to eat it.—Chicago Daily News.

Growth of Girls and Boys.

The growth of girls is greatest in their fifteenth year; of boys, in their seventeenth.

An Advantage.

"So you prefer to live in South America?"

"Yes. There a man who would ordinarily be dismissed as a mere mischiefmaker attains to the dignity of a revolutionist."

As Others See Us.

Greening—Every one tells me that I am long-headed.

Browning—Of course you are. Only long heads are adapted to narrow minds.—Chicago Daily News.

Hitch Your Wagon to a Star

By MICHAEL L. PADDEN.
Registrar of Water Supply, New York City.

Hitch your wagon to a star,
Or just as near it as you can;
Be gentle, if the world will let you,
For the morrow always plan.
Don't be timid, don't be boastful,
Don't borrow coin or cooking pan;
Dress as well as luck will let you—
The coat doth often make the man.

The first line of that is what makes a hit with me. There is about ten feet more of the same two-step style of word coupling, and it came to me through the mails from a Persian prince who had his private yacht in the harbor at the time that I was uncovering the water front "water grafts," and I happened to be in a position to help him get his daily supply of water on board without having to pay extra toll for it.

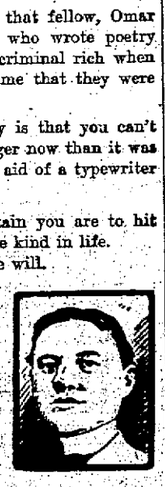

He sent me a letter of thanks when he sailed, and after he got over in his own election district he sent me this jig-time string of philosophy, which I take as a compliment, inasmuch as it was especially translated for me.

A letter from the prince's secretary accompanying it tells me that it was written many years ago by a near relation of that fellow, Omar Khayyam, who the historians say was a tent-maker who wrote poetry for the magazines that the clown fellows read to the criminal rich when they were having beefsteak parties along about the time that they were teaching Cleopatra to use a nursing bottle.

The thing about it that strikes me most forcibly is that you can't put any twist on the truth that will make it any stronger now than it was when those chaps were writing philosophy without the aid of a typewriter and interviewers to give them a boost.

The higher you aim in any game the more certain you are to hit something, and we're all trying to make a score of some kind in life.

If a man doesn't set his own aims high no one else will.

A man came to me for a place as a bookkeeper in a big place where a friend of mine had some influence, and I said: "You can't be a bookkeeper. You are only a porter," and he replied:

"Well, let's start for the bookkeeping job and maybe we'll land on some job between that and a cold throw-down."

He had the "hitch-your-wagon-to-a-star" idea, all right.

RHEUMATISM
AND NEURALGIA

ST. JACOBS OIL

The Proved Remedy
For Over 30 Years.

Price 25c and 50c

Improved on Nature.

Miss Mary Cassatt, the noted Philadelphia artist, lives in Paris. Several of her pictures have the great honor to be hung in the Luxembourg, and Miss Cassatt's studio teas are extremely popular in the American colony.

Miss Cassatt at one of her teas talked to a Philadelphian about an English animal painter.

"He painted last winter," she said, "a number of pictures of dead game. They were highly praised. Two man's head was turned. Among the pictures was a group of dead rabbits. A critic commended these rabbits.

"'They are remarkably true to nature,' he said.

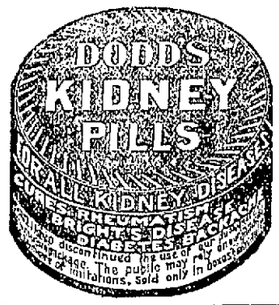

"'Nature!' the artist exclaimed. 'Yes, I flatter myself that there is more nature in those rabbits than you—all—usually see in rabbits.'"

Playwright's Method of Work.

Mr. A. W. Pinero has an unusual method of writing his plays. His work day does not begin until that of the average city man is over. In the morning he goes out, preferably on his bicycle, returning in time for early dinner. Then he has a comfortable sleep, and on waking up, late in the afternoon, he prepares for business. After a cup of tea he goes to his desk and remains working at his play until far into the night.

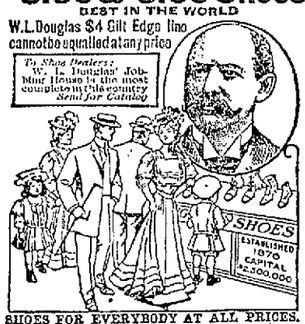

Spaniards Would Emigrate.

Six hundred families of weavers of Bejar, Spain, are reported to be seeking aid to emigrate to American countries.

W. L. DOUGLAS
$3.50 & $3.00 Shoes
BEST IN THE WORLD

W. L. Douglas $4 Gilt Edge line cannot be equalled at any price

SHOES FOR EVERYBODY AT ALL PRICES.
Men's Shoes, $5 to $1.50. Boys' Shoes, $3 to $1.25. Women's Shoes, $4.00 to $1.50. Misses' & Children's Shoes, $2.25 to $1.00.
Try W. L. Douglas Women's, Misses and Children's shoes; for style, fit and wear they excel other makes.

If I could take you into my large factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater value than any other make.

Wherever you live, you can obtain W. L. Douglas shoes. His name and price is stamped on the bottom, which protects you against high prices and inferior shoes. Take no substitutes. Ask your dealer for W. L. Douglas shoes and insist upon having them.

Fast Color Eyelets used; they will not wear brassy.

Write for Illustrated Catalog of Fall Styles.

W. L. DOUGLAS, Dept. 12, Brockton, Mass.

THE BEST COUGH CURE

Cough syrups are all cheap enough, but if you should get a gallon of cough syrup that does not cure for the price of a small bottle of the best cough cure, you would have made a bad bargain—for one small bottle of Kemp's Balsam may stop the worst cough and save a life, whereas the cough "cure" that does not cure is worse than useless.

Kemp's Balsam

Sold by all dealers at 25c. and 50c.

HOLD UP!
and consider

YOU CAN Straighten Kinky Hair, Curl straight hair, and restore gray or faded hair to original color, at home cheap. Entirely harmless and guaranteed as represented every way. One dollar per formula, or send stamp for particulars. G. L. WOLRAF, Lock Box 668, ST. LOUIS, MO.

20,000 ACRES Timber and Farming Lands; good soil; convenient to railroads; near Ladysmith, Wis.; County Seat; will furnish 5,000 acres at furniture factory prices; $10 to $15 per acre; easy terms. KNOBLAUCH LAND CO., 115 Dearborn St., Chicago, and Ladysmith, Wis. AGENTS WANTED; Liberal Commission.

HORTICULTURE

SCION AND STOCK.

The Relation of the One to the Other In Producing Fruit.

Everybody knows that when a scion is inserted in a tree the fruit which it produces is that of the scion and not of the stock. There have always been some who believed, on general principles, that the stock had some influence on the fruit, even if it could not be perceived. An imperceptible influence is hardly worth inquiring into, but some study has been given by competent observers, whose conclusion is that the root systems of some stocks were better purveyors of nutriment than others, so that scions grafted into them might produce more or larger fruit than when grafted into other stocks with which equally good unions were made. But the curiosity of modern investigators is insatiable, and some people have been trying to find out how it is that a quince root, for example, will produce a pear, or an almond root a plum. Some have thought that it was the leaves which did the trick, which was a rather natural theory, because the sap is digested and the nutriment assimilated in the leaves. To determine this point, says an exchange, scions of the yellow transparent apple were inserted into branches of the wild crab. After fruit spurs were formed all leaves were removed from the graft and none allowed to form during the season, so that all of the sap was elaborated by the leaves of the wild crab. At the same time another scion of the same yellow transparent tree was inserted into a twig of the same branch and allowed to form its own leaves. Both of these grafts bore fruit this season, and the general verdict is that no difference either in size, color or flavor can be detected. In both instances the fruit is clearly yellow transparent. This experiment would seem to indicate that it makes no difference from whence the sap comes, the fruit will remain true to its kind.

TO SAVE ARM STRAIN.

Handy Shoulder Harness to Help Carry Heavy Baskets.

A great deal of unnecessary arm strain can be avoided by using the device shown in the cut. A broad leather strap has two snap-hooks stitched in at either end, the whole just long enough to go about the shoulders and snap into the handles of any basket or box that it may be desired to carry with apples, potatoes or other articles. You will be surprised to see how easily the shoulders will carry a burden that would make the arms ache. Besides, says Farm Journal, the arms can help the shoulders in this case.

The Handy Basket Support.

BORERS AND SUN SCALD.

Suggestions for the Setting Out of Shade Trees.

In my experience the borers and sun scald are the greatest obstacles to the growing of shade trees. I have found it to be a good plan to coat the trees with some kind of paint soon after planting the trees. In planting it is well to remove quite a large portion of the top part, to enable the tree to withstand the loss of a part of its roots when it is taken out of the ground. In digging up trees a very large portion of the ends of the roots is left in the ground. The roots so left contain rootlets and feeding hairs in large numbers. As the root takes its food through these root hairs, it is evident that when the tree is placed in new ground it is very deficient in ability to take in food and moisture enough to supply a large top. In setting out trees, do not put them close together. If they are on lawns, I think that 60 or 80 feet is close enough, and for the street 40 or 50 feet. Trimming is necessary to get a more dense shade and better shape.

RIPENING PEACH WOOD.

Much can be done to make trees endure more cold and to ripen wood and fruit buds before cold weather. Cultivate early in the season to make best growth possible, then stop culture in early August. Last of August cut about one-third of this year's growth off to cause the ripening of wood and fruit buds. All tall limbs should be cut off, leaving trees six to nine feet high. I use long handled fruit shears and can trim from 50 to 150 trees a day.

I have no experience in irrigating fruit trees or fruit plantations. With reasonable cultivation I think that fruit trees do not need irrigation in this part of the state except in extremely dry weather. When a drouth comes the tree is the last thing to be affected, especially on this level land. I think that too much moisture prevents the formation of fruit buds except on hilly land.—J. W. Honey, Jasper County, Ill.

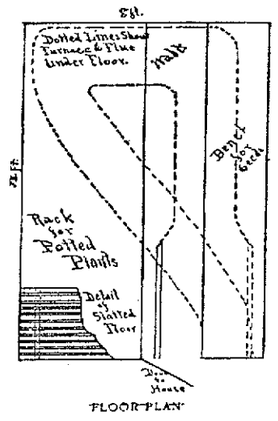

For a winter application, kerosene is not much used now, crude oil having superseded it in general practice. An ideal case for undiluted kerosene is when in mid-September the San Jose scale swarms on infested trees. It will then kill not only the larvae, but recent sets and many breeding females.

Keep your eye on the Ark apple orchards. There are over 3,000,000 trees growing and they will soon be producing big crops for they bear young and abundantly in that favored section

A MODEL GREENHOUSE.

Cheap, Convenient of Access and a Good Thing for Winter Months.

Recently, says Farmers' Voice, we published a valuable article from our New York correspondent, Mr. L. E. Keyser, on the "Farmer's Greenhouse." In a general way there is little doubt that a greenhouse may be made a profitable feature of the farm for the forcing of winter vegetables and flowers either for home or market, for the testing of seeds and for starting plants for early transportation in the spring. It must be remembered, however, that as it does not pay to market with one egg, so the greenhouse should be given thorough attention.

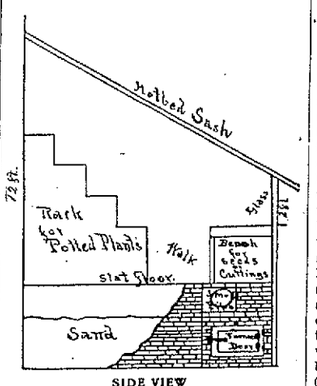

FLOOR PLAN

The ideal location for such a hothouse as is here suggested and which has been found successful, is the southeast angle of the dwelling. The next best would be the south or east side, with double wall, or glass on the weather side. Each will adapt its plans to his needs and opportunities, using what building sense, garden sense and common sense he may possess.

These general directions are recommended: Excavate the earth in the required location in a space of six by 12 feet (long way, east and west) within two feet of the cellar floor. Make two openings in the cellar wall, one 14 inches square, four inches above the pit floor, and one foot from the outside wall of the basement, and another circular opening eight inches in diameter at the most convenient point on the same wall and about six inches from the basement ceiling. Fit an iron furnace door frame into the large opening and a circular metal thimble into the smaller one. The door, frame, hinges and latch can be bought for about four dollars.

Now build a brick furnace in the pit (with walls four inches thick) three feet long, 16 inches wide and 16 inches high, inside measure, one end fitted to the door frame opening. From the opposite end extend nearly to the farther end of the pit, gradually reducing the size to eight inches square inside measure; carry on a curve partly across the end of the pit and back to the circular opening in the wall to which an eight-inch stove pipe is to make connection with a convenient chimney in the basement.

Build a wall on the exposed sides from the bottom of the pit, the top of the wall to be seven feet above the basement floor. This may be of stone, brick, or wood. If of wood, it should be double and packed with dry sawdust and banked up with earth on the outside. The pit should then be filled with sand covering the furnace about six inches. About a foot above the sand build a floor, made of strong slats set on edge with inch spaces. The end walls may be of glass or solid, and if made double will save fuel. The south side should be of glass resting on the foundation wall which comes up to about the top of the seed bench. The roof can be made of ordinary hot bed sash procured from any mill. The cost of heating this house will be less than half that of an exposed or detached house and take less than one-fourth the time to look after. A door should open into the passageway from the dwelling.

SIDE VIEW

A bench waist high on the south side holding earth can be used for starting seeds; on the north side tiers of shelves are arranged to support potted plants or boxes. A passage way is between. Pans containing water are placed below the floor and the sand also kept wet. When a fire is made in the furnace the room is filled with moist air, kept at the proper temperature, and thus an ideal climate for the rapid growing of plants is afforded.

The great advantage of the greenhouse is not so much the high temperature as a steady temperature with much moisture. No plants thrive well if set back by cool spells, and some, like egg-plants, peppers, etc., must be kept growing constantly without any check in order to make profitable growth.

The hothouse on the lines suggested costs little to build, and almost nothing to operate, and will furnish much pleasure and may be made to yield much profit if intelligently conducted at a time of year when outdoor work is impossible.

A scale insect known as the cottony maple scale has been doing a good deal of damage in some parts of the United States, especially in fine sugar maples grown for shade. This scale is much larger than the San Jose—larger even than the oyster shell bark louse. It has been found that the insect could be controlled by a winter treatment of kerosene emulsion, which should be made up rather strong.

The average man can't refrain from chuckling when his best friend makes a fool of himself.

JAPAN LAND OF JUGGLERS.

Old Wizard Amuses Dinner Guests by Fooling Foreign Skeptic.

Japan is the land of jugglers and fashionable Japanese always have them at any large entertainment they give. One very clever old man goes around in a single cotton gown with two baskets full of "properties" over his shoulders, and, putting them down anywhere, performs his tricks, with the expectant audience encircling him. A hatful of coppers rewards him sufficiently and he goes on to eat fire, disgorge eggs, needles, lanterns and smoking pipes at the next place. At a recent Japanese dinner a foreign guest determined to have no optical illusions about what the jugglers did. He never allowed his glances to be distracted and was not once off his guard. Noticing this, the old juggler played to him entirely. An immense porcelain vase was brought in and set in the middle of the room and the juggler, crawling in, let himself down into it slowly. The skeptic sat for half an hour without taking his eye from the vase, which, he was convinced, was sound and firm and stood on no trap door. After this prolonged watch the rest of the company assailed him with laughter and jeers, and pointed to his side, where the old juggler was seated fanning himself and had been seated for some minutes.

HAD TO USE A CANE.

Weakened Kidneys Made an Elwood, Ind., Man's Back Give Out.

R. A. Pugh, transfer business, 2020 North B street, Elwood, Ind., says: "Kidney trouble kept me laid up for a long time, and when I was able to be up I had to use a cane. I had terrible backaches and pain in the shoulders. The kidney secretions were dark colored. After doctoring in vain, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Three boxes cured me entirely, and I am glad to recommend them."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

SAVED THE CUSTOMER TROUBLE

Neat Way Waiter Secured Tip from "Close" Man.

There is a waiter in a Washington cafe, who is the acme of polite attention, endeavoring in every way to save his customers trouble. The other day a man came in who was sized up by John as probably a "little close," but the service was fully up to the standard. The bill came to 80 cents, and the man handed over a dollar bill.

John then proceeded to help the man into his coat.

"Where's my change?" the customer asked.

"Change, sah? Dar ain't none—dat was mah tip, tank yo', sah!" John said with a bow.

"But I hadn't given it to you," the man protested.

"Oh course not, sah. Ah wouldn't 'low yo' ter go ter all dat trouble, sah!" John said, with another bow, and the man went out, looking a trifle dazed.

SAVED BABY LYON'S LIFE.

Awful Sight from That Dreadful Complaint, Infantile Eczema—Mother Praises Cuticura Remedies.

"Our baby had that dreadful complaint, infantile Eczema, which afflicted him for several months, commencing at the top of his head, and at last covering his whole body. His sufferings were untold and constant misery, in fact, there was nothing we would not have done to have given him relief. We finally procured a full set of the Cuticura Remedies, and in about three or four days he began to show a brighter spirit and really laughed, for the first time in a year. In about ninety days he was fully recovered. Praise for the Cuticura Remedies has always been our greatest pleasure, and there is nothing too good that we could say in their favor, for they certainly saved our baby's life, for he was the most awful sight that I ever beheld, prior to the treatment of the Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Maebelle Lyon, 1826 Appleton Ave., Parsons, Kan., July 18, 1905."

Artificial Silk the Latest.

In Gothenburg, Sweden, or at some place in its neighborhood, will soon be built a large factory for the manufacture of artificial silk for export. A company has recently been organized there with a capital not to be less than $160,800 and not to exceed $482,400, with the purpose of building a factory and exploiting an invention made by Engineer R. W. Strehlenert, of Djursholm, Sweden, for the manufacture of vegetable silk. Excluding experiments, this industry is new in Sweden, and it is claimed that the silk manufactured from nitro-cellulose by Mr. Strehlenert's method has just as fine an appearance and is just as strong or durable as natural silk, or even stronger. It is further stated that the silk has been tested or tried in Swedish or German cloth factories and that very favorable reports have been received about it.—Consular Reports.

Baby Clothes in Mexico.

The babies of Mexico—bless their dimples! They are no more like our babies than their grandfathers are like our grandfathers. The long skirts are made to hang open in the back from the yoke down to the bottom, and it is a dainty exhibit of hand-made lace and linen, drawn to the fineness of a spider's web, that spreads its expanse over the nurse's arm. The top of the garment is fashioned from the most elaborately beflowered and gorgeously hued material conceivable, and if the infant be a girl her splendor is not unfrequently enhanced by a set of coral—necklace, bracelets, pin and earrings. The colorless baby dress is reserved for the unfortunate whose grandmother or great uncle has died since its birth. The white dress in this case is used as a background for a sash of wide black ribbon, tied in a manner that nearly obliterates the front of the waist, while the long ends hang on the child like the badge on the doorbell of a house of mourning.—Lieuella Tisdale, in Sunset Magazine for October.

Will Hold Cremation Congress.

In order to combat the prejudice against cremation in Belgium, it has been decided to hold a cremation congress at Charleroi, under the direction of the Rationalist Federation.

If you wait for others to do things for you they are apt to do you while you wait.

Double Tracking the Santa Fe.

The work of double tracking the Santa Fe main line through Kansas is progressing as rapidly as the supply of steel will permit. Up to the first of September one hundred and eighty-six miles of double track had been completed, reaching from Kansas City to Newton. This is all laid with the standard eighty-five pound rail, and ballasted with crushed rock. Between Chicago and Kansas City the double track practically extends from Chicago to Coal City, Illinois, with isolated sections the rest of the way at convenient intervals where traffic is liable to be congested. The main line, as indeed are most of the branches, is practically ballasted from end to end, or where not ballasted, as in California and Arizona and in southern Texas, it is sprinkled with oil, which answers the same purpose. Grades have been greatly reduced, as on the new Belen cut-off, which has taken 1,116 feet off the height of the continental divide. New steel bridges, with solid masonry piers, have been built, and care has been taken to make the construction of the roadway first-class in every particular.

Artistic Marriage Certificates.

The smart wedding invitation or announcement is engraved as simply as possible nowadays, but if the bride wants elaborate treatment of her marriage certificate she can have it. These may be done by hand and beautifully illuminated on parchment or Japanese vellum, and some brides are having theirs framed and hung in the boudoir.

A Good Record.

Out of all the external remedies on the market we doubt if there is one that has the record of that world-renowned porous plaster—Allcock's. It has now been in use for sixty years, and still continues to be as popular as ever in doing its great work of relieving our pains and aches. It is the remedy we all need when suffering from any ache or pain resulting from taking cold or overstrain.

Allcock's Plasters are sold by Druggists all over the world.

Infant Trained to Steal.

A woman has been arrested in Paris carrying in her arms a four-year-old child which has been trained to snatch watches and scarfpins as its mother carried it through the streets. The infant was seen to grab two watches and seven pins in less than half an hour.

Superb Service, Splendid Scenery

en route to Niagara Falls, Muskoka and Kawartha Lakes, Georgian Bay and Temegami Region, St. Lawrence River and Rapids, Thousand Islands, Algonquin National Park, White Mountains and Atlantic Sea Coast resorts, via Grand Trunk Railway System. Double track Chicago to Montreal and Niagara Falls, N. Y.

For copies of tourist publications and descriptive pamphlets apply to Geo. W. Vaux, A. G. P. & T. A., 135 Adams St., Chicago.

It is easier to look over another's faults than it is to overlook them.

You always get full value in Lewis' Single Binder straight 5c cigar. Your dealer or Lewis' Factory, Peoria, Ill.

The acts of this life are the destiny of the next.—Eastern Proverb.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Many a man's popularity is due to his lack of self-respect.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES cost but 10 cents per package and color more goods faster and brighter colors.

Life is half spent before one knows what life is.—From the French.

Lewis' Single Binder straight 5c clear. Made of extra quality tobacco. Your dealer or Lewis' Factory, Peoria, Ill.

Written by Woman-Hater.

Women may be outspoken, but they are never outtalked.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Queen Encourages Subjects.

The queen of Portugal, besides encouraging her people to improve their dairies, has for several years been studying the soils in her kingdom with a view to grape culture.

Don't Suffer
all night long from toothache neuralgia or rheumatism
Sloan's Liniment
kills the pain — quiets the nerves and induces sleep
At all dealers. Price 25c 50c & $1.00
Dr. Earl S. Sloan, Boston, Mass. U.S.A.

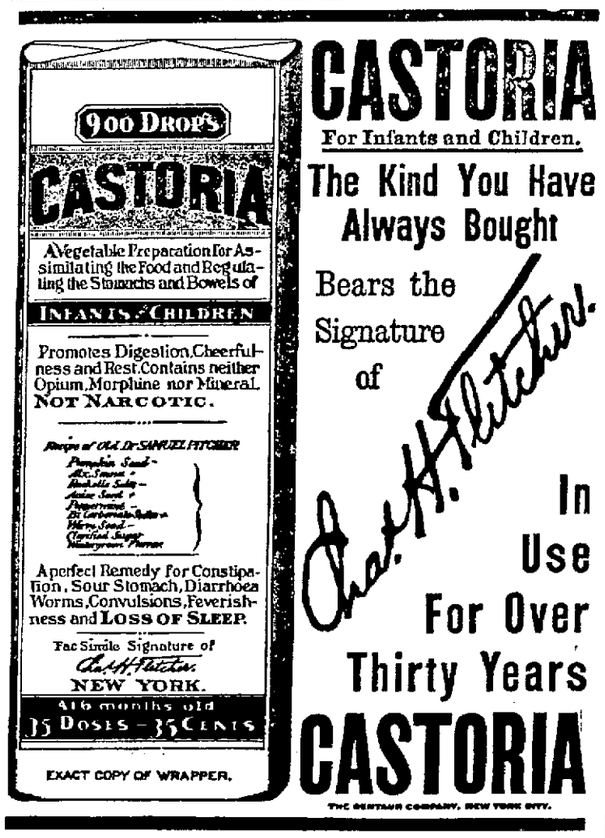

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature, and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature

Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

A Positive CURE
Ely's Cream Balm
Is quickly absorbed. Gives Relief at Once.
It cleanses, soothes, heals and protects the diseased membrane. It cures Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts., at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size 10 cts. by mail.
Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

CATARRH
HAY FEVER

BIG MONEY FOR YOU!

Now and then a snap-opportunity comes along to make a clean, safe and exceedingly profitable investment. Here is one of them. Our need is your opportunity. Write for full particulars, say where you saw this advertisement, and you will receive prompt personal attention.

W. C. ABBOTT, Pres.
Ravenswood Station, Chicago.

20% YEARLY GUARANTEED ON YOUR INVESTMENT

Safe, sure and valuable. Send your name on postal and let us tell you about it. Address
AMERICAN MINES INVESTMENT COMPANY,
CANON CITY, COLORADO.

READERS of this paper desiring to buy anything advertised in its columns should insist upon having what they ask for, refusing all substitutes or imitations.

FOR SALE We are offering some splendid farm lands in South Carolina, the garden spot of the earth. Write for prices and description. WALKER, EVANSEL & CO., Dept. C, Columbia, S. C.

THERE IS
MONEY IN RAILROAD STOCKS
IT IS A MATTER OF COMMON KNOWLEDGE THAT MANY OF
THE GREAT FORTUNES OF TO-DAY
Had Their Origin in Railroad Stocks, Purchased When the Price Was Low and Sold Later On When the Price Went Up. That is Why the Man To-Day Who Has Money to Spare Will Be More Than Interested in the Present Stock Offer of the
Chicago-New York Electric Air Line Railroad
Never Before Was There So Favorable an Opportunity for Laying the Foundation of a Future Fortune as There is Right at This Time.

THE FACTS ARE THESE:

The Chicago-New York Electric Air Line Railroad is now building a line between the two great cities of Chicago and New York, which when completed will be 239 miles shorter than the Lake Shore and New York Central roads and 109 miles shorter than the Pennsylvania system.

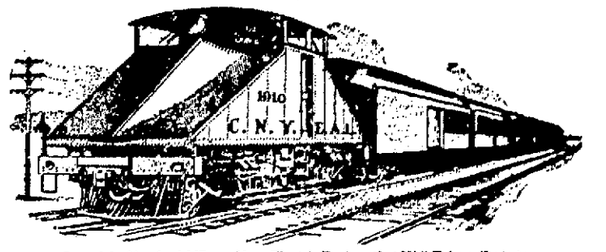

It will be a road without grade crossings, material curves or excessive grades and will be operated by electricity, covering the distance between these two great centers of commercial activity in 10 hours, compared with the present schedule of 18 to 24 hours.

By reason of these advantages the revenue of the road will be greater than existing steam roads, its operating expenses materially less and its dividend earning capacity correspondingly great. The entire capital stock of the road is common stock. There will be no preferred stock and no bonds, thus placing every shareholder on the same footing and giving all an opportunity to share alike in the profits according to their holdings. It is indeed an unusual opportunity for investment and is being rapidly availed of by those who are familiar with the favorable terms of our offer.

The present price of the stock is $27 per share of the par value of $100, full paid and non-assessable, and if desired, it may be purchased on very easy terms, namely $2.70 per share with your order and $2.70 per share on the 15th day of each month thereafter until paid for, or if paid in full at time of purchase, a discount of two per cent will be allowed.

What we invite you to do is to digest the few facts we have here given you and ask for more information if you are interested. Let us tell you how you can become a part owner in this great work of providing rapid and cheap transportation. Let us tell you how you can invest a dollar today and get three and four dollars and perhaps more for it in the near future. These are the things you may learn by writing your name on the attached coupon and mailing it to us.

And right now, too, is the time to do it. To postpone it might mean to forget it and to forget it would cause you to miss an opportunity that may not come to you again. DO IT NOW that you may fully profit by the more than ordinarily favorable conditions that are available to you right at this time. All information furnished FREE.

One of the Hundred-Mile-an-Hour Electric Engines that Will Take a Train to New York in 10 Hours.

Information Coupon

FREDERICK H. WOOD, Sales Agent,
Chicago-New York Electric Air Line R. R. Block, 144-145-146 Monadnock Block, Chicago.

Please send me further particulars of the Chicago-New York Electric Air Line R. R.

Name .....

Address .....

K. L.-11-4

Canadian Government Free Farms

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

Over 200,000 American farmers who have settled in Canada during the past few years testify to the fact that Canada is, beyond question, the greatest farming land in the world.

OVER NINETY MILLION BUSHELS

of wheat from the harvest of 1906 means good money to the farmers of Western Canada when the world has to be fed. Cattle Raising, Dairying and Mixed Farming are also profitable callings. Coal, wood and water in abundance; churches and schools convenient; markets easy of access. Taxes low.

For advice and information address the Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or any authorized Canadian Government Agent.

C. J. BROUGHTON, Room 430 Quincy Bldg., Chicago, Ill.; W. H. ROGERS, third floor, Traction Terminal Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.; or T. O. CURRIE, Room 12 B, Callahan Block, Milwaukee, Wis.

Enameline
ENAMELINE
STOVE POLISH
ALWAYS READY TO USE. NO DIRT, DUST, SMOKE OR SMELL.
NO MORE STOVE POLISH TROUBLES

SALESMEN WANTED.

We want a few active and thoroughly experienced salesmen to call regularly with sufficient money to buy outright the first month's supply of our Absolutely Low Pressure Reducer Worm Gear Gas Engine. Liberal proposition to every active and honorable fully complying with instructions. To such a man we will give exclusive sales right and guarantee to refund money if goods not sold in 30 days. Further particulars on request. The Lozier Motors Limited Co., 2000 S. Halsted St., Chicago.

Thompson's Eye Water

A. N. K.—A (1906—44) 2198.

Grand Rapids Tribune

BY DRUMB & SUTOR.

Grand Rapids, Wis., Nov 7, 1906

Entered at the Post Office at Grand Rapids, Wis., as second-class mail matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One Year..... $1.50
Six Months..... 75

Advertising Rates.—For display matter a flat rate of 10 cents an inch is charged. The columns in The Tribune are 24 inches long, making a one column advertisement cost $2.40 for one insertion. All local notices, cards of thanks, resolutions of respect, and all notices of entertainments where an admission fee is charged will be published at 5 cents per line.

To Correspondents.

Correspondents will please sign their real names to communications as well as their nom de plumes. No attention whatever given to anonymous communications.

Use a pen, if possible, and write proper names plainly. This may save the printer from making egregious blunders in the spelling of names that he is unfamiliar with.

Do not indulge in mean personalities. Private quarrels should not be dragged into public print. Be so kind as to make a note of this and bear it in mind.

Endeavor to write facts. Sift a matter of importance to the bottom, before you reduce it to writing, and do not depend altogether on rumor, for rumor is generally fickle and unreliable.

Contributions are always welcome when the above points are observed.

Magazine for the Blind.

A monthly magazine for the blind, the first periodical of its kind, is about to be published, financed by Mrs. William Ziegler, widow of the man who backed the Arctic expedition. It will be printed in raised type and characters, which the blind readers will be able to read by touch, and will be distributed throughout the United States without cost to all the sightless ones, whose addresses are known.

The determination to publish such a magazine was the result of an interview between Mrs. Ziegler and Walter U. Holmes, who has long been interested in work for the blind, and has long cherished the idea of printing literature for the benefit of the blind, who after being taught to read at the expense of the State are turned out upon the world. Most of them are too poor to buy the few books that are printed in raised type.

This magazine will contain up-to-date stories and other interesting matter, a correspondence department, and an industrial department, which will tell the blind of work in which they can engage. The periodical will be called the "Ziegler Magazine for the Blind."

Mr. Holmes is anxious that all blind persons hear of this magazine, and has asked that they send their names and addresses to him at his office at 1931 Broadway, Manhattan. He is also desirous that they state what type they read, "New York point" or "Braille."

Develop Fine Seed Corn.

A variety of corn that yields from 75 to 100 bushels of shelled corn per acre has been developed at the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture experiment farm by Agronomist Ransom A. Moore. This corn, which is known as "Wisconsin No. 7," or "Silver King," is the triumph of four years' experimentation by Professor Moore, and shows the possibility of producing phenomenal results by careful methods of selection. Twenty-two acres of this corn have just been harvested on the university farm, producing 75 bushels, shelled per acre. The importance of this variety is evident when this yield is compared with the average yield of the United States, which is only 29 bushels, or the average of the state of Wisconsin, which is but 33 bushels. Members of the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment association, who are graduates of the short course in agriculture, have been growing this corn under the direction of Professor Moore on their farms, and have obtained from 80 to 100 bushels per acre. Last year 275 graduates of the short course in 71 counties of the state tried Silver King corn, and reported an average yield of 59.2 bushels, shelled, per acre, against an average yield of 49.9 bushels for the best of all other varieties.

Venison Came High.

William Krohn of the town of Hewitt was arrested Tuesday by Deputy Sheriff Fred Damon Jr. on the charge of unlawful possession of venison. The complaint was made by John Foster, the recently appointed deputy game warden. He found evidence that led him to believe Krohn had venison on his premises. A search warrant was given Deputy Sheriff Damon and he searched Krohn's premises and found in a barn 55 pounds of what is claimed to be venison. He seized the meat and arrested Krohn.

Krohn was arraigned in Municipal court next morning. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs. In telling the story of how he came into possession of the venison he said that he was hunting. Not being able to produce a hunting license, the judge fined him $50 and costs for hunting without a license. This fine, with the one for having venison out of season, cost Krohn $96.86 for his little hunting expedition. The 25 pounds of venison, therefore, cost him $3.87 per pound.—Wausau Herald.

FARM FOR SALE
at a bargain

Good 40-acre farm in the town of Sigel, located near creamery and known as the old Peterson place; 30 acres under cultivation, small frame house and log barn on place, also 2 good wells. For price and particulars call or address, MIKE JACKON, Sigel, Wis.

OUR COUNTRY CORRESPONDENTS

MEEHAN.

Miss Agnes Munger, who has been visiting relatives at Plainfield, returned home Saturday accompanied by her niece, Miss Sadie Wood of Medford, who was also visiting at Plainfield.

M. H. Munger, who has been visiting relatives at Amherst and Sheridan, returned home here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Howard of Buena Vista were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Munger Sunday.

Matt Hommis butchered two fine hogs Saturday.

The farmers are rushing in their potatoes at 23c per bushel.

A. Smart and M. H. Munger made a business trip to Stevens Point one day last week.

Edward Glassman took a load of buckwheat to the mill Saturday.

Clark Smith of Armenia is visiting friends and relatives at this place at the present time.

Orin Clandenning is building a chimney up through the store and hall.

The party for Rev. Miller last Friday night was well attended.

Mrs. Benoni Talyor of Armenia was the guest of A. E. Pike and family Friday and Saturday returning home Sunday.

Mrs. Mattie Smith of Port Edwards visited relatives here the latter part of last week.

John Wolosick and son Felix were Stevens Point visitors Thursday.

Our school commenced Monday with Miss Bowersuk as teacher again.

VANDRIESSEN.

John Davidson and wife are the proud parents of a baby girl born Tuesday last.

Miss Upton left for her home in Stevens Point Saturday.

Israel Joro is having his house plastered and a chimney built. Walter Wood is doing the work.

Mrs. Ed Barker visited at Bethel several days last week.

Mr. Hewitt drove to Stevens Point Saturday after his wife, who has been visiting her parents there.

W. J. Smith and Ira L. Loose of Plainfield were Sunday callers at Ed. Barker's.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessin Beggs of Big Flats visited at Ed. Barker's last Saturday.

Mrs. Isiah Mulkins is helping care for that big girl at John Davidson's since Tuesday.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Mr. Robert O. Burke, Elmira, N. Y., writes:

"Before I started to use Foley's Kidney Cure I had to get up from twelve to twenty times a night, and I was all bloated up with dropsy and my eyesight was so impaired I could scarcely see one of my family across the room. I had given up hope of living, when a friend recommended Foley's Kidney Cure. One 50 cent bottle worked wonders and before I had taken the third bottle the dropsy had gone, as well as all other symptoms of Bright's disease." Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

SHERRY.

A harvest home festival was given recently by the faculty of the Collegiate Institute in the reception room in the girl's dormitory. The reception room and dining hall were appropriately decorated with samples of the golden harvest. About 100 guests partook of a royal banquet, after which a splendid program was rendered, consisting of brief addresses, recitations and music by faculty and students. In giving our community such a warm welcome into its social life, the managers of the institute have won, if possible, a warmer place in the affections of our citizens.

Frank Parks recently had a bone fractured in one of his hands, which has caused him much pain, but has not prevented his rising each morning at 4 a. m. and driving two miles in order to superintend his creamery. Mr. Parks has a splendid assistant in Mr. Lusk.

C. E. Anderton and family returned to Milwaukee last Saturday, after spending several weeks in their beautiful summer home here. They will be missed by their many friends. Mr. Anderton has placed his splendid 500 acre farm at the disposal of the managers of the Collegiate Institute.

Mr. Wells, principal of the school at Junction city, attended the banquet here Friday night.

John Lounsbury is erecting a barn on his farm half a mile west of the village.

We have secured the agency for Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup, the new laxative that makes the liver lively, purifies the breath, cures headache and regulates the digestive organs. Cures chronic constipation. Ask us about it. Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

President Smith preached at Stratford last Sunday morning and evening.

Miss Hattie Whitney is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Christianson of Spencer.

Arthur Putney has been on the sick list but is much improved.

G. H. Humphroy has his new house about ready to occupy.

R. O. Evans received a carload of feed this week.

Richard Evans returned to his duties at the Case Works, Racine, after spending a few weeks in our midst.

One of the Rudolph young boys who is employed here had to go home Saturday, can you guess the reason?

Mrs. Chas. Somers accompanied by her son Walter spent Wednesday at Grand Rapids.

Robert Duthie has disposed of the Brookside Creamery here to John Bever who will take possession this week.

Will Shidell and family will depart for Milwaukee this week where they will take up their residence for an indefinite time, Mr. Shidell having rented his farm here.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist and ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S ENGLISH, the DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years regarded as Best, Safest, Always Reliable. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Chichester Chemical Co. Philadelphia, Pa.

RUDOLPH.

Albert Podolsky, a husband of Katie Podolsky, a well known man of the town of Rudolph and your city left on the 18th of April and hasn't returned yet he had left his wife and three children. He was 32 years old and weighed about 140 lbs. and has sunfreckles all over his face and has brown whiskers. Who would know of him please call on Mrs. Katie Podolsky or her father, Mr. Adam Mours, Grand Rapids, Wis.

Nicholas Marcean met with a painful accident that will lay him up for sometime.

The many friends of J. E. Duncan are pleased to see him around again after his recent illness.

The chicken chowder at Jos. Provost's was well attended and all went home well pleased.

T. Brostowitz will hold an auction sale Nov. 11, on his farm in the town of Sigel.

Uncle Dan Rezin is on the sick list.

From the many calls Barney St. Denis receives now days to auctioneer property we infer he gives general satisfaction. Barney is a hustler.

Peter Mitchell is making extensive improvements on his farm lately purchased.

Carl Ombalt was down from the woods last Saturday. His father returned with him. John says he will bring back a deer.

Mrs. Jos. Sharkey visited relatives at Mosinee last week.

The farmers of this community were surprised last Saturday morning to find the state inspector at the creamery. Although he did not find things as bad in Rudolph as the inspectors found them in Chicago Packing houses, some of us felt like a 30 cent piece, and we would appreciate it very much if he would but change his tactics, and notify us a day or two ahead as to the date of his coming so we could prepare a reception in his honor.

Your stomach churns and digests the food you eat and it foul, or torpid, or out of order, your whole system suffers from blood poison. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea keeps you well. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Johnson Hill & Co.

Fred Bossert of your city was here Sunday trying to buy a work horse.

Miss Elsie Olney and Louise Sharkey Sundayed under the parental roof.

Rolly Baughman is making improvements on his house.

Tom Porter's folks of Linwood Sundayed with Andrew Sharer.

Ms. J. H. Snider is in Grand Rapids this week.

NEKOOSA.

(From the Times.)

Percy Grillith and Miss Valerin Gash, of Port Edwards, were married by Rev. Father Feldman at the parsonage in this city yesterday morning. Mr. Jake Harder being best man and Miss Edith Gash bridesmaid. Following the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents at Port Edwards, where the wedding reception occurred.

Sophie Krupka of Milladore, has accepted a position at the Grand View hotel. Miss Marie Liephardt of Junction City is cooking at the hotel in place of Miss Bertha Witchman.

John Potaska has sold his house and five acres of land in Wood addition to Thos. Lewis and the latter sold his house and 15-acre tract of land to Joan Wellner.

Frank Zoller of Junction City, was a Nekoosa visitor on Saturday. He came to work in the place of Barney Zoller in the paper mill, the latter having gone home for a visit.

Mike Jackan, of Sigel, is visiting at the homes of his son, John Jackan, and daughters, Mrs. Steve Moresky and Mrs. John Smolarek.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ostruski rejoice over the arrival of a fine baby boy at their home last Saturday morning.

The shocking news was received here yesterday that Wallace Strong was drowned while at work on the new dam being constructed at Grand Father Falls in the Wisconsin river near Tomahawk. Olophus Marcoux, who is in town on a visit, received the message stating that the accident had happened. Tuesday afternoon at about four o'colck and Mr. Marcoux says that his informant stated that Mr. Strong had fallen into the breakwater from the bridge on which cars are run carrying cement and rock to the masons working on the dam. This bridge is about thirty foot above the dam and extends clear across the river. The cars are pushed across the breakwater on this bridge, two men being on each car. Mr. Strong was employed in this capacity and it is probable that his car jumped the track and that in this way he was thrown into the raging falls below. The remains have not yet been recovered and whether or not they will be is doubtful, owing to the swift water and the numerous eddies along the river for several miles below. Deceased leaves a widow and an adopted baby daughter who reside in Nekoosa, where Mr. Strong was employed by the Nekoosa Paper Co. as pipe fitter for several years.

Stevens Point Gazette—Allen Koss, son of August Koss and wife of Nekoosa, pased away at 3 o'clock Sunday morning at the home of his uncle Anton Klicynski, 243 North Street, after suffering about fifteen hours with uremia. The boy was first taken sick at noon on Saturday and declined very rapidly. During the latter part of the day and night, he suffered frightful torments. The boy was the oldest of a family of five boys, the surviving brothers being Edward, Frank, Nicholas and Louis, the youngest a child of 3 years. Allen had spent the past three weeks here as the guest of relatives. The funeral was held at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning from St. Peter's church, Rev. L. Stefaniak officiating.

Chapped Hands.

Wash your hands with warm water, dry with a towel and apply Chamberlain's Salve just before going to bed, and a speedy cure is certain. This salve is also invaluable for sore nipples, itching piles and skin diseases. For sale by Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

In Time of Peace.

In the first months of the Russia-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our great men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

—Try a dish of real Mexican Chile at Gett's. You'll like it.

Basswood and Pine Bolts Wanted.

Write us what you have, and we will quote prices on cars at your station. We buy all kinds of logs.

Two Rivers Woodenware Co.,
Two Rivers, Wis.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

IF YOUR JOB DOES NOT PAY
$20 PER WEEK
IT IS NO GOOD

We will give you a better one and furnish you the "Know How" to make it good. Send for our GUIDE TO SUCCESSFUL SALESMEN. HELP. It is FREE and the Job goes with it.

CHASE BROTHERS COMPANY
New England Nurseries, Rochester, N.Y.

15th Anniversary

November, 1, 1891. November 1, 1906.

OF

Wood Co. National Bank

GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN.

We invite your attention to the following comparative statement of our deposits for each five year period since the organization of this bank, November 1st, 1891. It is a statement we are proud of and fully demonstrates the confidence placed in this institute by the people of this vicinity.

November 1, 1891	$9,952.58
November 1, 1896	$121,280.12
November 1, 1901	$389,122.77
November 1, 1906	$738,267.66

We solicit and welcome small accounts as well as large, as it is the aggregate of our small interest bearing savings accounts that have helped in a large measure to make the above figures.

Wood County National Bank.

WHY DON'T YOU TRY

To keep down the expense of fuel by using

STORM WINDOWS AND STORM DOORS.

They represent comfort and economy.

We carry a full line.

Kellogg Bros. Lumber Co.

E. GRAND RAPIDS. 'Phone 357. W. GRAND RAPIDS. 'Phone 356. NEKOOSA. 'Phone 20.

The Beer that is Best
GRAND RAPIDS BEER
TRY IT AND BE CONVINCED.

T. A. TAYLOR. WM. SCOTT.

TAYLOR & SCOTT

Abstracts, Loans, INSURANCE and Real Estate.

Telephone No. 364.

GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN.

This Will Interest
Ladies Only

We are giving away DINNER SETS, GRANITE-WARE SETS, COUCHES, SEWING MACHINES and hundreds of other articles, all full size for family use, to enable us to introduce our Sran Baking Powder and Salvona Brands of Teas, Coffees and other Household Supplies. These are all high-grade goods—absolutely guaranteed as to quality—cost no more than you are now paying for the same goods, and Salvona Brands of Teas, Coffees and other Household Supplies. These are all high-grade goods—absolutely guaranteed as to quality—cost no more than you are now paying for the same goods, but we depend entirely upon their merit to secure your future orders. Consequently by giving away free premiums we gain new customers and save the profit which formerly went to the dealers, as by dealing directly with our customers we save the profit of both wholesalers and retailers, which WE HAND OVER TO YOU in the shape of useful premiums and honest goods at fair prices. Because you live miles away from us—because you may never have seen us—is no good reason for not giving us a trial. You risk nothing. We do not ask pay in advance. We pay the freight. Our catalogue of premiums will be sent you and our plan of selling goods will be fully explained if you will only send us your name and address. We have hundreds of patrons whose custom we opened by same plan. They would not patronize us unless we gave them full value and fair treatment. We would not expect them to. Besides, the editor of this paper will tell you that we are thoroughly responsible.

Write us today—a postal-card just giving your name and address will do.

This is a Chance That Does Not Happen Every Day.

SALVONA SUPPLIES COMPANY,
057-1129 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo.

YESPER.

Trentel Bros. are building an addition to their wagon shop.

D. McVicar is building a large lumber ware house to store his lumber in.

Dr. Pomainville made a professional call to Vesper Sunday. He has a large practice in this vicinity.

Mr. Deitz has moved back to Hansen; says Wood county is good enough for anyone.

Mr. Frost, who purchased the John Katz farm, has just finished husking a fine crop of corn. He has sent to the southern part of the state for some blooded hogs.

Mr. Turner, who purchased the J. Jung farm, is tearing down the old shingle camp building and building an addition to his barn.

Jacob Kissingers' sons have secured work at Tomahawk and have gone to that place.

Dancing Proves Fatal.

Many men and women catch colds at dances which terminate in pneumonia and consumption. After exposure, if Foley's Honey and Tar is taken it will break up a cold and no serious results need be feared. Refuse anp but the genuine in a yellow package.

STRONGS PRAIRIE.

Mr. and Mrs. John Preston, who have been spending a year in Oregon, have returned home. They were much pleased with the country and climate there.

We are all sorry to lose Fred Kent our post master.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Preston of Nebraska are visiting at the home his brothers, Will and John of this place and Alonzo of Needah.

ARPIN.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. M. Marty last Tuesday.

Misses Amelia Schradel and Emma Johnson were at Grand Rapids Saturday.

M. M. Lockner has gone to Milwaukee on business.

Martin Pfyl was on the sick list last week.

Mrs. Robert Robinson was a Grand Rapids visitor last Tuesday.

Herman Arpin of Grand Rapids was here on business Saturday.

Taken as directed, it becomes the greatest curative agent for the relief of suffering humanity ever devised. Such is Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Johnson Hill & Co.

SIGEL

There will be a big auction sale at Frank Brostowitz's farm on Nov. 14 Mr. Brostowitz intends to soon move to Hartford. Barney St. Denis of Rudolph will conduct the auction.

It is rumored that one of our popular young men is to be married in a few weeks.

REMINGTON.

Mrs. Hass and son Rudolph visited at Nekoosa Friday and Saturday.

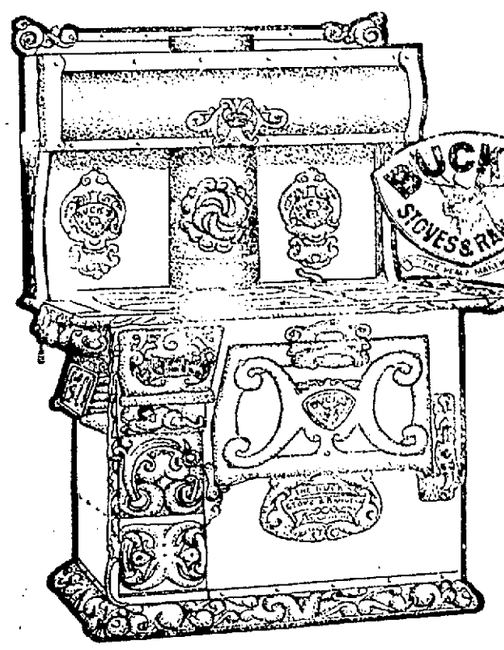

Mrs. Rodis of Nekoosa visited at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. Hass last Wednesday.

Mrs. Zeloba had an auction sale last Saturday in which she disposed of all her stock and all farming implements.

Miss Lena Seebrough, who has been working at Grandmoor for several months, returned home last Saturday.

Mrs. Hinshaw arrived here from Hudson, Ill., and is a guest at the home of her son.

In every clime its colors are unfurled
Its fame has spread from sea to sea;
Be not surprised if in the other world,
You hear of Rocky Mountain Tea.
Johnson Hill & Co.

SOME REASONS.

There are forty-seven reasons why this BUCK'S steel range is the best on earth. Three of them are:

It has a white enamel sanitary oven which is always sweet and clean.

It is so constructed as to combine beauty with quick heating, fuel-saving qualities.

It has all the advantages and improvements found in other ranges—and then some.

Wouldn't you like to own such a range—the best on earth? We can can sell you one to fit your needs and your pocket-book. The prices are reasonable.

JOHNSON & HILL CO.

Highest Step in the Ladder of Quality has at last been taken

By Doe Wah Jack.

See What He found,

The ROUND OAK.

See What He Found,

The ROUND OAK.

Let us show you why he was compelled to climb so high before reaching his reward.

Let us show you why he was compelled to climb so high beore reaching his reward.

Why not be guided by those who know. Burn either Coal or Wood with no change

IS HEADQUARTERS ARE AT,

Centralia Hardware Co

ORSON P. COCHRAN.

Piano Tuner.

Best of work guaranteed. Call Telephone 253 or at the house 117 Third Ave. S.

Office Phone 254

W. MELVIN RUCKLE, M. D.

Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.

Glasses fitted correctly. Eye and Ear Surgeon to Riverview Hospital. Office in Wood county bank building.

J. J. JEFFREY,

Lawyer.

Loans and Collections, Commercial and Probate Law. Office over Grass & Lyons.

DR. D. A. TELFER,

Dentist.

Office over Wood County National Bank on the East Side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

DR. A. L. RIDGMAN,

Physician and Surgeon.

Telephone No. 92. Residence Phone No. 23 Office over Church's Drug Store on West Side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

DR. W. D. HARVIE,

Physician and Surgeon.

Specialty of eye, ear, nose and throat. Glasses accurately fitted. Office over Otto's drug store west Side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

J. R. RAGAN,

Licensed Undertaker and Embalmer.

Successor to G. W. Baker. Store phone 467 Night Phone 69. East Grand Rapids, Wis.

JOHN A. GAYNOR,

Attorney at Law.

Office over the Postoffice on the East Side. Will practice in all courts.

WIPPERMAN & HAMBRECHT

Attorneys at Law,

Office on east Side, over Wood County National Bank, Grand Rapids, Wis.

W. J. CONWAY,

Attorney at Law.

Money loaned. Real estate bought and sold. Offices in Court House, East Side, and Mac-Kinnon Block, West Side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

GOGGINS & BRAZEAU,

Attorneys at Law.

Office in the Mackinnon Block on the West side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

B. M. VAUGHAN,

Attorney at Law.

Money loaned. Real estate bought and sold Gardner Block, East Side, Grand Rapids, Wis

D. D. CONWAY,

Attorney at Law.

Law, Loans and Collections. We have $20,000 which will be loaned at a low rate of interest. Office over First National Bank, East Side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

F. G. GILKEY AGENCY,

Fire Insurance,
Life and Accident.

Office in the Wood Block over post office.

W. E. WHEELAN,

Attorney at Law.

Office in the Daly Block on the East Side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

D. W. HITCHCOCK,

Attorney at law.

MacKinnon Block, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

NATWICK & CARHART

Licensed
Embalmers & Funeral directors

Telephones

Natwick	Office	Carhart
215	381	118

HARRIET WILLIAMS

Teacher of Piano

Telephone 293 Studio—Oak St.

CHAS. E. BRIERE,

Attorney at Law.

Office over Bank of Grand Rapids, West Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Wood County National Bank

Capital, - $50,000
Surplus, - $35,000

Savings Bank Department.
Safety Deposit Boxes for Rent.
Interest Paid on Time Deposits.

F. J. WOOD, President.
L. M. ALEXANDER, Vice-Pres.
GUY O. BABCOCK, Cashier,
D. B. PHILLEO, Asst. Cas.

DIRECTORS: G. F. Steele, L. M. Alexander, Thos. E. Nash, E. Roenitz, F. J. Wood.

T. B. SCOTT

FREE LIBRARY.

—HOURS—

From 2:30 to 6 p. m. & 7 to 8:30 p. m.

Every Day Except Sunday.

From 9 to 12:00 Saturday morning.

Children's Room Closed After 6 O'clock

Dairy and Food Commission's Report.

The Minnesota Dairy and Food Commission's analysis shows that Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar and Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar contained opiates and croton oil. Opiates are poisons and croton oil is a violent poisonous purgative. Refuse to accept any but Foley's Honey and Tar in a yellow package. Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates or dangerous drugs and is the best cough and cold cure. Daily Drug & Jewelry Co.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

—Get the habit and eat Mexican Chile at Gett's restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs Pat Lyons of Marshfield spent Sunday in the city.

Charles Norton of Almond visited friends in the city over Sunday.

Miss Myrtle Bossert has accepted a position as saleslady in Levins store.

Warren Fisher spent Monday and Tuesday with friends at Madison.

W. R. Chambers of Junction City was a business visitor here on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Meyer of Kellner were pleasant callers at this office on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Otto have moved into rooms in the Pomainville block on the west side.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Matthews of Nekoosa spent Sunday at the C. A. Kling home in this city.

Sam Gorman has accepted a position as electrical engineer with the Electric and Water Co.

Herman Cruse, who has been trapping down river, secured a couple of nice mink last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kinister of Pittsville have moved to this city and are living on the west side.

Howard Favell is now employed as clerk in the grocery department of the J. T. Schumacher store.

Mrs. Jennie Taylor was the guest of Mrs. Ralph N. Pitcher of Milwaukee during the past week.

Russel Doesburg returned on Saturday from an extended visit with relatives at Holland, Michigan.

Mrs. Carl Olson of Arcadia spent a few days visiting relatives and friends in Green Bay and New London.

Mrs. W. D. Connor of Marshfield was a guest at the home of Mrs. J. D. Witter several days last week.

James Lucier, who is employed at Grand Father Falls, was in the city on Wednesday greeting his friends.

Miss Lizzie McCarthy left on Saturday for Saxville, where she will teach school during the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Mullen drove to Port Edwards on Monday morning where Mr. Mullen transacted business.

Rob Nash left for Chicago on Monday with two cars of stock from L. M. Nash's stock farm near Junction City.

Mrs. John Granger returned on Saturday from a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. A. Rozalle at Dexterville.

Mrs. Kate Ward left on Monday for Wittenberg where she will spend the winter with her daughter Nellie.

Mrs. Walter Penney, nee Flora Compton, of Plainfield visited her aunt Mrs. Kate Townsend during the past week.

Miss Maurine Johnson visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Strauss at Marshfield several days last week.

Mrs. Carl Olson and son Russel left today for their home in Arcadia after spending a couple weeks at the Kuntz home.

Mrs. T. A. Taylor returned on Friday from Milwaukee where she had been visiting with friends for several days.

Paul Juneau, one of the old residents of the town of Rudolph, was a pleasant caller at the Tribune office on Saturday.

Mrs. Geo Minnehan had the misfortune to fall on a slippery door-step last Wednesday and fractured her shoulder blade.

Mrs. Lina Krause and two children of Vesper were in the city shopping on Monday. This office acknowledges a pleasant call.

Chas Kunth, one of the solid farmers of the town of Grand Rapids, favored this office with a pleasant call on Saturday.

A. J. Kujawn of Rudolph, successor to P. M. Logan, was in the city last Wednesday and favored the Tribune office with a call.

Richard Wipperman, who has been in Chicago for some time past, returned to the city on Thursday to remain indefinitely.

Thos. Henderson spent Sunday in Rudolph visiting at the Dan Rezin home. He reports Mr. Rezin being quite ill with a cold.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Boyanowski and son Frank were in Stockton a few days where they attended the wedding of a relative.

Mrs. W. F. Parker of Stevens Point spent Saturday and Sunday in the city with her daughters, Mrs. L. Andrews and Miss Grace Parker.

A. H. Stange of Merrill was in the city several days during the past week, being a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Ellis.

Rev. and Mrs. Geo. Gibson returned on Monday from Minneapolis where they had been for several weeks visiting with relatives.

Mrs. Louis Reichel left on Friday for Menominee, Michigan, expecting to also visit at her old home at Sturgeon Bay before her return.

Miss Lillie Oberbeck entertained a few of her girl friends at her home on Eighth Ave North, last Friday evening in honor of her birthday.

If you want an Abstract of Title, Boles will make it for you.

Look Into This

The question of fuel will bear deep investigation. Our experience in this line enables us to give you the very best at the very lowest figures. Have you ever tried Schuylskill Coal? You know, the bright shiny kind. Well, we have it. You surely have heard of the Sunday Creek Hocking Coal. We are headquarters for this coal and all kinds of wood, and our prices are right. Prompt delivery. Try us and see

BOSSERT BROS
'Phone No.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Doesburg, who formerly lived in one of the Boucher houses, have moved into rooms in the Pomainville building on Grand Ave.

Mrs. Steve Slattery, who recently moved to Sturgeon Bay, arrived in the city last Friday and will visit with relatives and friends for a few days.

Atty. E. R. Goggins and mother Mrs. Hugh Goggins were in Green Bay last Friday where they attended the funeral of the late Wm. B. Minahan.

Frank Springer and family left on Monday for Almond where they will spend the winter with Mrs. Springer's parents. It is Mr. Springer's intention to move out west in the spring.

Miss Celia McCarthy resigned her positon as stenographer for the John Arpin Lbr. Co. last week and Michael Dwyer of Neillsville has taken her place.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bodmer, who have formerly been residents of this city, left on Monday for City Point where they will make their home in the future.

About 20 young people gathered at the home of Howard Favell on Eighth street Friday evening and gave him a pleasant surprise. A good time was had by all present.

Almond Press:—Mrs. Jos. Waters went to Grand Rapids Monday to attend the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin O. Potter. She is a sister to Mrs. Potter.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Love of Seattle, Wash., arrived in the city on Saturday and will spend a week at the home of Mr. Love's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Love.

Conductor Comstock is again on the run between this city and Nekoosa after an absence of a year or more. He expects to remove his family to this city and make his home here.

Roy Kammerer, who has been employed in the Jeffrey Automobile factory at Kenosha, resigned his position at that place and returned to his home in this city on Saturday.

Among the visitors in the city on Monday was M. O. Potter of Cranmoor. Mr. Potter is still carrying his arm in a sling but otherwise he looks none the worse for his recent accident.

Supt. James France of the south side mill and son John returned last week from Norwich, Canada, their former home where they spent several weeks visiting relatives and friends. They report a pleasant time.

About 20 couples gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boethke on the west side Saturday evening to help Mrs. Boethke celebrate her 29th birthday. Games were played and a good time reported by those present.

—Don't wait until the last moment if you want a nice suit of clothes made for evening wear this winter. Call at the Grand Rapids Tailoring Co. and select what you want now.

Will Nash, who has been buying pulp wood for the Northern Paper Company in northern Minnesota during the past few weeks, spent a few days in this city during the week visiting with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Beulah Biron entertained a number of lady friends at her High street home on Thursday afternoon in honor of her guest, Mrs. Wm. Scott, of Port Arthur. The afternoon was spent very pleasantly by those in attendance.

About twenty-five of Miss Elsie Baruch's friends surprised her at her home on Washington street last Wednesday evening. The evening was spent in playing games, after which light refreshments were served. All present report a very good time.

Dr. and Mrs. M. Mellin and Mrs. J. L. Harvey left last week for Portland, Oregon, where they will be guests at the Richard Harvey home for about two months. Mrs. Harvey expects to spend the winter at that place.

W. E. Little, Jesse Hopgood, John Henry, George Anderson, Louis Schall and Henry Wakely leave today for Harshaw where they will spend a week or more engaged in deer hunting. They go up a few days before the season opens in order to get the camp in readiness for the busy season.

—Do not miss the special sale on street and dress hats at Miss Reed's west side millinery parlors. It occurs on Friday and Saturday of this week.

The Grand Rapids band went to Necedah on Monday afternoon to play for a republican rally that was to be held at that place, at which Congressman Babcock was to speak. It is reported that Necedah residents were not falling over themselves to get in to hear the great man explain his position.

Anna Held, the actress, reports the loss of her satchel containing $207,000 worth of diamonds. We notice by the Stevens Point Journal that a satchel was picked up alongside the railroad track near Stevens Point and would suggest that the authorities of Portage county communicate with Anna at once.

Last Wednesday evening the Flinch club met at the home of Mrs. W. M. Martin and gave that lady a farewell party. The evening was spent in playing flinch after which refreshments were served. Mrs. Martin and family left yesterday for Panama where they will join Mr. Martin, who is employed by the government at that place.

The Rev. Irl Hicks, the world renowned long distance weather prevaricator made a very poor guess on the weather for October, and November started in direct opposition to his prognostications for that month. If he keeps on predicting cold and stormy weather it is probable that he will strike it before the winter is over, however, and he need not be discouraged. He has been off the trolley the greater part of the time during the past summer and one would think that he would lose faith in himself after a time.

Alex Nelson of Stevens Point was in the city between trains on Monday en route for Sioux Falls, N. D., where he has accepted a position as billing clerk in the U. S. Express office.

—Hats, special sale, at Miss Reed's on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 9 and 10. Many handsome designs in street and dress hats.

The Neves Club, consisting of Misses Edna Muir, Kate Kellogg, Blanche Cleveland, Mae Cahill, Gertrude Mason, Edna Ridgman and Lenore and Loretta McCarthy, met at the home of Miss Edna Ridgman last Wednesday evening and enjoyed a very pleasant evening. The evening was spent in playing games after which refreshments were served and the young people departed for their homes.

Another Sign of a Hard Winter

That the coming winter is going to be the hardest one for the last twenty years there is an abundance of signs to show, and among them it may be mentioned that:

The corn husks are a foot and a half thick, and all the stalks lean to the west.

The geese, ducks and chickens are growing a coat of fur under their feathers, and are rubbing borax on their feet to harden them up.

All the one eyed owls are leaving the country a month earlier than usual, and the bobtailed squirrels are laying in sweet potatoes, as well as nuts, for winter provisions.

The farmer who has taken the trouble to investigate has found that all the toadstools on the old logs have wrinkles in them. The last time that this happened we had winter weather that froze the handles of plows.

Rabbits are sitting around with a humped up look to them, and field mice have a wrinkle in their tails.

If this means anything it means 20 degrees below zero from November through to May.—Tyrone Herald.

Sells More of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than of All Others Put Together.

Mr. Thos. George, a merchant at Mt. Elgin, Ontario, says: "I have the local agency for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since it was introduced in to Canada, and I sell as much of it as I do of all other lines I have on my shelves put together. Of the many dozens sold under guarantee, I have not had one bottle returned. I can personally recommend this medicine as I have used it myself and given it to my children and always with the best results." For sale by Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

Maud Muller Again.

Maud Muller on a summer day with her fellow ran away, in a benzine touring car scooting to a preacher far. Maud's father saw the fleeting pair—smelled the benzine scented air; caught a mule whose name was Jane, and galloped down the dusty lane; the mobile very swiftly ran but burned the oil all out the can. The motor stopped upon the hill, but Jane ran on just fit to kill. Alas for maid, alas for man, alas for empty benzine can. Maud's daddy on the old gray mule came and took her off to school. The mule nigh wrecked the benzine cart; the fellow died of broken heart. The moral of this tale so sad: Don't steal the girl, go ask her dad.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

Ladies. Fisher, Mrs. Minnie.

Gentlemen. Blackhawk, John; Dvidson, Chas.; Kristofsky, August; Merbach, Henry (Foreign); Miller, Jas.; Paterick, Geo.; Robinson, R. K.; Tomyosh, E.

Chamberlain's COLIC, CHOLERA AND Diarrhoea Remedy

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. It may save life.

PRICE, 25c. LARGE SIZE, 50c.

School Board Program.

The program for the school board, convention which is being held in this city to day, is as follows:

10:00 a. m.—Enrollment.

The Financial Side of the Rural School Problem—C. P. Carey, state supt.

The Old School and the New—J. F. Sims, Pres. Stevens Point Normal school.

Teachers—M. H. Jackson.

The School Library—Etta M. Michaels.

The School Board and the Teacher—C. P. Carey, State Supt.

A Great Success.

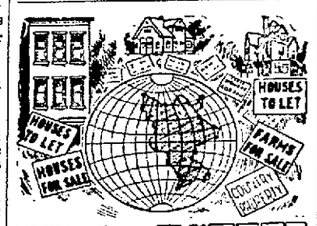

The Illustrated Sunday Magazine, given with every copy of The Milwaukee Sunday Sentinel, has made a decided hit with the people of Wisconsin. The Sunday Sentinel is in great demand, and the circulation has been wonderfully increased by this splendid feature. The magazine will be found to interest people of all classes and ages. If you are not taking The Sentinel and getting this beautiful magazine every Sunday, you are doing yourself an injustice. The Sentinel is sold everywhere. Order now of your newsdealer or newsboy.

Miscellaneous Shower.

On Saturday evening Mrs. Nellie Dixon entertained about twenty young ladies at a miscellaneous shower given for Miss Celia McCarthy. Miss McCarthy was presented with many beautiful and useful presents.

This is Worth Remembering.

As no one is immune, every person should remember that Foley's Kidney Cure will cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble that is not beyond the reach of medicine. Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

REAL ESTATE

BUY LAND

you would invest your money in the safest way possible. We can direct you to many

Valuable Investments

In this section of the county. Whether you are desirous of Renting, Buying, Selling or Mortgaging property we can be of an assistance to you.

Lots in Cloverdale Addition $109
Payable $10 down. $5 each month

Taylor & Scott, Agents

A. N. Palmer
--Dealer in--
BUGGIES and CUTTERS

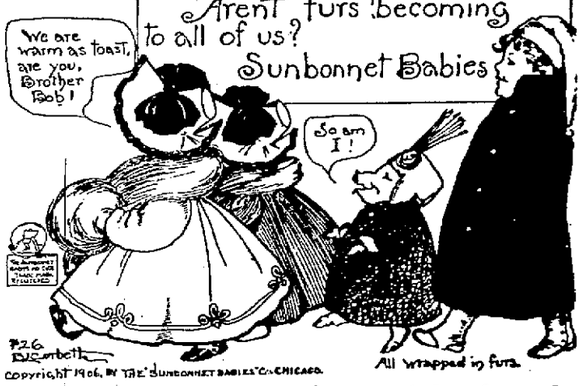

Agt. for the J. L. Clark Line of buggies and road wagons

Expert horse shoeing and repairing under the management of

Jos. Yeske
1 Ave. South.
The old Preston stand.

Say, animals are not afraid of the cold when they have their furs on. We can brave the cold when we have their furs on. Arent furs becoming to all of us?

Sunbonnet Babies

We know that Nature is beautiful. Animals are a part of Nature. Animals are beautiful. You can add to your beauty if you wear the beautiful furs of beautiful animals. You know we have the reputation for carrying a splendid line of furs. Among the furs We carry are these:—Isabella fox neck piece, very fine $14, $10, $8.50, $5 and many others. price tells the quality. Fine opposom neck piece from $7.00 to 2.75. Near seal coat, otter collar and cuffs, special $23.50. Astrachan from $52.00 down to 18.50, all lengths to 40 inches.

COME TO SEE OUR FURS WHETHER YOU WISH TO BUY THEM JUST NOW OR NOT. FURS MAKE NICE PRESENTS.

PROFIT SHARING BONDS FREE WITH EVERY PURCHASE.

JOHNSON & HILL COMPANY.

WANT COLUMN.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be published in this column at the rate of 1 cent a word, no ad taken for less than 10 cents. If you want to buy, sell or trade anything, try the want column.

FOR SALE—A team of colts 1 and one half years old, heavy stock, both bay horse colts and look alike. Price $150. Mrs. Dave Taylor. 2t

FOR SALE—Several slightly used stoves in good as new, also new ones, at a bargain. Hot Blast and others. Geo. F. Krueger

FOR SALE—Farm of 155 acres in town of Saratoga, five miles from Grand Rapids. For information apply to John Schultz, R. R. 3 Grand Rapids, Wis

Do you want to sell your farm or your house house and lot? Tell Boles. He will sell it.

ORDER BOOKS—Town and school order books always on hand at the Tribune office. 100 orders bound in books, 50 cents.

CLEANING, pressing and repairing by the Grand Rapids Tailoring Co. Clothes called for and delivered. Phone 285.

FOR SALE—A good house and two lots in a good location near the factories. This is a bargain at $1,075.00 if the owner must sell. C. E. Boles.

WANTED—A good strong boy 15 years of age, to learn the printer's trade. Must have a good schooling, a first class chance to learn a trade. Apply Tribune office.

Do you want to buy a farm or a place in the city? Call on Boles

WANTED—Wood on subscription at the Tribune office.

WANTED—An old couple on farm, woman to keep house, man to do chores. For particulars inquire at this office. 3t

WANTED FARMS—Want to correspond with parties who would exchange their farms for good Milwaukee property. Money to loan on farms. Hardy & Ryan, Waukesha, Wis.

FOR SALE—Miscellaneous.

FOR SALE—Typewriter paper. A large supply always on hand at the Tribune office. Everything from a first class linen down to the cheaper grades. The price tells the quality. Also manuscript covers.

FOR SALE—Horse power saw and jack. Will exchange for young stock. Watson Turner, 4t Vesper, Wis

FOR SALE—A cranberry cleaning machine made by J. R. Phelps, Berlin, Wis. In good working condition. Address M. H. Walker, Green Bay, Wis.

FOR SALE—House and two lots on Grant St. for $600. This is a good bargain for a laboring man as the place is near mills. Inquire at this office.

FOR REST—Heated office, rooms in the Pomainville block on the West Side. Inquire Dr. Chas. Pomainville.

How to Save FUEL

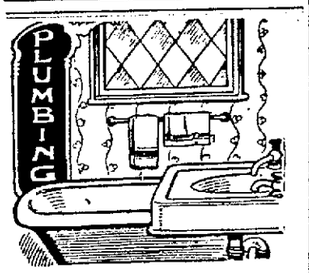

Briefly—Buy a Cole's Hot Blast Coal Stove

It cuts the fuel bill in two because it burns the gas arising from burning coal. Gas goes via the chimney in other stoves. Cole's Hot Blast really makes $4.00 soft coal work like $9.00 hard coal. Come in and see that smokeless feed door. Does away with dust, dirt and smoke IN THE HOUSE.

Our cutlery has a great reputation in this neighborhood because while our prices are cheap the goods are not.

D. M. HUNTINGTON,
Sole Agent,
East Side, near City Hall.

EVERY MEMBER OF THE FAMILY

will appreciate the comfort of a fine modern Bath Room. If you are thinking of remodelling your house or of building a new one, don't fail to give your most serious attention to the important item of PLUMBING. If you give us the contract you will get the very best Workmanship, the finest materials and lowest possible price

J. E. FARLEY

COAL . AND . Wood

See F. E. Kellner for the Best

TELEPHONE 305.

The Spinx

of Egypt has been pretty close-mouthed as to the formation of the pyramids, but at last the Secret is out.

Recent investigation has proven conclusively that they were built of

Wet process concrete

It is only recently that the process has been re-discovered and successfully applied to general building requirements. We use the WET PROCESS EXCLUSIVELY in our building blocks. They are suited to all kinds of buildings and the price is very modest.

Grand Rapids Hollow Concrete Wall Company

PAY DAY

at the factories means "pay day" for the man that gets the check.

Why not bring a check from each of the old First National Brick and their pay your little store bills with checks the way the factory pays you?

Such a business as yours or hers from small accounts would seem make it possible for you to open up a new bank account. We furnish the checks free and fully explain everything.

We want your business no matter how small, and we will help you make it grow. Call and talk with us about it.

First National Bank
Grand Rapids, Wis.

WE SELL FOREIGN MONEY ORDERS

VICTORIA, DEWEY, SUNBEAM

A WISE WOMAN

Knows that one of the first requisites in making good bread is to have first-class flour, and she will generally have it if it is obtainable.

A WISE MAN

Will always see to it that his wife has good flour and to make sure of the matter he will order VICTORIA, DEWEY or SUNBEAM.

GRAND RAPIDS MILLING CO.

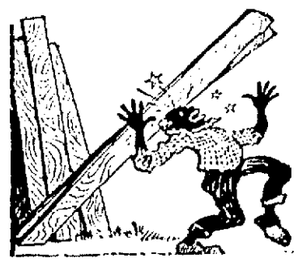

YOU are personally invited to call and inspect our stock of coal and wood, heaters, cooks and ranges, we are sure we can interest you, and furnish you the best stove that the market affords at the most reasonable price.

We are also head quarters for the Keen Kutter pocket knives, razors, shears and plated knives and forks, etc.

No factory gives you such a liberal guarantee as does the Simmons Hardware Co. Call and see the line we offer. Respectfully,

Geo. W. Purnell

Did it ever Strike You

that there is a difference in Lumber? When you buy Lumber you must depend upon the honesty of the dealer, if you are not a judge. Will you Trust Us with your next order? we are confident that we can hold your trade if we can serve you once.

Shingles at the Right Prices.

WEST SIDE LUMBER CO.

M. G. GORDON, Mgr. Phone, 169

Brighten Up

"Brighten Up" time is here—the time to clean up about the house, renovate, and make the old things look neat and clean again. We can help you in the work with our line of SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINTS AND VARNISHES.

It is really surprising what a little paint or varnish will do toward brightening up dingy surroundings. Take The S-W. Family Paint, for instance. This is a linseed oil paint specially prepared for home decorating and painting. With it any one can renew the appearance of a hundred little things that now look worn and old. It dries with a good gloss and will stand scrubbing with soap and water. Comes in 16 attractive shades.

The S-W. Floorlac is another splendid household brightener. It is a stain and varnish combined and can be used on old or new woods equally well. Imitates the natural woods and gives a most pleasing effect.

These offer a few hints for you. Come in and have a "Brighten Up" talk with us and learn more about how we can help you in your Fall cleaning. Our line has a paint or varnish for every purpose.

Remember, we sell

THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PRODUCTS

OTTO'S PHARMACY

The Rexall Store.

GRAND RAPIDS TRIBUNE

BY DRUMB & SUTOR.

GRAND RAPIDS. - WISCONSIN.

The man who goes in swimming every day all winter is now due.

In addition to the yellow peril and yellow journalism the pure food law now threatens us with yellow sugar.

This is the time of the year when the young man without an overcoat begins to wish he hadn't bought so much ice cream last summer.

Sir Thomas Lipton says he may build another yacht and race for the International cup. The Irish will hate to hear that the Shamrock is going to get the worst of it again.

Seattle, Wash., is to have an exposition. The metropolis of Puget sound cannot afford to let Portland get away with all the honors of the north Pacific coast.

New York now has an apartment house for the exclusive use of families in which there are many children. It ought to be in all fairness to be called The Roosevelt.

"The modern English novel reader insists on hearing about the rich or the great," says the Spectator. But a little rashness among the rich, or a covert and ill-smelling attack on daily habit, religion or food will sell a good many copies.

A man who was given the privilege of conducting his own defense in a Boston court had to pay three separate fines for drunkenness, speeding and failure to take out a license. If he had not rested his case he would probably have been sent up for life.

London's West End tailors say men are going to wear vivid colors this winter, especially greens and chocolates. Shrimp pinks and tomato blends are also in favor, but the modest among males are putting all their color sense into underwear and making it with the usual pepper-and-salt.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer is not quite sure of it, but is inclined to the belief that the eastern college sophomores who condemned a freshman to a diet of soft soap were more lenient and considerate than the sophs in a western college who threw the freshman down stairs and broke his skull.

Sir Thomas Lipton is thinking of challenging again for the American cup. Of course our yachtsmen will be put on their mettle and will not give up without a fight to the finish. But there is no one to whom Americans would so cheerfully surrender the cup as the prize of victory as to the gallant Sir Thomas.

New York city's pay roll amounts to $57,068,253.13, paid to 60,918 employes. That is a bigger army than that of the United States, with everybody on it getting far more than the martial servants of Uncle Sam, since there are plenty of places paying from $10,000 to $15,000, or more than the salaries of a major general or lieutenant general.

About the liveliest industry in Russia just now is the trying of revolutionists. The courts in St. Petersburg and elsewhere are running overtime on those cases, and in the capital city alone 400 witnesses are to be examined. With so much time given to disposing of such offenders it is going to be difficult to plan a more liberal form of government.

The latest elixir of life, the vial of endless existence, which the post office department has been examining and has found to contain a little alcohol and oil of peppermint and a great deal of water is at any rate an improvement over old Ponce de Leon's. He put nothing but water in his famous discovery, and he was never found out.

Russia's finances are said to be constantly going into worse condition than they ever have been before. The London Times declares that the gold reserve of Russia is $200,000,000 short, the last loan has been swallowed up and the condition of the treasury is much worse than it was two years ago. Such reports are not calculated to aid in securing much further relief in the way of large loans from European countries or the United States.

Dr. Forbes Winslow, an alienist of London, England, has been quoted as saying that before long there will be more lunatics in the world than sane people. He has been misquoted, of course. What he said was that if insanity continues to increase at the rate shown by statistics the insane will some time outnumber the sane. As a matter of course, if the percentage of the insane goes on increasing it is only a question of time when not only a majority of the people but all of them will become insane. It all depends on the "if." We need not despair.

The English can't be accused of dumping when they can sell us one of the only two copies of the 62-leaved 1,631 edition of "The Passionate Pilgrim" for $10,000. Eighty dollars a page is more than this trifle would probably have brought in a home market.

Ristori is dead at the age of 84. This great actress had the genius to reach the level of the legitimate and the classic. Problem plays were not in her line. "Medea," "Lady Macbeth," and characters of that type were good enough for her.

The earnest young men of the poison squad under the genial auspices of the bureau of chemistry in Washington, who are soon to start in on a diet in which there is a generous admixture of saltpetre, have the best wishes of the country and a reasonable certainty that they are getting a milder dose than football gruel.

To the English critic who says that Henry James "gropes his way through the English language like a blind man tapping with a stick," it is retorted in effect that anyhow Henry is no literary cake walker.

Dr. Forbes Winslow, of London, says that the world is rapidly becoming insane. He deduces this from statistics, not from the wonderful popularity of English comic opera.

"There was plenty of work for a surgeon," says a dispatch, describing the flag rush at the University of Cincinnati. Thus do we educate our youths not to be weaklings.

The Newfoundland man who says he can extract gold from sea water is welcome to all he can get. Nobody will rob him.

SKIRMISH WITH UTES

TROOPERS CAPTURE 50 PONIES FROM RENEGADES.

INDIANS STAMPEDE HERD

Fire Revolvers and Utter War Whoops While Surrounding the Animals, Which Become Unmanageable and Escape.

Sheridan, Wyo.—A skirmish occurred Wednesday between a band of the renegade Ute Indians and a troop of the Tenth cavalry on Bitter creek according to word brought by a special courier. The troops had captured 50 Ute ponies and severely frightened five herders.

As the troopers were driving away the ponies, 100 Utes, fully armed, surrounded the cavalrymen and the ponies, stampeding the ponies with revolver shots and native war whoops. The Indians recovered all their ponies but five were killed by the troops in an effort to stop the stampede.

The Indians did not fire at the soldiers. The soldiers desisted from attacking the Utes as the reds greatly outnumbered the troopers.

Troopers say that, as far as they can ascertain from rumor and observation, the Indians will fight with little provocation.

Another detachment of the Tenth cavalry that left Sheridan Monday night ran across a wandering band of 100 Crow Indians under command of Chief Sweet Mouth. The troopers drove the Crows back to the Crow agency. The Crows said that they were hunting and denied any intention of joining the Utes.

Still another squad of the Tenth cavalry fell in with a band of Cheyenne Indians, who, on representation that they were hunting, were allowed to go in peace.

Settlers charge that Indian guides employed by the federal troops are acting treacherously and leading the troops on false trails to keep the soldiers from overtaking the Utes. These settlers mention among the wily guides Woman's Dress, American Horse and White Cow Bull.

Some troopers of the Tenth cavalry marched all Tuesday night to capture a small band of Utes reported to be encamped on Bitter creek, but found no Indians at the designated place.

Sheridan, Wyo.—A band of 100 Ute Indians, it is reported, Thursday captured a wagon loaded with 3,000 pounds of flour and supplies bound from Arvada to the Tenth and the Sixth cavalry.

The driver was held at rifle point while the redskins sacked the entire load and carried it away, allowing the driver to proceed with the empty wagon.

Troops camped at the mouth of Buffalo creek are on short rations and more food has been ordered from Little Powder river, 30 miles from the troops.

SOONERS ENTITLED TO CLAIMS

No Law to Prevent Settlers to Wait for Signal.

Washington.—Further reports from agents of the interior department who superintended the opening Monday of the Walker Lake Indian reservation in Nevada have convinced Secretary Hitchcock that the infractions of the regulations governing the opening were not serious enough to warrant a recommendation in favor of invalidating it.

Regardless of the action of "sooners" in crossing the line before the signal, the act of congress ordering that the reservation be thrown open to settlement has not been violated. That act did not prescribe that persons should not enter the reservation in advance of the signal, and there is no law under which these persons may be punished.

Filipinos to Have Congress.

Washington.—The president is preparing to redeem his promise made to the Philippine people through Secretary Taft that they shall have a parliament of their own, conditioned upon their good behavior for a term of two years, and it is understood that Secretary Taft himself will proceed to the Philippines next spring to witness the installation of the new form of representative government.

Starts Suit Against Railroads.

Washington.—All railroads operating in Oklahoma have been made defendants in a complaint filed with the interstate commerce commission Thursday by the territory, through its attorney general, W. O. Cromwell, the charge being that extortionate rates are charged on shipments of wheat to Galveston, and that points in Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Indian Territory are favored.

President Hunts Turkeys.

Scottsville, Va.—President Roosevelt and Mr. Wilmer went out on a turkey hunt Thursday.

Grief Leads to Suicide.

Toledo, O.—W. H. Fisher, aged 79, for 50 years justice of the peace at Theobold, near here, committed suicide by shooting himself. Grief over the death of his wife is assigned as the cause of the suicide.

Close University of Moscow.

Moscow.—The University of Moscow was closed Wednesday by order of the rector until Nov. 12, in consequence of violations of the rule against open political meetings being held in the university building.

Shonts Sails for Isthmus.

New York.—T. P. Shonts, chairman of the canal commission, sailed for Panama Tuesday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Shonts and their daughter. Secretary Bishop, and the commission's counsel, R. R. Rogers.

Bull Gores Woman to Death.

Port Jarvis, Pa.—Mrs. Magdalena A. Burger, wife of Ora Berger, a farmer residing three miles from here, was gored to death by a bull on her farm. She had gone for wood in a field in which the bull was grazing.

Suspect Fire Hides Murder.

Rapid City, S. D.—A car on the Milwaukee tracks used as a lodging house for laborers burned Sunday night. The bodies of two men were found in the ruins. Evidence of foul play developed at the inquest.

Trains in Collision; Four Dead.

Indianapolis, Ind.—In a head-on collision of two freight trains west of Springfield, O., on the Peoria & Eastern division of the Big Four, four trainmen were killed, while a fifth is not expected to recover.

OIL COMPANY FINED $5,000

JUDGE BANKER FIXES PENALTY FOR STANDARD CONCERN.

Given Limit for Single Violation of Valentine Anti-Trust Law, and Allowed Usual Time for Appeal.

Findlay, O. — In the probate court here Monday, Judge Banker overruled the motion filed by the attorneys of the Standard Oil company for a new trial and imposed a fine of $5,000 and costs of the prosecution in the recent suit against the Standard held here.

On motion of the defense the court ordered that the defendant company be allowed 40 days in which to prepare and file its bill of exceptions in the case. On motion by the Standard attorneys, Joseph O. Troup, of Bowling Green, O., and S. H. Tolles, of Cleveland, the sentence imposed was ordered suspended for a period of 60 days for the purpose of filing a petition on error in this case. It was also ordered that the criminal informations pending against John D. Rockefeller, the Buckeye Pipe Line company and the Manhattan Oil company be continued until the next term of court.

The fine imposed by Judge Banker was the limit for one offense, though the law stipulates that each day that the illegal combination business is carried on constitutes a separate offense. Taking this view of the statutes, it was possible for the court to impose an aggregate of fines amounting to over $6,000,000.

DEATH OF JAMES D. YEOMANS

Former Member of Interstate Board Dead at Washington.

Washington. — James D. Yeomans, formerly a member of the interstate commerce commission, died Wednesday of a complication of diseases. He was 61 years of age.

Mr. Yeomans took part in many of the important cases brought before the interstate commerce commission. He was a native of Wyoming county, New York, and had considerable experience in the railroad world. He entered the railway service early in life, became general superintendent of the Buffalo, New York & Philadelphia railway, was identified with other railroad interests and later on became general superintendent of the Olean, Bradford & Warren railway. In the latter part of his railroad career he was identified with railroad building in New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan. He was succeeded on the interstate commerce commission by former United States Senator Francis M. Cockrell, of Missouri. Mr. Yeomans had private business interests in this city, to which he devoted himself after his retirement from public life.

James D. Yeomans.

Judge Yeomans, as he was familiarly known, had a wide acquaintance with public men and prominent citizens here and was universally esteemed.

PRAIRIE FIRE IS DESTRUCTIVE

Flames Sweep Path Seven Miles Wide in North Dakota.

Dickinson, N. D.—Reports coming in about a prairie fire which swept the country south of here Sunday, show it was the worst fire of the kind in 17 years. The fire started north of Stillwater, and swept southeast, burning a path seven miles wide, going by the way of Harkens' ranch, and thence toward Serin. Among the heaviest losers were the owners of the Galligan ranch, where buildings, hay and horses were destroyed. The Valley ranch lost its sheep stock, and the D. Z. ranches lost 900 tons of hay. On the Nester and Krenz places, just newly started, buildings, cattle, horses, hogs and machinery were cleaned away and some of the employes were fatally burned.

Bishop Nicholson Dead.

Milwaukee.—Isaac Lea Nicholson, D. D., bishop of the Milwaukee Episcopal diocese, died at his residence in this city late Monday afternoon after a lingering illness. The end came peacefully and was not unexpected. An ailment of the heart, together with other complications, was the cause of death.

Will Move Railroad Shops.

Blue Ridge, Va.—The railroad shops of the Atlanta division of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, which have been here for ten years, will be removed at once to Etowah, Tenn. No reason is assigned.

Export Duty on Coal Abolished.

London.—The abolition of the export duty on coal, which became effective at midnight, was the signal for the sailing Thursday morning of hundreds of coal laden vessels bound for foreign ports.

Trainman Is Killed.

Greencastle, Ind.—William A. McLain, an employe of the Big Four railroad fell under a moving car Wednesday and was instantly killed. His father resides at Butler, Pa., and a wife at Carnegia, Pa.

Judge Gary Is Dead.

Chicago.—Judge Joseph E. Gary, the oldest member of the Chicago bench, and the man who sentenced the anarchists to hang, died suddenly at his home, 369 Ontario street, Wednesday afternoon.

Former Mayor of Omaha Dead.

Quincy, Ill.—George K. Roberts, attorney for the Big Four road, and one of the first mayors of the city of Omaha, died of neuralgia of the heart at Lawrenceburg, Ind., Monday. He was 62 years old.

Father Shoots Babe Dead.

Shelbyville, Ind.—Charles Alyea, living near Fountaintown, shot and killed his three-year-old daughter. The father had a loaded rifle in his hand and the trigger caught in a rent in a towel.

HE WON'T BE HAPPY TILL HE GETS IT.

DEATH LIST MAY REACH 70 IN ATLANTIC CITY WRECK

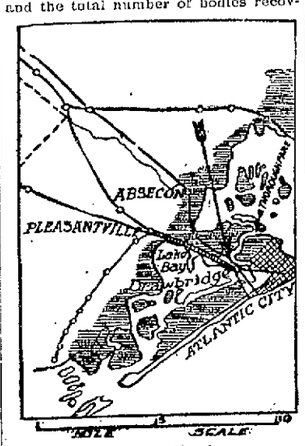

Removal of Third Car from Thoroughfare Bridge Abutment Releases Bodies of Three Women Pinned Beneath the Coach.

Atlantic City, N. J.—The contention of Coroner Gaskill that a number of persons who lost their lives in the electric train wreck on the Thoroughfare bridge may be buried in the mud where the cars plunged was borne out late Tuesday, when the bodies of Mrs. Paul Felsberg, Mrs. Selina Johnson and that of Mrs. Sarah Miller were recovered from under the third car. This car hung from the abutment in the center of the bridge, with its nose in the mud, and when the workmen were trying to lift it from the water the bodies worked loose.

That of Mrs. Miller was pinned fast in the wreckage, but that of Mrs. Felsberg floated up to the view of the workmen. Mrs. Johnson's body was found some time later, caught under the wreckage. All were cut and battered.

Dead Now Number 58.

The finding of these bodies increases the official identified dead to 51, and the total number of bodies recovered to 54. There are still known to be among the dead the bodies of Mrs. Frank Monroe, three-year-old Joseph McElroy, H. N. Burch and Arman Alexis Tedesco, which makes the certain number of dead in the wreck to be 58, there still remaining at various mortuaries three unclaimed bodies.

Place of Wreck.

The local officials say the total death list is 62. On the other hand, a great many were early on the ground, and some of those who were rescued from the train are inclined to the belief that several bodies were swept down by the heavy tide and never recovered. It is contended by some that the total loss of life will be about 70.

The finding of the body of Mrs. Miller was followed at the temporary morgue by one of the most pathetic scenes in the entire heartrending affair. Mrs. Miller, who was in poor health, had taken the trip to the sea on the electric train with her daughter-in-law and grandson, Leslie. The elder Mrs. Miller's son was here Tuesday to get the effects of his wife and son and arrange about the shipment of the bodies, when the body of his mother was brought in. He was signing for the effects of his wife and son when the police learned of the recovery of the bodies. Miller identified the body of his mother, and almost collapsed after crying out that he was left alone in the world.

Only One Unidentified.

The police, in going over the effects of some of the victims at the city hall, found a letter in the pockets of a garment taken from one of the unidentified bodies. It was addressed to William Granning, Penn Door Sash company, Twenty-fifth and Callowhill streets, and was written by a brother. This apparently identifies one of the unclaimed victims. The body is in charge of Undertaker Thompson on Chelsea.

The one absolutely unidentified and unclaimed body, at Crowley's morgue, is that of a man about 42 years old, weighing about 200 pounds.

Aside from the search for the bodies, interest now centers on the inquest which will be held by Coroner Gaskill on Thursday morning. While he will not express an opinion before the inquiry as to the cause of the accident, it appears from his statement that he is convinced the bridge on which the accident occurred is not as it should be, and may be rebuilt.

Inquest Is Begun.

Atlantic City, N. J.—The inquest into the Thoroughfare disaster of Sunday was begun Thursday by Coroner Gaskill and after the examination of several witnesses an adjournment was taken until Monday morning at ten o'clock. The sudden termination came as a surprise, but it was stated later that this step was taken for the purpose of summoning additional witnesses and to also give the experts who are to testify an opportunity to prepare maps and other necessary papers. None of the officials of the railroad company was called.

Rails Failed to Join.

The most important testimony thus far adduced was that of Bridge Tender Stewart and Mrs. Elizabeth Driscoll. The former testified that the grooves in the rails over the draw did not always connect, this being the case in hot weather, and it was then necessary to knock them in place.

Mrs. Driscoll said that the train was running at a high speed when it struck the trestle, and another witness said that there was no apparent slackening of speed when the cars rushed on to the bridge.

Bridgetender Gave Signal.

Daniel Stewart, the aged bridge tender, testified as to letting the yacht Sinbad through the draw. After the yacht had passed he placed the red flags, or danger signals. He said the towerman relocked the bridge and then he (Stewart) went to the center and relocked the rails, raising them about an inch and one-half above the other rails. He said that the rails were down and fast and he gave the signal, "All is right" and the towerman pulled the lever.

The body of H. N. Burch, another victim of the Thoroughfare disaster, was recovered from the mud near the scene of the wreck Thursday.

Congressman Hoar Dead.

Worcester, Mass. — Representative Rockwood Hoar, of the Third Massachusetts district, son of the late Senator George F. Hoar, died Thursday at his residence in this city, after an illness of five weeks.

Workmen Exiled to Siberia.

St. Petersburg.—M. Krustaleff, who was president of the executive committee of the Workmen's council and 14 leaders of the council were sentenced to exile in Siberia and the loss of all civil rights.

Eight Persons Executed.

St. Petersburg.—Eight persons arrested here in connection with the robbery of $168,826 from Cashier Herman, of the custom house, October 27, were tried by court-martial and executed Tuesday.

Prominent Florist Killed.

Scranton, Pa.—J. L. Dillon, of Bloomington, one of the leading florists of the United States, was killed at East Bloomburg by a freight train while attending to the unloading of coal.

Dry Goods Firm Bankrupt.

Akron, O.—The Upham-Brouse company, the third largest dry goods store in this city, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, on account of the pressing claims of New York and Philadelphia creditors. Liabilities, $75,000.

Teacher Froze to Death.

Castlerock, Colo. — Miss Laura Scott, a 19-year-old school teacher, was found dead near Parker, in Douglas county, by a searching party. She had lost her way returning from a call and had frozen to death.

Women Favor Separate Schools.

Tulsa, I. T.—The Indian Territory Federation of Women's clubs, in annual session here, Thursday adopted, by unanimous vote, resolutions favoring separate schools for whites and blacks in the state of Oklahoma.

Will Quit Athletics.

New Orleans.—Because of alleged discrimination by President Dudley, of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association Tulane university will withdraw from the association at the end of the football season.

Pythian Hall Is Destroyed.

Leipsic, O.—Fire Wednesday night destroyed the entire opera house block entailing a loss of $100,000. The fire started in the Knights of Pythias lodge rooms and within an hour the entire block was consumed.

Presents Island to City.

Racine, Wis.—William Horlick has purchased and presented to this city a large island in Root river. Mr. Horlick has also donated a generous sum to convert this island into a beautiful park, much needed in Racine.

"Buffalo Bill" and Party Safe.

Cody, Wyo.—"Buffalo Bill" and his party have arrived safely at the "T. E." ranch, 18 miles from Cody. All of the party are in good health and report having had fair success in the hunt for big game.

Man of 112 to Vote in Oklahoma.

Guthrie, Okla.—The oldest man to vote in Oklahoma registered at South McAllister. He gave his name as J. Thomas and his age at 112. He remembers every president from the time of Jefferson.

PEARY MAKES RECORD

ARCTIC EXPLORER NEARER THE POLE THAN RIVALS.

DOGS SERVED AS FOOD

Caches Destroyed by Ice Floes, Compelling Members of Party to Subsist on Such Provisions as Presented Themselves.

New York.—The United States now holds the record of "furtherest north," 87 degrees six minutes.

This feat was accomplished by Commander Robert E. Peary, of the United States navy.

The intrepid arctic explorer failed to reach the north pole, as he had confidently hoped to do with his specially constructed vessel, the Roosevelt, but he penetrated nearer to the pole than the duke of Abruzzi's expedition, which had held the arctic record, 86 degrees 34 minutes. What Commander Peary did and his experiences during the past year in the frozen north are rather briefly, but certainly vividly, summarized in a communication received Friday night from Peary by Herbert L. Bridgeman, secretary of the Peary Arctic club. This communication follows:

"Hopedale, Labrador, via Twillingate, N. E., Nov. 2.—Roosevelt wintered north coast Grant Land somewhat north Alert winter quarters. Went north with sledges February via Hecla and Columbia. Delayed by open water between 81 and 85 degrees. Beyond 85 six days. Gale disrupted ice destroyed caches, cut off communication with supporting bodies and drifted due east. Reached 87 degrees six minutes, north latitude over ice, drifting steadily eastward. Returning ate eight dogs. Drifted eastward delayed by open water, reached north coast Greenland in straightened conditions. Killed musk oxen and returned along Greenland coast to ship. Two supporting parties driven on north coast Greenland. One rescued by me in starving condition. After one week recuperation on Roosevelt sledged west, completing north coast Grant Land and reached other land, near one hundredth meridian. Homeward voyage incessant battle with ice, storms and head winds. Roosevelt magnificent ice fighter and sea boat. No deaths or illness on expedition."

FIVE TRUE BILLS FOR PEONAGE

Newman, Ga., Manufacturers Indicted by the Grand Jury.

Atlanta, Ga.—Five indictments for peonage against well-known manufacturers were returned by the federal grand jury here Friday as the result of a special investigation by Assistant Attorney General Charles Russell, of the department of justice in Washington.

Those indicted are: F. B. Cole, one bill; Jean Reinhold, two bills, and H. L. Ziegler, two bills, all of Newman, Ga.

The investigation was instigated by the complaints of a number of German immigrants who were induced to come south by the southern immigration bureau of New York under promise of employment in a furniture factory at Newman.

CIVIL WAR OFFICIAL RECORD OUT

Volume 20 of Federal and Confederate Navies Is Completed.

Washington.—Volume 20 of the official records of the union and confederate navies in the war of the rebellion has been completed, and volumes 19 and 20 distributed during the year, according to the annual report of Charles W. Stewart, superintendent of library and naval war records of the navy department.

Volume 21, which includes the operations of the west gulf blockading squadron during 1864, has also been completed, and volume 22 is compiled and is in part in press.

NAMES ROYAL ARCANUM HEADS

Supreme Regent Appoints Boston Man to Succeed W. O. Robson.

Boston, Mass.—At a special meeting of the supreme council of the Royal Arcanum held here Friday the following appointments were made by Supreme Regent H. C. Wiggin, of Rome, N. Y., to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Supreme Secretary W. O. Robson: Supreme secretary, A. T. Turner, Boston; supreme auditor, W. F. McConnell, New York; supreme trustee, F. W. Dickinson, Springfield, Mass.

Mrs. Sage Rewards Old Employes.

New York.—The old employes in the office of the late Russell Sage have received in addition to their regular October salaries checks from Mrs. Sage for an equal amount, which virtually doubles their salaries. Five men, all old employes, were rewarded by Mrs. Sage's gift.

Visible Supply of Cotton.

New Orleans.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's supply of cotton shows a total of 3,280,281 bales against 3,000,298 last week. Of this the total of American cotton is 2,522,281, against 2,250,298 last week.

Boston Pitcher Is Fined.

Cincinnati.—The National baseball commission Friday fined Pitcher V. A. Lindaman, of the Boston National league club, $100 for playing with the Logan Squares, an independent team of the city of Chicago.

Armor Plate from America.

Rome.—The order for 2,100 tons of armor plate, valued at $1,000,000 for an Italian man-of-war, which was given to the Midvale Steel company, of Pennsylvania, has been approved by the council of state.

Davidson Ill with Rheumatism.

Madison, Wis.—Gov. Davidson had returned home and taken to bed ill with rheumatism as a result of strenuous automobile campaigning. He will probably cancel all remaining dates for the campaign.

Floods in Italy.

Rome.—Heavy storms throughout Italy have caused floods in various parts of the peninsula. There is over a foot of water on St. Mark's square in Venice. Many roads are obstructed by landslides.

Big Factory Destroyed.

New York.—Fire early Friday destroyed a seven-story factory building at Stanton and Mangin streets, causing a loss of $100,000. Two watchmen in the building were rescued with difficulty.

HOMES OF VARIOUS KINDS

Differ as Widely as the Temperament of Owners.

No word appears so frequently in the home literature as "homelike." What does it mean? With many persons a homelike interior is assumed to refer to a quiet, unpretentious house of moderate cost, equipped in a moderate way with modest furniture neatly disposed in rooms of unassuming proportions.

That such rooms may be homelike is unquestionably true, but that all homelike rooms are of this description is completely erroneous. Homes are of almost as many different kinds as there are kinds of persons. The kind of a home that one possesses is largely determined by one's means. That is to say, the rich man will provide himself with a richly furnished and richly conducted house. The man of moderate means will have a house less elaborately built, furnished, and conducted. The poor man must do the best he can, and that often will be poorly enough. Now, it is obvious that the home which will be satisfactory to one of these groups will not be satisfactory to any other. The rich man, who is accustomed to the daily luxury of his own house, would not know how to live in a poor way in a poor place.

The poor man, for his part, would be equally lost amid the luxury of the rich man, and the man in moderate circumstances will be as much dissatisfied with the home of the poor as with the home of the rich. But the nibbling place of each is a home. Each falls when measured by the standard of the others. This essential fact is apt to be overlooked by those who find it their duty to enlarge on the homelike qualities of certain homes and their absence from others. It is a serious mistake to deny homelike qualities to expensive dwellings.—American Homes and Gardens.

Company Luncheon Dish.

Tomato and cucumber aspic will be found delicious for a company luncheon dish. Make a pint of tomato aspic by simmering a can of tomatoes or six fresh ones with half an onion, a sprig of parsley, two cloves, half a teaspoonful of salt, a saltspoonful of paprika and a teaspoonful of tarragon vinegar. When smooth put through a sieve, add a tablespoonful of gelatine dissolved in cold water and strain again. Keep this where it will be warm. Peel two fresh cucumbers and cut into the thinnest possible cross slices. Take a flat-bottomed mould and lay the cucumber on the bottom in even circles and add enough aspic to set it. It will soon be nicely set if put in a pan of chopped ice, and as soon as it is firm put a row of slices of cucumber all around the side of the mould and fill with aspic, and so on till the mould is full. Turn out on water cress and surround with spoonfuls of stiff mayonnaise made with tarragon instead of cider vinegar.

Bride Has Unique Furniture.

A silver-plated bedstead, with brass foundation metal, is being manufactured for the home of a bride. Blankets and furnishings are to be partly of soft rose color, since that is the favorite color of the bride, who is a brunette.

The new Circassian walnut furniture which goes into the bedroom fittings is delightful and modest in effect, though costly. It is made in very simple forms. Circassian walnut is much lighter than black walnut, with fine raised grain and a soft surface, reminding one of bird's-eye maple.

As yet no chairs have been made of it, only the bedroom pieces, such as bureau, chiffonier and dressing table. Instead of each drawer coming from a different strip of wood they are matched so that the whole bureau front is like a section of the tree. Instead of silver bureau ornaments gold-backed brushes and gold-topped bottles contest with blue china trays and pale gray or green handkerchief baskets.

Fern Culture.

With the exception of the maidenhair, which requires a heavier, richer loam, the soil in which ferns are placed should be a mixture of one-half sand, one quarter fibrous peat, one-half broken mature sod and one-quarter to one-sixth of leaf mould.

You may have difficulty in finding peat, but sandstone or milaceous blocks, which may be found almost anywhere, will tend to keep the soil open.

Always place a large piece of broken pot, curved side up, over the hole in the bottom of the pot to allow drainage. Over this put broken bits about an inch deep and fill in with prepared soil.

The ordinary flower pot is right for this purpose, but a wide, flat pot is better, as it allows more room for the roots and creeping stems.

Teach Child Gospel of Work.

A liberal amount of work sprinkled through a child's leisure is decidedly wholesome. Activity is a necessity to children's growth and it might as well be put to practical use.

Let it not be inferred that heavy tasks should be put upon weak shoulders, that a man's work should be exacted from a growing boy, but that steps should be saved for a mother who needs leisure and that the little attentions which all women prize should be given her according to the age of those who should give them.—Exchange.

Sponge Cake Patties.

Break two eggs into a cup, then fill up with cream or milk. Pour into a mixing bowl, add a cup of sugar and a cupful and a half of flour that has been sifted, with two teaspoonsful baking powder. Beat all together for ten minutes, flavor with vanilla, lemon or orange and bake in lightly greased patty tins, about ten minutes.

Taking Out Stains.

For stains on light dresses, etc., lay the garment flat on a table, and cover the stains with dry pipe clay. Leave for half an hour, then shake out, and apply a second lot if necessary. Take out stains as soon after they are made as possible, for if they are allowed to dry in they are more difficult to remove.

Uses for Cold Coffee.

If you have a cup of strong coffee left from breakfast, prepare it with sugar and milk to taste. Put into a bowl one cup white flour, one cup whole wheat flour, one-half teaspoon salt and three level teaspoons of baking powder. Beat one egg lightly, add to the coffee and stir it into the dry mixture. If it should be too stiff, add a little more milk or water. It should be more like a stiff drop batter than dough and not thin enough to pour. Bake in hot buttered muffin pans 20 minutes.

BUILT UP HER HEALTH

SPEEDY CURE OF MISS GOODE

She Is Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Writes Gratefully to Mrs. Pinkham.

For the wonderful help that she has found Miss Cora Goode, 253 E. Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Ill., believes it her duty to write the following letter for publication, in order that other women afflicted in the same way may be benefited as she was. Miss Goode is president of the Bryn Mawr Lawn Tennis Club of Chicago. She writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I tried many different remedies to build up my system, which had become run down from loss of proper rest and unwholesome foods, but nothing seemed to help me. Mother is a great advocate of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles, having used it herself some years ago with great success. So I began to take it, and in less than a month I was able to be out of bed and out of doors, and in three months I was entirely well. Really, I have never felt so strong and well as I have since."

No other medicine has such a record of success for female troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bearing-down feelings, displacement of organs, inflammation or ulceration, can be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Her experience is very great, and she gives the benefit of it to all who stand in need of wise counsel. She is the daughter in law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

MADE ALL THE DIFFERENCE.

Ring on the Third Finger of the Left Hand Meant Much.

She was homely, and to most persons unattractive; yet as she entered the train a sort of halo seemed to surround her as one set apart from common mortals. There was no indication of exceptional talent, ability, or endowment about her, no evidence of superiority, but a certain indefinable distinction. It was not quite an air of conquest, though suggestive of satisfactory achievement. She bore her head high and wore a Buddha-like expression of proud serenity.

Only a moment was she settled in her seat when off came her gloves, and then the key to the problem was evident. The long, joyous look bestowed upon the sparkling ring on the third finger of her left hand told the story.

That left hand had a busy time. It investigated the lingerie hat poised coquettishly over the face of one no longer young, it made sure that her brooch was fastened, it pulled her silken skirts closer about her, it tightened the straps to her traveling bag sitting in the aisle, and so on indefinitely, occasionally pausing for a caressing glance from the tired but beaming eyes.

The gay little scintillations from the diamond flashed out the song: "Engaged—engaged—engaged!"

BIRDS THAT ENJOY DANCING

Have Regular "Ball Rooms" for Their Gyrations.

Dancing is by no means confined to quadrupeds; it is the principal play of many birds.

Perhaps the finest of bird dancers is the South American cock o' the rock. These birds have regular dancing places, level spots which they keep clear of sticks and stones.

A dozen or more of the bird dancers assemble around this spot, and then a cock bird, his scarlet crest erect, steps into the center. Spreading his wings and tail, he begins to dance, at first with slow and stately steps, then gradually more and more rapidly until he is spinning like a mad thing. At last, tired out, he sinks down, hops out of the ring and another takes his place.

Some of the quail tribe are great dancers, and so are the American sand hill cranes. It is a most ludicrous sight to watch a crane dancing; he is so desperately solemn over the whole performance. He looks like a shy young man who has just learned to waltz and is rather ashamed of the accomplishment.

A man saves his religion and his best suit of clothes for Sunday.

NERVOUS COLLAPSE

Sinking Spells, Headaches and Rheumatism all Yield to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mrs. Lizzie Williams, of No. 416 Cedar street, Quincy, Ill., says: "Ever since I had nervous prostration, about thirteen years ago, I have had periodical spells of complete exhaustion. The doctor said my nerves were shattered. Any excitement or unusual activity would throw me into a state of lifelessness. At the beginning my strength would come back in a moderate time after each attack, but the period of weakness kept lengthening until at last I would lie helpless as many as three hours at a stretch. I had dizzy feelings, palpitation of the heart, misery after eating, hot flashes, nervous headaches, rheumatic pains in the back and hips. The doctor did me so little good that I gave up his treatment, and really feared that my case was incurable.

"When I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills my appetite grew keen, my food no longer distressed me, my nerves were quieted to a degree that I had not experienced for years and my strength returned. The fainting spells left me entirely after I had used the third box of the pills, and my friends say that I am looking better than I have done for the past fifteen years."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are recommended for diseases that come from impoverished blood such as anæmia, rheumatism, debility and disorders of the nerves such as neuralgia, nervous prostration and partial paralysis. They have cured the most stubborn indigestion. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills agree with the most delicate stomach, quiet all nervousness, stir up every organ to do its proper work and give strength that lasts.

Sold by all druggists, or sent postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Lavender Creighton's Lovers

By OLIVIA B. STROHM

(Copyright, 1905, by Olivia B. Strohm.)

CHAPTER VIII.—CONTINUED.

Winslow continued: "If, as I understand, this gentleman has lost, and the woman was the stake upon his side, then, according to the laws of gambling—for I believe there are laws of gambling—the woman is yours." He indicated the winner by a polite bow. "Then may I inquire the amount staked against her?" he added.

A pause followed this abrupt question.

The planter, whose courage gradually rose with his springing hope, muttered: "One hundred dollars."

"One hundred dollars? A pitiful sum! You gave frightful odds. But of course you felt sure of winning." Winslow added, with suave sarcasm. Then turning to the captain, he proceeded: "It appears, then, that the woman is yours, but she is evidently a rewarding prize. Does not this fact considerably lessen her value? Suppose we play again, she the stake on your side—this mine."

He drew a small sack from his pocket, and laid it upon the table. No sound followed the clink of metal, but a woman's shuddering sigh.

Under gloomy brows her old master stared at the new. The latter stood for a moment, a frown of baffled rage distorting his sinister face.

"She was fairly staked, and fairly won," he declared. "The odds are not my business, and d—d if I'm to be bamboozled out of the profit of a fair game!"

"But what profit is there in an unwilling slave? You might sell her, to be sure, but that would not be sportsmanlike, and—" here Winslow stepped nearer with fascinating clink of money: "Come, you are no Shylock to stick to the letter of the bond; come!" and he slowly counted out $100 which he slid to the table. The sack he replaced in his pocket.

All eyes were upon the boatman as his hungry glance sought the glittering pile. All the lust of the cards was on him. Winslow had counted upon this, and upon the gambler's faith in success.

"Done!" cried the captain, and with the scraping of chairs and a shuffle of cards, the game was on.

In breathless silence the spectators huddled about the players—the one frowning, his close-cropped head hold rigid in the thick, short neck, his eyes gleaming like small coals out of a red-veined face.

The other was paler than usual, but placid, self contained.

The Spaniard looked on with an amused, cynical smile. That this eastern gallant, with the bow of a Chesterfield, and the air of a student, should break a lance with so hardy an opponent, aroused feelings of admiration and pity.

The woman crept nearer, her heart in her eyes.

Two or three loungers strolled in, and there was an interested ring about the players.

A few more turns of the cards, and both men pushed back their chairs—the game was over!

"She is yours, take her, and go to the devil!" roared the captain. Then, abiding his rage and discomfiture under a grim laugh, he strode from the room.

"I HEAR YOU HAVE BEEN GAMBLING," SHE SAID, "BUT IN SUCH A CAUSE WE WON'T SCOLD."

There was some excited talk, and a stifled scream from the octoroon. For the first time Winslow addressed her: "I believe they call you mine, since the cards have so decreed, but pardon me, if I decline the honor. It would save me responsibility if you would remain under the care of this gentleman," and he waved his hand toward the planter.

Without a word, but with a world of gratitude in her deep eyes, the woman glided to her old master's side. He murmured a half articulate "Thank you" to Winslow, and together they left the room.

"Well, you are a softie!"

"What are you skeered of?"

But Winslow was glad to escape the jeering congratulations, and quickly made his way out and up to the deck, followed only by the Spaniard.

"This is Mr. Winslow, I believe?" the latter said. "My name is Gonzaga."

After a few preliminary words, he said, admiringly: "You play well, sir, for an American," adding, with a smile, "I think my countryman must have had a glimpse of you revealed to him when he wrote his story of 'Don Quixote.'"

Winslow laughed. "You flatter me, and yet in the matter of ridicule, perhaps I do share his honors."

The Spaniard did not reply to this, and the two men smoked in silence.

At last Gonzaga spoke. "You have been knight-errant to fairer dames than this octoroon—is it not so?"

At this meaning tone Winslow frowned; it was plain whither the question tended. He had observed this stranger's eyes following Lavender in bold admiration. It was only a matter of time when, in the little privacy afforded by the crowded boat, he would have an opportunity to thrust his acquaintance upon them. This Winslow meant to defer as long as possible, from motives he could not have explained.

But this foreigner was not to be lightly turned from his purpose. "I quite envy you, sir," he persisted, "you are not dependent for society upon the rabble of the boat. Would it be too much to ask an introduction to your charmed circle?"

At that moment Lavender appeared on deck. Seeing Winslow engaged with a stranger, she would have turned back, but Gonzaga spoke loud in an affectation of civility: "Pray, do not let me disturb you," and in his manner was evident expectation of the introduction, which Charles grudgingly gave.

Lavender courtesied low, then, turned to Winslow with a teasing smile: "I hear you have been gambling," she said, "but in such a cause we won't scold you."

Gonzaga interposed: "Truly, the woman seemed well worth the effort."

But the suspicion of evil in his tone was too carefully veiled for Lavender's understanding. "Indeed, she is," was her simple comment. "Such gratitude I have never seen. We are all grateful, for humanity's sake."

Charles waived further discussion of the subject, and as soon as possible found an excuse to take Lavender below.

The Spaniard stood alone, pensively watching the smoke from his cigar, as it idly curled above his head, or with a sudden flaw was blown away in whirling rings.

Shrugging his shoulders, he said, half aloud: "A rose blossoming in the wilderness!"

His teeth showed in a sardonic smile. "Nor is this rose without its guardian thorn. Well, so much the better worth plucking!" and he joined the others in the cabin.

CHAPTER IX.

Thenceforward the little party was augmented by the unfailing presence of the Spaniard, Gonzaga.

Yet the newcomer bore himself in such quiet, gentlemanly fashion, as to disarm objections. He was never obtrusive, and contrived to make his society so agreeable that to none was he unwelcome. Even Winslow, who secretly deplored his coming, could not but admire his tact, his graceful, flowery conversation, his knowledge of the world.

To Mrs. Creighton one day the stranger said: "I have no plans, madam, and when I hear you talk of your future home, and of all you mean to do there, I feel like a wanderer, a good-for-naught. And in truth, I am. A long sojourn in New Orleans became fatiguing; I heard a great deal of this wonderful new land which my own country was foolish enough to let slip from its crown. One day a boat started, thither bound. I embarked—I am here, your servant."

And that was all he ever vouchsafed in explanation of his presence.

There were, however, two of the party to whom this new acquaintance was most unwelcome. Though America and the Indian guide kept ever in the background, they were alert and watchful: keen to observe the slightest change in the situation.

In spite of the antipathy of race and habit, there was a bond uniting these two—a bond stronger than creed or custom. Red skin and black covered hearts that beat in unison to the same refrain, love for those they served. They would sit apart from the others, native antagonism bridged by this common interest.

The stranger they eyed with disfavor, with that instinctive dislike which needs no warrant. With the Indian this was suspicion—a habit of blood. With America, a conservative fear of change.

"I ain't got no call to complain," she said to Owatoga, "an' dis yer Spain man may be all right. But we don' need 'im. We done come so fur without his comp'ny, an' I reckon we kin go de res' ob de way."

And Owatoga grunted assent, for what of America's words failed to impress his untutored ear, her gestures and manner conveyed.

But there was another on board for whom the Indian felt a far deeper aversion, and that was the captain, Finch. It was plain to Owatoga that ever since the gambling episode, this man had cherished for Winslow a secret grudge. Over his every movement, therefore, he kept anxious watch.

Quarters on the boat were so crowded that in sheer necessity of rest and change, Mrs. Creighton and Lavender spent much time on deck. Here games were indulged in, principally matches for rifle practice, with the captain for leading performer. His aim was unerring, and he was reckless in its display. Many a luckless pig on shore owed the loss of his tail to this man's prowess. Once when Lavender ventured a pitying remonstrance, he blurted: "Don't you worry about them tails, miss. They kin be thankful I'm sech a good shot and leave 'em the rest of their carcasses."

The octoroon, too, had observed the malevolent glances with which the captain's eyes traveled from her to Winslow. There was no mistaking their baleful glitter, and Winslow was her savior from worse than death, the object of her reverent gratitude. Over him, she, too, kept unmarked vigilance.

One afternoon she noticed the two in conversation, and hovered near in time to hear the last of the boatman's words: "Try it jest to show that ye bear no ill-will. I'm right proud of the trick."

"But I'm afraid I don't understand," she heard Winslow say, and the man explained. "The idee is to knock a cup off'n a man's head at 20 paces, and never make a hole in it."

Winslow shrugged his shoulders. "But how about the man?"

"Never tetch 'im! It may take some nerve to stand up agin a loaded rifle, but lots o' men hev done it, and I ain't never sp'iled my man yit. Ye see, it's on the principle of harkin' a squirrel; ye aim at a spot above the critter's head, and the concussion does the business. That's the way with the cup—the shock knocks it off, and there ye are. It's easier 'n fallin' off a log."

He was determined to guess no words, and the test found not witnesses only, but assistants.

"You try first, Pete."

In response to the suggestion, a shock-headed youth came forward frowning—not with anger, but with embarrassment at finding himself the cynosure of all eyes.

The cup was placed upon his head.

"Stand right against the post," Pat commanded, "I'll shoot at the knot above your head, and the cup'll drop off; see if it don't. Now, stand still!"

The silence which followed was broken only by the click of the captain's rifle. Then a sharp bang, a woman's scream, and the clatter of the cup to the floor.

"Bully fer you, Pat," roared one enthusiastic auditor. This the marksman received with a surly: "Wha' did I tell yer?"

The shock-headed youth, a trifle pale, but otherwise none the worse for his experiment, stumbled to a seat. His place was filled by another, anxious to prove his mettle—with the same result. Another and another—the boatsman's aim was ever steady, his eye over true.

The Spaniard left his place by Lavender's side. "Let me try," he called to Finch.

The girl detained him by a gesture. "It is foolhardy, dangerous."

But he gently shook off her restraining arm. "I am fond of experiments in general, and this one in particular will enlarge my experience." For this man well knew that by his worldly knowledge, wide range and varied exploits, he had won the attention of this simple girl, to whose romantic side it was his plan to appeal.

"You never seem afraid of anything," she said, with direct and honest compliment.

He rewarded her by a glance full of tender import, and took his position at the post.

Winslow had seen the little by-play, and an all unreasoning anger deprived him of his usual sober judgment. In vain he argued within himself that Lavender's anxiety was purely womanish, born of no personal preference. In vain he reflected that her manner was always unduly earnest, with an inclination to the dramatic.

He resented the attitude; he would test her upon the first opportunity.

From the position at the post, all unharmed, Gonzaga descended with a smile of triumph, and walked directly up to Lavender ready for his meed of praise.

"You are brave," she said, extending her hand.

At that moment the marksman beckoned to Winslow. "Well, are you ready for a hand at the game?"

There was a taunting ring in the captain's voice—a thinly veiled contempt as in expectation of a refusal. But Winslow was in no mind to refuse. He knew it to be a risk; a foolhardy exhibition of misplaced heroism. Nevertheless, he went steadily to place.

"Mr. Winslow—Charles, no, no," Lavender begged, but he shook his head firmly and smiled. A chorus of rowdy cheers drowned her remonstrance.

A voice in her ear whispered: "Are you, then, afraid for your friend?" There was a covert sneer in the Spaniard's manner which the girl resented.

"Mr. Winslow is as equal to the absurd test, but as liable to hurt, as those of less sense. The whole business is idiotic; the game surely not worth the candle. I—we can let him take the chances."

"And I? How about my chances?"

But Lavender failed to detect the double meaning in his question, nor did she catch his ardent glance, for her eyes were following the scene on the forward deck.

The man at the rifle waited with his back toward her, directly in front of the post where Winslow stood. And near him—so close that warning shouts urged her back, stood the octoroon.

"Look alive, there!"

"Git out o' the way!" But the woman paid no heed. If she moved at all, it was but to steal nearer the mark.

The cup was placed upon Winslow's head, and Pat Finch raised the rifle. The dark woman, crouching almost in its range, gazed fascinated at the gleaming barrel. Then her glance ran like lightning to the cruel eyes behind it. There was a flash, a report, and the thud of a falling body. Both Winslow and the slave he had redeemed lay prostrate at the foot of the post.

Instantly there was an uproar, and the rush of excited men to the rescue. With a scream of terror, Lavender darted forward, but before she could reach the spot, and to the general amazement, both rose and faced the crowd.

In the silence Winslow stared at the woman beside him. Her olive skin was darker with horror, and she staggered to the post as if for support.

"What's the matter?" demanded Finch, striding forward.

"I can offer no explanation," Winslow returned, calmly, "except that the young woman," he indicated the octoroon, "was overcome and fell against me. Not expecting the weight, I toppled ignominiously," he concluded, with an apologetic smile.

Then, at the captain's urging, he replaced the cup on his head. But the dark woman snatched it away, and threw it out far over the water. "No, no, not again; no, never!" she poured out the words in a torrent of feeling. "The rifle was not aimed true! I saw it, but it was too late. I saw the flash, and then—then I pushed you—out—of range. I—I could think of no other way," she concluded, with a burst of sobs.

A hush fell upon the company, sobered by the sudden flapping of the wings of Death.

A voice from the crowd at length broke the spell: "Well, Pat, I reckon ye're glad the wench saved ye from bein' a murderer; but how in h—l come ye to make sech a mistake?"

[To Be Continued.]

Taking No Chances.

Mrs. Nordy—So you're not going away and leave your husband this summer? 'Fraid he'll be lonesome, eh?

Mrs. Butts—No; on the contrary, I'm afraid he won't be.—The Sun.

Absent-Minded Minister.

At the Chautauqua assembly a number of stories about absent-mindedness were being told.

There was the story of the absent-minded doctor who handed his patient a fee and took his prescription himself; the story of the professor, who, coming home to dinner too early, and seeing the table cleared, went back upstairs again, muttering that he had quite forgotten having dined; and there were many other stories told.

But Bishop Vincent, among all these anecdotes, carried off the palm with a story about an absent-minded minister.

"There was a minister," the bishop said, "who was so absent-minded that he once lathered and shaved his reflection in the mirror."

Not Experienced.

A judge in a southern town of Kentucky, hearing a case where a colored woman had been arrested for beating her child cruelly, and who, after hearing all the facts of the case, was about to pass sentence, remarked:

"I don't see how you could have the heart to beat your own child that way."

After a pause the woman answered "Look here, Master Judge, is you ever been the mother of a black rascal like that?"

"Why, no," answered the judge.

"Well, then, how do you know hat to treat one?"

News of Wisconsin

Interesting Happenings in the Various Cities and Towns of the State.

STATE D. A. R. ELECT OFFICERS

Mrs. Ogden H. Fethers, of Janesville, Made Regent.

Portage.—Mrs. Ogden H. Fethers, of Janesville, was chosen regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Wisconsin at the closing session of the annual conference of the order. Mrs. Thomas Hoyt Brown, Milwaukee, four years at the head of the state organization and who presided at the meeting in Portage, declined a renomination. Other state officers elected are: Vice Regent, Mrs. Walter Kempster, Milwaukee; secretary, Mrs. E. H. Van Ostrand, Antigo; treasurer, Mrs. George F. Gilkey, Oshkosh, reelected. All were the unanimous choice of the conference.

Beloit was chosen as the place of the next annual conference. Fort Atkinson expects to get the 1906 conference.

Reports of the officers showed the order to be flourishing and progressive. It has 19 chapters, with 1,653 members, in Wisconsin.

TO EXTERMINATE MOSQUITO.

Civic Association Told Best Way Is by the Use of Oil.

Milwaukee.—The convention of the American Civic association came to a close at the Hotel Pfister October 26. It was voted one of the best meetings the association has held.

Papers were read on "What One Association Did," by Dr. F. A. Whiting, of Farmington, Mass., presenting some facts as to the efforts put forth by the civic organization there, and "The Appalachian Reservation," by George W. Woodruff, of the forestry service at Washington, D. C.

"Mosquito Extermination," was discussed, with the conclusions that the drainage and filling up of swamps and ponds of foul water and oiling small ponds of water were the best remedies.

Death of Bishop Nicholson.

Milwaukee.—Isaac Lea Nicholson, D. D., bishop of the Milwaukee Episcopal diocese, died here after a lingering illness. Heart trouble and other complications were the cause. He is survived by Isaac Lea Nicholson, Jr.

Bishop Nicholson suffered a collapse May 26, 1905, while ordaining a class at Nashotah house. He had been incapacitated ever since. He was nearly 63 years of age. William Walter Webb, D. D., of Cincinnati, who was consecrated bishop coadjutator several months ago, will succeed to the bishopric.

Small Boy Snatches Purse.

Racine.—Leo Chaffee, 14 years of age, probably the most youthful highway man in the state, was arrested. Mrs. Peter G. Byer was walking on Sixteenth street, carrying a purse containing six dollars and other valuables, when Chaffee came up behind and snatched the purse, broke the chain and fled. When brought before Judge Smieding he confessed that two years ago he stole $80 from an aunt, stole a bicycle, a fountain pen, and other things.

Stolen Gems in Mail Box.

Kenosha.—The mystery surrounding the theft of rings to the value of several thousand dollars from the automobile of Mrs. George A. Yule, of this city, last Friday has deepened. Two rings worth $400, identified as Mrs. Yule's were found in a mail box inclosed in an envelope without an address and not even sealed. Chief O'Hara, of the Kenosha police, thinks the thieves were frightened and that the other rings and jewels will be returned to the owner.

M. O. Garbage Plant Failure.

Milwaukee.—Reporting that its belief is that the city is spending $50,000 a year in excess of what is necessary to dispose of the city garbage, the health department has asked the city council to make an appropriation for an extended junket to enable the city to adopt some other method for the rendering of refuse. The committee finds that the plant which the city now operates is run at six times the cost of a private concern.

Stops Liquor Selling to Minors.

Green Bay.—A crusade against saloonkeepers who sell liquor to minors was inaugurated here when Mayor Minahan caused the arrest of Andrew Dalstrom. The defendant pleaded guilty and was fined five dollars and costs. Other arrests are to follow.

Charles E. Bross Dead.

Madison.—Charles E. Bross, former chief clerk of the senate, supervisor, former local manager of the Western Union Telegraph company and a famous newspaper correspondent, died at nine o'clock at the Laughlin home in Wingra Park.

Killed by Train.

Hudson.—Denis Smith was hit by the Omaha flyer and killed while driving on a load of wood. The engine was smashed and the train delayed for hours.

Racine Strikers at Work.

Racine.—Officers of the J. I. Case Plow works officially declare that the strike at their plant was not because of a threatened reduction of 25 per cent in wages. They say the contention originated from trouble between the superintendent and a foreman. All differences were settled and the men resumed work.

Samuel M. Hay Dead.

Oshkosh.—Samuel M. Hay, aged 80, died. He owned stock in many big banks and factories for years.

Milwaukee Secures M. O. Site.

Milwaukee. — Milwaukee is now ready to proceed with the erection of a municipal lighting plant. A site was purchased from Oscar Alpeter at the foot of Wallace street for $60,000. It is roughly estimated that the cost will be about $1,000,000. It will be several years before it will be completed.

Aged Woman Hangs Herself.

Kenosha.—Mrs. Petune Helding, a well known Kenosha woman, 74 years old, committed suicide by hanging.

ARRANGES HIS OWN FUNERAL

Superior Man Sets Aside $500 for Band, Hearse and Carriages.

Superior.—Although hale and hearty and earning good wages, James P. Riley made arrangements for his funeral. Riley's arrangements provide for a $500 funeral, with four horses on the hearse, a brass band and plenty of carriages for friends. Riley and an undertaker have entered into a written agreement and Riley has made arrangements to have $500 of his life insurance turned over for expenses upon his death. The arrangement was brought about by a visit to the morgue, where Riley saw a body being prepared for burial in the potter's field.

FIGHT VICE; GET DEATH THREAT

Two Kenosha Men Are Warned of Violence in Store for Them.

Kenosha.—J. H. Kars and Frank Symmonds, directors in the Civic Federation in this city, have been threatened with personal violence and even death on account of the prominent part they are taking in the crusade being made against gambling in the city.

The Civic Federation now has seven prosecutions pending in the city, and more will be started as soon as the dockets have been cleared.

DERRICK CRUSHES FLAT CARS

Workmen at Racine Stone Quarry Narrowly Escape Fatal Injury.

Racine.—A sixty-foot derrick fell at the Roberts company stone yard. Three flat cars were damaged and the large timbers of the derrick were broken like pipe stems. A dozen men narrowly escaped being crushed. Nels Hanson and Sam Anderson sustaining slight injuries. The damages will amount to $2,000 and the company will be greatly delayed in getting out fancy cut stone for a $40,000 church being built at Kenosha.

Want New Northern County.

Athens.—The proposition to make a new county from the northern tier of townships in Clark county, the southern tier of townships in Taylor county and a half dozen townships in western Marathon county is being agitated. Wausau and Neillsville will put up fights. The taxpayers in the northwestern part of Marathon county have been helping to build up the county, and they would object to going into a new county.

Falls from Oconto Bridge.

Gillett.—Edward Hamilton, while walking across the Oconto river bridge, three miles south of here, fell a distance of 35 feet, landing on his head. He laid there all night. When the train crew came along the next morning they picked him up and brought him to Gillett. He claims his home is at Manitowoc.

Deadly Cobra on Bananas.

Racine.—At the store of Haummerson & Co., North Main street, there was discovered a cobra di capello in a bunch of bananas. The reptile is two feet long and traveled from the far south wound around the banana stalk. Charles Haummerson came near being bitten by the reptile. It is now confined in a glass jar.

Awarded $4,800 Damages.

Kenosha.—The circuit court awarded Joseph Anderson, 16 years old, $4,800 against the Chicago Brass company. The original suit was for $15,000. The case has been twice before the supreme court and will be appealed again.

Prairie du Chien Banker Dead.

Prairie du Chien.—Aaron Denio, aged 82 years, former banker and a veteran of the civil war, died suddenly of pneumonia. He held many public positions of trust in the county and city during his 51 years' residence in this city.

Regent General at Kenosha.

Kenosha.—Mrs. Donald MacLean, of New York, regent general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, delivered an address before the local chapter here in which she paid high tribute to the work being done by the Wisconsin society.

Stops Selling to Minors.

Green Bay.—A crusade against saloon keepers who sell liquor to minors was inaugurated here when Mayor Minahan caused the arrest of Andrew Dalstrom. The defendant pleaded guilty and was fined five dollars and costs. Other arrests are to follow.

Small Boy Dies in Creek.

Barron.—Russel, the four-year-old son of Simon Chrelteon, drowned in a creek that crosses the yard behind their house. He was missed by his mother and a search discovered the body three blocks down stream.

Cause of Typhoid Fever Epidemic.

Marinette.—County Physician M. D. Bird called at Niagara to investigate causes for typhoid epidemic. He discovered that people had been using water from a well which was full of filth.

Sleeping Priest Is Robbed.

Manitowoc.—Rev. G. Pelligrin, of Francis Creek, was robbed of a $100 gold watch and a small sum of money by tramps. The priest was asleep in his study when a tramp entered the rear door.

Says Wife Deserted Him.

Kenosha.—John Baxter, has started a suit for divorce from his wife, alleging desertion. He claims that Mrs. Baxter deserted him after she learned that he was not a wealthy man.

Kicked by a Horse; Dies.

Prairie du Sac.—Walter Caridge was kicked in the stomach by a horse and died from his injuries. The accident occurred on a farm which he and his brother had but recently rented two miles north of the village of Dane, in Dane county. Caridge formerly lived in Spring Green.

Lutherans to Build Fine Church.

Cumberland.—The Swedish Lutherans of this city will soon build a brick and stone church. The new church will cost approximately $10,000.

ADVICE FROM FIRE CHIEF.

Best Things to Do When Caught In Burning Building.

Chief Crocker, of the New York fire brigade, offers the following advice as to conduct in case of an outbreak of fire:

"Keep cool; no matter how hot everything around you gets, retain a cool, calm equilibrium, and you'll come out all right.

"Send in the alarm immediately; do not take it for granted that some one else has rung up the fire department.

"Fight the fire yourself before the firemen arrive. Very few fires, if discovered at the outset are beyond the control of the people on the premises, if only quick, intelligent action is taken. Fight the flames with pails of water; smother them with rugs and blankets; beat them out with wet brooms.

"Block the spread of fire. If the burning room or rooms can be shut off from the rest of the building, it will take considerable time for the fire to spread. Shut all doors, transoms and windows opening on shafts, and, if possible, those to the exterior. By closing up the burning rooms you prevent draughts, and cut off a new supply of oxygen. The fire, after exhausting the oxygen, will only smoulder.

"Never ascend to the upper stories of a burning building. The upper are always the most dangerous. The smoke, superheated air and poisonous fumes which it is death to inhale, collect first in the top of the house. Fire, spreading through a building, burns straight to the roof, usually by way of the halls and stairways, and then, widening its course, eats back to the stories below. The lower floors are the safest in time of fire.

"Never try to climb up the stairs to the roof, and never open the scuttle. A hole through the roof to the open air would serve as a chimney, and magnify the conflagration almost incredibly.

"Keep out of the halls. The safe way to await the arrival of the firemen is in a room as low down in the building as you can get without risk of smoke-laden halls. Shut all doors and transoms in room in which you stay, and open the windows wide to keep the air cool and pure. If smoke breaks in, lean out of the windows. Be careful not to get excited, and not to breathe in the hot, smoking atmosphere.

"Make your way from the building if the fire is dangerous, and you can escape without braving too great heat. A wet towel held over the mouth and nostrils will enable you to live in an otherwise deadly atmosphere. But unless the fire spreads into the room you are occupying it is best to wait for outside help."

DAYS OF MALE DANDIES.

Feminine Display Outdone by Duke of Buckingham.

Until the last century, in variety and magnificence, the human male followed the rule of the lower animals that the male shall predominate in brilliance. No woman has ever ruled through pure modishness; there has never been a feminine counterpart of Beau Brummel. All varieties of exquisite are male, whether dandy, macaroni or beau—and not because they are exceptions to a general rule of sobriety, but because of a superior originality and more forcible and distinguished expression.

In the point of extravagance there never has been (until the last century) any difference between male and female costume. The duke of Buckingham took 27 suits of clothes to Paris in 1625, one of white uncut velvet set all over with diamonds worth £11,000. He also wore a diamonded feather and diamond buttons and earrings. A curious fashion for men prevailed in 1612 of ornamenting the ear with strings of black velvet ribbon, also of placing a rose behind the ear.

Nason and the Air Brakes.

It was in the time of the old Boston & Providence railroad that air brakes were first introduced, but even then railroading was so little understood that few men realized their importance. Supt. Nason of the Boston & Providence was one of these, although he had the reputation of being an eminently "practical" man. One day an agent of an air brake company was explaining to him the working of the main reservoir, but Nason could not seem to get it through his head.

"You say you pump air into it?" he inquired. "Yes," was the reply. "Well, ain't it full of air, anyhow; and how are you going to fill it any fuller? Think you can make a pail hold twice as much water by pouring more in? When a thing's full, it's full; I know what I'm talking about."

Too Much Condensed.

R. Lincoln Lippitt at a meeting of the American Automobile club was talking of a certain valuable but rare work on automobiling.

"After trying to buy the book," said Mr. Lippitt, "at every book seller's I could think of, I was told that I might perhaps get it at a certain library. They had it, sure enough, at this library, but it was out. I tried again and it was out; again, and it was still out.

"'When will I be able to get this book?' I said to the clerk at last in some impatience.

"'I'm sure I don't know,' the clerk answered, airily. 'But we've got it, all right. It's in the catalogue.'

"'Yes,' said I, 'I know it is, but in so condensed a form that I can't read it.'"

"Heat Veil" for Firemen.

One of the gravest perils which fire fighters are constantly facing is the fierce heat. After successful trials, a newly invented "heat veil" has been introduced into practice at Cologne, Germany, where 200 men have been supplied with the appliance. The veil is made after the principle of a safety lamp, with double windows. It is composed of fibers of cane, which possess the peculiar property of retaining water for a considerable length of time. The veil is made damp before being fastened to the fireman's ordinary brass helmet.

Corner Grocery Philosophy.

"It is a mighty serious thing to be a father," observed the venerable man on the grocery barrel. "If your boy turns out well your wife gets all the credit, and if he goes to the bad you get all the blame. And if he becomes famous, just as likely as not he'll disown both of you."

Patti's Sunny Philosophy.

If there is the tiniest speck of blue in the sky, and there nearly always is, I look for it, and that makes the whole heaven fine for me.

State Capital Notes

Weekly Budget Gathered by Our Special Correspondent at Madison.

Madison.—Owing to the great confusion confronting the secretary of state as to whom to place on the ballot of the "written in" candidates, the state board of canvassers, composed of Attorney General L. M. Sturdevant, Judge E. Ray Stevens and Judge Fowler of Portage met in the office of the secretary of state and certified all candidates who were written in. The second meeting of the canvassing board was necessitated by the fact that the board met early last September and certified the names of the different people nominated at that time but refused to certify the written in candidates under an opinion of the attorney general to the contrary. Since that time however, the supreme court has reversed the opinion of the attorney general in the Pray matter of Ashland and the board was called together and certified candidates who had not filed nomination papers but who on account of receiving the largest number of votes at the primary on their respective tickets were entitled to go on the ballot. Following the meeting of the board orders were sent to the county clerks in the various districts where a candidate had been nominated by the writing in process commanding the clerks to place those candidates so nominated on the ballot.

Want Devil's Lake for Park.

The state legislature will be asked to donate $100,000 this winter for the purchase of the Devil's lake region, composed of 7,000 acres, the two principal owners being Senator William F. Vilas and L. W. Claude, both of Madison. For several years there has been a growing agitation in the state for the purchase of this land, to be used as a state park on account of the beautiful scenery. Devil's lake is situated in nearly the geographical center of southern and most thickly populated part of Wisconsin. It is four miles from the city of Baraboo and 50 miles from Madison. The region was recently explored by President Charles R. Van Hise, as a geologist. The region is picturesque and has abundance of trees and wild game. W. H. McPetridge of Baraboo, chairman of the Baraboo local committee in charge of the proposed project, is interesting the people of Madison in the undertaking. He says he has met with encouragement everywhere. "The land about the lake is owned principally by Senator Vilas, Mr. Claude and Mrs. N. C. Kirk of Kirkland," he said. "On the eastern slope of the bluff a Pennsylvania concern has installed a stone crusher. It is partly to prevent a complete destruction of the bluff that the matter should be taken up by the legislature this winter."

Carl Schurz Memorial.

A "Carl Schurz Memorial Professorship" is to be established at the University of Wisconsin as a result of the movement started by a number of prominent German-Americans. The plan is to raise an endowment of $50,000, the income of which will be used for the establishment of an annual course of lectures at the state university to be given by prominent professors of German universities. This memorial professorship to be held by German university professors will be the first of the kind in any American state university. It is hoped that the establishment of this new chair will lead to the exchange of professors between the University of Wisconsin and German universities. A similar plan of exchange of professors has just been entered upon between Columbia university and the University of Berlin, through the establishment at the University of Berlin of the Theodore Roosevelt professorship in American history.

G. B. Hill Will Edit Sphinx.

George B. Hill, '08, Milwaukee, has been elected editor of the Sphinx, the university humorous biweekly, to fill the vacancy caused by withdrawal from school of D. E. Nicholson, '07. Editor Hill last year was a member of the Sphinx, Cardinal, and Lit staffs, and is on the 1908 Badger board. D. E. Nicholson has entered the Chicago art school, but will continue to contribute to the Sphinx.

Wisconsin Nominee Ill.

Frank L. Gilbert, republican candidate for attorney general, is ill with nervous prostration in a sanitarium at Prairie du Chien, having broken down in his campaign. He is district attorney of Kane county.

Leading Questions For Debate.

A new line of work to be taken up by the Extension department of the University of Wisconsin is planned in which debating societies throughout the state will be assisted in finding material for discussion of the questions of the day, such as municipal ownership of public utilities. During the session of the legislature copies of the bills presented on new questions will be sent out, on request, with literature bearing on such questions, that they may be used as the basis for debate and discussion.

Openly Oppose Faculty.

Leading fraternity men have made definite tentative plans to hold an independent junior prom if the faculty decides to bear down on that function. Further social troubles are anticipated in the university by university dancing clubs ignoring a request of the social committee of the faculty to cease dancing at midnight and to have a chaperon. The proposed dance will run until 1 o'clock and be otherwise independent. Action by the faculty is looked for.

Delegates to Divorce Law Congress.

Gov. Davidson appointed the following delegates to attend the congress on uniform divorce law, to be held at Philadelphia on Nov. 13: E. W. Frost, Milwaukee; Judge E. R. Stevens, Madison; Senator Ernest Merton, Waukesha, and Senator A. W. Sanborn, Ashland.

Approved as Reserve Agent.

The National German-American bank of St. Paul has been approved as a reserve agent for the Fond du Lac National bank.

To Increase Mail Carriers' Salaries.

The salaries of rural mail carriers numbering 9,000 men and women, will be increased by congress at the coming session if a recommendation that will be submitted by Postmaster General Cortelyou is put into the form of a law. The present salaries range from about $500 a year to a maximum of $720. It is certain that the maximum will be increased and that the increase will be recommended for carriers in all parts. In Wisconsin alone the lowest salaries, Illinois and Michigan and the Dakotas there are 1,625 carriers in operation with a corresponding number of carriers. In Wisconsin there are 1,18 carriers in Madison 1,881, in Illinois 2,271 in Indiana 2,118, and in Minnesota 1,147. The rural carriers have been clamoring for some time for increased salary, claiming that the increased cost of living and the expense to which they are put in purchasing equipment justified additional compensation.

May Cut Junior Prom.

Investigations to ascertain the expenditures of university students at prom time are being carried on by members of the social committee of the faculty, and from present indications it is not at all improbable that the annual social event given under the auspices of the junior class will be shorn of some of its expensive details. The members of the committee are at present compiling with various students in order to ascertain the expense incidental to house parties, banquets, and other social events of prom week. It has been intended that in case the committee decides that the prom is too extravagant a feature, some of the addenda to the function will be eliminated by a chance in date. It has been suggested that the prom be held at commencement time. This would do away with house parties to a great extent.

Milwaukee Banks' Good Showing.

Federal officials are elated over reports which came from national banks in Milwaukee proposing to take advantage of the recent offer made by Secretary Shaw to exchange federal bonds for other high grade securities provided the national bonds were left as security for additional circulation. The offer from Milwaukee contemplates the issuance of $700,000 in additional circulation in accordance with Secretary Shaw's plan. The interesting feature of the announcement is that this is the largest offer to come from the middle west and the most generous response to come from the banks of any single city of the west. The names of the banks and the amounts which will be allotted to them are details which the department does not make public.

Election Day Not Legal Holiday.

"Election day is not a legal holiday on which the schools of the state are closed." This is the opinion given by State Superintendent of Schools C. P. Cary. He declares that the statutes specifically exclude general election day from the list of legal holidays for schools. Primary election day must be called a legal holiday for schools he declared, in the absence of any specific statute or direction to the contrary. In the same opinion Superintendent Cary decided that a school board had the right to require a teacher to remain in the school building during the noon hour to prevent the pupils from destroying school furniture and property.

Prepare Insurance Report.

State Senator James R. Frear, candidate for secretary of state, Assemblyman George E. Beedle of Baraboo, candidate for insurance commissioner; Assemblyman W. H. Braddock of Mather, and Assemblyman H. L. Ekern of Trempealeau, have been in Milwaukee framing up the report of their insurance investigations as the special state legislative committee. The report will be turned over to the governor within a few weeks.

Boys Barred From Bowling Alleys.

Boys under 16 years of age will no longer be permitted to set up pins in bowling alleys, according to a ruling just made by the state factory inspector. It is claimed that the work is too hard for boys under this age, especially during the hours in which it is done. All violators of the order will be punished.

For Catholic Chapel at University.

Milwaukee Catholics, as well as those in other parts of the state, will be asked to assist in the erection of a Catholic chapel for students at the University of Wisconsin. The Rev. H. C. Hengell, who was appointed several weeks ago to take charge of the student work at Madison, was in Milwaukee to confer with Archbishop S. G. Messmer on the project. It is his intention to begin the campaign for funds in Milwaukee immediately. "We need about $75,000," said the Rev. Father Hengell.

Road Gives State $100,010.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railroad deposited with the Secretary of State a check for $100,010, the fee for filing a record of its recent increase of capital stock from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000. The Wisconsin statutes provide for a fee of $1 for each $1,000 of increase.

Portage County District Attorney.

George B. Nelson, of Amherst was appointed district attorney for Portage county, to fill the unexpired term of Gerhard Dahl, resigned.

Bursting Saw Deals Death.

Boyd.—Chris Esslinger, a well-known farmer, was killed here by the bursting of a circular wood saw, a piece of which flew and struck him in the neck, cutting deeply through the jugular vein and downward into his body. He died instantly.

Prairie du Chien Banker Dead.

Prairie du Chien.—Aaron Denio, aged 82 years, former banker and a veteran of the civil war, died suddenly of pneumonia.

AMONG CRANBERRY MEN.

EDITED BY W. H. FITCH.

[All communications and special exchanges relating to this department should be sent to Cranmoor, Wood County, Wis.]

General Notes.

All the cranberries now in the hands of Wisconsin growers have been sold. Some have finished cleaning and shipping and nearly all will be through shipping the last of this week.

Although the crop has been a very large one, the prices realized have been unusually good. There is nothing in the history of the growing of cranberries quite equal to this year, and in view of the size of the crop, it is difficult to explain the prices realized.

Through the influence of the Sales Co., and its successful agent, A. G. Chaney, more cranberries were sold this year in that part of Canada known as the Northwest Territory, than was sold there in all the years heretofore.

More Wisconsin berries were sold on the Pacific Coast this year than sold there during the previous ten years taken together. Wisconsin cranberries this year went into Texas and other southern states where they were never sold before.

This broad distribution of the crop prevented a glut of the market at the usual distributing centers and places where cranberries were sold heretofore, and this broad distribution of the crop was made possible by the great reduction in freight rates that the Sales Co. has been able to secure and by a judicious advertising of the Wisconsin berries begun in May last and continued up to the present.

There is no doubt and can be no doubt in the mind of any intelligent man that a perishable commodity can be got from the producers to the consumers thru organized effort in better shape than if left to the haphazard methods of each one acting for himself. Organized co-operative action has been of great advantage to the orange growers of California, to the grape growers of Northern New York, and upon the cultivation and growing of strawberries has been greatly facilitated and the business made a success in localities where it could not thrive had it not been for organized system of distribution.

The Sales Co. has been a great success. It has come to stay, and even those growers who have not contributed to sustain it, are enjoying its benefits, and will probably come in and join it later.

"The Dew Point."

The dew point is of great importance to cranberry growers in predicting frosts, and in the packing and shipping of berries. We suspect that it is not clearly understood by a great many of them.

The air carries in solution a certain amount of water in the form of vapor that varies in amount from day to day, just the same as water can carry in solution a certain amount of salt, or alcohol a certain amount of camphor gum, without affecting its transparency or becoming visible, or just the same as water is capable of carrying a certain amount of air in solution, sufficient to support fishes and other animals that breathe by means of gills.

We refer to this moisture in the air by saying the air is dry, or it is damp. We speak of it as a dry air when the quantity of vapor in it is far below its capacity for holding moisture, and we speak of it as a damp air when the amount of moisture in it is nearly as much as it is capable of carrying in solution. This damp air is referred to in winter as a chilly one, and on a hot day in summer, as a sultry one.

The capacity of the air for holding moisture varies with its temperature, and what would be called a dry air in summer at a temperature of 90 degrees, if this air was reduced down to a temperature of 60, might become a very damp air,—might become so damp that it would deposit its moisture on all cool, smooth surfaces, making them wet and even causing a growth of mildew if they continued moist for a considerable length of time.

If the cranberries in a cranberry house are allowed to cool down to a temperature of, say, 40 degrees, and this may be done by allowing the night air to circulate through the berries, and if later, when those cold nights are followed by warm days, we allow the warm air to pass into a cranberry house when it is at a temperature of 75 or 80 degrees, the chances are that those cold berries in the cranberry house will reduce the temperature of that warm air below the dew point, and the excess of the moisture that is in this air will be deposited on the cranberries and they will become wet in the boxes.

The same thing is true if we put our cranberries in barrels at a temperature below 45 degrees and load them on the cars at that temperature, before they reach their destination, or even after they reach their destination, if they are exposed to a temperature of 80 or 85 degrees the moisture in the air is almost sure to be deposited upon them and they may reach the retail grocer sopping wet, although they were perfectly dry when put up by the grower. It would be a simple matter for each grower in packing to put a thermometer into his barrels deep enough down among the berries to ascertain their temperature before loading them on the cars, and if they are below 45 degrees, it will be prudence for him to hold them until the temperature is somewhere between 45 and 50 degrees before letting them go to any point at which they are likely to be exposed to a temperature of 85 degrees.

There is no set of rules that we can devise that will serve as a reliable guide to the uninformed grower in all cases. He must study this subject until he has a full, clear comprehension of what is meant by the dew point. It is not the quantity of moisture in the air, but it is the relative quantity, the quantity that is actually in it as compared with the quantity it is capable of carrying at the given temperature. What would be a very dry air at summer heat, with the same amount of vapor in it would be a very damp air at a winter temperature.

The atmosphere does not begin to deposit this moisture on objects before its temperature is reduced below the dew point, and this dew point temperature is constantly varying. It is usually much higher in summer than it is in winter. If the temperature is reduced much below the dew point, the surplus water in the air which it is not able to carry as transparent vapor, becomes visible as fog or cloud. If the temperature is but little below the dew point and descends gradually, this fog is deposited on objects that are cooler than the air, and is not usually visible to the naked eye. We then speak of it as dew. Hence, we speak of objects as becoming wet with dew. While if the temperature descends very rapidly and passes far below the dew point, the moisture becomes visible as fog, and we say things are wet by the fog.

Job Printing at Tribune office.

HANSEN.

The town authorities are doing some much needed patching up of roads in this vicinity.

D. Jones has moved his family from the farmstead in the woods to Burnett's marsh where he has a year's contract.

C. Uhlman returned this week from an extended visit to his old boyhood haunts in Dodge county.

E. Dietz came back to his farm on the Rapids road, having given up the idea that some other fellow can run a fellow's farm as well as he can. With him came his wife and a friend and his wife who, we understand, intend making Hansen a permanent home.

Anyone having any superfluous moving to do, call on L. C. Otto. He seems to be right in the business of late.

F. H. Otto moved his family and household effects from Hansen to a place that he purchased at Grand Rapids Saturday, having sold his farm of 11 acres. The family will make a valuable addition to the population of the Rapids and we regret to see them go from here.

Adolph Albert, who was recently married, has moved into the property of his purchase vacated by Frank Otto.

A state creamery inspector was here last week giving the boys in this vicinity a general jacking up.

Al and George Masko have gone to Park Falls to put in the winter.

Aug. Keip left with his family and whatever of his farm effects which were not disposed of at the auction for his new home near Milwaukee Thursday. We understand the purchaser of Mr. Keip's place will move up before winter sets in.

Can you hear the rumble and roar, the reverberations of the earth after the rally at Seneca corners Sunday afternoon.

Passers by will notice that about all Frank Otto left on the premises here Saturday was a lonely, forlorn unpainted baby's cradle. Possibly Frank imagines he won't need it again, having moved away from the allirmad influences of Hemlock creek, but it is well to be prepared in case of necessity and this bold stroke of impartiality won't go with "we of the clan."

A. J. Dameron intends moving his family to Arpin before snow flies. He says the creamery business is first class and says the Jewish colony at Arpin is furnishing a good share of his patronage.

Trot out your candidate.

BIRON.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Klappa and children spent Sunday with Mrs. Joe Kirkland of your city.

Nicholas Richards and wife of your city Sundayed with Curtis Crottoau and family.

Miss Kate Lawrence of Rudolph spent Sunday in this burg the guest of her sister Mrs. Willie Provost.

Miss Edith Garner spent Sunday at her home in Rudolph.

Stephen Snyder and family spent Sunday in your city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William DeMars.

Earl Sweeney and wife spent Sunday with Miss Hattie Sweeney in your city.

Stephen Snyder is now on a deer hunt. He left Tuesday and will spend two weeks hunting.

Parley McCormick is moving his family back to this place, having resided in your city for some time past.

SHERRY

The teachers of the graded school gave a halloween party for their scholars and all had a good time.

Mrs. F. Parks and baby Ruth and Miss Huchins spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. O. Leroux and family.

Mr. McKenzie went to Marshal Friday and returned Sunday.

Walter Cline, who has been away from home for about two years, returned last week.

Lewis Peterson is back from Dakota.

Mrs O. Leroux and Mrs. J. Roy drove to Milladore last Friday.

Lewis Varshu, who has been an invalid for about six years, has gone to Fond du Lac to a sanatarium.

Died at Plainfield.

Mrs. Susan McCoog, died at her home in Plainfield Tuesday morning of heart trouble after a short illness. Deceased was 68 years of age and was a resident of this city a few years ago, her husband dying while living here. The remains will be brought to this city for burial in the Catholic cemetery, services to be held from St. Peter and Pauls' church Thursday at 11 o'clock.

The Baptist society has been getting along nicely with their new church during the past few weeks. Work on the roof has been in progress during the past few days and a gang of men are now engaged in shingling, and it will not be long before this part of the work is completed. All of the mason work with the exception of that on the tower has been completed, and the edifice begins to take on quite a handsome appearance.

PORT EDWARDS

A party of young people from Grand Rapids were down here for a lark Halloween night and by all reports furnished some of the residents with amusement for several hours. It seems that while in the act of cutting up the usual capers on an occasion of this kind one of the husky denizens appeared on the scene with a club and his better half with a butcher knife. Several of the young men immediately grabbed Mr. Man, whereupon his wife commenced cutting up all kinds of capers, winding up by yelling, "they will be sorry if they kill you Chris." The neighbors say they enjoyed the scene very much.

Surprised Their Friend.

A surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Waldvogel last Sunday evening. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Passano, Mr. and Mrs. F. Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. E. Gillmaster, Mr. and Mrs. G. Sharbuno, D. Reiland, Miss Ellen Gonchee, Miss Belle Campel, Miss Ella Henke, Miss Aurelia Hopp of Marshfield and Mrs. C. Campbell of Nekoosa.

Supper was served at eleven o'clock and after supper many games were played and all left at a late hour reporting a very good time.

Stock Fair Tuesday.

The next regular stock fair will be held on the east side in this city on Tuesday, Nov. 13. Farmers and others who have stock to sell are requested to bring the same in on this date, as it is expected that there will be a good attendance. Several fresh milch cows are wanted in the city and it is expected that these will be in good demand on that day.

The program for the event has not been arranged at this time, but there will be a list of prizes the same as heretofore for display. Don't forget the place and date. Next Tuesday on the east side market square.

James Carrington was removed to his home from the hospital on Monday. He is getting along nicely and his many friends hope to see him out soon.

A few of the neighbors gave a surprise party on Mrs. Carl Olson, of Arcadia Monday evening. A very pleasant evening was had by all present.

Mrs. Clarissa Arpin is visiting with relatives in Appleton this week.

Mrs. F. Kaminski of Wild Rose is a guest at the Wheir home on the west side this week.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ted Johnson of the east side on Friday.

Mrs. Geo. E. Hoskinson and Mrs. F. MacKinnon are at Manistique where they went to attend the wedding of a relative.

Eggert & Pratt have sold 200 acres of their drainage land to the town of Grant to Edward Shaver.

—A special sale on street and dress hats, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 9 and 10. Miss E. G. Reed.

C. F. Nebel of Marquette, Mich., has accepted a position as electrician with C. M. Dougherty, the contractor.

Mrs. John Ketchum of Marshfield visited Mrs. Theo. Brazeau several days during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Love of Milwaukee are visiting relatives in the city this week.

—Chrysanthemum plants and blossoms—FINE—for sale at Riverdale farm. Drop us a card or come and see them.

Announcement has been made of the coming marriage of Miss Celia Estella McCarthy to Albert Baptiste Bever, to take place Wednesday, November 14th, at St. Peter and Paul's church.

Mrs. Wm. Collier entertained the Hinch club at her home on First St. on Tuesday evening. About 20 ladies were present and the evening was spent in playing Hinch after which refreshments were served.

The teachers of the Baptist Sunday school entertained their pupils at a Halloween party at the church parlors last Wednesday evening. A very good time was had by all those in attendance.

On Sunday evening a telegram was received by Grant Beardsley announcing the death of his brother, Vila Beardsley, by drowning. Mr. Beardsley left that evening for Rice Lake where the man was drowned. It seems the deceased had been at that place camping and had gone over the river to get some supplies and on his return was, in some unknown way drowned. Word was received Tuesday evening that the body had not yet been found.

Mrs. Carson Rogers of Racine is visiting relatives in this city for a few days.

Mrs. E. C. Ketchum underwent a slight operation at the Riverview hospital on Sunday morning, Drs. Harvie and Hougen performing the work. At this writing Mrs. Ketchum is getting along very nicely.

Mrs. Buddle has accepted a position as clerk in the Drug department of the Johnson & Hill store.

Teeth Extracted Without Pain

The Greatest invention of the age for suffering humanity. No danger from colds, no soreness of gums, no physical debility thereafter. Fifteen years an experienced specialist.

DR. E. R. PERKINS

Has just returned from a successful visit to the largest cities in Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois, where he extracted thousands of teeth regardless of the Hundreds of Local Dentists, their antiquated methods and Blatant claims.

Hereafter we will make a spring and fall visit to the smaller and a Summer and winter visit to the larger cities.

Our Method is Positively Safe and Painless and Free of Charge if not Satisfactory to the Patient.

No other like it in the entire west. No other operator with so great a reputation, skill or experience as an extractor. The one man of all in whose hands to place your extracting for unequalled results.

Fall Visits Now Being Done. No Other Until Spring. Call Early.

Hotel Witter

Saturday, Nov. 24.
HOURS 9 to 4
LADY ATTENDANT

Celebrated Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. John Broomstedt of Kellner celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Oct. 28th, when a number of guests assembled at their home and spent a very pleasant time. Among those who were in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Broomstedt and daughter Carrie of Rhinelander, Chris Broomstedt, the two Charley Broomstedts, Rev. Krosche, wife and son, and Louis Peterson, Charles Margeson and wife and Mrs. Dan Case.

At the Methodist Church.

The first quarterly conference of the Methodist church will occur on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when the presiding elder, Perry Millar will be present. Mr. Millar will also be at the prayer meeting in the evening when he will speak on Home Missions in Wisconsin.

On Sunday the services will consist of a love feast in the morning at 9:30 o'clock with preaching at 10:30. The pastor will conduct the services.

10-26-6w-11-28
State of Wisconsin, Wood County Circuit Court.
August Kemp & Sophia Kemp, Plaintiffs,
vs.
Cyrus Woodman and Charlotte F. Woodman his wife, and all the heirs at law of Cyrus Woodman, Charlotte F. Woodman, if any and each and every and all unknown owners and claimants of the lands in the complaint in this action described or any parcel or parcels thereof, Defendants

The State of Wisconsin: To the said Defendants:

You are hereby summoned to appear within twenty days after service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and defend the above entitled action in the court aforesaid; and in case of your failure so to do, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint; of which a copy is herewith served upon you.

J. J. Jeffery,
Plaintiff's Attorney
P. O. Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin.

Note: To you the defendants named in the above entitled action and to the above and foregoing summons and to each of you:

Take notice that the following is a description of the real estate and premises affected by the above entitled action commenced by said summons, to-wit:

The N. E. ¼ of SW ¼ of Section Twenty-three (23), Twp. Twenty-three (23) north of Range No. four (4) east.

Further take notice that the summons and complaint to said action was duly filed in the office of the clerk of said court at the city of Grand Rapids, in said county, Wisconsin, on the 26th day of October, A. D. 1906, and has the in continued and remained and now remains on file in that office.

Further take notice that said action is brought to quiet and establish the plaintiff's title to said lands and each and every tract thereof against any claim and all claims of said defendants or any of either of them to said lands and to each and every parcel thereof and to forever bar and cut off said defendants and each and every and all of said defendants from having or claiming any right or title to or interest in said lands adverse to said plaintiffs. And plaintiffs here refer to said complaint for the full facts on which this action is based and for a more full description of the land affected.

Dated October 26, A. D. 1906.

J. J. Jeffery,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

10-17-4w-11-7
State of Wisconsin—County Court for Wood County.
In Probate.

In the matter of the Estate of Damase Ratelle, deceased.

Letters testamentary on the estate of said Damase Ratelle, deceased, having been granted and issued to Nicholas R. Ratelle on the 16th day of October, 1906, it is now at this special term of this court, ordered, that all creditors of said Damase Ratelle, deceased, do present their claims for examination and allowance to this court on or before the 6th day of May, 1907, which time is hereby allowed and limited for that purpose.

Ordered further, that the claims and demands of all persons against said deceased be presented to, received, examined and adjusted by this court at the regular May term thereof to be held at the probate office in the city of Grand Rapids in said County, on the first Tuesday, being the 7th day of May, 1907.

And it is further ordered, That notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be received, examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time limited for creditors to present their claims, be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice for four successive weeks in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a weekly newspaper published at the city of Grand Rapids, in said county, the first publication to be within fifteen days from the date of this order.

Dated October 16th, 1906.
By the Court,
J. J. JEFFERY, Atty. for Executor
W. J. CONWAY, County Judge

10-26-6w-11-28
State of Wisconsin, Wood County Circuit Court.
August Kemp & Sophia Kemp, Plaintiffs,
vs.
Cyrus Woodman and Charlotte F. Woodman his wife, and all the heirs at law of Cyrus Woodman, Charlotte F. Woodman, if any and each and every and all unknown owners and claimants of the lands in the complaint in this action described or any parcel or parcels thereof, Defendants

The State of Wisconsin: To the said Defendants:

You are hereby summoned to appear within twenty days after service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and defend the above entitled action in the court aforesaid; and in case of your failure so to do, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint; of which a copy is herewith served upon you.

J. J. Jeffery,
Plaintiff's Attorney
P. O. Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin.

Note: To you the defendants named in the above entitled action and to the above and foregoing summons and to each of you:

Take notice that the following is a description of the real estate and premises affected by the above entitled action commenced by said summons, to-wit:

The N. E. ¼ of SW ¼ of Section Twenty-three (23), Twp. Twenty-three (23) north of Range No. four (4) east.

Further take notice that said action is brought to quiet and establish the plaintiff's title to said lands and each and every tract thereof against any claim and all claims of said defendants or any of either of them to said lands and to each and every parcel thereof and to forever bar and cut off said defendants and each and every and all of said defendants from having or claiming any right or title to or interest in said lands adverse to said plaintiffs. And plaintiffs here refer to said complaint for the full facts on which this action is based and for a more full description of the land affected.

Dated October 20, A. D. 1906.

J. J. Jeffery,
Attorney for Plaintiff.

10-17-4w-11-7
State of Wisconsin—County Court for Wood County.
In Probate.

In the matter of the Estate of Damase Ratelle, deceased.

Letters testamentary on the estate of said Damase Ratelle, deceased, having been granted and issued to Nicholas R. Ratelle on the 16th day of October, 1906, it is now at this special term of this court, ordered, that all creditors of said Damase Ratelle, deceased, do present their claims for examination and allowance to this court on or before the 6th day of May, 1907, which time is hereby allowed and limited for that purpose.

Ordered further, that the claims and demands of all persons against said deceased be presented to, received, examined and adjusted by this court at the regular May term thereof to be held at the probate office in the city of Grand Rapids in said County, on the first Tuesday, being the 7th day of May, 1907.

And it is further ordered, That notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be received, examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time limited for creditors to present their claims, be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice for four successive weeks in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a weekly newspaper published at the city of Grand Rapids, in said county, the first publication to be within fifteen days from the date of the order.

Dated October 16th, 1906.
By the Court,
D. D. CONWAY, Atty. for Executor
W. J. CONWAY, County Judge

10-31-4w-11-21
State of Wisconsin—County Court for Wood County.
In Probate.

In the matter of the Estate of Ellen A. Payne, deceased.

Letters of administration on the estate of said Ellen A. Payne, deceased, having been granted and issued to Roland S. Payne on the 6th day of October, 1906, it is now, at this term of this court, ordered, that all creditors of said Ellen A. Payne deceased, do present their claims for examination and allowance to this court on or before the 6th day of May, 1907, which time is hereby allowed and limited for that purpose.

Ordered Further, that the claims and demands of all persons against said deceased be presented to received, examined and adjusted by this court at the regular May term thereof to be held at the probate office in the city of Grand Rapids, in said county, on the first Tuesday, being the 7th day of May, 1907.

And it is further ordered that notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be received, examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time limited for creditors to present their claims, be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice for four successive weeks in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a weekly newspaper published at the city of Grand Rapids, in said county, the first publication to be within fifteen days from the date of the order.

Dated October 16th, 1906.
By the Court,
J. J. JEFFERY, Atty. for Estate
W. J. CONWAY, County Judge

9-26-3w
STATE OF WISCONSIN } ss
IN WOOD COUNTY COURT } County Court—In Probate.

In the matter of the last Will and Testament of Frank Krzewina, deceased.

WHEREAS, An instrument in writing, purporting to be the last will and testament of Frank Krzewina, deceased, late of Rudolph, Wood County, Wisconsin, has been filed in this office.

AND WHEREAS, Application has been made by Barnes Weair, that Krzewina, praying that the same be proven and admitted to probate, according to the laws of this state, and that letters testamentary be granted thereon according to law.

IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before this Court, at a special term thereof, to be held at the probate office, in the city of Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, on the 30th day of October, A. D. 1906, at 10 o'clock a. m.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place appointed for hearing said application be given to all persons interested, by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper printed and published in said county, previous to said hearing.

Dated Sept. 25th, 1906.
By the Court,
D. D. CONWAY, Atty.
W. J. CONWAY, County Judge

Pneumonia Follows a Cold

but never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar. It stops the cough, heals and strengthens the lungs and prevents pneumonia. Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

10-31-4w-11-21
State of Wisconsin County court for Wood County.
In Probate

In the matter of the Estate of Silas A Payne deceased

Letters of administration on the estate of said Silas A Payne, deceased, having been granted and issued to Roland S Payne on the 6th day of Oct Inst. it is now at this term of this court, ordered, that all creditors of said Silas A. Payne, deceased, do present their claims for examination and allowance to this court on or before the 6th day of May 1907 which time is hereby allowed and limited for that purpose.

Ordered further, that said claims and demands of all persons against said deceased be presented to received, examined and adjusted by this court at the regular May term thereof to be held at the probate office in the city of Grand Rapids, in said county, on the first Tuesday being the 7th day of May, 1907.

And it is further ordered that notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be received, examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time limited for creditors to present their claims be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice for four successive weeks in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a weekly newspaper published at the city of Grand Rapids, in said county, the first publication to be within fifteen days from the date of this order.

Dated Oct. 16th, 1906.
By the Court,
J. J. Jeffery, Atty. for Estate
W. J. Conway, County Judge.

10-24-4w-11-14
State of Wisconsin, Wood County Circuit Court.

SUMMONS

Frank Farfont, Plaintiff
vs.
Eliza Young, Maggie Young, Mattie Young, Bailey Young and Minnie, his wife, John W. Young and Young, his wife, James Young and Young, his wife, Lizzie Young, Arthur Young and Young, his wife, Tabitha Young and Young, his wife, being all the heirs at law of John S. Young, deceased, real and unknown owners of the N ½ of the NW ¼ of the SE ¼ of Section No. 36 in Township No. 24 and Range No. 3, E. Defendants

The State of Wisconsin to the above named defendants and to each of them:

You are hereby summoned to appear within twenty days after service of this summons exclusive of the day of service and defend the above entitled action in the court aforesaid, and in case of your failure so to do judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint.

D. G. Erickson,
Plaintiff's Attorney
P. O. Address, Antigo, Wis.

DUEBER HAMPDEN WATCHES
MADE AT THE GREAT WATCH WORKS AT CANTON, OHIO

The dealer can tell you the merits of these goods better than we can explain them in an advertisement.

It costs you nothing to see them at the following stores:

A. P. HIRZY,
J. E. DALY

Fur Sale!

Heineman Mercantile Co.

Wed., Nov. 14,'06

J. C. Borwell, representing Jacob Laskin & Co., one of the largest fur houses in the east, will give us a big fur sale on the above date. He will have with him a big line of

Fur Coats

in Seal Skin, Otter, Krimmer, Russian Pony, Astrachar, Etc, Also will have a fine line of Collars, Muff, Etc.

Don't miss this sale if you contemplate buying anything in Furs. Come and see the goods anyway. It costs nothing to look and if we can't please you in styles and prices it will not be our fault.

HEINEMAN MERCANTILE CO.

GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN

CITY MEAT MARKET!

Fresh, Salt and Smoked

MEATS.

All kinds of Fish, Poultry and Sausages. Cash paid for Hides and Pelts. Prompt delivery of orders, wholesale and retail.

N. REILAND,

TEL. 275. EAST SIDE.
GRAND RAPIDS, WIS

ISAAC P. WITTER, PRESIDENT.
GEO. W. MEAD, VICE-PRESIDENT.
E. B. REDFORD CASHIER.
W. G. SCHROEDEL, ASST. CASHIER.

[Established 1888]

Bank of Grand Rapids

[WEST SIDE]

CAPITAL, $50.000.
SURPLUS, $7.000

"It's what you save, not what you earn, that makes wealth." Investigate our system of Home Savings Banks."

YOUR BUSINESS SOLICITED.

H. W. BARKER'S COUGH CATARRH CONSUMPTION REMEDY

WILL KNOCK THAT AWFUL COUGH, CATARRH, SORE THROAT, AND LA GRIPPE. SO THAT THEY WILL STAY KNOCKED.

MANUFACTURED AT SPARTA, WIS. FOR SALE AT YOUR DRUG STORE.

Three of a Kind

Wouldn't seem to beat two pair, in this case. But any old-timer, who has "sat in" with a little party "just to make the play a bit more interesting," will tell you that they always do. But we aren't worrying about what can

Beat Two Pair

one of a kind is all we have and all we want. Of course we've switched the subject and are talking about business now—our own business, too. We aren't caring what else does in business. We intend to do the square thing. We aren't the kind to hold an ace or two up our sleeves. Our stock of Building Material of all kinds can't be beat. In other words it is a royal flush. If you ask those who have dealt with us in the past, they

Any One

Will Tell You

that our Lumber, Sash, Doors, Blinds, Lath, Shingles, Mouldings and everything else you could possibly use in building anything whatsoever are of the best. The best of everything. That's what we sell. Don't we get the jack-pot?

GRAND RAPIDS LUMBER CO.

GRAND RAPIDS, WIS., EAST SIDE.

H. Rablin, Manager east side yard. H. A. Sampson, west side yard.

1 CARLOAD OF BBL. APPLES ON TRACK TO-DAY

AND WILL BE SOLD AT

$2.25 to $2.75

Per Barrel.

A Carload of Flour on Track

AND WILL BE SOLD BY

JOHNSON & HILL CO.

FOR $3.90 per bbl.

THIS IS A NO. 1 PATENT FLOUR TRY IT.

BULK APPLES GALORE SOLD three cars in two weeks.

We have put price down so every one can reach them

PICKED APPLES 50c PER Bu.

REMEMBER Cyclone Flour $3.90 per bbl.

We Fit Eyes Right.

All of these eyes need glasses.

All these eyes have been examined by us.

In a short time all these eyes will be wearing glasses they are ordered.

They will be happy eyes for their glasses will be right—Supplied by us.

A. P. Hirzy
OPTICIAN.

ALL KINDS OF

COAL

PRICES RIGHT.

E. C. KETCHUM.

TELEPHONE:
Office, 164. Residence 512

The dealer can tell you the merits of these goods better than we can explain them in an advertisement.

It costs you nothing to see them at the following stores:

A. P. HIRZY.
J. E. DALY

CITY MEAT MARKET!

Fresh, Salt and Smoked

MEATS.

All kinds of Fish, Poultry and Sausages. Cash paid for Hides and Pelts. Prompt delivery of orders, wholesale and retail.

N. REILAND,

TEL. 275. EAST SIDE,
GRAND RAPIDS, WIS

ISAAC P. WITTER, PRESIDENT.
GEO. W. MEAD, VICE-PRESIDENT.
C. F. REDFORD CASHIER.
W. G. SCHROEDER, ASS'T. CASHIER.

[Established 1883]

Bank of Grand Rapids

[west side]

CAPITAL, $50.000.
SURPLUS, $7.000

"It's what you save, not what you earn, that makes wealth." Investigate our system of Home Savings Banks."

YOUR BUSINESS SOLICITED.

Wood County Court—In Probate.

STATE OF WISCONSIN } ss
WOOD COUNTY COURT }

In the matter of the last Will and Testament of Vincent Stocker, deceased.

WHEREAS, An instrument in writing, purporting to be the last will and testament of Vincent Stocker, deceased, late of the town of Seneca, Wood County, Wisconsin, has been filed in this office.

AND WHEREAS, Application has been made by Frederick Stocker, praying that the same be proved and admitted to probate, according to the laws of this state, and that letters testamentary be granted thereon according to law.

IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before this Court, at a regular term thereof, to be held at the probate office, in the court house, in the city of Grand Rapids Wood County, Wisconsin, on the 6th day of November, A. D. 1906, at 10:00 o'clock a. m.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place appointed for hearing said application be given to all persons interested by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper printed and published in said county, previous to said hearing.

Dated September 25th, 1906.

By the Court,
W. J. Conway
County Judge

Wipperman & Bambrecht
Attys. for Applicant

CLEANING, pressing and repairing by the Grand Rapids Tailoring Co. Clothes called for and delivered. Phone 207.

GRAND RAPIDS TRIBUNE.

DRUMB & SUTOR, Publishers. Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, Wednesday, Nov. 7th, 1906. VOL. XXXIII, NO. 28

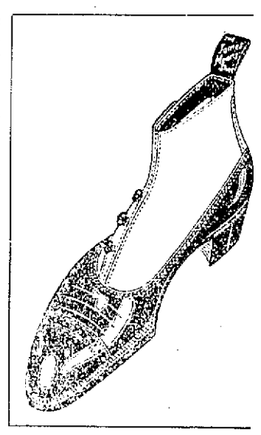

The cheapness of a shoe lies in the SATISFACTION of its wear, not in the price.

JAMES MEANS SHOE

You want a shoe to be easy and COMFORTABLE to your foot. Thats the kind we sell.

WE have several times called your attention to our line of Gentlemen's foot wear. The response has been generous thruout, and now we wish to say that our Fall and Winter stocks are ready for you. James Means and W. L. Douglas make good shoes; they are not the cheapest in dollars and cents, but they are the cheapest in wearing quality and satisfaction. Just try them once to prove it.

If you permit us to fit the next pair of shoes you need it will be the best compliment you ever paid your feet.

James Means' patent colt, blucher cut, single goodyear welt, petatoe toe, a dress shoe $3.50

Means' box calf, blucher cut, double sole, military heel, critic toe, a shapely shoe at a common price..... $3.00

Mens' vici kid, single sole, correct last, cap toe, a shoe for wear $2.50

James Means' patent vici, blucher cut, hand sewed, single sole, Lipton toe, a handsome dress shoe..... $5.00

THE W. L. DOUGLAS SHOE.

By making good honest reliable footwear W. L. Douglas has grown from a very limited business to over 20,000 pair of shoes per day, surely they must be all all that is claimed for them.

W. L. Douglas shoe, Jersey calf, bluche perfecto, or bull dog toe, sewed sole, large eyelets, military heel, general business wear..... $3.50

W. L. Douglas gilt edge shoe, gun metal, freak toe, blucher shape, sewed double sole, common sense heel, for kid top, a dressy shoe, only..... $4.00

Mens patent vici, blucher cut, gilt edge, Lipton toe, single sole, fancy trimmed fox kid top medium heel, a perfect shoe in every detail..... $5.00

W. L. Douglas box calf blucher shoe, cap toe, double sewed sole, military heel, orthopedic cap toe, a good every day shoe..... $2.50

JOHNSON & HILL CO.

BONDS FREE WITH EVERY PURCHASE.

SPECIAL CLOAK SALE.

Saturday November 10

MR. A. A. Walker representing the Alexander Black & Company of Toledo, Ohio with their famous line of A B C Cloaks comes here direct from the East for his second cloak sale here this season with an entirely new and up-to-date line of cloaks in black and mixtures in all the newest styles in cut and cloth, at prices ranging lower than the same high quality of cloaks were ever priced at before, at $10.50, 12.50, 15.00, 17.50, 20.00 and up,

No such values as these have ever been offered you; especially in blacks the prevailing seller this season is this line unapproachable.

Every Lady in Wood County is cordially invited to attend this sale whether you care to purchase or not.

ALL CLOAKS DELIVERED at TIME of SALE

I shall at this time replenish my stock of cloaks so if it is impossible for you to come Saturday come as early after that as you can as my stock will then be complete in every detail at right prices.

J. T. SCHUMACKER.

Just received a new and large stock of furs; come and seem them.

GRAND RAPIDS LOST.

Merrill High School Football Team Wins From the Locals by a Score of 11 to 0.

In one of the most hotly contested football games ever played on the Merrill gridiron, the Merrill High school football team won, for the first time in three years, from the local High school team by a score of 11 to 0. The two teams were so evenly matched that neither side could make consistent gains, either side being held repeatedly and forced to punt. The game was truely a punting contest, Merrill having the best of it all the way thru.

Although outweighed by 19 lbs. to the man, the local boys put up such a fast and snappy game that the big husky fellows from Merrill had all they could handle. And in spite of the fact that Merrill had the more experienced team the locals out played them pound for pound, for time and time again they stopped the fierce onslaugh of beef, forcing Merrill to punt.

Grand Rapids won the toss and chose the kickoff. Promptly at 2:45, Arpin kicked to Merrill who was downed on their 30 yard line, and not being able to make the required 10 yards in three downs they punted to Grand Rapids. Then Grand Rapids advanced the ball 20 yards but was forced to punt, Merrill getting the ball in their own territory from where they advanced to Grand Rapids' 35 yard line trying a drop kick which fell short and rolled over a Grand Rapids goal, Chose falling on it. The ball was taken out and kicked by Grand Rapids from their 25 yard line. Merrill got the ball and this time they advanced down the field by short gains until they finally pushed their big fullback over for a touchdown, House kicking goal. Grand Rapids kicked to Merrill who advanced the ball a short distance, but being held they punted to Grand Rapids. The locals then tried their hardest to even up the score, but the Merrill line was too much for them. The rest of the half was a punting duel, neither side being benefitted. Score at the end of the first half was 6 to 0 in Merrill's favor.

The second half was merely a repetition of the first half. Merrill kicked to Grand Rapids who advanced about 20 yards but, was forced to punt, Merrill getting the ball on their own 40 yard ine. From there they advanced it to Grand Rapids' 35 yard trying a drop kick which Grand Rapids blocked, getting the ball in the center of the field where they punted out of danger. This time Merrill took a brace, carrying the ball down the field by heavy mass plays which the locals could not stop, finally pushing their right half back over for the second touchdown. House failed to kick goal. Grand Rapids then kicked to Merrill who advanced the ball into Grand Rapids territory and was there held for downs. The rest of the game was another punting contest with neither side having the advantage. The second half closed with the ball in Grand Rapids possession in their own territory, Merrill winning by the score of 11 to 0.

The local boys were well satisfied with the showing that they made and cannot even explain how it was that the score was not larger than it was for the Merrill boys have the advantage of a paid coach from the University of Wisconsin besides the great advantage of 19 ponnds of weight to the man. That with the fact that they are all experienced men, having played together for three years, makes them a hard foe to beat.

Couch Donner of Merrill when asked what he thought of the local boys, said that they had an exceptionally strong team for their weight and that he did not want them to be a bit better if Merrill were to play them again.

Following is the lineup:

Merrill		Grand Rapids
Phillips	le	G. Arpin
Olsen-Kennidy	lf	Heiser
O. Winnaman	lg	Damon
W. Winnaman	c	Smith
Simonson	rg	Hill
Elsen	rf	Voyer
Hassett	re	Earley
House	qb	Chose
Schroeder	fb	H. Arpin
Heidt	lhb	Crowns
Weisner	rhb	Corcoran

Referee—Bellis. Umpire—Widmer. Time of halves, 25 and 20 minutes.

Mr. Hubbard is trying to arrange a return game with the Merrill High school football team to be played on the local grounds so as to give the public the benefit of another good game here this season.

Albee-LaBreche.

Miss Bessie Albee and George LaBreche, both of this city, were married on Monday at the Catholic parsonage, Rev. B. Hugenroth officiating. Only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present, the wedding being a very quiet affair.

The young people are well known in this city, the bride being the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Albee, and a most estimable young lady, while the groom is a sign writer and artist of no mean ability, and both of them have a host of friends who will wish them a long life of happiness. The Tribune unites in extending congratulations.

Dance at Derrich's.

There will be a social dance at Derrich's hall on Saturday night. A cordial invitation is extended to all. Good music and a good time.

Another Runaway Couple.

A dream of love was rudely disturbed on Wednesday of last week on the west side, when the husband appeared on the scene and took the runaway wife home with him. The story is to the effect that a man by the name of Ed. Staley, and a woman purporting to be his wife, appeared in the city about four weeks ago and rented a house on the west side The man went to work in the furniture factory and everything went along lovely for a time. Then last Wednesday when the young man returned to his home he found that the woman who was supposed to be his wife had left, and several of his creditors were on the scene with bills and good advice. He settled the bill and made his escape as rapidly as the circumstances would permit.

It seems that during the day the husband of the woman, who is a farmer in the vicinity of Mt. Horeb, appeared on the scene and after a short talk with his wife the woman consented to go back home with him, and she and her husband left for their old home without notifying the young man of their intentions.

The story told by the husband was that he operated a large farm and that he kept three hired men and that his wife became enamored of Staley and ran away with him, leaving two small children to the care of their father. The man stated that it was on account of the children that he had followed his wife with the determination to take her home, as otherwise she might have gone her way.

Child Badly Burned.

The year old boy of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Gazeluy was quite badly burned on Wednesday last, and only for the quick work of Mrs. Gazeley in extinguishing the fire the little one would probably have burned to death.

At the time of the accident the boy was playing about the floor in the dining room and altho nobody was in the room at the time it is supposed that the little fellow stuck a piece of paper into the front of the stove, and after it had become lighted, pulled it out onto his clothes, setting them afire. Mrs. Gazeley heard the boy cry out and hurrying into the room wrapped her skirt about the child and smothered the flames. As it was the little fellow was burned about the chest and one arm and the face, but the fire was put out so quickly that his life was saved, which would not have been the case had a few seconds more elapsed. It was a very narrow escape and Mr. and Mrs. Gazeley are glad that they escaped as fortunately as they did.

Sent to the Asylum.

Miss Nellie Bell, who has been living on the east side on Fourth street for a number of years past, was examined as to her sanity before Judge Conway on Saturday and adjudged insane, and the same day she was sent to the northern hospital for the insane at Oshkosh. The woman has been more or less weak minded or insane for a number of years past, and has been supported by a cousin who resided at Almond, but in times past her mental abberation has been of such a mild character that she has been allowed to live by herself and was a most peaceably inclined person. Of late however, she was apparently growing worse and it was thought by the neighbors that the best thing that could be done for her was to have her placed where she could receive proper medical attention, which has been done.

Another Bargain.

—We have just purchased the Crance farm of 333 acres one mile south of the city of Grand Rapids. Hundred acres cultivated; 75 acres timbered; 1200 rods wire fence; 2 story house 24x30; barns, sheds and spring creek with brook trout; school; good neighbors; daily mail; and good main roads. Land is level partly seeded with tame hay, must be sold at once. Will sell in one tract or in lots of 15 acres and up to suit buyer. Five years time, payable "on or before." Now is your last chance to get a piece of good real estate at a bargain near our prosperous manufacturing city of 6500 people.

Geo. N. Wood
Grand Rapids, Wis.

Had a Bad Accident.

Nic Marceau, who runs a butcher shop at Rudolph, met with a severe accident on Friday afternoon which will lay him up for some time.

Mr. Marceau was assisting James Case at the latter's slaughter house in the outskirts of the city, and was engaged in skinning a beef carcass when his hand slipped and the butcher knife struck him across the left wrist, cutting right into the joint, severing the cords and blood vessels.

His arm was bound up tightly and he was brought to this city where the wound was dressed and it is expected that he will be able to use the hand again when the wound is healed.

Elections Outside.

The state republican ticket is elected by about 75000 majority, according to figures now in, altho the returns are incomplete at this time.

McGovern was elected in Milwaukee over Boden by a majority that is estimated at about 2000.

Congressman Babcock of the third district was defeated by Murphy, Democrat. Congressman Weise was re-elected giving Wisconsin two members in Congress.

John Stamm is quite sick at his home on the east side, his trouble being cancer of the stomach.

WELCH IS ELECTED.

Democrats Win Out on One Man in Wood County Against Overwhelming Odds.

The election held yesterday in Wood county put one democrat into office, the person being Julius Welch, who was running for sheriff. The remainder of the republican ticket was elected and the head of the ticket went republican by about one thousand.

At this writing, Wednesday morning, the returns are not complete, as two precincts are missing entirely, while in other places where the vote was sent in, one or two names would be omitted. However the general result can be told with moderate accuracy. So far as received the totals are as follows:

Davidson for governor received 2276 and Aylward 1370, giving Davidson a majority of 906. This is the complete returns in the county with the exception of three precincts.

Connor received 2325 and Bunsli 1342 for lieutenant governor, giving Connor a majority of 983. This is the entire county with the exception of three precincts.

For congressman Morse received 2035 and Conway 1739, giving Morse a majority in the county of 296. These returns are also almost complete.

Brazeau received 2095 and Rawson 1247 in the county, giving a majority of 848.

Goldsworthy received 2059 and Pomainville 1936, making Goldsworthy's majority 123. Only two precincts are missing in these returns for member of assembly.

Davis received 2228 and Hahn 1302, giving Davis a majority of 926. Several precincts are missing on this count, which accounts for the apparant small vote.

For county treasurer Bean received 2158 and Reusch 1292, making Bean's majority 866, with several precincts still to hear from.

For sheriff Brown received 1964 and Welch the democratic candidate received 2208, giving Welch a majority of 541, with several precincts to hear from.

For clerk of court Beyer received 2300 and Colvin 1333, giving Beyer a majority of 867, with nine precincts to hear from.

For district attorney Andrews received 1947 and Wheelan received 1597, giving Andrews a majority of 350, with several precincts yet to hear from.

For register of deeds Powell received 1931 and Boles 1591, giving Powell a majority of 340. There are also several precincts not heard from in this vote.

Taken altogether the vote in the county is a most remarkable one, varying from over nine hundred on one side to more than five hundred the other way, demonstrating that enough of the people of the county understand how to split a ticket so that any man may be defeated or elected.

Are Putting in Gas.

Joseph Cohen is having an "F. P." gas plant installed in his store, the same being done by W. H. Carey. John E. Daly will also have his drug store lighted with gas in the near future, having engaged one of the same systems.

Murderer Caught at Wausau.

Leonard L. Leopold, charged with being one of the men who murdered Margaret Leslie, an actress, in the Grand Palace hotel, Chicago, on the night of Oct. 18, was arrested by the Wausau police Thursday evening. Officers have been on the look-out for him in all parts of the country. He has relatives living at Wausau, but so far as known his presence in the city was unknown to them up to the time of his arrest. He arrived in Wausau the first of the week and registered at Hotel Northern under the name of George Manley, Montello. At Wausau he drank quite heavily and it was while intoxicated that he made the remark which led to his arrest. At first he was arrested for putting slugs into a slot machine but it was found that he could not be held on this charge and he was released, his arrest following later on the more serious one.

The Leslie woman was murdered by Howard E. Nicholas and Leopold and after she was dead the men took from her person diamonds to the value of $2,000. Howard was arrested soon after the murder and made a full confession, claiming, however, that it was Leopold who strangled and chloroformed the woman. At Wausau Leopold said it was Nicholas who applied the chloroform.

After Leopold's arrest he said he had had quite an exciting experience since leaving Chicago. "You know," he said, "that fellow they caught in Iowa. They knew I was on the train and a couple of officers boarded it and took a man who sat just back of me, mistaking him for the man who was wanted." When arrested Leopold had only $1.20 in his pockets. He is a drug clerk, having graduated from the pharmacy department of the Illinois university.

Showing Under Difficulties.

The members of the Earl Drake company that appeared at the Methodist church on Wednesday evening was badly handicapped in their performance. Their baggage, which was to have come here with them, got sidetracked somewhere, and the consequence was that they had neither music nor stage clothes for the occasion. They did the best they could under the circumstances, and there is no doubt but what they felt the need of their property even more than the audience. The four artists that formed the company rendered some very nice selections notwithstanding the drawbacks they had to contend with.

William Hawley Smith, the next number on the course of Popular entertainments at the Methodist church Friday, Nov. 16 at 8 o'clock. Mr. Smith was associated with "Bill" Nye whom he most ably assisted during the whole of the last and most brilliant season of America's greatest humorist. In this position Mr. Smith had the delicate and difficult task of sustaining the role of James Whitcomb Riley. The verdict of the public was that the "Nye Smith combination" was one of the best and most satisfactory ever made.

The plat of the floor will be at Daly's Drug store next Saturday at 9 a. m. Reserve your seats. Nobody should fail to hear such a noted orator and artist as Wm. Hawley Smith.

Miss Cora Christenson of Necedah was the guest of Miss Ida Grignon over Sunday.

FORM NEW COMPANY

Local Capitalists and Outsiders Will Engage in Making Furniture Next Year.

During the past week the arrangements have been about completed by which a new company will be organized in this city for the manufacture of furniture in this city. The details of the concern have not been settled as yet according to the projectors, but the plans are to organize a company with a capital of about $50,000 which will engage in the manufacture of a medium priced dining room suits.

George W. Brown, who has charge of one of the floors in the Oberbeck factory, will be president and manger of the new company and W. R. Wright of Pittsburg, Pa., will be secretary. Mr. Brown has been in this city for some time past, during which time he has been looking over the situation with the view to establishing such a concern, and Mr. Wright was here several days last week for the same purpose. The latter gentleman was favorably impressed with the prospects and will probably be one of the heavy stockholders of the concern.

Among those who are interested in the enterprise are E. P. Arpin, F. J. Wood and Taylor & Scott, and there will probably be others in on the deal when the company is organized. The property of the Dexter Manufacturing Co. was purchased by local people and it is the intention to use a portion of the machinery in the new factory.

The projectors have not settled upon a site for the new plant as yet, but as it is not the intention to commence building until next spring they have plenty of time to finish the details of the business before they commence on the actual work. Such a company will no doubt prove of benefit to the city as the concern will employ a number of men, altho the exact amount cannot be stated at the present time.

City Club Banquet.

The members of the City club, to the number of thirty-five, assembled at their rooms on Wednesday evening and indulged in a Halloween dinner. T. A. Taylor had charge of affairs and it would be impossible to attempt to describe the layout that had been prepared for the occasion. There are not many organizations in the country that have such a jewel as Mr. Taylor to cater to their wants, the only drawback being that there are not more occasions during the year when it is necessary to indulge in a spread of this sort.

Will Hold Skat Tournament.

A skat tournament will be held at G. W. Mason's place on Thursday evening, November 8th, on which occasion all of those who have become addicted to this popular vice are invited to be present and take part in the affair. It will be a Wood County event, and it is expected that there will be a number present from surrounding towns to participate.

—J. T. Schumacher has made a very fortunate purchase of a traveling man's line of furs consisting of scarfs and collarettes in all known kinds of furs, and he will have a sale of them on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 9 and 10 at less than wholesale prices.

KRUGER & WARNER

SELLERS OF THE FINEST OF CLOTHING ready to wear.

Copyright 1906
The House of Kuppenheimer

Invite you to call and inspect the most complete line of HIGH GRADE CLOTHES shown in these parts.

It will be a pleasure for you, and also for us to show the line even if you don't purchase, we want to remove any prejudice you may have against ready-to wear clothes and if you come to us willing to learn regarding the point of the greatest importance in correct clothes we feel that you will go away a wiser man and with less prejudice in your mind than when you came, regarding the ready-to-wear clothes. You will observe on close inspection that the only difference between the high grade clothes we sell and custom clothes is the price. We save you money and give you more style.

See us about that Winter Suit or Overcoat.

RESPECTFULLY YOURS,

KRUGER & WARNER

3rd Door from Post Office. Grand Rapids, Wis.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®
NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

BUILDING UP SAN FRANCISCO

Citizens Make Marvelous Progress in the Work of Restoration.

New Buildings, Finer Than Those Destroyed by the Earthquake and Fire, Going Up on Every Side—"City Beautiful" a Matter of Time.

San Francisco—One of the world's great cities in San Francisco. Cities have been ruined and ashes have covered them, but never before under modern conditions. A city ruined by earthquake and fire in the old days meant that the time of recovery would equal the age of the city up to the hour of its destruction. In this age the very evidences of destruction are turned into agencies of repair and improvement. Fire has rarely failed to bring about better conditions in a city, and San Francisco is no exception to the rule. It is not the improvement of the city that will make them marvel, however, as much as the rapidity with which the work will be accomplished.

The earthquake of April 18 caused a few million dollars' damage—possibly $10,000,000 would cover that loss. The fire which had full play after the quake had broken the water mains, burned over 511 squares or 2,500 acres, or four square miles, the total loss, being estimated at $500,000,000. On the property there was insurance amounting to about $315,000,000. Of this insurance about $170,000,000 had been paid in cash to policyholders up to September 15.

The fire, as everybody knows, destroyed the business district of San Francisco, but left the shipping and residence districts intact. Commerce continued without interruption, except such incidental disturbances as the location of new storage places and the accumulation of freight. Thousands of people left the city immediately after the disaster, but competent authorities estimate that 95 per cent of these refugees have returned. Their homes being intact they find that San Francisco is the place for them, after all, and they are turning to rebuild the city, richer with their capital or their labor.

Bringing Order from Chaos.

When the fire died down on April 21 the people of San Francisco were confronted with mighty problems, some of them demanding instant solution. As this article deals with the San Francisco of the future and not of the past, it is not necessary to go into details regarding the remarkable ability shown by the committee of fifty in providing for the wants of the hungry and shelterless, writes Ira E. Bennett, in the New York Press. That is a story by itself, and a most interesting and inspiring one. Another pressing problem, however, was that of clearing the streets in order that communication might be restored. Thirty-six miles of streets were piled high with debris. Within five months this enormous mass of material has been removed, trolley wires have been strung, street car traffic reestablished and a system of debris removal inaugurated which disposes of 100 carloads a day. If more labor were to be had the work would go much faster.

Admission day was celebrated this year on Monday, September 10. I saw the city on that day for the first time since the disaster. The scene was appalling. With the exception of a worker here and there, the destroyed district was destitute of laboring men. Ruins, ruins in every direction, as far as the eye could see; millions of tons of bricks and mortar piled up in half destroyed basements; a strong breeze blowing dust and ashes everywhere; writhing steel beams and crumbling granite marking the sites of once imposing buildings, and the very thought of bringing order out of chaos sufficient to stagger the imagination.

On the next day a far different picture was presented. In every basement was a gang of workmen. They struggled with girders, piled brick, sifted good material from refuse, handled pick and shovel, mixed mortar and loaded wagons with debris. Thousands of busy hands were to be seen down every street. Thousands of teams went about on the simultaneous task of removal and reconstruction.

Little Loss of Population.

To one familiar with the crowds that made Market street and the ferries famous, there does not appear to be any diminution of population. The car system is wholly inadequate, although herculean efforts have been made to establish communication. The ferries are as crowded as ever. Theaters are filled to suffocation. The St. Francis hotel put up a temporary structure in Union square, and it is turning away a hundred guests daily. Other hotels are filled and turning people away. It requires only a visit to San Francisco to disprove the report that the city has lost half its population.

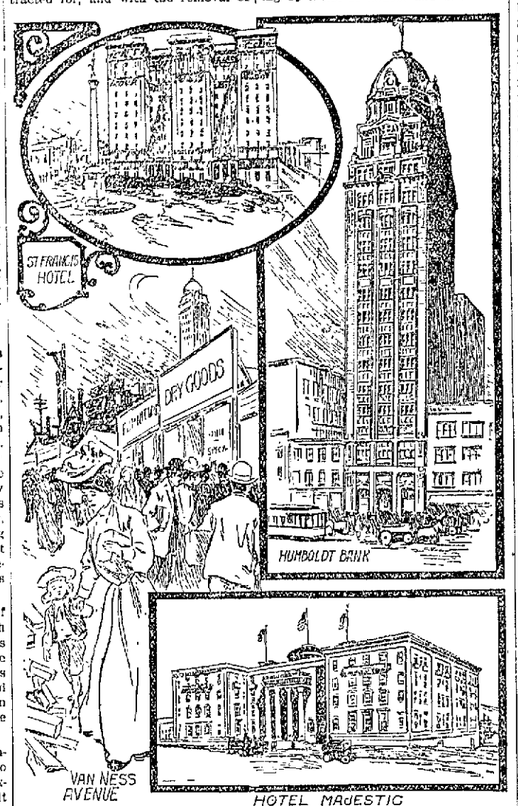

The quake shook the life out of some old firms and hastened the birth of many new ones. Dozens of stores bear the names of men who were clerks before April 18. Merchants from other cities have stepped in and established houses here. Competition is keen, and money appears to be more plentiful than for many years.

The scarcity of skilled and unskilled labor is the chief drawback to rapid construction. Wages are exorbitantly high, but this is the fault of contractors and proprietors rather than of the labor unions. The plumbers and stationary engineers thought they saw a chance to get rich quick, and raised their scale, but were not sustained by the labor council, which is an amalgamation of all the unions, and the old wages were restored. But the owners of buildings which were nearing completion at the time of the disaster are feverish in their anxiety to complete their buildings and obtain famine rentals, and their tactics in raising the wages of workingmen have caused labor prices to soar. On this emergency work plasterers are getting $9 to $11 a day; bricklayers, $10 a day; carpenters, $7 and $8; stonemasons, $8 to $10, and other skilled labor in proportion. San Francisco is a paradise for a workingman.

Unskilled Labor in Demand.

Unskilled labor is hard to find. The city needs 20,000 skilled men and could employ 30,000 unskilled laborers. Some of the shrewder unskilled men have clubbed together and formed little companies of their own. They take a contract to remove debris for a price, and perform the work during the noon hour and in the night. As unskilled labor is getting $3 a day, these willing workers who put in extra time are getting more money than they ever saw before. In much of the burnt district work is carried on by electric light.

Will San Francisco ever be rebuilt? is the question asked by people in the east. The answer is that San Francisco is now being rebuilt. It is not a question of the distant future. The process is visible to the naked eye. Every steel building that was under construction at the time of the disaster is being rushed to completion. Other buildings have been contracted for, and with the removal of debris and the arrival of materials the work will proceed. Nothing could be more absurd than to doubt the recovery of San Francisco from its great misfortune, in the face of the work that is actually in progress. The contract for the reconstruction of the Palace hotel on its old site, on a grander scale than ever, has been let. The St. Francis is now completing its great steel annex. Business houses are arranging to build newer and stronger structures than those which succumbed to the conflagration of April 18 to 21. The city will not be rebuilt in a day, or a year, but it will go up with a remarkable quickness.

HOTEL MAJESTIC

"City Beautiful" Must Wait.

There has been much talk of a "city beautiful," with winding avenues about the hills, broad boulevards, park extensions, and so on. It was thought that with the buildings leveled to the ground the opportunity was open for the construction of a model modern city, uniting utility and beauty to a degree never yet approached in America. A little study of the situation shows that this is nothing but a dream. San Francisco people have enough on their hands in the way of getting into business again, in any shape, without tackling the great task of forming a city on aesthetic lines. Here and there a street may be widened and a little park established, but in the main there will be no attempt to reform the plans upon which the city was built.

The railroads terminating at San Francisco are among the most potent forces in rebuilding the city. They saved San Francisco from panic and possible greater disaster during the time of stress by carrying away thousands of people, free of charge, and bringing in emergency supplies.

After the crisis the railroads turned in and assisted in the removal of debris. Temporary tracks were laid and rehabilitation was immensely assisted. Merchants ordered big stocks of goods from the east, and the railroads rushed the stuff to San Francisco. There was a time, indeed, when the stuff piled up to such an extent as to paralyze the operation of the roads. Five thousand cars of freight were congested at San Francisco and Oakland. By heroic efforts the lingering freight was disposed of and a serious situation relieved. Now that the railroads are able to look after their own business, they are expending great sums in permanent improvement, which will facilitate the reconstruction of the city.

Insurance Situation Hurts.

The insurance situation at San Francisco is exasperating to those who happened to have policies in shaky or dishonest companies, but on the whole the lapses of these companies have not affected the city as seriously as early reports indicated. Nearly one-half of all losses has been paid. Considering the fact that insurance records, as well as everything else, went up in smoke, this is a fairly good showing for five months. Payments are being made through the banks at the rate of nearly $1,000,000 a day. The money goes into circulation for the most part, and the resulting activity overshadows the fact that hundreds of other policy holders are waiting for a settlement.

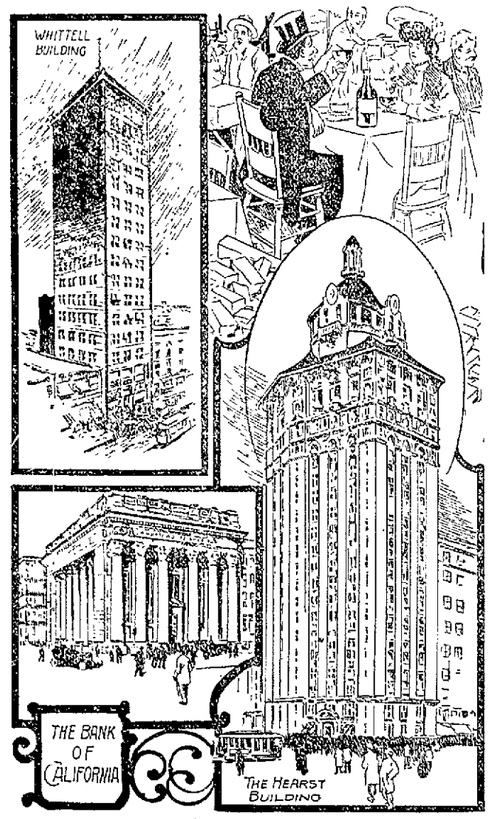

The people of San Francisco personally and through their commercial organizations are watching the insurance companies with a jealous eye. Companies that come to the front with money are reaping a harvest of new business, while those which fought for time or actually repudiated their obligations in whole or in part will be made to smart for it.

The chamber of commerce is making up a list of honest and dishonest companies. The California delegation in congress will have something to say on the subject next winter. The names of defaulting companies are to be sent broadcast through the world, and the opinion is universal in San Francisco that in the long run the defaulting companies will discover that they played a losing game when they defrauded policy holders of their rights.

Insurance litigation promises to become great. Policy holders who have money enough to fight are not slow in invoking the aid of the courts. One or two important cases already have been decided, but the critical question is yet to be passed upon. This question is as to the part played by the earthquake in causing fire losses. Policies are variously worded, but in the main they provide that payment shall not be made if the loss is caused "directly or indirectly" by earthquake or other act of God. Of course, if there had been no earthquake there would have been no fire, but the man whose house was consumed three days after the quake does not think the indirect cause is quite close enough to the effect to justify the insurance companies in repudiating all liability.

Show True American Grit.

During the disaster the good humor and self-possession of San Franciscans astonished the world. Now, in the long tug of disposing of the ashes and rebuilding the city, this good humor never deserts them, and they are as confident as though they were beginning a city for the first time. There is inspiration in numbers, comfort in common trouble, and a spirit of brotherhood that has not deserted them, although it is not as marked as it was during times of danger. The love of good cheer in the way of eating, drinking and listening to music is as strong as ever. The climax is a continual tonic, and invites to hard work. The very size of their disaster seems to nerve the San Franciscans to hasten the reconstruction of the new city. They come very near to boasting when they show their ruins, and some of them display a remarkably fresh memory of history by comparing their disaster with the fate of other cities that have perished by earthquake and fire, and risen again. According to these men, who cite history while making it, the only bonfire that excelled San Francisco's was that which consumed Rome in Nero's time. The great fires of London, Boston, Chicago and Baltimore were mere hints of what a real conflagration can do. So say these dusty, smiling, tireless San Franciscans, who revel in the advertising that their city has obtained. Their belief in the speedy reconstruction of the city is absolute, and they are backing their belief with money and energy that balks at nothing.

ON FASHION'S HIGHWAY

By FRANCES RIVERS

(Copyright, 1906, by Joseph B. Bowles.)

Toward five o'clock, on a supremely hot July day, Mr. Godfrey Boyne strolled leisurely along the gravel path of the promenade.

He loitered, seemingly at random, making his way slowly between groups of animated people, stopping for no reason, and remained idly agaze over the heads of the crowd on fashion's highway.

At any rate, he thought, applying this recollection as healing unction to the scratches imprinted on his vanity by the acid of such general forgetfulness, Audrey has remembered; and he, smiling, recalled the facility with which intimacy with Lady Annandale had been resumed; the friendly informality with which she had reentered into relations with him; the bewildering intensity of her social influence; the celebrity which, at first as the wife, then as the widow, of a viscount, notorious in career and memory for his many vices, she had acquired.

He had taken himself to Fashion's highway, the purpose of joining Lady Annandale being less distinct in his thoughts than the wish to see her. So immersed was he in reflection that he failed to notice that a victoria had stopped opposite to him. Suddenly a footman addressed him:

"I beg your pardon, sir," said he, "but her ladyship sent me to say that she wishes to speak to you."

Godfrey turned; Lady Annandale was stopping from the carriage.

"You can go home," said she to the footman.

"Very good, my lady."

Then she gave to Godfrey her hand. "This place—" she glanced round at the radiant prospect—"seems scarcely the spot suited to serious discussion. We might, perhaps, over there."

So, side by side, Lady Annandale and Mr. Godfrey Boyne walked across the soft, green turf and established themselves upon chairs under the sweet scented lime trees, whose sheltering boughs masked them from observation.

He beamed amiably round.

"I have brought you here, that you may continue your last night's interrupted account of the woman with whom you were in love," said she.

"Was in love? It's absurd to use the past tense. I am in love with her. Love is not a state from which you can recover as from an epidemic. I am, of course, speaking of the real thing."

"I see; something other than flirtation."

"Flirtation is but the froth of love."

Lady Annandale laughed. "Passion! does your real thing include that?"

"Passion is love's drogs, besides being Cupid's pseudonym for the work he is ashamed to acknowledge."

"I had no idea I was speaking to an expert; but how, may I ask, did you come to study the subject so profoundly?"

"In Ceylon, beyond love's influence, I devoted some attention to the science."

She raised her eyebrows.

"Is that all you learned?"

"That, and to make money."

"To make money?"

"Certainly. I'm a wealthy tea-planter of Ceylon."

"A wealthy tea-planter, did you say? But to return to your love," she suggested.

"You can't return to a thing you've never parted from, can you?"

"Then you know more of the subject?"

"A great deal more."

"How much?"

"Here it is. I see a boy and girl, the joyful intimacy of their childhood deepening into the poetry of youth—"

"And, of course, the girl knows that the boy loves her?"

"Naturally; since not an hour of the day passes but he tells her so."

"Tells her? Surely not."

"By every means in his power, except his tongue. He doesn't put it into words, because he knows that to do so would be hopeless if she doesn't understand without that."

"Don't you think she might make a mistake if he says nothing?"

"But she must know that he dreams his dream of the future, in which, having made a nest and lined it softly with down, he will come to her and say: 'It awaits you.' Then he hopes that, with the gracious spirit manifest in all her bearing, the girl, with love and tenderness shining from her eyes, would, putting her hand in his, say: 'I am ready.'"

"Your vision is charming, idyllic; but how about the girl and her dreary days of waiting, for I suppose the boy to have gone off into the world?"

"He had to go into it to fill his man's part."

"Before going he should have told her in words of his love."

"You really think that his doing so would have made any difference—when all that he was then in a position to ask was faithfulness?"

Lady Annandale sighed.

"This particular girl was probably brought up to marry, as, had she been a boy, she would have been brought up to some profession. In your vision, what became of her?"

"She fulfilled what I see you consider to have been her destiny."

"Marriage?"

"Yes; she married a peer."

"And was happy ever after, according to the formula?"

"I suppose so. Isn't every woman happy who achieves rank and is an acknowledged beauty?"

"And the boy?"

"Woke from rosy dreams in the sunlight to find that in the time of his slumbering the sky had become overcast."

"And blamed the girl for a fault that was his own?"

"No; he didn't blame her, but for a time he was heartbroken."

"Did he lose sight of her altogether?"

"Not altogether; for when, in the fullness of time, she was again free, he came back to her."

"And he found her the same?"

"This woman's beauty is a fact of an astonishing order, and she is ten times more lovely even than she was."

"Her nature. Has that deteriorated?" Lady Annandale spoke earnestly; her face was grave and sad.

"To test that is very simple."

"Really?"

"I have but to say to her: 'Marry me, and let us together renew the simplicity of our youth.' The nest—you remember that I spoke of a nest—?"

She bowed her head.

"Is fairly lined. Will you with it accept my heart and name?"

Lady Annandale's arms of aggression, even of defense, were possibly close at hand, but she made no attempt to reach them, and was not maladroit in thus leaving them untouched; for this harmlessness of attitude on her part induced Godfrey to lay aside his buckler of suspicion, and in reply to her "Then this visit of yours is, I take it, a tribute—a small tribute to youthful sentiment, to a dead love?" he, as lightly rejoined.

"By no means. Love, amongst the other attributes which I have enumerated, resembles a sachet, with the scent of which we are so familiar that it is advisable sometimes to shake it up anew."

Then, seriously, he added: "Oh, my dearest, we have lost ten years!"

"You would wish to take me to Ceylon?"

He saw the pupils of her eyes contract at the unattractiveness of the suggestion.

"Of course, if—"

If Godfrey had come to her with the intention she believed, or even if this intention had been caused by the spell of proximity, he must be no longer mistaken in her meaning. "I couldn't go," she interrupted.

"Then we will leave Ceylon to take care of itself," he said, carelessly, taking no more notice of her words than if she had not said them.

"You seriously mean that?"

"I was never more serious in my life. I will abandon that nest and make another over here."

"Then we come to the second count—your heart. Are you quite, quite sure that it is negotiable flesh, not in a battered condition?"

"I swear—"

"You needn't; for, oddly enough, I believe you."

"You are the only woman I have ever cared for."

"Does not every man tell every woman that?" She looked into his eyes and laughed.

Then, across this chasm Lady Annandale lightly threw a plank, accomplishing with a woman's dexterity, more in one moment than Godfrey had been able to do in weeks of arduous work.

Vaguely, in a tremor of unformulated hope, Godfrey saw that that which had appeared to him as the end might really be but the beginning.

"In all the phrases, creeds, commonplaces which you have said of love, you have omitted to enumerate the only attributes that woman recognizes," said she, and paused to beg him, by a little Sphinx-like smile, to pay attention to her words.

"These are its power of over-riding every obstacle; of conferring upon woman a title higher than that of queen."

"Go on, please, go on," he stammered.

She looked straight into his eyes.

"You are dense and stupid if you cannot understand how dear to some women may be the name of 'wife.'"

"I Couldn't Go," She Interrupted.

Teeth the First Weapon.

Even Now Jaws Are Chief Means of Defense Among Apes.

Among all old world apes the teeth are the chief weapons for defense against natural foes and for combats for mates or tribal supremacy. The canines are in most cases enormously developed, insomuch that ill informed naturalists have suggested that a near relationship must exist between the primates and the carnivora. As a matter of fact, these formidable teeth have nothing to do with alimentation, but are as purely weapons of war as are the bayonet and the Maxim gun. In practically every emergency demanding unusual energy, obstinacy and courage they come into play.

In every conflict with the world, the flesh and the devil—as such things are understood in pitchecoid society—the temporal and masseter muscles are the chief arbiters of war. To become a great and powerful anthropoid it is absolutely and brutally necessary to have a large and strong jaw, to give them attachment to the teeth and good leverage to the muscles. That for an immense epoch our prehuman ancestors achieved success in life in like manner is as clear as the print of "Maga" to those who have learned to read nature's handwriting.

Since those days of true Arcadian simplicity our life has become bewilderingly complex and our methods for settling social difficulties have changed generally for the better. But here, as in so many other instances, the habits of a past age have left an indelible impress on the nervous system.—Blackwood's Magazine.

Quite So.

"I never met a man so happy as he is when he's looking for work."

"You surprise me. I always considered him lazy—"

"That's what I mean. When he's looking for work, of course, he hasn't any."

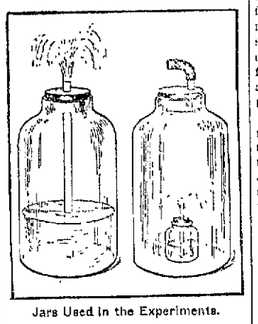

FOUNTAIN IN A BOTTLE.

Pretty Experiments Which Can Be Tried by Boy or Girl.

A large glass bottle, or jar, with a rubber stopper having a hole in it, is the simple foundation for your fountain. You will need besides, a glass tube with a jet at one end, and a piece of rubber tubing about two inches long.

When you have prepared your materials, place the stopper in the jar, and insert in the hole the glass tube, with the jet inside the jar. To the end of the glass tube that is outside fit the rubber tubing.

Now exhaust your lungs and, placing the other end of the rubber tubing in your mouth, suck out the air from the jar. When you have taken a deep breath, pinch the rubber tube so that no air will return to the jar, and again exhaust your lungs and repeat the process of drawing the air from the jar.

Jars Used in the Experiments.

Now, still pinching the rubber tube, or applying a pincheock, turn the jar upside down and place the end of the rubber tube in a glass of water. When you release the tube the water will spurt up through the jet and your fountain will play in the jar. It is the outside pressure on the water in the glass that forces the spray into the vacuum of the bottle.

Instead of exhausting the air from the jar, here is a way to produce the fountain outside of it, says People's Home Journal. Reverse the glass tube so that the jet will be outside and the other end near the bottom of the jar. Pour water into the jar until it is about two-thirds higher than the end of the tube in the jar. Fit the rubber tubing over the jet and blow into the jar, thus condensing the air. Pinch the tube while you again fill the lungs and blow again into the jar. Now quickly pull the tubing from the jet, and the water will spurt out, producing a fountain. This time it is the pressure of the condensed air inside the jar that forces the water out.

In the same jar place a vaseline bottle with a piece of thin rubber cloth stretched over the mouth, and tied in place. Now, instead of the long glass tube, use a smaller one, and if you will exhaust the air from the jar as you did in the first fountain experiment the rubber will rise like a balloon, because the air in the small bottle will try to get out to fill the vacuum you have produced.

Now, if you will blow into the rubber tube, as you did in the other fountain experiment, the rubber will bulge downward into the small bottle, condensing the air there. By fitting the vaseline bottle as you did the outer one, with a glass jet, and placing water in it, and then exhausting the air from the outer jar, you will produce a miniature fountain in the jar from the smaller bottle.

THE GARDEN PIRATES.

A pirate's life is the life for me!
My mates are brave and bold;
Seven, and six, and five are we,
Or eighteen years all told.

Hard-a-lee with the Susan, boys!
Up anchor! Hard-a-lee!

A prize for the garden pirates, boys—
A vessel in sight I see!
Give chase o'er the deep, green garden, boys,
We'll capture her safe and sound!
But slack-a-day, and a-well-away,
The Susan has gone aground!
—Cincinnati Enquirer.

A Desperate Girl

With a gesture of despair she laid down her ice cream soda spoon.

"I have decided," she said, in a hollow voice, "to renounce this vain and frivolous life forever. I am going out as a missionary to equatorial Africa."

"What has led you to this desperate resolve?"

"Papa won't give me an automobile for my birthday."

Diabolic Throttle.

Knicker—So the hero was gagged at the critical moment?

Bocker—Yes; how could he call for help when he was eating corn on the cob?—N. Y. Sun.

Worse.

"Humidity is worse that heat."

"Yes," answered the irritable person. "Much worse. It tempts so many bores to try to show off their knowledge."—Washington Star.

Lost Interest.

Jack—I thought you were very attentive to Miss Banker.

Tom—I was; but after what she said I shall have nothing more to do with her.

Jack—What did she say?

Tom—She said "No."—Tit-Bits.

No Evidences.

"Has there ever been evidences of insanity in your family?" was asked of the witness.

"No, sir. There has never been a scandal in it."—Milwaukee Sentinel.

A NEW BOX KITE.

How to Construct It and Fly It Successfully.

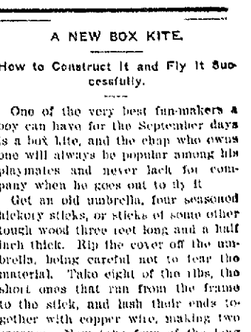

One of the very best fun-makers a boy can have for the September days is a box kite, and the chap who owns one will always be popular among his playmates and never lack for company when he goes out to fly it.

Get an old umbrella, four seasoned hickory sticks, or sticks of some other tough wood three feet long and a half inch thick. Rip the cover off the umbrella, being careful not to tear the material. Take eight of the ribs, the short ones that run from the frame to the stick, and lash their ends together with copper wire, making two squares. Now take four of the long ribs and break them each in half, thus getting eight more pieces the size of those you have just fixed. Lash these eight new ones together in the same way, making two squares each of four wires.

Now lash one of your hickory sticks by one end to the corner of one of your two first wire squares and fasten the other end of the stick to a corner of its mate. Place the other two sticks in position in the other corners of the two squares and fasten them firmly by lashing them to the corner of its mate. Place the other three sticks in position in the other corners of the two squares and fasten them firmly by lashing them to the corner and sides of the square with fine copper wire.

Now for your second set of squares made from the more pliable ribs of the umbrella: These slip outside of the framework you have made and are placed one foot from either end so that there will also be a foot between them, providing you have made your sticks three feet long. When these are firmly wired in place you are ready for your kite covering, which is the covering you have ripped from the old umbrella. This is placed around either end, as shown in the illustration, and firmly sewn in place along all four edges of each square. Be sure and use heavy linen thread in doing this, and it is all the better if your thread be waxed. Your kite is ready to fly as soon as you fasten a "tail" on it.

Now make a "free" kite of it, which means a kite which will sail away without a string, explains the People's Home Journal. Get four more long umbrella wires and fasten them to the inner sides of your wire squares on the framework as shown in the picture. These wires must have their free ends brought together and lashed fast, with a small iron or brass ring at the extremity. In this ring you may hang a lead weight, which must be varied according to the force of the wind blowing. This weight acts just exactly like the drag of a kite string and will keep your kite steady and upright if you are careful to adjust the weight to the force of the wind. Your kite will not rise in the air, but will sail straight off before the wind for a long distance.

Kite Fixed for "Free" Flying.

SUCCESS WHICH ENDURES.

It Can Be Secured Only by the Sterling Quality of Strict Honesty.

Some young men are reluctant to accept, as the most vital truth in life, the most absolute honesty is the only kind of honesty that succeeds in business. It isn't a question of religion, or religious beliefs. Honesty does not depend upon any religious creed, or dogma, that was ever conceived. It is a question of a young man's own conscience, says the New York Weekly. He knows what is right, and what is wrong. And yet, simple as the matter is, it is astonishing how difficult it is of understanding. An honest course in business seems too slow to the average young man. "I can't afford to plod along. I must strike, and strike quickly," is his sentiment.

Ah, yes, my friend, but not dishonestly. No young man can afford to even think of dishonesty. Success on honorable lines may sometimes seem slower in coming, but when it does come it exceeds in permanency all the so-called successes obtained by other methods. To look at the methods of others is always a mistake.

The successes of to-day are not given to the imitator, but to the originator. It makes no difference how other men may succeed—their success is theirs, and not yours. You cannot partake of it. Every man is a law unto himself.

The most absolute integrity is the one—the only—sure foundation of success. Such a success is lasting.

Literary Chit-Chat.

"What, Thomas? Reading? I thought you were hard at work?"

And old Gobsa Golde looked at his burly porter with stern reproof.

"I wuz readin' a little," the porter admitted. "It's a story about the Russian troubles."

"The Russian troubles, eh? Who wrote it?"

"Wrote it? It ain't wrote, sir. It's printed."

Why Baby Cried.

Mamma—Tommy, what is the baby crying for?

Tommy—'Cause he doesn't know things. I had to take his cake and show him how to eat it.—Chicago Daily News.

Growth of Girls and Boys.

The growth of girls is greatest in their fifteenth year; of boys, in their seventeenth.

An Advantage.

"So you prefer to live in South America?"

"Yes. There a man who would ordinarily be dismissed as a mere mischiefmaker attains to the dignity of a revolutionist."

As Others See Us.

Greening—Every one tells me that I am long-headed.

Browning—Of course you are. Only long heads are adapted to narrow minds.—Chicago Daily News.

Hitch Your Wagon to a Star

By MICHAEL L. PADDEN,
Registrar of Water Supply, New York City.

Hitch your wagon to a star,
Or just as near it as you can;
Be gentle, if the world will let you,
For the morrow always plan.
Don't be timid, don't be boastful,
Don't borrow coin or cooking pan;
Dress as well as luck will let you—
The coat doth often make the man.

The first line of that is what makes a hit with me. There is about ten feet more of the same two-step style of word coupling, and it came to me through the mails from a Persian prince who had his private yacht in the harbor at the time that I was uncovering the water front "water grafts," and I happened to be in a position to help him get his daily supply of water on board without having to pay extra toll for it.

He sent me a letter of thanks when he sailed, and after he got over in his own election district he sent me this jig-time string of philosophy, which I take as a compliment, inasmuch as it was especially translated for me.

A letter from the prince's secretary accompanying it tells me that it was written many years ago by a near relation of that fellow, Omar Khayyam, who the historians say was a tent-maker who wrote poetry for the magazines that the clown fellows read to the criminal rich when they were having beefsteak parties along about the time that they were teaching Cleopatra to use a nursing bottle.

The thing about it that strikes me most forcibly is that you can't put any twist on the truth that will make it any stronger now than it was when those chaps were writing philosophy without the aid of a typewriter and interviewers to give them a boost.

The higher you aim in any game the more certain you are to hit something, and we're all trying to make a score of some kind in life.

If a man doesn't set his own aims high no one else will.

A man came to me for a place as a bookkeeper in a big place where a friend of mine had some influence, and I said: "You can't be a bookkeeper. You are only a porter," and he replied:

"Well, let's start for the bookkeeping job and maybe we'll land on some job between that and a cold throw-down."

He had the "hitch-your-wagon-to-a-star" idea, all right.

RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA

ST. JACOBS OIL

The Proved Remedy for Over 30 Years.

Price 25c and 50c

Improved on Nature.

Miss Mary Cassatt, the noted Philadelphia artist, lives in Paris. Several of her pictures have the great honor to be hung in the Luxembourg, and Miss Cassatt's studio tours are extremely popular in the American colony.

Miss Cassatt at one of her teas talked to a Philadelphian about an English animal painter.

"He painted last winter," she said "a number of pictures of dead game. They were highly praised. Two heads were turned. Among the pictures was a group of dead rabbits. Gentle commended the dead rabbits.

"'They are remarkably true to nature' he said.

"'Nature!' the artist exclaimed. 'Yes, I flatter myself that there is more nature in those rabbits than you ah usually see in rabbits!'"

Playwright's Method of Work.

Mr. A. W. Pinero has an unusual method of writing; his plays. His work day does not begin until that of the average city man is over. In the morning he goes out, preferably on his bicycle returning in time for early dinner. Then he has a comfortable sleep, and on waking up, late in the afternoon, he prepares for business. After a cup of tea he goes to his desk and remains working at his play until far into the night.

Spaniards Would Emigrate.

Six hundred families of weavers of Bejar, Spain, are reported to be seeking aid to emigrate to American countries.

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

W. L. DOUGLAS $3.50 & $3.00 Shoes

BEST IN THE WORLD

W. L. Douglas $4 Gilt Edge line cannot be equalled at any price

SHOES FOR EVERYBODY AT ALL PRICES.

If I could take you into my large factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you how carefully W. L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater value than any other make.

Wherever you live, you can obtain W. L. Douglas shoes. His name and price is stamped on the bottom, which protects you against high prices and inferior shoes. Take no substitute. Ask your dealer for W. L. Douglas shoes and insist upon having them.

Fast Color Eyelets used; they will not wear brassy.

Write for Illustrated Catalog of Fall Styles.

W. L. DOUGLAS, Dept. 12, Brockton, Mass.

THE BEST COUGH CURE

Cough syrups are all cheap enough, but if you should get a gallon of cough syrup that does not cure for the price of a small bottle of the best cough cure, you would have made a bad bargain—for one small bottle of Kemp's Balsam may stop the worst cough and save a life, whereas the cough "cure" that does not cure is worse than useless.

Kemp's Balsam

Sold by all dealers at 25c. and 50c.

HOLD UP! and consider

YOU CAN Straighten Kinky Hair, Curl straight hair, and restore gray or faded hair to original color, at home cheap. Entirely harmless and guaranteed as represented every way. One dollar per formula, or send stamp for particulars. G. L. WOLNAF, Lock Box 668, ST. LOUIS, MO.

20,000 ACRES Timber and Farming Lands; good soil; convenient to railroads; near Ladysmith, Wis.; County Seat; will furnish 2,000 feet of lumber to each purchaser; price $10 to $15 per acre; easy terms. KNOBL & UCHTLAND CO., 116 Dearborn St., Chicago, and Ladysmith, Wis. AGENTS WANTED. Liberal Commission.

Handy Shoulder.

Suggestions for

BORERS

RIPENING

TO SAVE

RHEUMATISM
AND NEURALGIA

ST. JACOBS OIL

The Proved Remedy
For Over 30 Years.

Price 25c and 50c

Improved on Nature.

Miss Mary Cassatt, the noted Philadelphia artist, lives in Paris. Several of her pictures have the great honor to be hung in the Luxembourg, and Miss Cassatt's studio teas are extremely popular in the American colony.

Miss Cassatt at one of her teas talked to a Philadelphian about an English animal painter.

"He painted last winter," she said, "a number of pictures of dead game. They were highly praised. The man's head was turned. Among the pictures was a group of dead rabbits. A critic commended these rabbits.

"'They are remarkably true to nature,' he said.

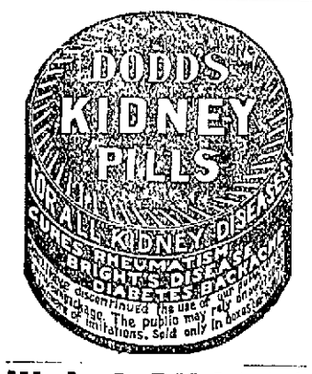

"'Nature!' the artist exclaimed. 'Yes, I flatter myself that there is more nature in those rabbits than you—ah—usually see in rabbits.'"

Playwright's Method of Work.

Mr. A. W Pinero has an unusual method of writing his plays. His work day does not begin until that of the average city man is over. In the morning he goes out, preferably on his bicycle, returning in time for early dinner. Then he has a comfortable sleep, and on waking up, late in the afternoon, he prepares for business. After a cup of tea he goes to his desk and remains working at his play until far into the night.

Spaniards Would Emigrate.

Six hundred families of weavers of Bejar, Spain, are reported to be seeking aid to emigrate to American countries.

W. L. DOUGLAS
$3.50 & $3.00 Shoes
BEST IN THE WORLD

W.L.Douglas $4 Gilt Edge line cannot be equalled at any price

SHOES FOR EVERYBODY AT ALL PRICES.
Men's Shoes, $5 to $1.50. Boys' Shoes, $3 to $1.25. Women's Shoes, $4.00 to $1.50. Misses' & Children's Shoes, $3.25 to $1.00.
Try W. L. Douglas Women's, Misses and Children's shoes; for style, fit and wear they excel other makes.

If I could take you into my large factories at Brockton, Mass., and show you how carefully W.L. Douglas shoes are made, you would then understand why they hold their shape, fit better, wear longer, and are of greater value than any other make.

Wherever you live, you can obtain W. L. Douglas shoes. His name and price is stamped on the bottom, which protects you against high prices and inferior shoes. Take no substitute. Ask your dealer for W. L. Douglas shoes and insist upon having them.

Fast Color Eyelets used; they will not wear brassy.

Write for Illustrated Catalog of Fall Styles.
W. L. DOUGLAS, Dept. 12, Brockton, Mass.

THE BEST COUGH CURE

Cough syrups are all cheap enough, but if you should get a gallon of cough syrup that does not cure for the price of a small bottle of the best cough cure, you would have made a bad bargain—for one small bottle of Kemp's Balsam may stop the worst cough and save a life, whereas the cough "cure" that does not cure is worse than useless.

Kemp's Balsam

Sold by all dealers at 25c. and 50c.

HOLD UP! and consider

YOU CAN Straighten Kinky Hair, Curl straight hair, and restore gray or faded hair to original color, at home cheap. Entirely harmless and guaranteed as represented every way. One dollar per formula, or send stamp for particulars. G. L. WOLRAF, Lock Box 668, ST. LOUIS, MO.

20,000 ACRES Timber and Farming Lands; good soil; convenient to railroads; near Ladysmith, Wis.; County Seat; will furnish 6,000 feet of lumber to each purchaser; price $10 to $15 per acre; easy terms. KNOBLAUCH LAND CO., 116 Dearborn St., Chicago, and Ladysmith, Wis. AGENTS WANTED; Liberal Commission.

HORTICULTURE

SCION AND STOCK.

The Relation of the One to the Other In Producing Fruit.

Everybody knows that when a scion is inserted in a tree the fruit which it produces is that of the scion and not of the stock. There have always been some who believed, on general principles, that the stock had some influence on the fruit, even if it could not be perceived. An imperceptible influence is hardly worth inquiring into, but some study has been given by competent observers, whose conclusion is that the root systems of some stocks were better purveyors of nutriment than others, so that scions grafted into them might produce more or larger fruit than when grafted into other stocks with which equally good unions were made. But the curiosity of modern investigators is insatiable, and some people have been trying to find out how it is that a quince root, for example, will produce a pear, or an almond root a plum. Some have thought that it was the leaves which did the trick, which was a rather natural theory, because the sap is digested and the nutriment assimilated in the leaves. To determine this point, says an exchange, scions of the yellow transparent apple were inserted into branches of the wild crab. After fruit spurs were formed all leaves were removed from the graft and none allowed to form during the season, so that all of the sap was elaborated by the leaves of the wild crab. At the same time another scion of the same yellow transparent tree was inserted into a twig of the same branch and allowed to form its own leaves. Both of these grafts bore fruit this season, and the general verdict is that no difference either in size, color or flavor can be detected. In both instances the fruit is clearly yellow transparent. This experiment would seem to indicate that it makes no difference from whence the sap comes, the fruit will remain true to its kind.

TO SAVE ARM STRAIN.

Handy Shoulder Harness to Help Carry Heavy Baskets.

A great deal of unnecessary arm strain can be avoided by using the device shown in the cut. A broad leather strap has two snap-hooks stitched in at either end, the whole just long enough to go about the shoulders and snap into the handles of any basket or box that it may be desired to carry with apples, potatoes or other articles. You will be surprised to see how easily the shoulders will carry a burden that would make the arms ache. Besides, says Farm Journal, the arms can help the shoulders in this case.

The Handy Basket Support.

BORERS AND SUN SCALD.

Suggestions for the Setting Out of Shade Trees.

In my experience the borers and sun scald are the greatest obstacles to the growing of shade trees. I have found it to be a good plan to coat the trees with some kind of paint soon after planting the trees. In planting it is well to remove quite a large portion of the top part, to enable the tree to withstand the loss of a part of its roots when it is taken out of the ground. In digging up trees a very large portion of the ends of the roots is left in the ground. The roots so left contain rootlets and feeding hairs in large numbers. As the root takes its food through these root hairs, it is evident that when the tree is placed in new ground it is very deficient in ability to take in food and moisture enough to supply a large top. In setting out trees, do not put them close together. If they are on lawns, I think that 60 or 80 feet is close enough, and for the street 40 or 50 feet. Trimming is necessary to get a more dense shade and better shape.

RIPENING PEACH WOOD.

Much can be done to make trees endure more cold and to ripen wood and fruit buds before cold weather. Cultivate early in the season to make best growth possible, then stop culture in early August. Last of August cut about one-third of this year's growth off to cause the ripening of wood and fruit buds. All tall limbs should be cut off, leaving trees six to nine feet high. I use long handled fruit shears and can trim from 50 to 150 trees a day.

I have no experience in irrigating fruit trees or fruit plantations. With reasonable cultivation I think that fruit trees do not need irrigation in this part of the state except in extremely dry weather. When a drouth comes the tree is the last thing to be affected, especially on this level land. I think that too much moisture prevents the formation of fruit buds except on hilly land.—J. W. Honey, Jasper County, Ill.

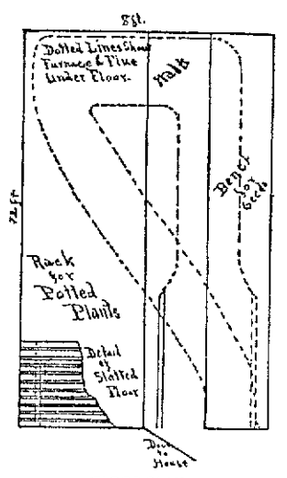

For a winter application, kerosene is not much used now, crude oil having superseded it in general practice. An ideal case for undiluted kerosene is when in mid-September the San Jose scale swarms on infested trees. It will then kill not only the larvae, but recent sets and many breeding females.

Keep your eye on the Ark apple orchards. There are over 3,000,000 trees growing and they will soon be producing big crops for they bear young and abundantly in that favored section

A MODEL GREENHOUSE.

Cheap, Convenient of Access and a Good Thing for Winter Months.

Recently, says Farmers' Voice, we published a valuable article from our New York correspondent, Mr. L. E. Keyser, on the "Farmer's Greenhouse." In a general way there is little doubt that a greenhouse may be made a profitable feature of the farm for the forcing of winter vegetables and flowers either for home or market, for the testing of seeds and for starting plants for early transportation in the spring. It must be remembered, however, that as it does not pay to market with one egg, so the greenhouse should be given thorough attention.

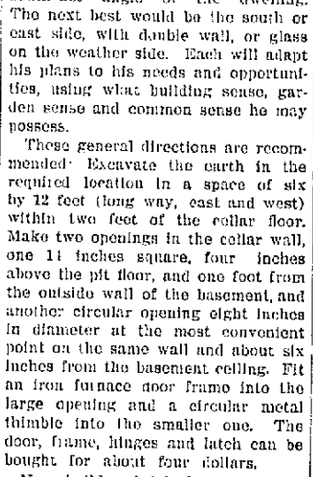

The ideal location for such a hothouse as is here suggested and which has been found successful, is the southeast angle of the dwelling. The next best would be the south or east side, with double wall, or glass on the weather side. Each will adapt his plans to his needs and opportunities, using what building sense, garden sense and common sense he may possess.

These general directions are recommended: Excavate the earth in the required location in a space of six by 12 feet (long way, east and west) within two feet of the cellar floor. Make two openings in the cellar wall, one 14 inches square, four inches above the pit floor, and one foot from the outside wall of the basement, and another circular opening eight inches in diameter at the most convenient point on the same wall and about six inches from the basement ceiling. Fit an iron furnace door frame into the large opening and a circular metal thimble into the smaller one. The door, frame, hinges and latch can be bought for about four dollars.

Now build a brick furnace in the pit (with walls four inches thick) three feet long, 16 inches wide and 16 inches high, inside measure, one end fitted to the door frame opening. From the opposite end extend nearly to the farther end of the pit, gradually reducing the size to eight inches square inside measure; carry on a curve partly across the end of the pit and back to the circular opening in the wall to which an eight-inch stove pipe is to make connection with a convenient chimney in the basement.

Build a wall on the exposed sides from the bottom of the pit, the top of the wall to be seven feet above

the basement floor. This may be of stone, brick, or wood. If of wood, it should be double and packed with dry sawdust and banked up with earth on the outside. The pit should then be filled with sand covering the furnace about six inches. About a foot above the sand build a floor, made of strong slats set on edge with inch spaces. The end walls may be of glass or solid, and if made double will save fuel. The south side should be of glass resting on the foundation wall which comes up to about the top of the seed bench. The roof can be made of ordinary hot bed sash procured from any mill. The cost of heating this house will be less than half that of an exposed or detached house and take less than one-fourth the time to look after. A door should open into the passageway from the dwelling.

A bench waist high on the south side holding earth can be used for starting seeds; on the north side tiers of shelves are arranged to support potted plants or boxes. A passage way is between. Pans containing water are placed below the floor and the sand also kept wet. When a fire is made in the furnace the room is filled with moist air, kept at the proper temperature, and thus an ideal climate for the rapid growing of plants is afforded.

The great advantage of the greenhouse is not so much the high temperature as a steady temperature with much moisture. No plants thrive well if set back by cool spells, and some, like egg-plants, peppers, etc., must be kept growing constantly without any check in order to make profitable growth.

The hothouse on the lines suggested costs little to build, and almost nothing to operate, and will furnish much pleasure and may be made to yield much profit if intelligently conducted at a time of year when outdoor work is impossible.

A scale insect known as the cottony maple scale has been doing a good deal of damage in some parts of the United States, especially in fine sugar maples grown for shade. This scale is much larger than the San Jose—larger even than the oyster shell bark louse. It has been found that the insect could be controlled by a winter treatment of kerosene emulsion, which should be made up rather strong.

The average man can't refrain from chuckling when his best friend makes a fool of himself.

JAPAN LAND OF JUGGLERS.

Old Wizard Amuses Dinner Guests by Fooling Foreign Skeptic.

Japan is the land of jugglers and fashionable Japanese always have them at any large entertainment they give. One very clever old man goes around in a single cotton gown with two baskets full of "properties" over his shoulders, and, putting them down anywhere, performs his tricks, with the expectant audience encircling him. A hatful of coppers rewards him sufficiently and he goes on to eat fire, disgorge eggs, needles, lanterns and smoking pipes at the next place. At a recent Japanese dinner a foreign guest determined to have no optical illusions about what the jugglers did. He never allowed his glances to be distracted and was not once off his guard. Noticing this, the old juggler played to him entirely. An immense porcelain vase was brought in and set in the middle of the room and the juggler, crawling in, let himself down into it slowly. The skeptic sat for half an hour without taking his eye from the vase, which, he was convinced, was sound and firm and stood on no trap door. After this prolonged watch the rest of the company assailed him with laughter and jeers, and pointed to his side, where the old juggler was seated fanning himself and had been seated for some minutes.

HAD TO USE A CANE.

Weakened Kidneys Made an Elwood, Ind., Man's Back Give Out.

R. A. Pugh, transfer business, 2020 North B street, Elwood, Ind., says: "Kidney trouble kept me laid up for a long time, and when I was able to be up I had to use a cane. I had terrible backaches and pain in the shoulders. The kidney secretions were dark colored. After doctoring in vain, I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. Three boxes cured me entirely, and I am glad to recommend them."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

SAVED THE CUSTOMER TROUBLE

Neat Way Waiter Secured Tip from "Close" Man.

There is a waiter in a Washington cafe, who is the acme of polite attention, endeavoring in every way to save his customers trouble. The other day a man came in who was sized up by John as probably a "little close," but the service was fully up to the standard. The bill came to 80 cents, and the man handed over a dollar bill.

John then proceeded to help the man into his coat.

"Where's my change?" the customer asked.

"Change, sah? Dar ain't none—dat was mah tip, tank yo', sah!" John said with a bow.

"But I hadn't given it to you," the man protested.

"Oh course not, sah. Ah wouldn't 'low yo' ter go ter all dat trouble, sah!" John said, with another bow, and the man went out, looking a trifle dazed.

SAVED BABY LYON'S LIFE.

Awful Sight from That Dreadful Complaint, Infantile Eczema—Mother Praises Cuticura Remedies.

"Our baby had that dreadful complaint, infantile Eczema, which afflicted him for several months, commencing at the top of his head, and at last covering his whole body. His sufferings were untold and constant misery, in fact, there was nothing we would not have done to have given him relief. We finally procured a full set of the Cuticura Remedies, and in about three or four days he began to show a brighter spirit and really laughed, for the first time in a year. In about ninety days he was fully recovered. Praise for the Cuticura Remedies has always been our greatest pleasure, and there is nothing too good that we could say in their favor, for they certainly saved our baby's life, for he was the most awful sight that I ever beheld, prior to the treatment of the Cuticura Remedies. Mrs. Maebelle Lyon, 1826 Appleton Ave., Parsons, Kan., July 18, 1905."

Artificial Silk the Latest.

In Gothenburg, Sweden, or at some place in its neighborhood, will soon be built a large factory for the manufacture of artificial silk for export. A company has recently been organized there with a capital not to be less than $160,800 and not to exceed $482,400, with the purpose of building a factory and exploiting an invention made by Engineer R. W. Strohlenert, of Djursholm, Sweden, for the manufacture of vegetable silk. Excluding experiments, this industry is new in Sweden, and it is claimed that the silk manufactured from nitro-cellulose by Mr. Strohlenert's method has just as fine an appearance and is just as strong or durable as natural silk, or even stronger. It is further stated that the silk has been tested or tried in Swedish or German cloth factories and that very favorable reports have been received about it.—Consular Reports.

Baby Clothes in Mexico.

The babies of Mexico—bless their dimples! They are no more like our babies than their grandfathers are like our grandfathers. The long skirts are made to hang open in the back from the yoke down to the bottom, and it is a dainty exhibit of hand-made lace and linen, drawn to the fineness of a spider's web, that spreads its expanse over the nurse's arm. The top of the garment is fashioned from the most elaborately beflowered and gorgeously hued material conceivable, and if the infant be a girl her splendor is not unfrequently enhanced by a set of coral—necklace, bracelets, pin and earrings. The colorless baby dress is reserved for the unfortunate whose grandmother or great uncle has died since its birth. The white dress in this case is used as a background for a sash of wide black ribbon, tied in a manner that nearly obliterates the front of the waist, while the long ends hang on the child like the badge on the doorbell of a house of mourning.—Lieuella Tisdale, in Sunset Magazine for October.

Will Hold Cremation Congress.

In order to combat the prejudice against cremation in Belgium, it has been decided to hold a cremation congress at Charleroi, under the direction of the Rationalist Federation.

If you wait for others to do things for you they are apt to do you while you wait.

Double Tracking the Santa Fe.

The work of double tracking the Santa Fe main line through Kansas is progressing as rapidly as the supply of steel will permit. Up to the first of September one hundred and eighty-six miles of double track had been completed, reaching from Kansas City to Newton. This is all laid with the standard eighty-five pound rail, and ballasted with crushed rock. Between Chicago and Kansas City the double track practically extends from Chicago to Coal City, Illinois, with isolated sections the rest of the way at convenient intervals where traffic is liable to be congested. The main line, as indeed are most of the branches, is practically ballasted from end to end, or where not ballasted, as in California and Arizona and in southern Texas, it is sprinkled with oil, which answers the same purpose. Grades have been greatly reduced, as on the new Dolen cut-off, which has taken 1,116 feet off the height of the continental divide. New steel bridges, with solid masonry piers, have been built, and care has been taken to make the construction of the roadway first-class in every particular.

Artistic Marriage Certificates.

The smart wedding invitation or announcement is engraved as simply as possible nowadays, but if the bride wants elaborate treatment of her marriage certificate she can have it. These may be done by hand and beautifully illuminated on parchment or Japanese vellum, and some brides are having theirs framed and hung in the boudoir.

A Good Record.

Out of all the external remedies on the market we doubt if there is one that has the record of that world-renowned porous plaster—Allcock's. It has now been in use for sixty years, and still continues to be as popular as ever in doing its great work of relieving our pains and aches. It is the remedy we all need when suffering from any ache or pain resulting from taking cold or overstrain.

Allcock's Plasters are sold by Druggists all over the world.

Infant Trained to Steal.

A woman has been arrested in Paris carrying in her arms a four-year-old child which has been trained to snatch watches and scarfpins as its mother carried it through the streets. The infant was seen to grab two watches and seven pins in less than half an hour.

Superb Service, Splendid Scenery

en route to Niagara Falls, Muskoka and Kawartha Lakes, Georgian Bay and Temagami Region, St. Lawrence River and Rapids, Thousand Islands, Algonquin National Park, White Mountains and Atlantic Sea Coast resorts, via Grand Trunk Railway System. Double track Chicago to Montreal and Niagara Falls, N. Y.

For copies of tourist publications and descriptive pamphlets apply to Geo. W. Vaux, A. G. P. & T. A., 135 Adams St., Chicago.

It is easier to look over another's faults than it is to overlook them.

You always get full value in Lewis' Single Binder straight 5c cigar. Your dealer or Lewis' Factory, Peoria, Ill.

The acts of this life are the destiny of the next.—Eastern Proverb.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Many a man's popularity is due to his lack of self-respect.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES cost but 10 cents per package and color more goods faster and brighter colors.

Life is half spent before one knows what life is.—From the French

Lewis' Single Binder straight 5c cigar. Made of extra quality tobacco. Your dealer or Lewis' Factory, Peoria, Ill.

Written by Woman-Hater.

Women may be outspoken, but they are never out-talked.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by his firm.

WALDING, KINNAN & MARVIN,
Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Queen Encourages Subjects.

The queen of Portugal, besides encouraging her people to improve their dairies, has for several years been studying the soils in her kingdom with a view to grape culture.

Don't Suffer
all night long from toothache neuralgia or rheumatism
Sloan's Liniment
kills the pain — quiets the nerves and induces sleep
At all dealers. Price 25c 50c & $1.00
Dr. Earl S. Sloan, Boston, Mass. U.S.A.

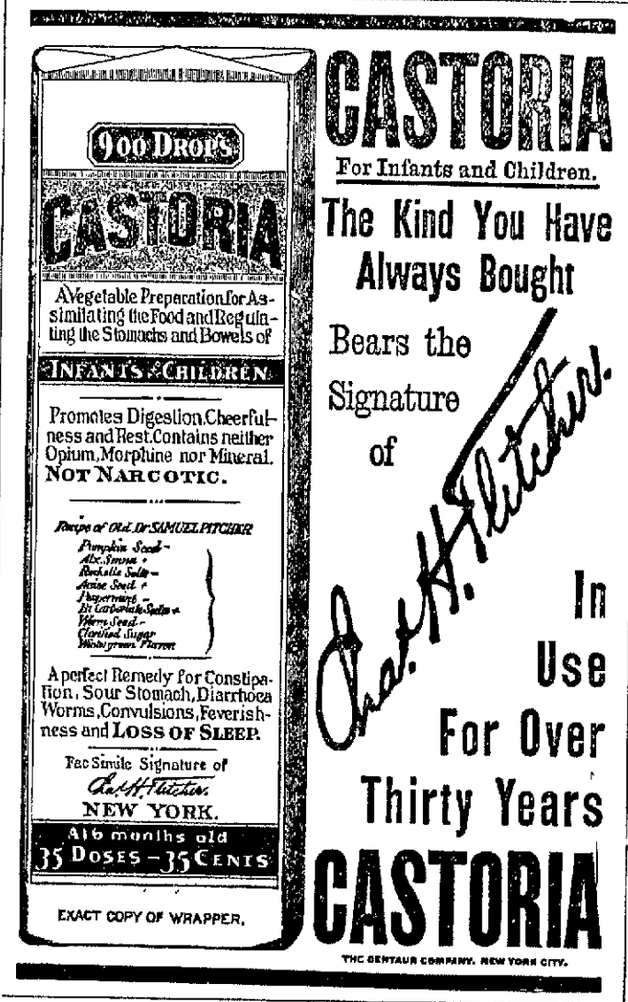

WHAT JOY THEY BRING TO EVERY HOME

as with joyous hearts and smiling faces they romp and play—when in health—and how conducive to health the games in which they indulge, the outdoor life they enjoy, the cleanly, regular habits they should be taught to form and the wholesome diet of which they should partake. How tenderly their health should be preserved, not by constant medication, but by careful avoidance of every medicine of an injurious or objectionable nature, and if at any time a remedial agent is required, to assist nature, only those of known excellence should be used; remedies which are pure and wholesome and truly beneficial in effect, like the pleasant laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. Syrup of Figs has come into general favor in many millions of well informed families, whose estimate of its quality and excellence is based upon personal knowledge and use.

Syrup of Figs has also met with the approval of physicians generally, because they know it is wholesome, simple and gentle in its action. We inform all reputable physicians as to the medicinal principles of Syrup of Figs, obtained, by an original method, from certain plants known to them to act most beneficially and presented in an agreeable syrup in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to promote the pleasant taste; therefore it is not a secret remedy and hence we are free to refer to all well informed physicians, who do not approve of patent medicines and never favor indiscriminate self-medication.

Please to remember and teach your children also that the genuine Syrup of Figs always has the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package and that it is for sale in bottles of one size only. If any dealer offers any other than the regular Fifty cent size, or having printed thereon the name of any other company, do not accept it. If you fail to get the genuine you will not get its beneficial effects. Every family should always have a bottle on hand, as it is equally beneficial for the parents and the children, whenever a laxative remedy is required.

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

SICK HEADACHE

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Positively cured by these Little Pills.

They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Nausea, Drowsiness, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, Pain in the Side, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely Vegetable.

SMALL PILL. SMALL DOSE. SMALL PRICE.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

Genuine Must Bear Fac-Simile Signature
Brent Good

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

A Positive CURE
Ely's Cream Balm
is quickly absorbed.
Gives Relief at Once.

It cleanses, soothes heals and protects the diseased membrane. It cures Catarrh and drives away a Cold in the Head quickly. Restores the Senses of Taste and Smell. Full size 50 cts., at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size 10 cts. by mail. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren Street, New York.

CATARRH

HAY FEVER

BIG MONEY FOR YOU!

Now and then a snap-opportunity comes along to make a clean, safe and exceedingly profitable investment. Here is one of them. Our need is your opportunity. Write for full particulars, say where you saw this advertisement, and you will receive prompt personal attention.

W. C. ABBOTT, Pres.
Ravenswood Station, Chicago.

20% YEARLY GUARANTEED ON YOUR INVESTMENT

Safe, sure and valuable. Send your name on postal and let us tell you about it. Address
AMERICAN MINES INVESTMENT COMPANY,
CANON CITY, COLORADO.

READERS of this paper desiring to buy anything advertised in its columns should insist upon having what they ask for, refusing all substitutes or imitations.

FOR SALE We are offering some splendid farm lands in South Carolina, the garden spot of the earth. Write for prices and descriptions. WALKER, EVANSEL & Co., Dept. C, Columbia, S. C.

THERE IS
MONEY IN RAILROAD STOCKS

IT IS A MATTER OF COMMON KNOWLEDGE THAT MANY OF

THE GREAT FORTUNES OF TO-DAY

Had Their Origin in Railroad Stocks, Purchased When the Price Was Low and Sold Later On When the Price Went Up. That is Why the Man To-Day Who Has Money to Spare Will Be More Than Interested in the Present Stock Offer of the

Chicago-New York Electric Air Line Railroad

Never Before Was There So Favorable an Opportunity for Laying the Foundation of a Future Fortune as There is Right at This Time.

THE FACTS ARE THESE:

The Chicago-New York Electric Air Line Railroad is now building a line between the two great cities of Chicago and New York, which when completed will be 230 miles shorter than the Lake Shore and New York Central roads and 160 miles shorter than the Pennsylvania system.

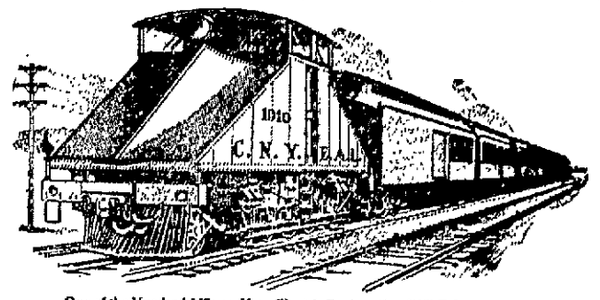

It will be a road without grade crossings, material curves or excessive grades and will be operated by electricity, covering the distance between these two great centers of commercial activity in 10 hours, compared with the present schedule of 18 to 24 hours.

By reason of these advantages the revenue of the road will be greater than existing steam roads, its operating expenses materially less and its dividend earning capacity correspondingly great. The entire capital stock of the road is common stock. There will be no preferred stock and no bonds, thus placing every shareholder on the same footing and giving all an opportunity to share alike in the profits according to their holdings. It is indeed an unusual opportunity for investment and is being rapidly availed of by those who are familiar with the favorable terms of our offer.

The present price of the stock is $27 per share of the par value of $100, full paid and non-assessable, and if desired, it may be purchased on very easy terms, namely $2.70 per share with your order and $2.70 per share on the 15th day of each month thereafter until paid for, or if paid in full at time of purchase, a discount of two per cent will be allowed.

What we invite you to do is to digest the few facts we have here given you and ask for more information if you are interested. Let us tell you how you can become a part owner in this great work of providing rapid and cheap transportation. Let us tell you how you can invest a dollar today and get three and four dollars and perhaps more for it in the near future. These are the things you may learn by writing your name on the attached coupon and mailing it to us.

And right now, too, is the time to do it. To postpone it might mean to forget it and to forget it would cause you to miss an opportunity that may not come to you again. DO IT NOW that you may fully profit by the more than ordinarily favorable conditions that are available to you right at this time. All information furnished FREE.

One of the Hundred-Mile-an-Hour Electric Engines that Will Take a Train to New York in 10 Hours.

Information Coupon

FREDERICK H. WOOD, Sales Agent,
Chicago-New York Electric Air Line R. R. Stock, 544-545-546 Monadnock Block, Chicago.

Please send me further particulars of the Chicago-New York Electric Air Line R. R.

Name .....

Address .....

K. L. 11-8

Canadian Government

Free Farms

Over 200,000 American farmers who have settled in Canada during the past few years testify to the fact that Canada is, beyond question, the greatest farming land in the world.

OVER NINETY MILLION BUSHELS

of wheat from the harvest of 1906 means good money to the farmers of Western Canada when the world has to be fed. Cattle Raising, Dairying and Mixed Farming are also profitable callings. Coal, wood and water in abundance; churches and schools convenient; markets easy of access. Taxes low.

For advice and information address the Superintendent of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or any authorized Canadian Government Agent. C. J. BROUGHTON, Room 430 Quincy Bldg., Chicago, Ill.; W. H. ROGERS, third floor, Traction Terminal Bldg., Indianapolis, Ind.; or T. O. CURRIE, Room 12 B, Callahan Block, Milwaukee, Wis.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

STOVE POLISH
ALWAYS READY TO USE. NO DIRT, DUST, SMOKE OR SMELL.
NO MORE STOVE POLISH TROUBLES

SALESMEN WANTED.

We want a live, active and thoroughly experienced salesman in this locality with sufficient money to buy outright the first month's supply of our absolutely Low Pressure Mellow Wire Gauze Mine Lights. A quality needed in every store and home, and fully complying with insurance rules. To such a man we will give exclusive sales right and guarantee to refund money if goods not sold in 30 days. Further particulars on request. The Standard Wilson Light Co., 2250 N. Halsted St., Chicago, Ill.

NEWSPAPER ARCHIVE®

Grand Rapids Tribune

BY DRUMB & SUTOR.

Grand Rapids, Wis., Nov 7, 1906

Entered at the Post Office at Grand Rapids, Wis., as second-class mail matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

One Year..... .....$1.50
Six Months..... 75

Advertising Rates.—For display matter a flat rate of 10 cents an inch is charged. The columns in The Tribune are 24 inches long, making a one column advertisement cost $2.40 for one insertion. All local notices, cards of thanks, resolutions of respect, and all notices of entertainments where an admission fee is charged will be published at 5 cents per line.

To Correspondents.

Correspondents will please sign their real names to communications as well as their nom de plumes. No attention whatever given to anonymous communications.

Use a pen, if possible, and write proper names plainly. This may save the printer from making egregious blunders in the spelling of names that he is unfamiliar with.

Do not indulge in mean personalities. Private quarrels should not be dragged into public print. Be so kind as to make a note of this and bear it in mind.

Endeavor to write facts. Sift a matter of importance to the bottom, before you reduce it to writing, and do not depend altogether on rumor, for rumor is generally fickle and unreliable

Contributions are always welcome when the above points are observed.

Magazine for the Blind.

A monthly magazine for the blind, the first periodical of its kind, is about to be published, financed by Mrs. William Ziegler, widow of the man who backed the Arctic expedition. It will be printed in raised type and characters, which the blind readers will be able to read by touch, and will be distributed throughout the United States without cost to all the sightless ones, whose addresses are known.

The determination to publish such a magazine was the result of an interview between Mrs. Ziegler and Walter C. Holmes, who has long been interested in work for the blind, and has long cherished the idea of printing literature for the benefit of the blind, who after being taught to read at the expense of the State are turned out upon the world. Most of them are too poor to buy the few books that are printed in raised type.

This magazine will contain up-to-date stories and other interesting matter, a correspondence department, and an industrial department, which will tell the blind of work in which they can engage. The periodical will be called the "Ziegler Magazine for the Blind."

Mr. Holmes is anxious that all blind persons hear of this magazine, and has asked that they send their names and addresses to him at his office at 1931 Broadway, Manhattan. He is also desirous that they state what type they read, "New York point" or "Braille."

Develop Fine Seed Corn.

A variety of corn that yields from 75 to 100 bushels of shelled corn per acre has been developed at the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture experiment farm by Agronomist Ransom A. Moore. This corn, which is known as "Wisconsin No. 7," or "Silver King," is the triumph of four years' experimentation by Professor Moore, and shows the possibility of producing phenomenal results by careful methods of selection. Twenty-two acres of this corn have just been harvested on the university farm, producing 75 bushels, shelled per acre. The importance of this variety is evident when this yield is compared with the average yield of the United States, which is only 25 bushels, or the average of the state of Wisconsin, which is but 33 bushels. Members of the Wisconsin Agricultural Experiment association, who are graduates of the short course in agriculture, have been growing this corn under the direction of Professor Moore on their farms, and have obtained from 80 to 100 bushels per acre. Last year 275 graduates of the short course in 71 counties of the state tried Silver King corn, and reported an average yield of 59.2 bushels, shelled, per acre, against an average yield of 39.2 bushels for the best of all other varieties.

Venison Came High.

William Krohn of the town of Hewitt was arrested Tuesday by Deputy Sherriff Fred Damon Jr. on the charge of unlawful possession of venison. The complaint was made by John Foster, the recently appointed deputy game warden. He found evidence that led him to believe Krohn had venison on his premises. A search warrant was given Deputy Sheriff Damon and he searched Krohn's premises and found in a barn 35 pounds of what is claimed to be venison. He seized the meat and arrested Krohn.

Krohn was arraigned in Municipal court next morning. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25 and costs. In telling the story of how he came into possession of the venison he said that he was hunting. Not being able to produce a hunting license, the judge fined him $50 and costs for hunting without a license. This fine, with the one for having venison out of season, cost Krohn $86.86 for his little hunting expedition. The 25 pounds of venison, therefore, cost him $3.37 per pound.—Wausau Herald.

FARM FOR SALE
at a bargain

Good 40-acre farm in the town of Sigel, located near creamery and known as the old Peterson place; 30 acres under cultivation, small frame house and log barn on place, also 2 good wells. For price and particulars call or address, MIKE JACKON, Sigel, Wis.

OUR COUNTRY CORRESPONDENTS

MEEHAN.

Miss Agnes Munger, who has been visiting relatives at Plainfield, returned home Saturday accompanied by her niece, Miss Sadie Wood of Medford, who was also visiting at Plainfield.

M. H. Munger, who has been visiting relatives at Amherst and Sheridan, returned home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Howard of Buena Vista were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Munger Sunday

Matt Hemmis butchered two fine hogs Saturday.

The farmers are rushing in their potatoes at 22c per bushel.

A Smart and M. H. Munger made a business trip to Stevens Point one day last week.

Edward Clussman took a load of buckwheat to the mill Saturday.

Clark Smith of Armenia is visiting friends and relatives at this place at the present time.

Orin Claudenning is building a chimney up through the store and hall.

The party for Rev. Miller last Friday night was well attended.

Mrs. Benoni Talyor of Armenia was the guest of A. E. Pike and family Friday and Saturday returning home Sunday.

Mrs. Mattie Smith of Port Edwards visited relatives here the latter part of last week.

John Wolosick and son Felix were Stevens Point visitors Thursday.

Our school commenced Monday with Miss Bowersok as teacher again.

VANDRIESSEN.

John Davidson and wife are the proud parents of a baby girl born Tuesday last.

Miss Upton left for her home in Stevens Point Saturday.

Israel Joro is having his house plastered and a chimney built. Walter Wood is doing the work.

Mrs. Ed Barker visited at Bethel several days last week.

Mr. Howitt drove to Stevens Point Saturday after his wife, who has been visiting her parents there.

W. J. Smith and Ira L. Loose of Plainfield were Sunday callers at Ed Barker's.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Boggs of Big Flats visited at Ed. Barker's last Saturday.

Mrs. Isiah Mulkins is helping care for that big girl at John Davidson's since Tuesday.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Mr. Robert O. Burke, Elmora, N. Y., writes:

"Before I started to use Foley's Kidney Cure I had to get up from twelve to twenty times a night, and my eyesight was so impaired I could scarcely see one of my family across the room. I had given up hope of living, when a friend recommended Foley's Kidney Cure. One 50 cent bottle worked wonders and before I had taken the third bottle the dropsy had gone, as well as all other symptoms of Bright's disease." Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

SHERRY.

A harvest home festival was given recently by the faculty of the Collegiate institute in the reception room in the girl's dormitory. The reception room and dining hall were appropriately decorated with samples of the golden harvest. About 100 guests partook of a royal banquet, after which a splendid program was rendered, consisting of brief addresses, recitations and music by faculty and students. In giving our community such a warm welcome into its social life, the managers of the institute have won, if possible, a warmer place in the affections of our citizens.

Frank Parks recently had a bone fractured in one of his hands, which has caused him much pain, but has not prevented his rising each morning at 4 a. m. and driving two miles in order to superintend his creamery. Mr. Parks has a splendid assistant in Mr. Lusk.

C. E. Anderton and family returned to Milwaukee last Saturday, after spending several weeks in their beautiful summer home here. They will be missed by their many friends. Mr. Anderton has placed his splendid 500 acre farm at the disposal of the managers of the Collegiate institute.

Mr. Wells, principal of the school at Junction city, attended the banquet here Friday night.

John Lounsbury is erecting a barn on his farm half a mile west of the village.

We have secured the agency for Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup, the new laxative that makes the liver lively, purifies the breath, cures headache and regulates the digestive organs. Cures chronic constipation. Ask us about it. Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

President Smith preached at Stratford last Sunday morning and evening.

Miss Hattie Whitney is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Christianson of Spencer.

Arthur Putney has been on the sick list but is much improved.

G. H. Humphrey has his new house about ready to occupy.

R. O. Evans received a carload of feed this week.

Richard Evans returned to his duties at the Case Works, Racine, after spending a few weeks in our midst.

One of the Rudolph young boys who is employed here had to go home Saturday, can you guess the reason?

Mrs. Chas. Somers accompanied by her son Walter spent Wednesday at Grand Rapids.

Robert Duthie has disposed of the Brookside Creamery here to John Bever who will take possession this week.

Will Shidell and family will depart for Milwaukee this week where they will take up their residence for an indefinite time, Mr. Shidell having rented his farm here.

CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH
PENNYROYAL PILLS
THE DIAMOND BRAND.
Ladies! Ask your Druggist for Chi-ches-ter's Pills in Red and Gold metallic boxes, sealed with Blue Ribbon. Take no other. Buy of your Druggist and ask for CHI-CHES-TER'S ENGLISH, the DIAMOND BRAND PILLS, for 25 years regarded as Best, Safest, Always Reliable. Sold by Druggists everywhere.
Chichester Chemical Co. Philadelphia, Pa.

RUDOLPH.

Albert Podolsky, a husband of Katie Podolsky, a well known man of the town of Rudolph and your city left me the 18th of April and hasn't returned yet he had left his wife and three children. He was 32 years old and weighed about 140 lbs. and has sunfreckles all over his face and has brown whiskers. Who would know of him please call on Mrs. Katie Podolsky or her father, Mr. Adam Mours, Grand Rapids, Wis

Nicholas Marceau met with a painful accident that will lay him up for sometime.

The many friends of J. E. Duncan are pleased to see him around again after his recent illness.

The chicken chowder at Jos. Provost's was well attended and all went home well pleased.

T. Brostowitz will hold an auction sale Nov. 11, on his farm in the town of Sigel.

Uncle Dan Rezin is on the sick list.

From the many calls Barney St Denis receives now days to auctioneer property we infer he gives general satisfaction Barney is a hustler.

Peter Mitchell is making extensive improvements on his farm lately purchased.

Carl Omlutt was down from the woods last Saturday. His father returned with him. John says he will bring back a deer.

Mrs. Jos. Sharkey visited relatives at Mosinee last week.

The farmers of this community were surprised last Saturday morning to find the state inspector at the creamery. Although he did not find things as bad in Rudolph as the inspectors found them in Chicago Packing houses, some of us felt like a 30 cent piece, and we would appreciate it very much if he would but change his tactics, and notify us a day or two ahead as to the date of his coming so we could prepare a reception in his honor.

Your stomach churns and digests the food you eat and if foul, or torpid, or out of order, your whole system suffers from blood poison. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea keeps you well. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Johnson Hill & Co.

Fred Bossert of your city was here Sunday trying to buy a work horse.

Miss Elsie Olney and Louise Sharkey Sundayed under the parental roof.

Rolly Baughman is making improvements on his house.

Tom Porter's folks of Linwood Sundayed with Andrew Sinner.

Ms. J. H. Snider is in Grand Rapids this week.

NEKOOSA.

(From the Times.)

Percy Griffith and Miss Valevia Gash, of Port Edwards, were married by Rev. Father Feldman at the parsonage in this city yesterday morning. Mr. Jake Harder being best man and Miss Edith Gash bridesmaid. Following the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents at Port Edwards, where the wedding reception occurred.

Sophie Krupka of Milladore, has accepted a position at the Grand View hotel. Miss Marie Liephardt of Junction City is cooking at the hotel in place of Miss Bertha Witchman.

John Potaska has sold his house and five acres of land in Wood addition to Thos. Lewis and the latter sold his house and 15-acre tract of land to John Wellner.

Frank Zeller of Junction City, was a Nekoosa visitor on Saturday. He came to work in the place of Barney Zoller in the paper mill, the latter having gone home for a visit.

Mike Jackan, of Sigel, is visiting at the homes of his son, John Jackan, and daughters, Mrs. Steve Morosky and Mrs. John Smolarek.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ostruski rejoice over the arrival of a fine baby boy at their home last Saturday morning.

The shocking news was received here yesterday that Wallace Strong was drowned while at work on the new dam being constructed at Grand Father Falls in the Wisconsin river near Tomahawk. Clephus Marceux, who is in town on a visit, received the message stating that the accident had happened Tuesday afternoon at about four o'clock and Mr. Marceux says that his informant stated that Mr. Strong had fallen into the breakwater from the bridge on which cars are run carrying cement and rock to the masons working on the dam. This bridge is about thirty feet above the dam and extends clear across the river. The cars are pushed across the breakwater on this bridge, two men being on each car. Mr Strong was employed in this capacity and it is probable that his car jumped the track and that in this way he was thrown into the raging falls below. The remains have not yet been recovered and whether or not they will be is doubtful, owing to the swift water and the numerous eddies along the river for several miles below. Deceased leaves a widow and an adopted baby daughter who reside in Nekoosa, where Mr. Strong was employed by the Nekoosa Paper Co. as pipe fitter for several years.

Stevens Point Gazette—Allen Koss, son of August Koss and wife of Nekoosa, passed away at 3 o'clock Sunday morning at the home of his uncle Anton Klicynski, 243 North Street, after suffering about fifteen hours with uremia. The boy was first taken sick at noon on Saturday and declined very rapidly. During the latter part of the day and night, he suffered frightful torments. The boy was the oldest of a family of five boys, the surviving brothers being Edward, Frank, Nicholas and Louis, the youngest a child of 3 years. Allen had spent the past three weeks here as the guest of relatives. The funeral was held at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning from St. Peter's church, Rev. L. Stefaniak officiating.

Chapped Hands.

Wash your hands with warm water, dry with a towel and apply Chamberlain's Salve just before going to bed, and a speedy cure is certain. This salve is also invaluable for sore nipples, itching piles and skin diseases. For sale by Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

In Time of Peace.

In the first months of the Russia-Japan war we had a striking example of the necessity for preparation and the early advantage of those who, so to speak, "have shingled their roofs in dry weather." The virtue of preparation has made history and given to us our great men. The individual as well as the nation should be prepared for any emergency. Are you prepared to successfully combat the first cold you take? A cold can be cured much more quickly when treated as soon as it has been contracted and before it has become settled in the system. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds and it should be kept at hand ready for instant use. For sale by Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

—Try a dish of real Mexican Chile at Gatt's. You'll like it.

Basswood and Pine Bolts Wanted.

Write us what you have, and we will quote prices on cars at your station. We buy all kinds of logs.

Two Rivers Woodenware Co.,
Two Rivers, Wis.

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?

IF YOUR JOB DOES NOT PAY
$20 PER WEEK
IT IS NO GOOD

We will give you a better one and furnish you the "Know How" to make it good. Send for our GUIDE TO SUCCESSFUL SALESMANSHIP. It is FREE and the Job goes with it.

CHASE BROTHERS COMPANY
New England Nurseries, Rochester, N.Y.

YESPER.

Trentel Bros. are building an addition to their wagon shop.

D. McVicar is building a large lumber ware house to store his lumber in.

Dr. Pomainville made a professional call to Vesper Sunday. He has a large practice in this vicinity.

Mr. Deitz has moved back to Hansen; says Wood county is good enough for anyone.

Mr. Frost, who purchased the John Katz farm, has just finished husking a fine crop of corn. He has sent to the southern part of the state for some blooded hogs.

Mr. Turner, who purchased the J. Jung farm, is tearing down the old shingle camp building and building an addition to his barn.

Jacob Klesingers' sons have secured work at Tomahawk and have gone to that place.

Dancing Proves Fatal.

Many men and women catch colds at dances which terminate in pneumonia and consumption. After exposure, if Foley's Honey and Tar is taken it will break up a cold and no serious results need be feared. Refuse anything but the genuine in a yellow package.

STRONGS PRAIRIE.

Mr. and Mrs. John Preston, who have been spending a year in Oregon, have returned home. They were much pleased with the country and climate there.

We are all sorry to lose Fred Kent our post master.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Preston of Nebraska are visiting at the home his brothers, Will and John of this place and Alonzo of Necedah.

ARPIN.

A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. M. Marty last Tuesday.

Misses Amelia Schrodel and Emma Johnson were at Grand Rapids Saturday.

M. M. Lockner has gone to Milwaukee on business.

Martin Pfyl was on the sick list last week.

Mrs. Robert Robinson was a Grand Rapids visitor last Tuesday.

Herman Arpin of Grand Rapids was here on business Saturday.

Taken as directed, it becomes the greatest curative agent for the relief of suffering humanity ever devised. Such is Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. 35 cents, Tea or Tablets. Johnson Hill & Co.

SIGEL

There will be a big auction sale at Frank Brostowitz's farm on Nov. 14. Mr. Brostowitz intends to soon move to Hartford. Barney St. Denis of Rudolph will conduct the auction.

It is rumored that one of our popular young men is to be married in a few weeks.

REMINGTON.

Mrs. Hass and son Rudolph visited at Nekoosa Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Rodie of Nekoosa visited at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. Hass last Wednesday.

Mrs. Zeboba had an auction sale last Saturday in which she disposed of all her stock and all farming implements.

Miss Lena Seebrough, who has been working at Grammoor for several months, returned home last Saturday.

Mrs. Hinshaw arrived here from Hudson, Ill., and is a guest at the home of her son.

In every clime its colors are unfurled
Its fame has spread from sea to sea;
Be not surprised if in the other world,
You hear of Rocky Mountain Tea.
Johnson Hill & Co.

15th Anniversary

November, 1, 1891. November 1, 1906.

OF

Wood Co. National Bank

GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN.

We invite your attention to the following comparative statement of our deposits for each five year period since the organization of this bank, November 1st, 1891. It is a statement we are proud of and fully demonstrates the confidence placed in this institute by the people of this vicinity.

November 1, 1891	$9,952.58
November 1, 1896	$121,280.12
November 1, 1901	$389,122.77
November 1, 1906	$738,267.66

We solict and welcome small accounts as well as large, as it is the aggregate of our small interest bearing savings accounts that have helped in a large measure to make the above figures.

Wood County National Bank.

WHY DON'T YOU TRY

To keep down the expense of fuel by using

STORM WINDOWS AND STORM DOORS.

They represent comfort and economy.

We carry a full line.

Kellogg Bros. Lumber Co.

E. Grand Rapids. 'Phone 357. W. Grand Rapids. 'Phone 356. Nekoosa. 'Phone 20.

The Beer that is Best

GRAND RAPIDS BEER

TRY IT AND BE CONVINCED.

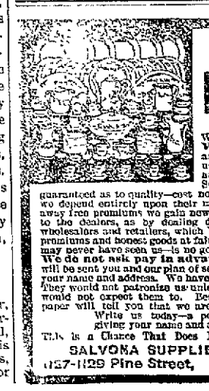

T. A. TAYLOR. WM. SCOTT.

TAYLOR & SCOTT

Abstracts, Loans, INSUPANCE and Real Estate.

Telephone No. 364.

GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN.

This Will Interest

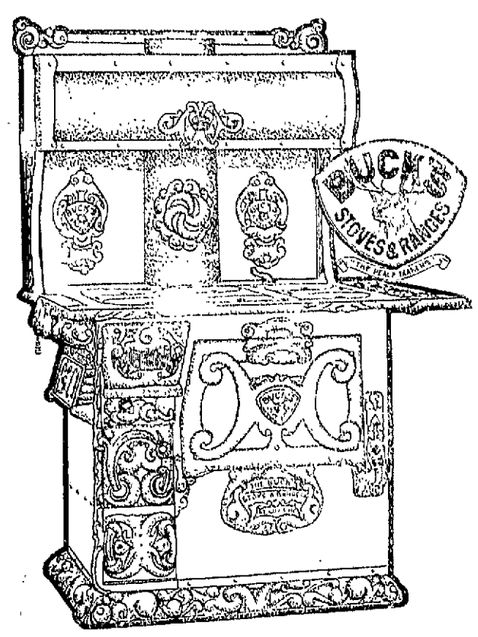

Ladies Only

We are giving away DINNER SETS, GRANITE-WARE SETS, COUCHES, SEWING MACHINES and hundreds of other articles, all full size for family use, to enable us to introduce our Swan Baking Powder and Salvona Brands of Teas, Coffees and other Household Supplies. These are all high-grade goods—absolutely guaranteed as to quality—cost no more than you are now paying for the same goods and we depend entirely upon their merit to secure your future orders. Consequently by giving away iron premiums we gain new customers and you save the profits which formerly went to the dealers, as by dealing directly with our customers we save the profit of the wholesalers and retailers, which WE HAND OVER TO YOU in the shape of useful premiums and honest goods at fair prices. Because you live miles away from us—because you may never have seen us—is no good reason for not giving us a trial. You risk nothing. We do not ask pay in advance. We pay the freight. Our catalogue of premiums will be sent you and our plan of selling goods will be fully explained if you will only send us your name and address. We have hundreds of patrons whose custom we secured by this plan; they would not patronize us unless we gave them full value and fair treatment. We would not expect them to. Besides, the editor of this paper will tell you that we are thoroughly responsible.

Write us today—a postal-card just giving your name and address will do.

This is a Chance That Does Not Happen Every Day.

SALVONA SUPPLIES COMPANY,
957-1029 Pine Street, St. Louis, Mo.

SOME REASONS.

There are forty-seven reasons why this BUCK'S steel range is the best on earth. Three of them are:

It has a white enamel sanitary oven which is always sweeet and clean.

It is so constructed as to combine beauty with quick heating, fuel-saving qualities.

It has all the advantages and improvements found in other ranges—and then some.

Wouldn't you like to own such a range—the best on earth? We can can sell you one to fit your needs and your pocket-book. The prices are reasonable.

JOHNSON & HILL CO.

Highest Step in the Ladder of Quality has at last been taken

By Doe Wah Jack.

See What He found,

The ROUND OAK.

Let us show you why he was compelled to climb so high before reaching his reward.

See What He Found,

The ROUND OAK.

Let us show you why he was compelled to climb so high beore reaching his reward.

Why not be guided by those who know. Burn either Coal or Wood with no change

IS HEADQUARTERS ARE AT,

Centralia Hardware Co

ORSON P. COCHRAN.
Piano Tuner.
Best of work and perfect [illegible] or at the house of [illegible]

Office Phone 74
W. MELVIN RUCKLE, M. D.
Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.
Glasses fitted correctly. [illegible] to Riverview hospital. Office in [illegible] bank building

J. J. JEFFREY,
Lawyer.
Loans and Collections. Commercial [illegible] Office over Grand Rapids National Bank

DR. D. A. TELFER,
Dentist.
Office over Wood County National Bank, West Side, Grand Rapids, Wis

DR. A. L. RIDGMAN,
Physician and Surgeon.
Telephone No. [illegible] Residence phone No. [illegible] Office over Church's Drug Store on West Side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

DR. W. D. HARVIE,
Physician and Surgeon.
Specialty of eye, ear, nose and throat. Glasses accurately fitted. Office over D. Church's store, West Side, Grand Rapids, Wis

J. R. RAGAN,
Licensed Undertaker and Embalmer.
Successor to H. W. Baker. Office phone 67. Night Phone 67. Third Ward, Grand Rapids, Wis

JOHN A. GAYNOR,
Attorney at Law
Office over the Postoffice on the [illegible] Will practice in all courts

WIPPERMAN & HAMBRECHT
Attorneys at Law.
Office on east side, over Wood County National Bank, Grand Rapids, Wis

W. J. CONWAY,
Attorney at Law.
Money loaned. Real estate bought and sold. Office on Grand Street, 3rd floor, east of Kinnon Block, West Side, Grand Rapids, Wis

GOGGINS & BRAZEAU,
Attorneys at Law.
Office in the Mackinnon Block on the West side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

B. M. VAUGHAN,
Attorney at Law.
Money loaned. Real estate bought and sold. Gardner Block, Port Side, Grand Rapids, Wis

D. D. CONWAY,
Attorney at Law.
Laws, Loans and Collections. We have [illegible] which will be found at a low rate on [illegible] Office over First National Bank, East Side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

F. G. GILKEY AGENCY,
Fire Insurance,
Life and Accident.
Office in the Wood Block on [illegible]

W. E. WHEELAN,
Attorney at Law.
Office in the Daly Block on the East side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

D. W. HITCHCOCK,
Attorney at law.
MacKinnon Block, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

NATWICK & CARHART
Licensed
Embalmers & Funeral directors
Telephones
Natwick 215 Office 54 Carhart 118

HARRIET WILLIAMS
Teacher of Piano
Telephone 203 Studio Oak St

CHAS. E. BRIERE,
Attorney at Law.
Office over Bank of Grand Rapids, West Side, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Wood County National Bank

Capital, - $50,000
Surplus, - $35,000

Savings Bank Department.
Safety Deposit Boxes for Rent.
Interest Paid on Time Deposits.

F. J. WOOD, President,
L. M. ALEXANDER, Vice-Pres.
GUY O. BABCOCK, Cashier,
D. B. PHILLEO, Asst. Cas.

DIRECTORS: G. F. Steele, L. M. Alexander, Thos. E. Nash, E. Roenius, F. J. Wood.

T. B. SCOTT
FREE LIBRARY.
HOURS
From 2:30 to 6 p. m. & 7 to 8:30 p. m.
Every Day Except Sunday.
From 9 to 12:00 Saturday morning.
Children's Room Closed After 6 O'clock

Dairy and Food Commission's Report.

The Minnesota Dairy and Food Commission's analysis shows that Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar and Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar contained opiates and croton oil. Opiates are poisons and croton oil is a violent poisonous purgative. Refuse to accept any but Foley's Honey and Tar in a yellow package. Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates or dangerous drugs and is the best cough and cold cure. Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

Get the ha[illegible]
Chile at Gatt's

Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] sold quiet Sunday [illegible]
Charles Nor[illegible] friends in the [illegible]

Miss Myrtle [illegible] position as cash[illegible]

Warren Fiel[illegible] Tuesday with [illegible]
W. B. Chand[illegible] was a business [illegible] day

Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] boy were pleased on Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] moved into their [illegible] Block on the West

Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Nekoosa street [illegible] Kling home on [illegible]

Sam Gutman [illegible] as Electric and [illegible]

Herman Cra[illegible] stepping down [illegible] of his trunk [illegible]

Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Pittsville have [illegible] visiting on [illegible]

Howard Fran[illegible] clerk in the [illegible] the J. T. Schm[illegible]

Miss Jennie [illegible] of Mrs. Ralph [illegible] waukee during [illegible]

Russel Dyer[illegible] turday from an [illegible] relatives at He[illegible]

Mrs. Carl Ol[illegible] few days visiting in Green Bay

Mrs. W. H. [illegible] was a guest of D. Walter over [illegible]

Dance Under Grand Father [illegible] on Wednesday

Miss Lena [illegible] urday for Stev[illegible] teacher school dis[illegible]

Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] to Port Edward[illegible] where Mr. Mull[illegible] Rob Nash for [illegible] day with Owen M. Nash's sho[illegible] City

Miss John G[illegible] urday from a [illegible] daughter, Mrs. [illegible] ville

Mrs. Kate [illegible] for Wittenb[illegible] spend the winter [illegible] Nellie

Mrs. Walter [illegible] Compton, of [illegible] aunt Mrs. Kate [illegible] past week

Miss Maurin[illegible] the home of [illegible] Strauss at Mo[illegible] past week

Mrs. Carl [illegible] left today for [illegible] after spending [illegible] Kuntz home

Mrs. T. A. [illegible] Friday from [illegible] had been visi[illegible] several days

Paul Jensen [illegible] dents of the [illegible] pleasant calle[illegible] on Saturday

Mrs. Geo. [illegible] fortune to fall [illegible] last Wednesday [illegible] shoulder blade

Mrs. Lina K[illegible] of Vesper were [illegible] on Monday. [illegible] a pleasant call

Chas. Knuti[illegible] farmers of the [illegible] favored this [illegible] call on Saturday

A. J. Kujawa[illegible] to F. M. Logan[illegible] Wednesday and [illegible] office with a c[illegible]

Richard Wil[illegible] in Chicago [illegible] turned to the [illegible] remain indefin[illegible]

Thos. Hender[illegible] Rudolph visiti[illegible] home. He re[illegible] quite ill with [illegible]

Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] son Frank w[illegible] days with the [illegible] wedding of a [illegible]

Mrs. W. F. [illegible] spent Saturday [illegible] with her daug[illegible] and Miss Grace

A. H. Starr [illegible] the city several [illegible] week, being a[illegible] Mr. and Mrs. [illegible]

Rev. and Mrs. [illegible] ed on Monday [illegible] where they [illegible] weeks visiting

Mrs. Louis [illegible] for Menomine[illegible] to also visit [illegible] Sturgeon Bay

Miss Lillie [illegible] few of her girl [illegible] Eighth Ave N[illegible] ning in honor

If you want [illegible] make it for you

Look Into T[illegible]

The question [illegible] investigation. [illegible] line enables us [illegible] best at the ver[illegible] you ever tried [illegible] know, the bri[illegible] we have it. W[illegible] the Sunday Cr[illegible] are headquarte[illegible] kinds of wood. [illegible] Prompt deliver[illegible]

BOSS[illegible]
'Ph[illegible]

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®
NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

IRIE.

reston, who er in Oregon,
They were country and

Fred Kent

ston of Nene home his of this place to Mr and day.

and Emma ends Satur gone to Mil-

sick last was a friend

Inv
Grand Rapids
urday

ns comes the of the relief
ve devised.
ly Mountain Tablets.

SIGEL

There will be a big auction sale at Frank Brostowitz's farm on Nov. 14 Mr. Brostowitz intends to soon move to Hartford. Barney St. Dennis of Rudolph will conduct the auction.

It is rumored that one of our popular young men is to be married in a few weeks.

REMINGTON.

Mrs Hass and son Rudolph visited at Nekoosa Friday and Saturday.

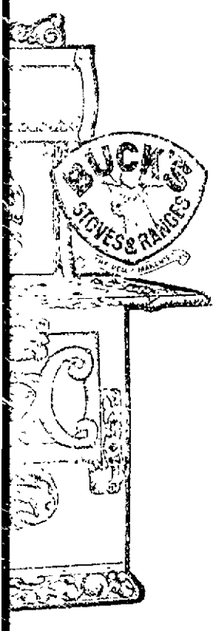

Mrs. Rodis of Nekoosa visited at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. Hass last Wednesday.

Mrs. Zebuba had an auction sale last Saturday in which she disposed of all her stock and all farming implements.

Miss Lena Seebrough, who has been working at Cranmoor for several months, returned home last Saturday.

Mrs. Hinshaw arrived here from Hudson, Ill., and is a guest at the home of her son.

In every clime its colors are unfurled
Its fame has spread from sea to sea;
Be not surprised if in the other world,
You hear of Rocky Mountain Tea.
Johnson Hill & Co.

ASONS.

way the BUCK'S steel range
ove.
oven which is always sweet

ne beauty with quick heating, improvements found in other a range - the best on earth?

your needs and your pocket-

HILL CO.

der of Quality has at taken

ah Jack.

See What He Found,

The ROUND OAK.

Let us show you why he was compelled to climb so high before reaching his reward.

know. Burn either Coal or Wood

TERS ARE AT,

ardware Co

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

ORSON P. COCHRAN.

Piano Tuner.

Best of work guaranteed. Call Telephone 255 or at the house 417 Third Ave. S.

Office Phone 55

W. MELVIN RUCKLE, M. D.

Practice limited to Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.

Glasses fitted correctly. Eye and Ear Surgeon to Riverview hospital. Office in Wood County bank building.

J. J. JEFFREY,

Lawyer.

Loans and Collections, Commercial and Probate Law. Office over Gross & Lyons.

DR. D. A. TELFER,

Dentist.

Office over Wood County National Bank on the East Side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

DR. A. L. RIDGMAN,

Physician and Surgeon.

Telephone No. 92. Residence Telephone No. 5. Office over Church's Drug Store on West Side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

DR. W. D. HARVIE,

Physician and Surgeon.

Specialty of eye, ear, nose and throat. Glasses accurately fitted. Office over Otto's drug store west Side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

J. R. RAGAN,

Licensed Undertaker and Embalmer.

Successor to G. W. Baker. Store phone 241 Night Phone 62. East Grand Rapids, Wis

JOHN A. GAYNOR,

Attorney at Law.

Office over the Postoffice on the East Side. Will practice in all courts.

WIPPERMAN & HAMBRECHT

Attorneys at Law,

Office on East side, over Wood County National Bank, Grand Rapids, Wis

W. J. CONWAY,

Attorney at Law.

Money loaned. Real estate bought and sold. Offices in Court House, 1st E Side, and McKinnon Block, West Side, Grand Rapids, Wis

GOGGINS & BRAZEAU,

Attorneys at Law.

Office in the MacKinnon Block on the West side, Grand Rapids, Wis

B. M. VAUGHAN,

Attorney at Law.

Money loaned. Real est te bought and sold Gardner Block, East Side, Grand Rapids, Wis

D. D. CONWAY,

Attorney at Law.

Law, Loans and Collections. We have $70,000 which will be loaned at a low rate of interest. Office over First National Bank, East Side Grand Rapids, Wis.

F. G. GILKEY AGENCY.

Fire Insurance, Life and Accident.

Office in the Wood Block over post office

W. E. WHEELAN,

Attorney at Law.

Office in the Daly Block on the East side, Grand Rapids, Wis.

D. W. HITCHCOCK,

Attorney at law.

MacKinnon Block, Grand Rapids, Wisconsin

NATWICK & CARHART

Licensed Embalmers & Funeral directors

— Telephones —

Natwick	Office	Carhart
215	351	118

HARRIET WILLIAMS

Teacher of Piano

Telephone 293 Studio - Oak St.

CHAS. E. BRIERE,

Attorney at Law.

Office over Bank of Grand Rapids, West Side Grand Rapids, Wisconsin.

Wood County National Bank

Capital, - $50,000
Surplus, - $35,000

Savings Bank Department.
Safety Deposit Boxes for Rent.
Interest Paid on Time Deposits.

F. J. WOOD, President,
L. M. ALEXANDER, Vice-Pres,
GUY O. BABCOCK, Cashier,
D. B. PHILLEO, Asst. Cas.

DIRECTORS: G. F. Steele, L. M. Alexander, Thos. E Nash, E. Rocnius, F. J. Wood.

T. B. SCOTT

FREE LIBRARY.

HOURS

From 2:30 to 6 p. m. & 7 to 8:30 p. m.

Every Day Except Sunday.

From 9 to 12:00 Saturday morning.

Children's Room Closed After 6 O'clock

Dairy and Food Commission's Report.

The Minnesota Dairy and Food Commission's analysis shows that Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar and Bee's Laxative Honey and Tar contained opiates and croton oil. Opiates are poisons and croton oil is a violent poisonous purgative. Refuse to accept any but Foley's Honey and Tar in a yellow package. Foley's Honey and Tar contains no opiates or dangerous drugs and is the best cough and cold cure. Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

—Get the habit and eat Mexican Chile at Gett's restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs Pat Lyons of Marshfield spent Sunday in the city.

Charles Norton of Almond visited friends in the city over Sunday.

Miss Myrtle Bossert has accepted a position as saleslady in Levins store.

Warren Fisher spent Monday and Tuesday with friends at Madison.

W. R. Chambers of Junction City was a business visitor here on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Meyer of Kellner were pleasant callers at this office on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Otto have moved into rooms in the Pomainville block on the west side.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Matthews of Nekoosa spent Sunday at the C. A. Klug home in this city.

Sam Gorman has accepted a position as electrical engineer with the Electric and Water Co.

Herman Crose, who has been trapping down river, secured a couple of nice mink last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kimister of Pittsville have moved to this city and are living on the west side.

Howard Favell is now employed as clerk in the grocery department of the J. T. Schumacher store.

Mrs. Jennie Taylor was the guest of Mrs Ralph N. Pitcher of Milwaukee during the past week.

Rusel Doesburg returned on Saturday from an extended visit with relatives at Holland, Michigan.

Mrs. Carl Olson of Arcadia spent a few days visiting relatives and friends in Green Bay and New London.

Mrs. W. D. Connor of Marshfield was a guest at the home of Mrs. J. D. Witter several days last week.

James Lucier, who is employed at Grand Father Falls, was in the city on Wednesday greeting his friends.

Miss Lizzie McCarthy left on Saturday for Sawville, where she will teach school during the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E Mullen drove to Port Edwards on Monday morning where Mr. Mullen transacted business

Rob Nash left for Chicago on Monday with two cars of stock from L. M Nash's stock farm near Junction City.

Mrs John Granger returned on Saturday from a short visit with her daughter, Mrs. A. Rozelle at Dexterville.

Mrs. Kate Ward left on Monday for Wittenberg where she will spend the winter with her daughter Nellie.

Mrs. Walter Penney, nee Flora Compton, of Plainfield visited her aunt Mrs. Kate Townsend during the past week.

Miss Maurine Johnson visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Strauss at Marshfield several days last week.

Mrs. Carl Olson and son Russel left today for their home in Arcadia after spending a couple weeks at the Kuntz home.

Mrs. T. A. Taylor returned on Friday from Milwaukee where she had been visiting with friends for several days.

Paul Juneau, one of the old residents of the town of Rudolph, was a pleasant caller at the Tribune office on Saturday.

Mrs. Geo Minnehan had the misfortune to fall on a slippery door-step last Wednesday and fractured her shoulder blade.

Mrs. Lina Krause and two children of Vesper were in the city shopping on Monday. This office acknowledges a pleasant call.

Chas Knuth, one of the solid farmers of the town of Grand Rapids, favored this office with a pleasant call on Saturday.

A. J. Kujawa of Rudolph, successor to F. M. Logan, was in the city last Wednesday and favored the Tribune office with a call.

Richard Wipperman, who has been in Chicago for some time past, returned to the city on Thursday to remain indefinitely.

Thos. Henderson spent Sunday in Rudolph visiting at the Dan Rozin home. He reports Mr. Rozin being quite ill with a cold.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Boyanowski and son Frank were in Stockton a few days where they attended the wedding of a relative.

Mrs. W. F. Parker of Stevens Point spent Saturday and Sunday in the city with her daughters, Mrs. L. Andrews and Miss Grace Parker.

A. H. Stange of Merrill was in the city several days during the past week, being a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Ellis.

Rev. and Mrs. Geo. Gibson returned on Monday from Minneapolis where they had been for several weeks visiting with relatives.

Mrs. Louis Reichel left on Friday for Menominee, Michigan, expecting to also visit at her old home at Sturgeon Bay before her return.

Miss Lillie Oberbeck entertained a few of her girl friends at her home on Eighth Ave North, last Friday evening in honor of her birthday.

If you want an Abstract of Title, Boles will make it for you

Look Into This

The question of fuel will bear deep investigation. Our experience in this line enables us to give you the very best at the very lowest figures. Have you ever tried Schuylskill Coal? You know, the bright shiny kind. Well, we have it. You surely have heard of the Sunday Creek Hocking Coal. We are headquarters for this coal and all kinds of wood, and our prices are right. Prompt delivery. Try us and see

BOSSERT BROS
'Phone No.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Doesburg, who formerly lived in one of the Boucher houses, have moved into rooms in the Pomainville building on Grand Ave.

Mrs. Steve Slattery, who recently moved to Sturgeon Bay, arrived in the city last Friday and will visit with relatives and friends for a few days..

Atty. E. R. Goggins and mother Mrs. Hugh Goggins were in Green Bay last Friday where they attended the funeral of the late Wm. B. Minahan.

Frank Springer and family left on Monday for Almond where they will spend the winter with Mrs. Springer's parents. It is Mr. Springer's intention to move out west in the spring

Miss Celia McCarthy resigned her positon as stenographer for the John Arpin Lbr. Co. last week and Michael Dwyer of Neillsville has taken her place.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bodmer, who have formerly been residents of this city, left on Monday for City Point where they will make their home in the future.

About 20 young people gathered at the home of Howard Favelt on Eighth street Friday evening and gave him a pleasant surprise. A good time was had by all present.

Almond Press: —Mrs. Jos. Waters went to Grand Rapids Monday to attend the silver wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin O. Potter. She is a sister to Mrs Potter.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Love of Seattle, Wash., arrived in the city on Saturday and will spend a week at the home of Mr. Love's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Love.

Conductor Comstock is again on the run between this city and Nekoosa after an absence of a year or more. He expects to remove his family to this city and make his home here.

Roy Kammerer, who has been employed in the Jeffrey Automobile factory at Kenosha, resigned his position at that place and returned to his home in this city on Saturday.

Among the visitors in the city on Monday was M. O. Potter of Cranmoor. Mr. Potter is still carrying his arm in a sling but otherwise he looks none the worse for his recent accident.

Supt. James France of the south side mill and son John returned last week from Norwich, Canada, their former home where they spent several weeks visiting relatives and friends. They report a pleasant time.

About 20 couples gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boethke on the west side Saturday evening to help Mrs. Boethke celebrate her 29th birthday. Games were played and a good time reported by those present.

—Don't wait until the last moment if you want a nice suit of clothes made for evening wear this winter. Call at the Grand Rapids Tailoring Co. and select what you want now.

Will Nash, who has been buying pulp wood for the Northern Paper Company in northern Minnesota during the past few weeks, spent a few days in this city during the week visiting with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Beulah Biron entertained a number of lady friends at her High street home on Thursday afternoon in honor of her guest, Mrs. Wm. Scott, of Port Arthur. The afternoon was spent very pleasantly by those in attendance.

About twenty-five of Miss Elsie Baruch's friends surprised her at her home on Washington street last Wednesday evening. The evening was spent in playing games, after which light refreshments were served. All present report a very good time.

Dr. and Mrs. M. Mellin and Mrs. J. L. Harvey left last week for Portland, Oregon, where they will be guests at the Richard Harvey home for about two months. Mrs. Harvey expects to spend the winter at that place.

W. E. Little, Jesse Hopgood, John Henry, George Anderson, Louis Schall and Henry Wakely leave today for Harshaw where they will spend a week or more engaged in deer hunting. They go up a few days before the season opens in order to get the camp in readiness for the busy season.

—Do not miss the special sale on street and dress hats at Miss Reed's west side millinery parlors. It occurs on Friday and Saturday of this week.

The Grand Rapids band went to Necedah on Monday afternoon to play for a republican rally that was to be held at that place, at which Congressman Babcock was to speak. It is reported that Necedah residents were not falling over themselves to get in to hear the great man explain his position.

Anna Held, the actress, reports the loss of her satchel containing $297,000 worth of diamonds We notice by the Stevens Point Journal that a satchel was picked up alongside the railroad track near Stevens Point and would suggest that the authorities of Portage county communicate with Anna at once.

Last Wednesday evening the Flinch club met at the home of Mrs. W. M. Martin and gave that lady a farewell party. The evening was spent in playing flinch after which refreshments were served. Mrs. Martin and family left yesterday for Panama where they will join Mr. Martin, who is employed by the government at that place.

The Rev. Irl Hicks, the world renowned long distance weather prevaricator made a very poor guess on the weather for October, and November started in direct opposition to his prognostications for that month. If he keeps on predicting cold and stormy weather it is probable that he will strike it before the winter is over, however, and he need not be discouraged. He has been off the trolley the greater part of the time during the past summer and one would think that he would lose faith in himself after a time.

Alex Nelson of Stevens Point was in the city between trains on Monday en route for Sioux Falls, N. D., where he has accepted a position as billing clerk in the U. S. Express office.

—Hats, special sale, at Miss Reed's on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 9 and 10. Many handsome designs in street and dress hats.

The Neves Club, consisting of Misses Edna Muir, Kate Kellogg, Blanche Cleveland, Mae Ouhill, Gertrude Mason, Edna Ridgman and Lenore and Loretta McCarthy, met at the home of Miss Edna Ridgman last Wednesday evening and enjoyed a very pleasant evening. The evening was spent in playing games after which refreshments were served and the young people departed for their homes.

Another Sign of a Hard Winter

That the coming winter is going to be the hardest one for the last twenty years there is an abundance of signs to show, and among them it may be mentioned that:

The corn husks are a foot and a half thick, and all the stalks lean to the west.

The geese, ducks and chickens are growing a coat of fur under their feathers, and are rubbing borax on their feet to harden them up.

All the one eyed owls are leaving the country a month earlier than usual, and the bobtailed squirrels are laying in sweet potatoes, as well as nuts, for winter provisions.

The farmer who has taken the trouble to investigate has found that all the toadstools on the old logs have wrinkles in them. The last time that this happened we had winter weather that froze the handles of plows.

Rabbits are sitting around with a humped up look to them, and field mice have a wrinkle in their tails.

If this means anything it means 20 degrees below zero from November through to May.—Tyrone Herald.

Sells More of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than of All Others Put Together.

Mr. Thos. George, a merchant at Mt. Elgin, Ontario, says: "I have the local agency for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy ever since it was introduced into Canada, and I sell as much of it as I do of all other lines I have on my shelves put together. Of the many dozens sold under guarantee, I have not had one bottle returned. I can personally recommend this medicine as I have used it myself and given it to my children and always with the best results." For sale by Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

Maud Muller Again.

Maud Muller on a summer day with her fellow ran away, in a benzine touring car scooting to a preacher far. Maud's father saw the fleeting pair—smelled the benzine scented air; caught a mule whose name was Jane, and galloped down the dusty lane; the mobile very swiftly ran but burned the oil all out the can. The motor stopped upon the hill, but Jane ran on just fit to kill. Alas for maid, alas for man, alas for empty benzine can Maud's daddy on the old gray mule came and took her off to school. The mule nigh wrecked the benzine cart; the fellow died of broken heart. The moral of this tale so sad: Don't steal the girl, go ask her dad.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

Ladies. Fisher, Mrs. Minnie.

Gentlemen. Blackhawk, John; Dvidson, Chas.; Kristofsky, August; Merbach, Henry (Foreign); Miller, Jas.; Paterick, Geo.; Robinson, R. K.; Tomyeeh, F.

Chamberlain's COLIC, CHOLERA AND Diarrhoea Remedy

Every man of a family should keep this remedy in his home. Buy it now. It may save life.
PRICE, 25c. LARGE SIZE, 50c.

School Board Program.

The program for the school board, convention which is being held in this city to day, is as follows:

10:00 a. m.—Enrollment.

The Financial Side of the Rural School Problem—C. P. Carey, state supt.

The Old School and the New—J. F. Sims, Pres. Stevens Point Normal school.

Teachers—M. H. Jackson,

The School Library—Etta M. Michaels.

The School Board and the Teacher—C. P. Carey, State Supt.

A Great Success.

The Illustrated Sunday Magazine, given with every copy of The Milwaukee Sunday Sentinel, has made a decided hit with the people of Wisconsin. The Sunday Sentinel is in great demand, and the circulation has been wonderfully increased by this splendid feature. The magazine will be found to interest people of all classes and ages. If you are not taking The Sentinel and getting this beautiful magazine every Sunday, you are doing yourself an injustice. The Sentinel is sold everywhere. Order now of your newsdealer or newsboy.

Miscellaneous Shower.

On Saturday evening Mrs. Nellie Dixon entertained about twenty young ladies at a miscellaneous shower given for Miss Celia McCarthy. Miss McCarthy was presented with many beautiful and useful presents.

This is Worth Remembering.

As no one is immune, every person should remember that Foley's Kidney Cure will cure any case of kidney or bladder trouble that is not beyond the reach of medicine. Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

REAL ESTATE

BUY LAND

you would invest your money in the safest way possible. We can direct you to many

Valuable Investments

In this section of the county. Whether you are desirous of Renting, Buying, Selling or Mortgaging property we can be of an assistance to you.

Lots in Cloverdale Addition $109
Payable $10 down, $5 each month

Taylor & Scott, Agents

A. N. Palmer
--Dealer in--
BUGGIES and CUTTERS

Agt. for the J. L. Clark Line of buggies and road wagons

Expert horse shoeing and repairing under the management of

Jos. Yeske
1 Ave. South,
The old Preston stand.

We know that Nature is beautiful. Animals are a part of Nature. Animals are beautiful. You can add to your beauty if you wear the beautiful furs of beautiful animals. You know we have the reputation for carrying a splendid line of furs. Among the furs We carry are these:—Isabella fox neck piece, very fine $14, $10, $8.50, $5 and many others. price tells the quality. Fine opposom neck piece from $7.00 to 2.75. Near seal coat, otter collar and cuffs, special $23.50. Astrachan from $52.00 down to 18.50, all lengths to 40 inches.

COME TO SEE OUR FURS WHETHER YOU WISH TO BUY THEM JUST NOW OR NOT. FURS MAKE NICE PRESENTS.

PROFIT SHARING BONDS FREE WITH EVERY PURCHASE.

JOHNSON & HILL COMPANY.

WANT COLUMN.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be published in this column at the rate of 1 cent a word, no ad taken for less than 10 cents. If you want to buy, sell or trade anything, try the want column.

FOR SALE—A team of colts 1 and one half years old, heavy stock, both bay horse colts and look alike. Price $150.
Mrs Dave Taylor. 2t

FOR SALE—Several slightly used stoves as good as new, also new ones, at a bargain Hot blast and others Geo. F. Kriegert

FOR SALE Farm of 160 acres in town of Saratoga, five miles from Grand Rapids. For information apply to John Schultz, R. R. 2, Grand Rapids, Wis

Do you want to sell your farm or your house house and lot? Tell Boles. He will sell it.

ORDER BOOKS—Town and school order books always on hand at the Tribune office. 100 orders bound in books, 50 cents

CLEANING, pressing and repairing by the Grand Rapids Tailoring Co Clothes called for and delivered Phone 205.

FOR SALE A good house and two lots in a good locat on near the factories. This is a bargain at $775.00 as the owner must sell; C. E Boles

WANTED A good strong boy, 18 years of age, to learn the printer's trade. Must have a good schooling, a first class chance to learn a trade Apply Tribune office.

Do you want to buy a farm or a place in the city? Call on Boles

WANTED Wood on subscription at the Tribune office.

WANTED An old couple on farm, woman to keep house, man to do chores. For particulars inquire at this office 5t

WANTED FARMS Want to correspond with parties who would exchange their farms for good Milwaukee property. Money to loan on farms. Hardy & Ryan, Waukesha, Wis.

FOR SALE—Miscellaneous.

FOR SALE Typewriter paper. A large supply always on hand at the Tribune office. Everything from a first class linen down to the cheaper grades The price tells the quality. Also manuscript covers

FOR SALE Horse power saw and jack. Will exchange for young stock. Watson Tilmer, 4t Vesper, Wis

FOR SALE A cranberry cleaning machine made by P. H. Phelps, Berlin, Wis. In good working condition. Address M. H. Walker, Green Bay, Wis.

FOR SALE House and two lots on Grant St for $800. This is a good bargain for a laboring man as the place is near mills. Inquire at this office.

FOR RENT Heated office, rooms in the Pomainville block on the West Side Inquire Dr. Chas. Pomainville.

How to Save FUEL

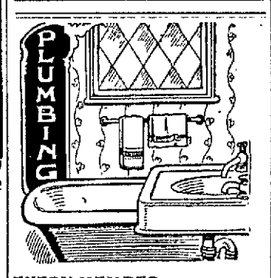

Briefly--Buy a Cole's Hot Blast Coal Stove

It cuts the fuel bill in two because it burns the gas arising from burning coal. Gas goes via the chimney in other stoves. Cole's Hot Blast really makes $8.00 soft coal work like $9.00 hard coal. Come in and see that smokeless feed door. Does away with dust, dirt and smoke IN THE HOUSE.

Our cutlery has a great reputation in this neighborhood because while our prices are cheap the goods are not.

D. M. HUNTINGTON,
Sole Agent,
East Side, near City Hall.

EVERY MEMBER OF THE FAMILY

will appreciate the comfort of a fine modern Bath Room. If you are thinking of remodelling your house or of building a new one, don't fail to give your most serious attention to the important item of PLUMBING. If you give us the contract you will get the very best Workmanship, the finest materials and lowest possible price

J. E. FARLEY

COAL AND... Wood

See F. E. Kellner for the Best

TELEPHONE 305.

The Spinx

of Egypt has been pretty close-mouthed as to the formation of the pyramids, but at last the

Secret is out.

Recent investigation has proven conclusively that they were built of

Wet process concrete

It is only recently that the process has been re-discovered and successfully applied to general building requirements. We use the WET PROCESS EXCLUSIVELY in our building blocks. They are suited to all kinds of buildings and the price is very modest.

Grand Rapids Hollow Concrete Wall Company

PAY DAY

at the factories means "pay day" for the man that gets the check.

Why not bring or send your check to the old First National Bank and then pay your little store bills with checks the way the factory pays you?

Such a business way of handling your small accounts would soon make it possible for you to save up a nice bank account. We furnish the checks free and fully explain everything.

We want your business no matter how small, and we will help you make it grow. Call and talk with us about it.

First National Bank
Grand Rapids, Wis.
WE SELL FOREIGN MONEY ORDERS.

VICTORIA, DEWEY, SUNBEAM

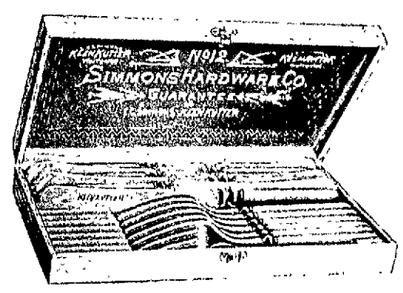

A WISE WOMAN

Knows that one of the first requisites in making good bread is to have first-class flour, and she will generally have it if it is obtainable.

A WISE MAN

Will always see to it that his wife has good flour and to make sure of the matter he will order VICTORIA, DEWEY or SUNBEAM.

GRAND RAPIDS MILLING CO.

YOU are personally invited to call and inspect our stock of coal and wood, heaters, cooks and ranges, we are sure we can interest you, and furnish you the best stove that the market affords at the most reasonable price.

We are also head quarters for the Keen Kutter pocket knives, razors, shears and plated knives and forks, etc.

No factory gives you such a liberal guarantee as does the Simmons Hardware Co. Call and see the fine line we offer. Respectfully,

Geo. W. Purnell

Did it ever Strike You

that there is a difference in Lumber? When you buy Lumber you must depend upon the honesty of the dealer, if you are not a judge. Will you Trust Us with your next order? we are confident that we can hold your trade if we can serve you once.

Shingles at the Right Prices.

WEST SIDE LUMBER CO.

M. G. GORDON, Mgr. Phone, 169

Brighten Up

"Brighten Up" time is here—the time to clean up about the house, renovate, and make the old things look neat and clean again. We can help you in the work with our line of SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PAINTS AND VARNISHES.

It is really surprising what a little paint or varnish will do toward brightening up dingy surroundings. Take The S-W. Family Paint, for instance. This is a linseed oil paint specially prepared for home decorating and painting. With it any one can renew the appearance of a hundred little things that now look worn and old. It dries with a good gloss and will stand scrubbing with soap and water. Comes in 26 attractive shades.

The S-W. Floorlac is another splendid household brightener. It is a stain and varnish combined and can be used on old or new woods equally well. Imitates the natural woods and gives a most pleasing effect.

These offer a few hints for you. Come in and have a "Brighten Up" talk with us and learn more about how we can help you in your Fall cleaning. Our line has a paint or varnish for every purpose.

Remember, we sell

THE SHERWIN-WILLIAMS PRODUCTS

OTTO'S PHARMACY
The Rexall Store.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

GRAND RAPIDS TRIBUNE

BY DRUMB & SUTOR.

GRAND RAPIDS, - WISCONSIN.

The man who goes in swimming every day all winter is now due.

In addition to the yellow peril and yellow journalism the pure food law now threatens us with yellow sugar.

This is the time of the year when the young man without an overcoat begins to wish he hadn't bought so much ice cream last summer.

Sir Thomas Lipton says he may build another yacht and race for the international cup. The Irish will hate to hear that the Shamrock is going to get the worst of it again.

Seattle, Wash., is to have an exposition. The metropolis of Puget sound cannot afford to let Portland get away with all the honors of the north Pacific coast.

New York now has an apartment house for the exclusive use of families in which there are many children. It ought to be in all fairness to be called The Roosevelt.

"The modern English novel reader insists on hearing about the rich or the great," says the Spectator. But a little raciness among the rich, or a covert and ill-smelling attack on daily habit, religion or food will sell a good many copies.

A man who was given the privilege of conducting his own defense in a Boston court had to pay three separate fines for drunkenness, speeding and failure to take out a license. If he had not rested his case he would probably have been sent up for life.

London's West End tailors say men are going to wear vivid colors this winter, especially greens and chocolates. Shrimp pinks and tomato blends are also in favor, but the modest among males are putting all their color sense into underwear and masking it with the usual pepper-and-salt.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer is not quite sure of it, but is inclined to the belief that the eastern college sophomores who condemned a freshman to a diet of soft soap were more lenient and considerate than the sophs in a western college who threw the freshman down stairs and broke his skull.

Sir Thomas Lipton is thinking of challenging again for the America's cup. Of course our yatchsmen will be put on their mettle and will not give up without a fight to the finish. But there is no one to whom Americans would so cheerfully surrender the cup as the prize of victory as to the gallant Sir Thomas.

New York city's pay roll amounts to $57,068,253.13, paid to 60,918 employes. That is a bigger army than that of the United States, with everybody on it getting far more than the martial servants of Uncle Sam, since there are plenty of places paying from $10,000 to $15,000, or more than the salaries of a major general or lieutenant general.

About the liveliest industry in Russia just now is the trying of revolutionists. The courts in St. Petersburg and elsewhere are running overtime on these cases, and in the capital city alone 400 witnesses are to be examined. With so much time given to disposing of such offenders it is going to be difficult to plan a more liberal form of government.

The latest elixir of life, the vial of endless existence, which the post office department has been examining and has found to contain a little alcohol and oil of peppermint and a great deal of water is at any rate an improvement over old Ponce de Leon's. He put nothing but water in his famous discovery, and he was never found out.

Russia's finances are said to be constantly going into worse condition than they ever have been before. The London Times declares that the gold reserve of Russia is $200,000,000 short, the last loan has been swallowed up and the condition of the treasury is much worse than it was two years ago. Such reports are not calculated to aid in securing much further relief in the way of large loans from European countries or the United States.

Dr. Forbes Winslow, an alienist of London, England, has been quoted as saying that before long there will be more lunatics in the world than sane people. He has been misquoted, of course. What he said was that if insanity continues to increase at the rate shown by statistics the insane will some time outnumber the sane. As a matter of course, if the percentage of the insane goes on increasing it is only a question of time when not only a majority of the people but all of them will become insane. It all depends on the "if." We need not despair.

The English can't be accused of dumping when they can sell us one of the only two copies of the 62-leaved 1,631 edition of "The Passionate Pilgrim" for $10,000. Eighty dollars a page is more than this trifle would probably have brought in a home market.

Ristori is dead at the age of 84. This great actress had the genius to reach the level of the legitimate and the classic. Problem plays were not in her line. "Medea," "Lady Macbeth," and characters of that type were good enough for her.

The earnest young men of the poison squad under the genial auspices of the bureau of chemistry in Washington, who are soon to start in on a diet in which there is a generous admixture of saltpetre, have the best wishes of the country and a reasonable certainty that they are getting a milder dose than football gruel.

To the English critic who says that Henry James "gropes his way through the English language like a blind man tapping with a stick," it is retorted in effect that anyhow Henry is no literary cake walker.

Dr. Forbes Winslow, of London, says that the world is rapidly becoming insane. He deduces this from statistics, not from the wonderful popularity of English comic opera.

"There was plenty of work for a surgeon," says a dispatch, describing the flag rush at the University of Cincinnati. Thus do we educate our youths not to be weaklings.

The Newfoundland man who says he can extract gold from sea water is welcome to all he can get. Nobody will rob him.

SKIRMISH WITH UTES

TROOPERS CAPTURE 50 PONIES FROM RENEGADES.

INDIANS STAMPEDE HERD

Fire Revolvers and Utter War Whoops While Surrounding the Animals, Which Become Unmanageable and Escape.

Sheridan, Wyo.—A skirmish occurred Wednesday between a band of the renegade Ute Indians and a troop of the Tenth cavalry on Bitter creek according to word brought by a special courier. The troops had captured 50 Ute ponies and severely frightened five herders.

As the troopers were driving away the ponies, 100 Utes, fully armed, surrounded the cavalrymen and the ponies, stampeding the ponies with revolver shots and native war whoops. The Indians recovered all their ponies but five were killed by the troops in an effort to stop the stampede.

The Indians did not fire at the soldiers. The soldiers desisted from attacking the Utes as the reds greatly outnumbered the troopers.

Troopers say that, as far as they can ascertain from rumor and observation, the Indians will fight with little provocation.

Another detachment of the Tenth cavalry that left Sheridan Monday night ran across a wandering band of 100 Crow Indians under command of Chief Sweet Mouth. The troopers drove the Crows back to the Crow agency. The Crows said that they were hunting and denied any intention of joining the Utes.

Still another squad of the Tenth cavalry fell in with a band of Cheyenne Indians, who, on representation that they were hunting, were allowed to go in peace.

Settlers charge that Indian guides employed by the federal troops are acting treacherously and leading the troops on false trails to keep the soldiers from overtaking the Utes. These settlers mention among the wily guides Woman's Dress, American Horse and White Cow Bull.

Some troopers of the Tenth cavalry marched all Tuesday night to capture a small band of Utes reported to be encamped on Bitter creek, but found no Indians at the designated place.

Sheridan, Wyo.—A band of 100 Ute Indians, it is reported, Thursday captured a wagon loaded with 3,000 pounds of flour and supplies bound from Arvada to the Tenth and the Sixth cavalry.

The driver was held at rifle point while the redskins sacked the entire load and carried it away, allowing the driver to proceed with the empty wagon.

Troops camped at the mouth of Buffalo creek are on short rations and more food has been ordered from Little Powder river, 30 miles from the troops.

SOONERS ENTITLED TO CLAIMS

No Law to Prevent Settlers to Wait for Signal.

Washington.—Further reports from agents of the interior department who superintended the opening Monday of the Walker Lake Indian reservation in Nevada have convinced Secretary Hitchcock that the infractions of the regulations governing the opening were not serious enough to warrant a recommendation in favor of invalidating it.

Regardless of the action of "sooners" in crossing the line before the signal, the act of congress ordering that the reservation be thrown open to settlement has not been violated. That act did not prescribe that persons should not enter the reservation in advance of the signal, and there is no law under which these persons may be punished.

Filipinos to Have Congress.

Washington.—The president is preparing to redeem his promise made to the Philippine people through Secretary Taft that they shall have a parliament of their own, conditioned upon their good behavior for a term of two years, and it is understood that Secretary Taft himself will proceed to the Philippines next spring to witness the installation of the new form of representative government.

Starts Suit Against Railroads.

Washington.—All railroads operating in Oklahoma have been made defendants in a complaint filed with the interstate commerce commission Thursday by the territory, through its attorney general, W. O. Cromwell, the charge being that extortionate rates are charged on shipments of wheat to Galveston, and that points in Arkansas, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Indian Territory are favored.

President Hunts Turkeys.

Scottsville, Va.—President Roosevelt and Mr. Wilmer went out on a turkey hunt Thursday.

Grief Leads to Suicide.

Toledo, O.—W. H. Fisher, aged 79, for 50 years justice of the peace at Theobold, near here, committed suicide by shooting himself. Grief over the death of his wife is assigned as the cause of the suicide.

Close University of Moscow.

Moscow.—The University of Moscow was closed Wednesday by order of the rector until Nov. 12, in consequence of violations of the rule against open political meetings being held in the university building.

Shonts Sails for Isthmus.

New York.—T. P. Shonts, chairman of the canal commission, sailed for Panama Tuesday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Shonts and their daughter. Secretary Bishop, and the commission's counsel, R. R. Rogers.

Bull Gores Woman to Death.

Port Jarvis, Pa.—Mrs. Magdalena A. Burger, wife of Ova Berger, a farmer residing three miles from here, was gored to death by a bull on her farm. She had gone for wood in a field in which the bull was grazing.

Suspect Fire Hides Murder.

Rapid City, S. D.—A car on the Milwaukee tracks used as a lodging house for laborers burned Sunday night. The bodies of two men were found in the ruins. Evidence of foul play developed at the inquest.

Trains in Collision; Four Dead.

Indianapolis, Ind.—In a head-on collision of two freight trains west of Springfield, O., on the Peoria & Eastern division of the Big Four, four trainmen were killed, while a fifth is not expected to recover.

OIL COMPANY FINED $5,000

JUDGE BANKER FIXES PENALTY FOR STANDARD CONCERN.

Given Limit for Single Violation of Valentine Anti-Trust Law, and Allowed Usual Time for Appeal.

Findlay, O. — In the probate court here Monday, Judge Banker overruled the motion filed by the attorneys of the Standard Oil company for a new trial and imposed a fine of $5,000 and costs of the prosecution in the recent suit against the Standard held here.

On motion of the defense the court ordered that the defendant company be allowed 40 days in which to prepare and file its bill of exceptions in the case. On motion by the Standard attorneys, Joseph O. Troup, of Bowling Green, O., and S. H. Tolles, of Cleveland, the sentence imposed was ordered suspeded for a period of 60 days for the purpose of filing a petition on error in this case. It was also ordered that the criminal informations pending against John D. Rockefeller, the Buckeye Pipe Line company and the Manhattan Oil company be continued until the next term of court.

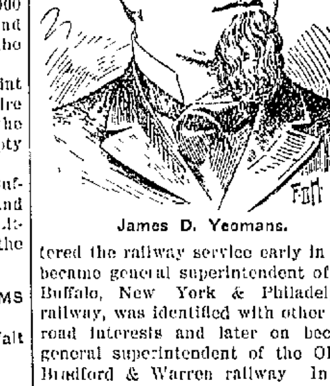

The fine imposed by Judge Banker was the limit for one offense, though the law stipulates that each day that the illegal combination business is carried on constitutes a separate offense. Taking this view of the statutes, it was possible for the court to impose an aggregate of fines amounting to over $6,000,000.

DEATH OF JAMES D. YEOMANS

Former Member of Interstate Board Dead at Washington.

Washington. — James D. Yeomans, formerly a member of the interstate commerce commission, died Wednesday of a complication of diseases. He was 61 years of age.

Mr. Yeomans took part in many of the important cases brought before the interstate commerce commission. He was a native of Wyoming county, New York, and had considerable experience in the railroad world. He entered the railway service early in life, became general superintendent of the Buffalo, New York & Philadelphia railway, was identified with other railroad interests and later on became general superintendent of the Olean, Bradford & Warren railway. In the latter part of his railroad career he was identified with railroad building in New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan. He was succeeded on the interstate commerce commission by former United States Senator Francis M. Cockrell, of Missouri. Mr. Yeomans had private business interests in this city, to which he devoted himself after his retirement from public life.

James D. Yeomans.

Judge Yeomans, as he was familiarly known, had a wide acquaintance with public men and prominent citizens here and was universally esteemed.

PRAIRIE FIRE IS DESTRUCTIVE

Flames Sweep Path Seven Miles Wide in North Dakota.

Dickinson, N. D.—Reports coming in about a prairie fire which swept the country south of here Sunday, show it was the worst fire of the kind in 17 years. The fire started north of Stillwater, and swept southeast, burning a path seven miles wide, going by the way of Harkens' ranch, and thence toward Serin. Among the heaviest losers were the owners of the Galligan ranch, where buildings, hay and horses were destroyed. The Valley ranch lost its sheep stock, and the D. Z. ranches lost 900 tons of hay. On the Nester and Krenz places, just newly started, buildings, cattle, horses, hogs and machinery were cleaned away and some of the employes were fatally burned.

Bishop Nicholson Dead.

Milwaukee.—Isaac Lea Nicholson, D. D., bishop of the Milwaukee Episcopal diocese, died at his residence in this city late Monday afternoon after a lingering illness. The end came peacefully and was not unexpected. An ailment of the heart, together with other complications, was the cause of death.

Will Move Railroad Shops.

Blue Ridge, Va.—The railroad shops of the Atlanta division of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, which have been here for ten years, will be removed at once to Etowah, Tenn. No reason is assigned.

Export Duty on Coal Abolished.

London.—The abolition of the export duty on coal, which became effective at midnight, was the signal for the sailing Thursday morning of hundreds of coal laden vessels bound for foreign ports.

Trainman Is Killed.

Greencastle, Ind.—William A. McLain, an employe of the Big Four railroad fell under a moving car Wednesday and was instantly killed. His father resides at Butler, Pa., and a wife at Carnegia, Pa.

Judge Gary Is Dead.

Chicago.—Judge Joseph E. Gary, the oldest member of the Chicago bench, and the man who sentenced the anarchists to hang, died suddenly at his home, 369 Ontario street, Wednesday afternoon.

Former Mayor of Omaha Dead.

Quincy, Ill.—George K. Roberts, attorney for the Big Four road, and one of the first mayors of the city of Omaha, died of neuralgia of the heart at Lawrenceburg, Ind., Monday. He was 62 years old.

Father Shoots Babe Dead.

Shelbyville, Ind.—Charles Alyea, living near Fountaintown, shot and killed his three-year-old daughter. The father had a loaded rifle in his hand and the trigger caught in a rent in a towel.

HE WON'T BE HAPPY TILL HE GETS IT.

DEATH LIST MAY REACH 70 IN ATLANTIC CITY WRECK

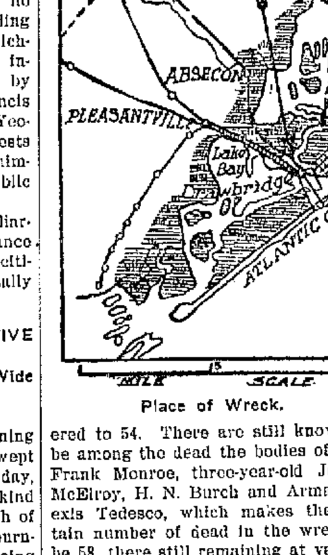

Removal of Third Car from Thoroughfare Bridge Abutment Releases Bodies of Three Women Pinned Beneath the Coach.

Atlantic City, N. J.—The contention of Coroner Gaskill that a number of persons who lost their lives in the electric train wreck on the Thoroughfare bridge may be buried in the mud where the cars plunged was borne out late Tuesday, when the bodies of Mrs. Paul Felsberg, Mrs. Selina Johnson and that of Mrs. Sarah Miller were recovered from under the third car. This car hung from the abutment in the center of the bridge, with its nose in the mud, and when the workmen were trying to lift it from the water the bodies worked loose.

That of Mrs. Miller was pinned fast in the wreckage, but that of Mrs. Felsberg floated up to the view of the workmen. Mrs. Johnson's body was found some time later, caught under the wreckage. All were cut and battered.

Dead Now Number 58.

The finding of these bodies increases the official identified dead to 61, and the total number of bodies recovered to 54. There are still known to be among the dead the bodies of Mrs. Frank Monroe, three-year-old Joseph McElroy, H. N. Burch and Arman Alexis Tedesco, which makes the certain number of dead in the wreck to be 58, there still remaining at various mortuaries three unclaimed bodies.

Place of Wreck.

The local officials say the total death list is 62. On the other hand, a great many were early on the ground, and some of those who were rescued from the train are inclined to the belief that several bodies were swept down by the heavy tide and never recovered. It is contended by some that the total loss of life will be about 70.

The finding of the body of Mrs. Miller was followed at the temporary morgue by one of the most pathetic scenes in the entire heartrending affair. Mrs. Miller, who was in poor health, had taken the trip to the sea on the electric train with her daughter-in-law and grandson, Leslie. The elder Mrs. Miller's son was here Tuesday to get the effects of his wife and son and arrange about the shipment of the bodies, when the body of his mother was brought in. He was signing for the effects of his wife and son when the police learned of the recovery of the bodies. Miller identified the body of his mother, and almost collapsed after crying out that he was left alone in the world.

Only One Unidentified.

The police, in going over the effects of some of the victims at the city hall, found a letter in the pockets of a garment taken from one of the unidentified bodies. It was addressed to William Granning, Penn Door Sash company, Twenty-fifth and Callowhill streets, and was written by a brother. This apparently identifies one of the unclaimed victims. The body is in charge of Undertaker Thompson on Chelsea.

The one absolutely unidentified and unclaimed body, at Crowley's morgue, is that of a man about 42 years old, weighing about 200 pounds.

Aside from the search for the bodies, interest now centers on the inquest which will be held by Coroner Gaskill on Thursday morning. While he will not express an opinion before the inquiry as to the cause of the accident, it appears from his statement that he is convinced the bridge on which the accident occurred is not as it should be, and may be rebuild.

Inquest Is Begun.

Atlantic City, N. J.—The inquest into the Thoroughfare disaster of Sunday was begun Thursday by Coroner Gaskill and after the examination of several witnesses an adjournment was taken until Monday morning at ten o'clock. The sudden termination came as a surprise, but it was stated later that this step was taken for the purpose of summoning additional witnesses and to also give the experts who are to testify an opportunity to prepare maps and other necessary papers. None of the officials of the railroad company was called.

Rails Failed to Join.

The most important testimony thus far adduced was that of Bridge Tender Stewart and Mrs. Elizabeth Driscoll. The former testified that the grooves in the rails over the draw did not always connect, this being the case in hot weather, and it was then necessary to knock them in place.

Mrs. Driscoll said that the train was running at a high speed when it struck the trestle, and another witness said that there was no apparent slackening of speed when the cars rushed on to the bridge.

Bridgetender Gave Signal.

Daniel Stewart, the aged bridge tender, testified as to letting the yacht Sinbad through the draw. After the yacht had passed he placed the red flags, or danger signals. He said the towerman relocked the bridge and then he (Stewart) went to the center and relocked the rails, raising them about an inch and one-half above the other rails. He said that the rails were down and fast and he gave the signal, "All is right" and the towerman pulled the lever.

The body of H. N. Burch, another victim of the Thoroughfare disaster, was recovered from the mud near the scene of the wreck Thursday.

Congressman Hoar Dead.

Worcester, Mass. — Representative Rockwood Hoar, of the Third Massachusetts district, son of the late Senator George F. Hoar, died Thursday at his residence in this city, after an illness of five weeks.

Workmen Exiled to Siberia.

St. Petersburg.—M. Krustaleff, who was president of the executive committee of the Workmen's council and 14 leaders of the council were sentenced to exile in Siberia and the loss of all civil rights.

Eight Persons Executed.

St. Petersburg.—Eight persons arrested here in connection with the robbery of $188,826 from Cashier Herman, of the custom house, October 27, were tried by court-martial and executed Tuesday.

Prominent Florist Killed.

Scranton, Pa.—J. L. Dillon, of Bloomington, one of the leading florists of the United States, was killed at East Bloomburg by a freight train while attending to the unloading of coal.

Dry Goods Firm Bankrupt.

Akron, O.—The Upham-Brouse company, the third largest dry goods store in this city, has filed a petition in bankruptcy, on account of the pressing claims of New York and Philadelphia creditors. Liabilities, $75,000.

Teacher Froze to Death.

Castlerock, Colo. — Miss Laura Scott, a 19-year-old school teacher, was found dead near Parker, in Douglas county, by a searching party. She had lost her way returning from a call and had frozen to death.

Women Favor Separate Schools.

Tulsa, I. T.—The Indian Territory Federation of Women's clubs, in annual session here; Thursday adopted, by unanimous vote, resolutions favoring separate schools for whites and blacks in the state of Oklahoma.

Will Quit Athletics.

New Orleans.—Because of alleged discrimination by President Dudley, of the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association Tulane university will withdraw from the association at the end of the football season.

Pythian Hall Is Destroyed.

Leipsic, O.—Fire Wednesday night destroyed the entire opera house block entailing a loss of $100,000. The fire started in the Knights of Pythias lodge rooms and within an hour the entire block was consumed.

Presents Island to City.

Racine, Wis.—William Horlick has purchased and presented to this city a large island in Root river. Mr. Horlick has also donated a generous sum to convert this island into a beautiful park, much needed in Racine.

"Buffalo Bill" and Party Safe.

Cody, Wyo.—"Buffalo Bill" and his party have arrived safely at the "T. E." ranch, 18 miles from Cody. All of the party are in good health and report having had fair success in the hunt for big game.

Man of 112 to Vote in Oklahoma.

Guthrie, Okla.—The oldest man to vote in Oklahoma registered at South McAllister. He gave his name as J. Thomas and his age at 112. He remembers every president from the time of Jefferson.

PEARY MAKES RECORD

ARCTIC EXPLORER NEARER THE POLE THAN RIVALS.

DOGS SERVED AS FOOD

Caches Destroyed by Ice Floes, Compelling Members of Party to Subsist on Such Provisions as Presented Themselves.

New York.—The United States now holds the record of "furtherest north," 87 degrees six minutes.

This feat was accomplished by Commander Robert E. Peary, of the United States navy.

The intrepid arctic explorer failed to reach the north pole, as he had confidently hoped to do with his specially constructed vessel, the Roosevelt, but he penetrated nearer to the pole than the duke of Abruzzi's expedition, which had held the arctic record, 86 degrees 31 minutes. What Commander Peary did and his experiences during the past year in the frozen north are rather briefly, but certainly vividly, summarized in a communication received Friday night from Peary by Herbert L. Bridgeman, secretary of the Peary Arctic club. This communication follows:

"Hopedale, Labrador, via Twillingate, N. F., Nov. 2.—Roosevelt wintered north coast Grant Land somewhat north Alert winter quarters. Went north with sledges February via Hecla and Columbia. Delayed by open water between 84 and 85 degrees. Beyond 85 six days. Gale disrupted ice destroyed caches, cut off communication with supporting bodies and drifted due east. Reached 87 degrees six minutes, north latitude over ice, drifting steadily eastward. Returning ate eight dogs. Drifted eastward delayed by open water, reached north coast Greenland in straightened conditions. Killed musk oxen and returned along Greenland coast to ship. Two supporting parties driven on north coast Greenland. One rescued by me in starving condition. After one week recuperation on Roosevelt sledged west, completing north coast Grant Land and reached other land, near one hundredth meridian. Homeward voyage incessant battle with ice, storms and head winds. Roosevelt magnificent ice fighter and sea boat. No deaths or illness on expedition."

FIVE TRUE BILLS FOR PEONAGE

Newman, Ga., Manufacturers Indicted by the Grand Jury.

Atlanta, Ga.—Five indictments for peonage against well-known manufacturers were returned by the federal grand jury here Friday as the result of a special investigation by Assistant Attorney General Charles Russell, of the department of justice in Washington.

Those indicted are: F. B. Cole, one bill; Jean Reinhold, two bills, and H. L. Ziegler, two bills, all of Newman, Ga.

The investigation was instigated by the complaints of a number of German immigrants who were induced to come south by the southern immigration bureau of New York under promise of employment in a furniture factory at Newman.

CIVIL WAR OFFICIAL RECORD OUT

Volume 20 of Federal and Confederate Navies Is Completed.

Washington.—Volume 20 of the official records of the union and confederate navies in the war of the rebellion has been completed, and volumes 19 and 20 distributed during the year, according to the annual report of Charles W. Stewart, superintendent of library and naval war records of the navy department.

Volume 21, which includes the operations of the west gulf blockading squadron during 1864, has also been completed, and volume 22 is complied and is in part in press.

NAMES ROYAL ARCANUM HEADS

Supreme Regent Appoints Boston Man to Succeed W. O. Robson.

Boston, Mass.—At a special meeting of the supreme council of the Royal Arcanum held here Friday the following appointments were made by Supreme Regent H. C. Wiggin, of Rome, N. Y., to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Supreme Secretary W. O. Robson: Supreme secretary, A. T. Turner, Boston; supreme auditor, W. F. McConnell, New York; supreme trustee, F. W. Dickinson, Springfield, Mass.

Mrs. Sage Rewards Old Employes.

New York.—The old employes in the office of the late Russell Sage have received in addition to their regular October salaries checks from Mrs. Sage for an equal amount, which virtually doubles their salaries. Five men, all old employes, were rewarded by Mrs. Sage's gift.

Visible Supply of Cotton.

New Orleans.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's supply of cotton shows a total of 3,280,281 bales against 3,000,298 last week. Of this the total of American cotton is 2,522,281, against 2,250,298 last week.

Boston Pitcher Is Fined.

Cincinnati.—The National baseball commission Friday fined Pitcher V. A. Lindaman, of the Boston National league club, $100 for playing with the Logan Squares, an independent team of the city of Chicago.

Armor Plate from America.

Rome.—The order for 2,100 tons of armor plate, valued at $1,000,000 for an Italian man-of-war, which was given to the Midvale Steel company, of Pennsylvania, has been approved by the council of state.

Davidson Ill with Rheumatism.

Madison, Wis.—Gov. Davidson had returned home and taken to bed ill with rheumatism as a result of strenuous automobile campaigning. He will probably cancel all remaining dates for the campaign.

Floods in Italy.

Rome.—Heavy storms throughout Italy have caused floods in various parts of the peninsula. There is over a foot of water on St. Mark's square in Venice. Many roads are obstructed by landslides.

Big Factory Destroyed.

New York.—Fire early Friday destroyed a seven-story factory building at Stanton and Mangin streets, causing a loss of $100,000. Two watchmen in the building were rescued, with difficulty.

HOMES OF VARIOUS KINDS

Differ as Widely as the Temperament of Owners.

No word appears so frequently in the home literature as "homelike." What does it mean? With many persons a homelike interior is assumed to refer to a quiet, unpretentious house of moderate cost, equipped in a moderate way with modest furniture neatly disposed in rooms of unassuming proportions.

That such rooms may be homelike is unquestionably true, but that all homelike rooms are of this description is completely erroneous. Homes are of almost as many different kinds as there are kinds of persons. The kind of a home that one possesses is largely determined by one's means. That is to say, the rich man will provide himself with a richly furnished and richly conducted house. The man of moderate means will have a house less elaborately built, furnished, and conducted. The poor man must do the best he can, and that often will be poorly enough. Now, it is obvious that the home which will be satisfactory to one of these groups will not be satisfactory to any other. The rich man, who is accustomed to the daily luxury of his own house, would not know how to live in a poor way in a poor place.

The poor man, for his part, would be equally lost amid the luxury of the rich man, and the man in moderate circumstances will be as much dissatisfied with the home of the poor as with the home of the rich. But the abiding place of each is a home. Each falls when measured by the standard of the others. This essential fact is apt to be overlooked by those who find it their duty to enlarge on the homelike qualities of certain homes and their absence from others. It is a serious mistake to deny homelike qualities to expensive dwellings.—American Homes and Gardens.

Company Luncheon Dish.

Tomato and cucumber aspic will be found delicious for a company luncheon dish. Make a pint of tomato aspic by simmering a can of tomatoes or six fresh ones with half an onion, a sprig of parsley, two cloves, half a teaspoonful of salt, a saltspoonful of paprika and a teaspoonful of tarragon vinegar. When smooth put through a sieve, add a tablespoonful of gelatine dissolved in cold water and strain again. Keep this where it will be warm. Peel two fresh cucumbers and cut into the thinnest possible cross slices. Take a flat-bottomed mould and lay the cucumber on the bottom in even circles and add enough aspic to set it. It will soon be nicely set if put in a pan of chopped ice, and as soon as it is firm put a row of slices of cucumber all around the side of the mould and fill with aspic, and so on till the mould is full. Turn out on water cress and surround with spoonfuls of stiff mayonnaise made with tarragon instead of cider vinegar.

Bride Has Unique Furniture.

A silver-plated bedstead, with brass foundation metal, is being manufactured for the home of a bride. Blankets and furnishings are to be partly of soft rose color, since that is the favorite color of the bride, who is a brunette.

The new Circassion walnut furniture which goes into the bedroom fittings is delightful and modest in effect, though costly. It is made in very simple forms. Circassian walnut is much lighter than black walnut, with fine raised grain and a soft surface, reminding one of bird's-eye maple.

As yet no chairs have been made of it, only the bedroom pieces, such as bureau, chiffonier and dressing table. Instead of each drawer coming from a different strip of wood they are matched so that the whole bureau front is like a section of the tree. Instead of silver bureau ornaments gold-backed brushes and gold-topped bottles contest with blue china trays and pale gray or green handkerchief baskets.

Fern Culture.

With the exception of the maidenhair, which requires a heavier, richer loam, the soil in which ferns are placed should be a mixture of one-half sand, one quarter fibrous peat, one-half broken mature sod and one-quarter to one-sixth of leaf mould.

You may have difficulty in finding peat, but sandstone or micaceous blocks, which may be found almost anywhere, will tend to keep the soil open.

Always place a large piece of broken pot, curved side up, over the hole in the bottom of the pot to allow drainage. Over this put broken bits about an inch deep and fill in with prepared soil.

The ordinary flower pot is right for this purpose, but a wide, flat pot is better, as it allows more room for the roots and creeping stems.

Teach Child Gospel of Work.

A liberal amount of work sprinkled through a child's leisure is decidedly wholesome. Activity is a necessity to children's growth and it might as well be put to practical use.

Let it not be inferred that heavy tasks should be put upon weak shoulders, that a man's work should be exacted from a growing boy, but that steps should be saved for a mother who needs leisure and that the little attentions which all women prize should be given her according to the age of those who should give them.—Exchange.

Sponge Cake Patties.

Break two eggs into a cup, then fill up with cream or milk. Pour into a mixing bowl, add a cup of sugar and a cupful and a half of flour that has been sifted, with two teaspoonsful baking powder. Beat all together for ten minutes, flavor with vanilla, lemon or orange and bake in lightly greased patty tins, about ten minutes.

Taking Out Stains.

For stains on light dresses, etc., lay the garment flat on a table, and cover the stains with dry pipe clay. Leave for half an hour, then shake out, and apply a second lot if necessary. Take out stains as soon after they are made as possible, for if they are allowed to dry in they are more difficult to remove.

Uses for Cold Coffee.

If you have a cup of strong coffee left from beakfast, prepare it with sugar and milk to taste. Put into a bowl one cup white flour, one cup whole wheat flour, one-half teaspoon salt and three level teaspoons of baking powder. Beat one egg lightly, add to the coffee and stir it into the dry mixture. If it should be too stiff, add a little more milk or water. It should be more like a stiff drop batter than dough and not thin enough to pour. Bake in hot buttered muffin pans 20 minutes.

BUILT UP HER HEALTH

SPEEDY CURE OF MISS GOODE

She Is Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Writes Gratefully to Mrs. Pinkham.

For the wonderful help that she has found Miss Cora Goode, 255 E. Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Ill., believes it her duty to write the following letter for publication, in order that other women afflicted in the same way may be benefited as she was. Miss Goode is president of the Bryn Mawr Lawn Tennis Club of Chicago. She writes;

Miss Cora Goode

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I tried many different remedies to build up my system, which had become run down from lost of proper rest and unreasonable hours, but nothing seemed to help me. Mother is a great advocate of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles, having used it herself some years ago with great success. So I began to take it, and in less than a month I was able to be out of bed and out of doors, and in three months I was entirely well. Really I have never felt so strong and well as I have since."

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating (or flatulence), displacement of organs, inflammation or ulceration, can be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Her experience is very great, and she gives the benefit of it to all who stand in need of wise counsel. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

MADE ALL THE DIFFERENCE.

Ring on the Third Finger of the Left Hand Meant Much.

She was homely, and to most persons unattractive; yet as she entered the train a sort of halo seemed to surround her as one set apart from common mortals. There was no indication of exceptional talent, ability, or endowment about her, no evidence of superiority, but a certain indefinable distinction. It was not quite an air of conquest, though suggestive of satisfactory achievement. She bore her head high and wore a Buddha-like expression of proud serenity.

Only a moment was she settled in her seat when off came her gloves, and then the key to the problem was evident. The long, joyous look bestowed upon the sparkling ring on the third finger of her left hand told the story.

That left hand had a busy time. It investigated the lingerie but poised coquettishly over the face of one no longer young, it made sure that her brooch was fastened, it pulled her silken skirts closer about her, it tightened the straps to her travelling bag sitting in the aisle, and so on indefinitely, occasionally pausing for a caressing glance from the tired but beaming eyes.

The gay little scintillations from the diamond flashed out the song: "Engaged—engaged—engaged!"

BIRDS THAT ENJOY DANCING

Have Regular "Ball Rooms" for Their Gyrations.

Dancing is by no means confined to quadrupeds; it is the principal play of many birds.

Perhaps the finest of bird dancers is the South American cock o' the rock. These birds have regular dancing places, level spots which they keep clear of sticks and stones.

A dozen or more of the bird dancers assemble around this spot, and then a cock bird, his scarlet crest erect, steps into the center. Spreading his wings and tail, he begins to dance, at first with slow and stately steps, then gradually more and more rapidly until he is spinning like a mad thing. At last, tired out, he sinks down, hops out of the ring and another takes his place.

Some of the quail tribe are great dancers, and so are the American sand bill cranes. It is a most ludicrous sight to watch a crane dancing; he is so desperately solemn over the whole performance. He looks like a shy young man who has just learned to waltz and is rather ashamed of the accomplishment.

A man saves his religion and his best suit of clothes for Sunday.

NERVOUS COLLAPSE

Sinking Spells, Headaches and Rheumatism all Yield to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mrs. Lizzie Williams, of No. 416 Cedar street, Quincy, Ill., says: "Ever since I had nervous prostration, about thirteen years ago, I have had periodical spells of complete exhaustion. The doctor said my nerves were shattered. Any excitement or unusual activity would throw me into a state of lifelessness. At the beginning my strength would come back in a moderate time after each attack, but the period of weakness kept lengthening until at last I would lie helpless as many as three hours at a stretch. I had dizzy feelings, palpitation of the heart, misery after eating, hot flashes, nervous headaches, rheumatic pains in the back and hips. The doctor did me so little good that I gave up his treatment, and really feared that my case was incurable.

"When I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills my appetite grew keen, my food no longer distressed me, my nerves were quieted to a degree that I had not experienced for years and my strength returned. The fainting spells left me entirely after I had used the third box of the pills, and my friends say that I am looking better than I have done for the past fifteen years."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are recommended for diseases that come from impoverished blood such as anæmia, rheumatism, debility and disorders of the nerves such as neuralgia, nervous prostration and partial paralysis. They have cured the most stubborn indigestion. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills agree with the most delicate stomach, quiet all nervousness, stir up every organ to do its proper work and give strength that lasts. Sold by all druggists, or sent postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Lavender Creighton's Lovers

By OLIVIA B. STROHM

(Copyright, 1905, by Olivia B. Strohm)

CHAPTER VIII.—CONTINUED.

Winslow continued: "If as I understand this gentleman has lost, and the woman was the stake upon his side then, according to the laws of gambling—for I believe there are laws of gambling—the woman's yours." He inclined the winner by a polite bow. "Then may I inquire the amount staked against her?" he added.

A pause followed this abrupt question.

The planter, whose courage gradually rose with his spirit, spoke, muttered: "One hundred dollars."

"One hundred dollars! A pitiful sum! You have tr[illegible] old. But of course you felt sure of winning." Winslow added with naive sarcasm. Then turning to the captain, he proceeded: "It appears, then that the woman is yours, but she is evidently an unwilling prize. Does not this fact considerably lessen her value? Suppose we play again, she the stake on your side this time."

He drew a small sack from his pocket, and laid it upon the table. No sound followed the clink of metal, but a woman's shuddering sigh.

Under gloomy brows her old master stared at the new. The latter stood for a moment, a frown of baffled rage distorting his sinister face.

"She was fairly staked, and fairly won," he declared. "The odds are not my business, and d— d if I'm to be bamboozled out of the profit of a fair game!"

"But what profit is there in an unwilling slave? You might sell her, to be sure, but that would not be sportsmanlike, and—" here Winslow stepped nearer with insinuating clink of money. "Come, you are no Shylock to stick to the letter of the bond, come!" and he slowly counted out $100 which he slid to the table. The sack he replaced in his pocket.

All eyes were upon the boatman as his hungry glance sought the glittering pile. All the lust of the cards was on him. Winslow had counted upon this, and upon the gambler's faith in success.

"Done!" cried the captain, and with the scraping of chairs and a shuffle of cards, the game was on.

In breathless silence the spectators huddled about the players, the one frowning, his close-cropped head held rigid in the thick, short neck, his eyes gleaming like small coals out of a red-veined face.

The other was paler than usual, but placid, self contained.

The Spaniard looked on with an amused, cynical smile. That the eastern gallant, with the bow of a Chesterfield, and the air of a student, should break a lance with so hardy an opponent, aroused feelings of admiration and pity.

The woman crept nearer, her heart in her eyes.

Two or three loungers strolled in, and there was an interested ring about the players.

A few more turns of the cards, and both men pushed back their chairs—the game was over!

"She is yours, take her, and go to the devil!" roared the captain. Then, hiding his rage and discomfiture under a grim laugh, he strode from the room.

"I HEAR YOU HAVE BEEN GAMBLING," SHE SAID, "BUT IN SUCH A CAUSE WE WON'T SCOLD."

There was some excited talk, and a stifled scream from the octoroon. For the first time Winslow addressed her: "I believe they call you mine, since the cards have so decreed, but pardon me, if I decline the honor. It would save me responsibility if you would remain under the care of this gentleman," and he waved his hand toward the planter.

Without a word, but with a world of gratitude in her deep eyes, the woman glided to her old master's side. He murmured a half articulate "Thank you" to Winslow, and together they left the room.

"Well, you are a softie!"

"What are you skeered of?"

But Winslow was glad to escape the jeering congratulations, and quickly made his way out and up to the deck, followed only by the Spaniard.

"This is Mr. Winslow, I believe?" the latter said. "My name is Gonzaga."

After a few preliminary words, he said, admiringly: "You play well, sir, for an American," adding, with a smile, "I think my countryman must have had a glimpse of you revealed to him when he wrote his story of 'Don Quixote.'"

Winslow laughed. "You flatter me, and yet in the matter of ridicule, perhaps I do share his honors."

The Spaniard did not reply to this, and the two men smoked in silence.

At last Gonzaga spoke. "You have been knight-errant to fairer dames than this octoroon—is it not so?"

At this meaning tone Winslow frowned; it was plain whither the question tended. He had observed this stranger's eyes following Lavender in bold admiration. It was only

Absent-Minded Minister.

At the Chautauqua assembly a number of stories about absent-mindedness were being told.

There was the story of the absent-minded doctor who handed his patient a fee and took his prescription himself; the story of the professor, who, coming home to dinner too early, and seeing the table cleared, went back upstairs again, muttering that he had quite forgotten having dined; and there were many other stories told

But Bishop Vi[illegible] anecdotes, carrie[illegible] story about an al[illegible]

"There was a [illegible] said, "who was [illegible] he once lathered [illegible] tion in the mirro[illegible]

Not [illegible]

A judge in a [illegible] tucky, hearing a [illegible] woman had bee[illegible] her child cruelly[illegible]

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

BUILT UP HER HEALTH

SPEEDY CURE OF MISS GOODE

She Is Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Writes Gratefully to Mrs. Pinkham.

For the wonderful help that she has found Miss Cora Goode, 255 E. Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Ill., believes it her duty to write the following letter for publication, in order that other women afflicted in the same way may be benefited as she was. Miss Goode is president of the Bryn Mawr Lawn Tennis Club of Chicago. She writes;

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I tried many different remedies to build up my system, which had become run down from loss of proper rest and unreasonable hours, but nothing seemed to help me. Mother is a great advocate of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles, having used it herself some years ago with great success. So I began to take it, and in less than a month I was able to be out of bed and out of doors, and in three months I was entirely well. Really I have never felt so strong and well as I have since."

No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, backache, bloating (or flatulence), displacement of organs, inflammation or ulceration, can be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Her experience is very great, and she gives the benefit of it to all who stand in need of wise counsel. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years has been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

MADE ALL THE DIFFERENCE.

Ring on the Third Finger of the Left Hand Meant Much.

She was homely, and to most persons unattractive, yet as she entered the train a sort of halo seemed to surround her as one set apart from common mortals. There was no indication of exceptional talent, ability, or endowment about her, no evidence of superiority, but a certain indefinable distinction. It was not quite an air of conquest, though suggestive of satisfactory achievement. She bore her head high and wore a Buddha-like expression of proud serenity.

Only a moment was she settled in her seat when off came her gloves, and then the key to the problem was evident. The long, joyous look bestowed upon the sparkling ring on the third finger of her left hand told the story.

That left hand had a busy time. It investigated the lingerie hat poised coquettishly over the face of one no longer young, it made sure that her brooch was fastened, it pulled her silken skirts closer about her, it tightened the straps to her traveling bag sitting in the aisle, and so on indefinitely, occasionally pausing for a caressing glance from the tired but beaming eyes.

The gay little scintillations from the diamond flashed out the song: "Engaged—engaged—engaged!"

BIRDS THAT ENJOY DANCING

Have Regular "Ball Rooms" for Their Gyrataions.

Dancing is by no means confined to quadrupeds; it is the principal play of many birds.

Perhaps the finest of bird dancers is the South American cock o' the rock. These birds have regular dancing places, level spots which they keep clear of sticks and stones.

A dozen or more of the bird dancers assemble around this spot, and then a cock bird, his scarlet crest erect, steps into the center. Spreading his wings and tail, he begins to dance, at first with slow and stately steps, then gradually more and more rapidly until he is spinning like a mad thing. At last, tired out, he sinks down, hops out of the ring and another takes his place.

Some of the quail tribe are great dancers, and so are the American sand hill cranes. It is a most ludicrous sight to watch a crane dancing; he is so desperately solemn over the whole performance. He looks like a shy young man who has just learned to waltz and is rather ashamed of the accomplishment.

A man saves his religion and his best suit of clothes for Sunday.

NERVOUS COLLAPSE

Sinking Spells, Headaches and Rheumatism all Yield to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mrs. Lizzie Williams, of No. 416 Cedar street, Quincy, Ill., says: "Ever since I had nervous prostration, about thirteen years ago, I have had periodical spells of complete exhaustion. The doctor said my nerves were shattered. Any excitement or unusual activity would throw me into a state of lifelessness. At the beginning my strength would come back in a moderate time after each attack, but the period of weakness kept lengthening until at last I would lie helpless as many as three hours at a stretch. I had dizzy feelings, palpitation of the heart, misery after eating, hot flashes, nervous headaches, rheumatic pains in the back and hips. The doctor did me so little good that I gave up his treatment, and really feared that my case was incurable.

"When I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills my appetite grew keen, my food no longer distressed me, my nerves were quieted to a degree that I had not experienced for years and my strength returned. The fainting spells left me entirely after I had used the third box of the pills, and my friends say that I am looking better than I have done for the past fifteen years."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are recommended for diseases that come from impoverished blood such as anæmia, rheumatism, debility and disorders of the nerves such as neuralgia, nervous prostration and partial paralysis. They have cured the most stubborn indigestion. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills agree with the most delicate stomach, quiet all nervousness, stir up every organ to do its proper work and give strength that lasts.

Sold by all druggists, or sent postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

Lavender Creighton's Lovers

By OLIVIA B. STROHM

(Copyright, 1905, by Olivia B. Strohm.)

CHAPTER VIII.—CONTINUED.

Winslow continued: "If, as I understand, this gentleman has lost, and the woman was the stake upon his side, then, according to the laws of gambling—for I believe, there are laws of gambling—the woman is yours." He indicated the winner by a polite bow. "Then may I inquire the amount staked against her?" he added.

A pause followed this abrupt question.

The planter, whose courage gradually rose with his springing hope, muttered: "One hundred dollars."

"One hundred dollars? A pitiful sum! You gave frightful odds. But of course you felt sure of winning," Winslow added, with suave sarcasm. Then turning to the captain, he proceeded: "It appears, then, that the woman is yours, but she is evidently an unwilling prize. Does not this fact considerably lessen her value? Suppose we play again, she the stake on your side—this mine."

He drew a small sack from his pocket, and laid it upon the table. No sound followed the clink of metal, but a woman's shuddering sigh.

Under gloomy brows her old master stared at the new. The latter stood for a moment, a frown of baffled rage distorting his sinister face.

"She was fairly staked, and fairly won," he declared. "The odds are not my business, and d—d if I'm to be bamboozled out of the profit of a fair game!"

"But what profit is there in an unwilling slave? You might sell her, to be sure, but that would not be sportsmanlike, and—" here Winslow stepped nearer with insinuating clink of money: "Come, you are no Shylock to stick to the letter of the bond; come!" and he slowly counted out $100 which he slid to the table. The sack he replaced in his pocket.

All eyes were upon the boatman as his hungry glance sought the glittering pile. All the lust of the cards was on him. Winslow had counted upon this, and upon the gambler's faith in success.

"Done!" cried the captain, and with the scraping of chairs and a shuffle of cards, the game was on.

In breathless silence the spectators huddled about the players—the one frowning, his close-cropped head held rigid in the thick, short neck, his eyes gleaming like small coals out of a red-veined face.

The other was paler than usual, but placid, self contained.

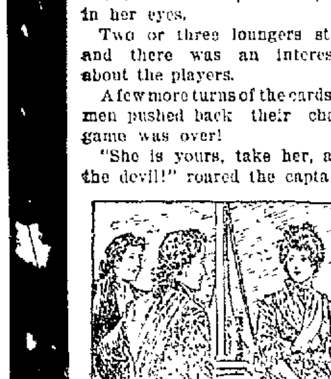

The Spaniard looked on with an amused, cynical smile. That this eastern gallant, with the bow of a Chesterfield, and the air of a student, should break a lance with so hardy an opponent, aroused feelings of admiration and pity.

The woman crept nearer, her heart in her eyes.

Two or three loungers strolled in, and there was an interested ring about the players.

A few more turns of the cards, and both men pushed back their chairs—the game was over!

"She is yours, take her, and go to the devil!" roared the captain. Then, hiding his rage and discomfiture under a grim laugh, he strode from the room.

"I HEAR YOU HAVE BEEN GAMBLING," SHE SAID, "BUT IN SUCH A CAUSE WE WON'T SCOLD."

There was some excited talk, and a stifled scream from the octoroon. For the first time Winslow addressed her: "I believe they call you mine, since the cards have so decreed, but pardon me, if I decline the honor. It would save me responsibility if you would remain under the care of this gentleman," and he waved his hand toward the planter.

Without a word, but with a world of gratitude in her deep eyes, the woman glided to her old master's side. He murmured a half articulate "Thank you" to Winslow, and together they left the room.

"Well, you are a softie!"

"What are you skeered of?"

But Winslow was glad to escape the jeering congratulations, and quickly made his way out and up to the deck, followed only by the Spaniard.

"This is Mr. Winslow, I believe?" the latter said. "My name is Gonzaga."

After a few preliminary words, he said, admiringly: "You play well, sir, for an American," adding, with a smile, "I think my countryman must have had a glimpse of you revealed to him when he wrote his story of 'Don Quixote.'"

Winslow laughed. "You flatter me, and yet in the matter of ridicule, perhaps I do share his honors."

The Spaniard did not reply to this, and the two men smoked in silence.

At last Gonzaga spoke. "You have been knight-errant to fairer dames than this octoroon—is it not so?"

At this meaning tone Winslow frowned; it was plain whither the question tended. He had observed this stranger's eyes following Lavender in bold admiration. It was only a matter of time when, in the little privacy afforded by the crowded boat, he would have an opportunity to thrust his acquaintance upon them. This Winslow meant to defer as long as possible, from motives he could not have explained.

But this foreigner was not to be lightly turned from his purpose. "I quite envy you, sir," he persisted, "you are not dependent for society upon the rabble of the boat. Would it be too much to ask an introduction to your charmed circle?"

At that moment Lavender appeared on deck. Seeing Winslow engaged with a stranger, she would have turned back, but Gonzaga spoke loud in an affectation of civility: "Pray, do not let me disturb you," and in his manner was evident expectation of the introduction, which Charles grudgingly gave.

Lavender courtesied low, then, turned to Winslow with a teasing smile: "I hear you have been gambling," she said, "but in such a cause we won't scold you."

Gonzaga interposed: "Truly, the woman seemed well worth the effort."

But the suspicion of evil in his tone was too carefully veiled for Lavender's understanding. "Indeed, she is," was her simple comment. "Such gratitude I have never seen. We are all grateful, for humanity's sake."

Charles waived further discussion of the subject, and as soon as possible found an excuse to take Lavender below.

The Spaniard stood alone, pensively watching the smoke from his cigar, as it idly curled above his head, or with a sudden flaw was blown away in whirling rings.

Shrugging his shoulders, he said, half aloud: "A rose blossoming in the wilderness!"

His teeth showed in a sardonic smile. "Nor is this rose without its guardian thorn. Well, so much the better worth plucking!" and he joined the others in the cabin.

CHAPTER IX.

Thenceforward the little party was augmented by the unfailing presence of the Spaniard, Gonzaga.

Yet the newcomer bore himself in such quiet, gentlemanly fashion, as to disarm objections. He was never obtrusive, and contrived to make his society so agreeable that to none was he unwelcome. Even Winslow, who secretly deplored his coming, could not but admire his tact, his graceful, flowery conversation, his knowledge of the world.

To Mrs. Creighton one day the stranger said: "I have no plans, madam, and when I hear you talk of your future home, and of all you mean to do there, I feel like a wanderer, a good-for-naught. And in truth, I am. A long sojourn in New Orleans became fatiguing; I heard a great deal of this wonderful new land which my own country was foolish enough to let slip from its crown. One day a boat started, thither bound. I embarked—I am here, your servant."

And that was all he ever vouchsafed in explanation of his presence.

There were, however, two of the party to whom this new acquaintance was most unwelcome. Though America and the Indian guide kept ever in the background, they were alert and watchful; keen to observe the slightest change in the situation.

In spite of the antipathy of race and habit, there was a bond uniting these two—a bond stronger than creed or custom. Red skin and black covered hearts that beat in unison to the same refrain, love for those they served. They would sit apart from the others, native antagonism bridged by this common interest.

The stranger they eyed with disfavor, with that instinctive dislike which needs no warrant. With the Indian this was suspicion—a habit of blood. With America, a conservative fear of change.

"I ain't got no call to complain," she said to Owatoga, "an' dis yer Spain man may be all right. But we don' need 'im. We done come so fur widout his com'ny, an' I reckon we kin go de res' ob de way."

And Owatoga grunted assent, for what of America's words failed to impress his untutored ear, her gestures and manner conveyed.

But there was another on board for whom the Indian felt a far deeper aversion, and that was the captain, Finch. It was plain to Owatoga that ever since the gambling episode, this man had cherished for Winslow a secret grudge. Over his every movement, therefore, he kept anxious watch.

Quarters on the boat were so crowded that in sheer necessity of rest and change, Mrs. Creighton and Lavender spent much time on deck. Here games were indulged in, principally matches for rifle practice, with the captain for leading performer. His aim was unerring, and he was reckless in its display. Many a luckless pig on shore owed the loss of his tail to this man's prowess. Once when Lavender ventured a pitying remonstrance, he blurted: "Don't you worry about them tails, miss. They kin be thankful I'm sech a good shot and leave 'em the rest of their carcasses."

The octoroon, too, had observed the malevolent glances with which the captain's eyes traveled from her to Winslow. There was no mistaking their baleful glitter, and Winslow was her savior from worse than death, the object of her reverent gratitude. Over him, she, too, kept unmarked vigilance.

One afternoon she noticed the two in conversation, and hovered near in time to hear the last of the boatman's words: "Try it jest to show that ye bear no ill-will. I'm right proud of the trick."

"But I'm afraid I don't understand," she heard Winslow say, and the man explained. "The idee is to knock a cup off'n a man's head at 20 paces, and never make a hole in it."

Winslow shrugged his shoulders. "But how about the man?"

"Never tetch 'im! It may take some nerve to stand up agin a loaded rifle, but lots o' men hev done it, and I ain't never sp'iled my man yit. Ye see, it's on the principle of barkin' a squirrel; ye aim at a spot above the critter's head, and the concussion does the business. That's the way with the cup—the shock knocks it off, and there ye are. It's easier 'n fallin' off a log."

He was determined to prove his words, and the test found not witnesses only, but assistants.

"You try first, Pete."

In response to the suggestion, a shock-headed youth came forward frowning—not with anger, but with embarrassment at finding himself the cynosure of all eyes.

The cup was placed upon his head.

"Stand right against the post," Pat commanded, "I'll shoot at the knot above your head, and the cup'll drop off; see if it don't. Now, stand still!"

The silence which followed was broken only by the click of the captain's rifle. Then a sharp bang, a woman's scream, and the clatter of the cup to the floor.

"Bully fer you, Pat," roared one enthusiastic auditor. This the marksman received with a surly: "Wha' did I tell yer?"

The shock-headed youth, a trifle pale, but otherwise none the worse for his experiment, stumbled to a seat. His place was filled by another, anxious to prove his mettle—with the same result. Another and another—the boatsman's aim was ever steady, his eye ever true.

The Spaniard left his place by Lavender's side. "Let me try," he called to Finch.

The girl detained him by a gesture. "It is foolhardy, dangerous."

But he gently shook off her restraining arm. "I am fond of experiments in general, and this one in particular will enlarge my experience." For this man well knew that by his worldly knowledge, wide range and varied exploits, he had won the attention of this simple girl, to whose romantic side it was his plan to appeal.

"You never seem afraid of anything," she said, with direct and honest compliment.

He rewarded her by a glance full of tender import, and took his position at the post.

Winslow had seen the little byplay, and an all unreasoning anger deprived him of his usual sober judgment. In vain he argued within himself that Lavender's anxiety was purely womanish, born of no personal preference. In vain he reflected that her manner was always unduly earnest, with an inclination to the dramatic.

He resented the attitude; he would test her upon the first opportunity.

From the position at the post, all unharmed, Gonzaga descended with a smile of triumph, and walked directly up to Lavender ready for his meed of praise.

"You are brave," she said, extending her hand.

At that moment the marksman beckoned to Winslow. "Well, are you ready for a hand at the game?"

There was a taunting ring in the captain's voice—a thinly veiled contempt as in expectation of a refusal. But Winslow was in no mind to refuse. He knew it to be a risk; a foolhardy exhibition of misplaced heroism. Nevertheles, he went steadily to place.

"Mr. Winslow—Charles, no, no," Lavender begged, but he shook his head firmly and smiled. A chorus of rowdy cheers drowned her remonstrance.

A voice in her ear whispered: "Are you, then, afraid for your friend?" There was a covert sneer in the Spaniard's manner which the girl resented.

"Mr. Winslow is as equal to the absurd test, but as liable to hurt, as those of less sense. The whole business is idiotic; the game surely not worth the candle. I—we can let him take the chances."

"And I? How about my chances?"

But Lavender failed to detect the double meaning in his question, nor did she catch his ardent glance, for her eyes were following the scene on the forward deck.

The man at the rifle waited with his back toward her, directly in front of the post where Winslow stood. And near him—so close that warning shouts urged her back, stood the octoroon.

"Look alive, there!"

"Git out o' the way!" But the woman paid no heed. If she moved at all, it was but to steal nearer the mark.

The cup was placed upon Winslow's head, and Pat Finch raised the rifle. The dark woman, crouching almost in its range, gazed fascinated at the gleaming barrel. Then her glance ran like lightning to the cruel eyes behind it. There was a flash, a report, and the thud of a falling body. Both Winslow and the slave he had redeemed lay prostrate at the foot of the post.

Instantly there was an uproar, and the rush of excited men to the rescue. With a scream of terror, Lavender darted forward, but before she could reach the spot, and to the general amazement, both rose and faced the crowd.

In the silence Winslow stared at the woman beside him. Her olive skin was darker with horror, and she staggered to the post as if for support.

"What's the matter?" demanded Finch, striding forward.

"I can offer no explanation," Winslow returned, calmly, "except that the young woman," he indicated the octoroon, "was overcome and fell against me. Not expecting the weight, I toppled ignominiously," he concluded, with an apologetic smile.

Then, at the captain's urging, he replaced the cup on his head. But the dark woman snatched it away, and threw it out far over the water. "No, no, not again; no, never!" she poured out the words in a torrent of feeling. "The rifle was not aimed true! I saw it, but it was too late. I saw the flash, and then—then I pushed you—out—of range. I—I could think of no other way," she concluded, with a burst of sobs.

A hush fell upon the company, sobered by the sudden flapping of the wings of Death.

A voice from the crowd at length broke the spell: "Well, Pat, I reckon ye're glad the wench saved ye from bein' a murderer; but how in h—l come ye to make sech a mistake?"

[To Be Continued.]

Taking No Chances.

Mrs. Nordy—So you're not going away and leave your husband this summer? 'Fraid he'll be lonesome, eh?

Mrs. Butts—No; on the contrary, I'm afraid he won't be.—The Sun.

Absent-Minded Minister.

At the Chautauqua assembly a number of stories about absent-mindedness were being told.

There was the story of the absent-minded doctor who handed his patient a fee and took his prescription himself; the story of the professor, who, coming home to dinner too early, and seeing the table cleared, went back upstairs again, muttering that he had quite forgotten having dined; and there were many other stories told.

But Bishop Vincent, among all these anecdotes, carried off the palm with a story about an absent-minded minister.

"There was a minister," the bishop said, "who was so absent-minded that he once lathered and shaved his reflection in the mirror."

Not Experienced.

A judge in a southern town of Kentucky, hearing a case where a colored woman had been arrested for beating her child cruelly, and who, after hearing all the facts of the case, was about to pass sentence, remarked:

"I don't see how you could have the heart to beat your own child that way."

After a pause the woman answered "Look here, Master Judge, is you ever been the mother of a black rascal like that?"

"Why, no," answered the judge.

"Well, then, how do you know how to treat one?"

News of Wisconsin

Interesting Happenings in the Various Cities and Towns of the State.

STATE D. A. R. ELECT OFFICERS

Mrs. Ogden H. Fethers, of Janesville, Made Regent.

Portage.—Mrs. Ogden H. Fethers, of Janesville, was chosen regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution in Wisconsin at the closing session of the annual conference of the order. Mrs. Thomas Hoyt Brown, Milwaukee, four years at the head of the state organization and who presided at the meeting in Portage, declined a renomination. Other state officers elected are: Vice Regent, Mrs. Walter Kempster, Milwaukee; secretary, Mrs. E. H. Van Ostrand, Antigo; treasurer, Mrs. George F. Gilkey, Oshkosh, reelected. All were the unanimous choice of the conference.

Beloit was chosen as the place of the next annual conference. Fort Atkinson expects to get the 1908 conference.

Reports of the officers showed the order to be flourishing and progressive. It has 19 chapters, with 1,053 members, in Wisconsin.

TO EXTERMINATE MOSQUITO.

Civic Association Told Best Way Is by the Use of Oil.

Milwaukee.—The convention of the American Civic association came to a close at the Hotel Pfister October 26. It was voted one of the best meetings the association has held.

Papers were read on "What One Association Did," by Dr. F. A. Whiting, of Farmington, Mass., presenting some facts as to the efforts put forth by the civic organization there, and "The Appalachian Reservation," by George W. Woodruff, of the forestry service at Washington, D. C.

"Mosquito Extermination," was discussed, with the conclusions that the drainage and filling up of swamps and ponds of foul water and oiling small ponds of water were the best remedies.

Death of Bishop Nicholson.

Milwaukee.—Isaac Lea Nicholson, D. D., bishop of the Milwaukee Episcopal diocese, died here after a lingering illness. Heart trouble and other complications were the cause. He is survived by Isaac Lea Nicholson, Jr.

Bishop Nicholson suffered a collapse May 26, 1905, while ordaining a class at Nashotah house. He had been incapacitated ever since. He was nearly 63 years of age. William Walter Webb, D. D., of Cincinnati, who was consecrated bishop coadjutator several months ago, will succeed to the bishopric.

Small Boy Snatches Purse.

Racine.—Leo Chaffee, 14 years of age, probably the most youthful highway man in the state, was arrested. Mrs. Peter G. Byer was walking on Sixteenth street, carrying a purse containing six dollars and other valuables, when Chaffee came up behind and snatched the purse, broke the chain and fled. When brought before Judge Smieding he confessed that two years ago he stole $80 from an aunt, stole a bicycle, a fountain pen, and other things.

Stolen Gems in Mail Box.

Kenosha.—The mystery surrounding the theft of rings to the value of several thousand dollars from the automobile of Mrs. George A. Yule, of this city, last Friday has deepened. Two rings worth $400, identified as Mrs. Yule's were found in a mail box inclosed in an envelope without an address and not even sealed. Chief O'Hara, of the Kenosha police, thinks the thieves were frightened and that the other rings and jewels will be returned to the owner.

M. O. Garbage Plant Failure.

Milwaukee.—Reporting that its belief is that the city is spending $50,000 a year in excess of what is necessary to dispose of the city garbage, the health department has asked the city council to make an appropriation for an extended junket to enable the city to adopt some other method for the rendering of refuse. The committee finds that the plant which the city now operates is run at six times the cost of a private concern.

Stops Liquor Selling to Minors.

Green Bay.—A crusade against saloonkeepers who sell liquor to minors was inaugurated here when Mayor Minahan caused the arrest of Andrew Dalstrom. The defendant pleaded guilty and was fined five dollars and costs. Other arrests are to follow.

Charles E. Bross Dead.

Madison.—Charles E. Bross, former chief clerk of the senate, supervisor, former local manager of the Western Union Telegraph company and a famous newspaper correspondent, died at nine o'clock at the Laughlin home in Wingra Park.

Killed by Train.

Hudson.—Denis Smith was hit by the Omaha flyer and killed while driving on a load of wood. The engine was smashed and the train delayed for hours.

Racine Strikers at Work.

Racine.—Officers of the J. I. Case Plow works officially declare that the strike at their plant was not because of a threatened reduction of 25 per cent. in wages. They say the contention originated from trouble between the superintendent and a foreman. All differences were settled and the men resumed work.

Samuel M. Hay Dead.

Oshkosh.—Samuel M. Hay, aged 80, died. He owned stock in many big banks and factories for years.

Milwaukee Secures M. O. Site.

Milwaukee. — Milwaukee is now ready to proceed with the erection of a municipal lighting plant. A site was purchased from Oscar Alpeter at the foot of Wallace street for $60,000. It is roughly estimated that the cost will be about $1,000,000. It will be several years before it will be completed.

Aged Woman Hangs Herself.

Kenosha.—Mrs. Petune Helding, a well known Kenosha woman, 74 years old, committed suicide by hanging.

ARRANGES HIS OWN FUNERAL

Superior Man Sets Aside $500 for Band, Hearse and Carriages.

Superior.—Although hale and hearty and earning good wages, James P. Riley made arrangements for his funeral. Riley's arrangements provide for a $500 funeral, with four horses on the hearse, a brass band and plenty of carriages for friends. Riley and an undertaker have entered into a written agreement and Riley has made arrangements to have $500 of his life insurance turned over for expenses upon his death. The arrangement was brought about by a visit to the morgue, where Riley saw a body being prepared for burial in the potter's field.

FIGHT VICE; GET DEATH THREAT

Two Kenosha Men Are Warned of Violence in Store for Them.

Kenosha.—J. H. Kars and Frank Symmonds, directors in the Civic Federation in this city, have been threatened with personal violence and even death on account of the prominent part they are taking in the crusade being made against gambling in the city.

The Civic Federation now has seven prosecutions pending in the city, and more will be started as soon as the dockets have been cleared.

DERRICK CRUSHES FLAT CARS

Workmen at Racine Stone Quarry Narrowly Escape Fatal Injury.

Racine.—A sixty-foot derrick fell at the Roberts company stone yard. Three flat cars were damaged and the large timbers of the derrick were broken like pipe stems. A dozen men narrowly escaped being crushed. Nels Hanson and Sam Anderson sustaining slight injuries. The damages will amount to $2,000 and the company will be greatly delayed in getting out fancy cut stone for a $40,000 church being built at Kenosha.

Want New Northern County.

Athens.—The proposition to make a new county from the northern tier of townships in Clark county, the southern tier of townships in Taylor county and a half dozen townships in western Marathon county is being agitated. Wausau and Neillsville will put up fights. The taxpayers in the northwestern part of Marathon county have been helping to build up the county, and they would object to going into a new county.

Falls from Oconto Bridge.

Gillett.—Edward Hamilton, while walking across the Oconto river bridge, three miles south of here, fell a distance of 35 feet, landing on his head. He laid there all night. When the train crew came along the next morning they picked him up and brought him to Gillett. He claims his home is at Manitowoc.

Deadly Cobra on Bananas.

Racine.—At the store of Hammerson & Co., North Main street, there was discovered a cobra di capello in a bunch of bananas. The reptile is two feet long and traveled from the far south wound around the banana stalk. Charles Haummerson came near being bitten by the reptile. It is now confined in a glass jar.

Awarded $4,800 Damages.

Kenosha.—The circuit court awarded Joseph Anderson, 16 years old, $4,800 against the Chicago Brass company. The original suit was for $15,000. The case has been twice before the supreme court and will be appealed again.

Prairie du Chien Banker Dead.

Prairie du Chien.—Aaron Denio, aged 82 years, former banker and a veteran of the civil war, died suddenly of pneumonia. He held many public positions of trust in the county and city during his 51 years' residence in this city.

Regent General at Kenosha.

Kenosha.—Mrs. Donald MacLean, of New York, regent general of the Daughters of the American Revolution, delivered an address before the local chapter here in which she paid high tribute to the work being done by the Wisconsin society.

Stops Selling to Minors.

Green Bay.—A crusade against saloon keepers who sell liquor to minors was inaugurated here when Mayor Minahan caused the arrest of Andrew Dalstrom. The defendant pleaded guilty and was fined five dollars and costs. Other arrests are to follow.

Small Boy Dies in Creek.

Barron.—Russel, the four-year-old son of Simon Chrelteon, drowned in a creek that crosses the yard behind their house. He was missed by his mother and a search discovered the body three blocks down stream.

Cause of Typhoid Fever Epidemic.

Marinette.—County Physician M. D. Bird called at Niagara to investigate causes for typhoid epidemic. He discovered that people had been using water from a well which was full of filth.

Sleeping Priest Is Robbed.

Manitowoc.—Rev. G. Pelligrin, of Francis Creek, was robbed of a $100 gold watch and a small sum of money by tramps. The priest was asleep in his study when a tramp entered the rear door.

Says Wife Deserted Him.

Kenosha.—John Baxter, has started a suit for divorce from his wife, alleging desertion. He claims that Mrs. Baxter deserted him after she learned that he was not a wealthy man.

Kicked by a Horse; Dies.

Prairie du Sac.—Walter Caridge was kicked in the stomach by a horse and died from his injuries. The accident occurred on a farm which he and his brother had but recently rented two miles north of the village of Dane, in Dane county. Caridge formerly lived in Spring Green.

Lutherans to Build Fine Church.

Cumberland.—The Swedish Lutherans of this city will soon build a brick and stone church. The new church will cost approximately $10,000.

ADVICE FROM FIRE CHIEF.

Best Things to Do When Caught in Burning Building.

Chief Crocker, of the New York fire brigade, offers the following advice as to conduct in case of an outbreak of fire.

"Keep cool; no matter how hot everything around you gets, retain a cool, calm equilibrium, and you'll come out all right.

"Send in the alarm immediately; do not take it for granted that some one else has rung up the fire department.

"Fight the fire yourself before the firemen arrive. Very few fires, if discovered at the outset are beyond the control of the people on the premises, if only quick, intelligent action is taken. Fight the flames with pails of water; smother them with rugs and blankets; beat them out with wet brooms.

"Block the spread of fire. If the burning room or rooms can be shut off from the rest of the building, it will take considerable time for the fire to spread. Shut all doors, transoms and windows opening on shafts, and, if possible, those to the exterior. By closing up the burning rooms you prevent draughts, and cut off a new supply of oxygen. The fire, after exhausting the oxygen, will only smoulder.

"Never ascend to the upper stories of a burning building. The upper are always the most dangerous. The smoke, superheated air and poisonous fumes which it is death to inhale, collect first in the top of the house. Fire, spreading through a building, burns straight to the roof, usually by way of the halls and stairways, and then, widening its course, eats back to the stories below. The lower floors are the safest in time of fire.

"Never try to climb up the stairs to the roof, and never open the scuttle. A hole through the roof to the open air would serve as a chimney, and magnify the conflagration almost incredibly.

"Keep out of the halls. The safe way to await the arrival of the firemen is in a room as low down in the building as you can get without risk of smoke-laden halls. Shut all doors and transoms in room in which you stay, and open the windows wide to keep the air cool and pure. If smoke breaks in, lean out of the windows. Be careful not to get excited, and not to breathe in the hot, smoking atmosphere.

"Make your way from the building if the fire is dangerous, and you can escape without braving too great heat. A wet towel held over the mouth and nostrils will enable you to live in an otherwise deadly atmosphere. But unless the fire spreads into the room you are occupying it is best to wait for outside help."

DAYS OF MALE DANDIES.

Feminine Display Outdone by Duke of Buckingham.

Until the last century, in variety and magnificence, the human male followed the rule of the lower animals that the male shall predominate in brilliance. No woman has ever ruled through pure modishness; there has never been a feminine counterpart of Beau Brummel. All varieties of exquisite are male, whether dandy, macaroni or beau—and not because they are exceptions to a general rule of sobriety, but because of a superior originality and more forcible and distinguished expression.

In the point of extravagance there never has been (until the last century) any difference between male and female costume. The duke of Buckingham took 27 suits of clothes to Paris in 1625, one of white uncut velvet set all over with diamonds worth £11,000. He also wore a diamonded feather and diamond buttons and earrings. A curious fashion for men prevailed in 1612 of ornamenting the ear with strings of black velvet ribbon, also of placing a rose behind the ear.

Nason and the Air Brakes.

It was in the time of the old Boston & Providence railroad that air brakes were first introduced, but even then railroading was so little understood that few men realized their importance. Supt. Nason of the Boston & Providence was one of these, although he had the reputation of being an eminently "practical" man. One day an agent of an air brake company was explaining to him the working of the main reservoir, but Nason could not seem to get it through his head.

"You say you pump air into it?" he inquired. "Yes," was the reply. "Well, ain't it full of air, anyhow; and how are you going to fill it any fuller? Think you can make a pail hold twice as much water by pouring more in? When a thing's full, it's full; I know what I'm talking about."

Too Much Condensed.

R. Lincoln Lippitt at a meeting of the American Automobile club was talking of a certain valuable but rare work on automobiling.

"After trying to buy the book," said Mr. Lippitt, "at every book seller's I could think of, I was told that I might perhaps get it at a certain library. They had it, sure enough, at this library, but it was out. I tried again and it was out; again, and it was still out.

"'When will I be able to get this book?' I said to the clerk at last in some impatience.

"'I'm sure I don't know,' the clerk answered, airily. 'But we've got it, all right. It's in the catalogue.'

"'Yes,' said I, 'I know it is, but in so condensed a form that I can't read it.'"

"Heat Veil" for Firemen.

One of the gravest perils which fire fighters are constantly facing is the fierce heat. After successful trials, a newly invented "heat veil" has been introduced into practice at Cologne, Germany, where 200 men have been supplied with the appliance. The veil is made after the principle of a safety lamp, with double windows. It is composed of fibers of cane, which possess the peculiar property of retaining water for a considerable length of time. The veil is made damp before being fastened to the fireman's ordinary brass helmet.

Corner Grocery Philosophy.

"It is a mighty serious thing to be a father," observed the venerable man on the grocery barrel. "If your boy turns out well your wife gets all the credit, and if he goes to the bad you got all the blame. And if he becomes famous, just as likely as not he'll disown both of you."

Patti's Sunny Philosophy.

If there is the tiniest speck of blue in the sky, and there nearly always is, I look for it, and that makes the whole heaven blue for me.

State Capital Notes

Weekly Budget Gathered by Our Special Correspondent at Madison.

Madison.—Owing to the great confusion confronting the secretary of state as to whom to place on the ballot of the "written in" candidates, the state board of canvassers, composed of Attorney General L. M. Sturdevant, Judge E. Ray Stevens and Judge Fowler of Portage met in the office of the secretary of state and certified all candidates who were written in. The second meeting of the canvassing board was necessitated by the fact that the board met early last September and certified the names of the different people nominated at that time but refused to certify the written in candidates under an opinion of the attorney general to the contrary. Since that time, however, the supreme court has reversed the opinion of the attorney general in the Pray matter of Ashland and the board was called together and certified candidates who had not filed nomination papers but who on account of receiving the largest number of votes at the primary on their respective tickets were entitled to go on the ballot. Following the meeting of the board orders were sent to the county clerks in the various districts where a candidate had been nominated by the writing in process commanding the clerks to place these candidates so nominated on the ballot.

Want Devil's Lake for Park.

The state legislature will be asked to donate $100,000 this winter for the purchase of the Devil's lake region, composed of 7,000 acres, the two principal owners being Senator William F. Vilas and L. W. Claude, both of Madison. For several years there has been a growing agitation in the state for the purchase of this land, to be used as a state park on account of the beautiful scenery. Devil's lake is situated in nearly the geographical center of southern and most thickly populated part of Wisconsin. It is four miles from the city of Baraboo and 30 miles from Madison. The region was recently explored by President Charles R. Van Hise, as a geologist. The region is picturesque and has abundance of trees and wild game. W. H. McFetridge of Baraboo, chairman of the Baraboo local committee in charge of the proposed project, is interesting the people of Madison in the undertaking. He says he has met with encouragement everywhere. "The land about the lake is owned principally by Senator Vilas, Mr. Claude and Mrs. N. C. Kirk of Kirkland," he said. "On the eastern slope of the bluff a Pennsylvania concern has installed a stone crusher. It is partly to prevent a complete destruction of the bluff that the matter should be taken up by the legislature this winter."

Carl Schurz Memorial.

A "Carl Schurz Memorial Professorship" is to be established at the University of Wisconsin as a result of the movement started by a number of prominent German-Americans. The plan is to raise an endowment of $50,000, the income of which will be used for the establishment of an annual course of lectures at the state university to be given by prominent professors of German universities. This memorial professorship to be held by German university professors will be the first of the kind in any American state university. It is hoped that the establishment of this new chair will lead to the exchange of professors between the University of Wisconsin and German universities. A similar plan of exchange of professors has just been entered upon between Columbia university and the University of Berlin, through the establishment at the University of Berlin of the Theodore Roosevelt professorship in American history.

G. B. Hill Will Edit Sphinx.

George B. Hill, '08, Milwaukee, has been elected editor of the Sphinx, the university humorous biweekly, to fill the vacancy caused by withdrawal from school of D. E. Nicholson, '07. Editor Hill last year was a member of the Sphinx, Cardinal, and Lit staffs, and is on the 1908 Badger board. D. E. Nicholson has entered the Chicago art school, but will continue to contribute to the Sphinx.

Wisconsin Nominee Ill.

Frank L. Gilbert, republican candidate for attorney general, is ill with nervous prostration in a sanitarium at Prairie du Chien, having broken down in his campaign. He is district attorney of Kane county.

Leading Questions For Debate.

A new line of work to be taken up by the Extension department of the University of Wisconsin is planned in which debating societies throughout the state will be assisted in finding material for discussion of the questions of the day, such as municipal ownership of public utilities. During the session of the legislature copies of the bills presented on new questions will be sent out, on request, with literature bearing on such questions, that they may be used as the basis for debate and discussion.

Openly Oppose Faculty.

Leading fraternity men have made definite tentative plans to hold an independent junior prom if the faculty decides to bear down on that function. Further social troubles are anticipated in the university by university dancing clubs ignoring a request of the social committee of the faculty to cease dancing at midnight and to have a chaperon. The proposed dance will run until 1 o'clock and be otherwise independent. Action by the faculty is looked for.

Delegates to Divorce Law Congress.

Gov. Davidson appointed the following delegates to attend the congress on uniform divorce law, to be held at Philadelphia on Nov. 13: E. W. Frost, Milwaukee; Judge E. R. Stevens, Madison; Senator Ernest Merton, Waukesha, and Senator A. W. Sanborn, Ashland.

Approved as Reserve Agent.

The National German-American bank of St. Paul has been approved as a reserve agent for the Fond du Lac National bank.

To Increase Mail Carriers' Salaries.

The salaries of rural mail carriers numbering 36,566 men and women, will be increased by congress at the coming session, if a recommendation that will be submitted by Postmaster General Cortelyou is put into the form of a law. The present salaries range from about $500 a year to a maximum of $720. It is certain that the maximum will be increased and that the increases will be recommend for carriers in all grades. In Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Indiana, Illinois, and Michigan, and the Dakotas there are 13,619 routes in operation with a corresponding number of carriers. In Wisconsin there are 1,484 carriers, in Michigan, 1,883; in Illinois, 2,731, in Indiana 2,178, and in Minnesota, 1,172. The rural carriers have been clamoring for some time for increased salary, claiming that the increased cost of living and the expense to which they are put in purchasing equipment justified additional compensation.

May Cut Junior Prom.

Investigations to ascertain the expenditures of university students at prom time are being carried on by members of the social committee of the faculty, and from present indications it is not at all improbable that the annual social event given under the auspices of the junior class will be shorn of some of its expensive details. The members of the committee are at present consulting with various students in order to ascertain the expense incidental to house parties, banquets, and other social events of prom week. It has been intended that in case the committee decides that the prom is too extravagant a feature, some of the adjuncts to the function will be eliminated by a change in date. It has been suggested that the prom be held at commencement time. This would do away with house parties to a great extent.

Milwaukee Banks' Good Showing.

Federal officials are elated over requests which came from national banks in Milwaukee proposing to take advantage of the recent offer made by Secretary Shaw for exchanging federal bonds for other high grade securities provided the national bonds were left as security for additional circulation. The offer from Milwaukee contemplates the issuance of $700,000 in additional circulation in accordance with Secretary Shaw's plan. The interesting feature of the announcement is that this is the largest offer to come from the middle west and the most generous response to come from the banks of any single city of the west. The names of the banks and the amounts which will be allotted to them are details which the department does not make public.

Election Day Not Legal Holiday.

"Election day is not a legal holiday on which the schools of the state are closed." This is the opinion given by State Superintendent of Schools C. P. Cary. He declares that the statutes specifically excludes general election day from the list of legal holidays for schools. Primary election day must be called a legal holiday for schools he declared. In the absence of any specific statute or direction to the contrary. In the same opinion Superintendent Cary decided that a school board had the right to require a teacher to remain in the school building during the noon hour to prevent the pupils from destroying school furniture and property.

Prepare Insurance Report.

State Senator James R. Frear, candidate for secretary of state; Assemblyman George E. Beedle of Embarass, candidate for insurance commissioner; Assemblyman W. H. Braddock of Mather, and Assemblyman H. L. Ekern of Trempealeau, have been in Milwaukee framing up the report of their insurance investigations as the special state legislative committee. The report will be turned over to the governor within a few weeks.

Boys Barred From Bowling Alleys.

Boys under 16 years of age will no longer be permitted to set up pins in bowling alleys, according to a ruling just made by the state factory inspector. It is claimed that the work is too hard for boys under this age, especially during the hours in which it is done. All violators of the order will be punished.

For Catholic Chapel at University.

Milwaukee Catholics, as well as those in other parts of the state, will be asked to assist in the erection of a Catholic chapel for students at the University of Wisconsin. The Rev. H. C. Hengell, who was appointed several weeks ago to take charge of the student work at Madison, was in Milwaukee to confer with Archbishop S. G. Messmer on the project. It is his intention to begin the campaign for funds in Milwaukee immediately. "We need about $75,000," said the Rev. Father Hengell.

Road Gives State $100,010.

The Chicago & Northwestern Railroad deposited with the Secretary of State a check for $100,010, the fee for filing a record of its recent increase of capital stock from $100,000,000 to $200,000,000. The Wisconsin statutes provide for a fee of $1 for each $1,000 of increase.

Portage County District Attorney.

George B. Nelson, of Amherst was appointed district attorney for Portage county, to fill the unexpired term of Gerhard Dahl, resigned.

Bursting Saw Deals Death.

Boyd.—Chris Esslinger, a well-known farmer, was killed here by the bursting of a circular wood saw, a piece of which flew and struck him in the neck, cutting deeply through the jugular vein and downward into his body. He died instantly.

Prairie du Chien Banker Dead.

Prairie du Chien.—Aaron Denio, aged 82 years, former banker and a veteran of the civil war, died suddenly of pneumonia.

NewspaperARCHIVE®

NewspaperARCHIVE®

AMONG CRANBERRY MEN.

EDITED BY W. H. FITCH.

[All communications and special exchanges relating to this department should be sent to Cranmoor, Wood County, Wis.]

General Notes.

All the cranberries now in the hands of Wisconsin growers have been sold. Some have finished cleaning and shipping and nearly all will be through shipping the last of this week.

Although the crop has been a very large one, the prices realized have been unusually good. There is nothing in the history of the growing of cranberries quite equal to this year, and in view of the size of the crop, it is difficult to explain the prices realized.

Through the influence of the Sales Co., and its successful agent, A. U. Chaney, more cranberries were sold this year in that part of Canada known as the Northwest Territory, than was sold there in all the years heretofore.

More Wisconsin berries were sold on the Pacific Coast this year than sold there during the previous ten years taken together. Wisconsin cranberries this year went into Texas and other southern states where they were never sold before.

This broad distribution of the crop prevented a glut of the market at the usual distributing centers and places where cranberries were sold heretofore, and this broad distribution of the crop was made possible by the great reduction in freight rates that the Sales Co. has been able to secure and by a judicious advertising of the Wisconsin berries begun in May last and continued up to the present.

There is no doubt and can be no doubt in the mind of any intelligent man that a perishable commodity can be got from the producers to the consumers thru organized effort in better shape than if left to the haphazard methods of each one acting for himself. Organized co-operative action has been of great advantage to the orange growers of California, to the grape growers of Northern New York, and even the cultivation and growing of strawberries has been greatly facilitated and the business made a success in localities where it could not thrive had it not been for organized system of distribution.

The Sales Co. has been a great success. It has come to stay, and even those growers who have not contributed to sustain it, are enjoying its benefits, and will probably come in and join it later.

"The Dew Point."

The dew point is of great importance to cranberry growers in predicting frosts, and in the packing and shipping of berries. We suspect that it is not clearly understood by a great many of them.

The air carries in solution a certain amount of water in the form of vapor that varies in amount from day to day, just the same as water can carry in solution a certain amount of salt, or alcohol a certain amount of camphor gum, without affecting its transparency or becoming visible, or just the same as water is capable of carrying a certain amount of air in solution, sufficient to support fishes and other animals that breathe by means of gills.

We refer to this moisture in the air by saying the air is dry, or it is damp. We speak of it as a dry air when the quantity of vapor in it is far below its capacity for holding moisture, and we speak of it as a damp air when the amount of moisture in it is nearly as much as it is capable of carrying in solution. This damp air is referred to in winter as a chilly one, and on a hot day in summer, as a sultry one.

The capacity of the air for holding moisture varies with its temperature, and what would be called a dry air in summer at a temperature of 90 degrees, if this air was reduced down to a temperature of 60, might become a very damp air, might become so damp that it would deposit its moisture on all cool, smooth surfaces, making them wet and even causing a growth of mildew if they continued moist for a considerable length of time.

If the cranberries in a cranberry house are allowed to cool down to a temperature of, say, 40 degrees, and this may be done by allowing the night air to circulate through the berries, and if later, when those cold nights are followed by warm days, we allow the warm air to pass into a cranberry house when it is at a temperature of 75 or 80 degrees, the chances are that these cold berries in the cranberry house will reduce the temperature of that warm air below the dew point, and the excess of the moisture that is in this air will be deposited on the cranberries and they will become wet in the boxes.

The same thing is true if we put our cranberries in barrels at a temperature below 15 degrees and load them on the cars at that temperature, before they reach their destination, or even after they reach their destination, if they are exposed to a temperature of 80 or 85 degrees the moisture in the air is almost sure to be deposited upon them and they may reach the retail grocer sopping wet, although they were perfectly dry when put up by the grower. It would be a simple matter for each grower in packing to put a thermometer into his barrels deep enough down among the berries to ascertain their temperature before loading them on the cars, and if they are below 45 degrees, it will be prudence for him to hold them until the temperature is somewhere between 45 and 50 degrees before letting them go to any point at which they are likely to be exposed to a temperature of 85 degrees.

There is no set of rules that we can devise that will serve as a reliable guide to the uneducated grower in all cases. He must study this subject until he has a full, clear comprehension of what is meant by the dew point. It is not the quantity of moisture in the air, but it is the relative quantity, the quantity that is actually in it as compared with the quantity it is capable of carrying at the given temperature. What would be a very dry air at summer heat, with the same amount of vapor in it would be a very damp air at a winter temperature.

The atmosphere does not begin to deposit this moisture on objects before its temperature is reduced below the dew point, and this dew point temperature is constantly varying. It is usually much higher in summer than it is in winter. If the temperature is reduced much below the dew point, the surplus water in the air which it is not able to carry as transparent vapor, becomes visible as fog or cloud. If the temperature is but little below the dew point and descends gradually, this fog is deposited on objects that are cooler than the air, and is not usually visible to the naked eye. We then speak of it as dew. Hence, we speak of objects as becoming wet with dew. While if the temperature descends very rapidly and passes far below the dew point, the moisture becomes visible as fog, and we say things are wet by the fog.

Job Printing at Tribune office.

HANSEN.

The town authorities are doing some much needed patching up of roads in this vicinity.

D. Jones has moved his family from the farmstead in the woods to Burnett's march where he has a year's contract.

C. Uhlman returned this week from an extended visit to his old boyhood haunts in Dodge county.

E. Dietz came back to his farm on the Rapids road, having given up the idea that some other fellow can run a fellow's farm as well as he can. With him came his wife and a friend and his wife who, we understand, intend making Hansen a permanent home.

Anyone having any superfluous moving to do, call on L. C. Otto. He seems to be right in the business of late.

F. H. Otto moved his family and household effects from Hansen to a place that he purchased at Grand Rapids Saturday, having sold his farm of 14 acres. The family will make a valuable addition to the population of the Rapids and we regret to see them go from here.

Adolph Albert, who was recently married, has moved into the property of his purchase vacated by Frank Otto.

A state creamery inspector was here last week giving the boys in this vicinity a general packing up.

Al and George Maske have gone to Park Falls to put in the winter.

Aug. Kelp left with his family and whatever of his farm effects which were not disposed of at the auction for his new home near Milwaukee Thursday. We understand the purchaser of Mr. Kelp's place will move up before winter sets in.

Can you hear the rumble and roar, the reverberations of the earth after the rally at Seneca corners Sunday afternoon.

Passers by will notice that about all Frank Otto left on the premises here Saturday was a lonely, forlorn unpainted baby's cradle. Possibly Frank imagines he won't need it again, having moved away from the allurement influences at Hemlock creek, but it is well to be prepared in case of necessity and this bold stroke of impartiality won't go with "two of the clan."

A. J. Dameron intends moving his family to Arpin before snow flies. He says the creamery business is first class and says the Jewish colony at Arpin is furnishing a good share of his patronage.

Trot out your candidate.

BIRON.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Klappa and children spent Sunday with Mrs. Joe Kirkland of your city.

Nicholas Richards and wife of your city Sundayed with Curtis Crotteau and family.

Miss Kate Lawreure of Rudolph spent Sunday in this burg the guest of her sister Mrs. Willie Provost.

Miss Edith Corner spent Sunday at her home in Rudolph.

Stephen Snyder and family spent Sunday in your city, the guests of Mr. and Mrs William DeMars.

Earl Sweeney and wife spent Sunday with Miss Hattie Sweeney in your city.

Stephen Snyder is now on a deer hunt. He left Tuesday and will spend two weeks hunting.

Parley McCermick is moving his family back to this place, having resided in your city for some time past.

SHERRY

The teachers of the graded school gave a halloween party for their scholars and all had a good time.

Mrs F. Parks and baby Ruth and Miss Huchius spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. O. Leroux and family.

Mr. McKenzie went to Marshal Friday and returned Sunday.

Walter Cline, who has been away from home for about two years, returned last week.

Lewis Puterson is back from Dakota.

Mrs O. Leroux and Mrs. J. Roy drove to Milladore last Friday.

Lewis Varsho, who has been an invalid for about six years, has gone to Fond du Lac to a sanatarium.

Died at Plainfield.

Mrs. Susan McCoog, died at her home in Plainfield Tuesday morning of heart trouble after a short illness. Deceased was 68 years of age and was a resident of this city a few years ago, her husband dying while living here. The remains will be brought to this city for burial in the Catholic cemetery, services to be held from St. Peter and Pauls' church Thursday at 11 o'clock.

The Baptist society has been getting along nicely with their new church during the past few weeks. Work on the roof has been in progress during the past few days and a gang of men are now engaged in shingling, and it will not be long before this part of the work is completed. All of the mason work with the exception of that on the tower has been completed, and the edifice begins to take on quite a handsome appearance.

PORT EDWARDS

A party of young people from Grand Rapids were down here for a lark Halloween night and by all reports furnished some of the residents with amusement for several hours. It seems that while in the act of cutting up the usual capers on an occasion of this kind one of the husky denizens appeared on the scene with a club and his better half with a butcher knife. Several of the young men immediately grabbed Mr. Man, whereupon his wife commenced cutting up all kinds of capers, winding up by yelling, "they will be sorry if they kill you Chris." The neighbors say they enjoyed the scene very much.

Surprised Their Friend.

A surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Waldvogel last Sunday evening. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Passano, Mr. and Mrs. F. Schultz, Mr. and Mrs. E. Gillmaster, Mr. and Mrs. G. Sharbano, D. Retland, Miss Ellen Goucher, Miss Belle Campel, Miss Ella Henke, Miss Aurelia Hopp of Marshfield and Mrs. O. Campbell of Nekoosa.

Supper was served at eleven o'clock and after supper many games were played and all left at a late hour reporting a very good time.

Stock Fair Tuesday.

The next regular stock fair will be held on the east side in this city on Tuesday, Nov. 13. Farmers and others who have stock to sell are requested to bring the same in on this date, as it is expected that there will be a good attendance. Several fresh milch cows are wanted in the city and it is expected that those will be in good demand on that day.

The program for the event has not been arranged at this time, but there will be a list of prizes the same as heretofore for display. Dont' forget the place and date. Next Tuesday on the east side market square.

James Carrington was removed to his home from the hospital on Monday. He is getting along nicely and his many friends hope to see him out soon.

A few of the neighbors gave a surprise party on Mrs. Carl Olson, of Arcadia Monday evening. A very pleasant evening was had by all present.

Mrs. Clarissa Arpin is visiting with relatives in Appleton this week.

Mrs. F. Kaminski of Wild Rose is a guest at the Wheir home on the west side this week.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Ted Johnson of the east side on Friday.

Mrs. Geo. E. Hoskinson and Mrs. F. MacKinnon are at Manistique where they went to attend the wedding of a relative.

Eggert & Pratt have sold 200 acres of their drainage land to the town of Grant to Edward Shaver.

—A special sale on street and dress hats, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 9 and 10. Miss E. G. Reed.

C. F. Nebel of Marquette, Mich., has accepted a position as electrician with C. M. Dougherty, the contractor.

Mrs. John Ketchum of Marshfield visited Mrs. Theo. Brazeau several days during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Love of Milwaukee are visiting relatives in the city this week.

—Chrysanthemum plants and blossoms—FINE—for sale at Riverdale farm. Drop us a card or come and see them.

Announcement has been made of the coming marriage of Miss Celia Estella McCarthy to Albert Baptiste Bever, to take place Wednesday, November 14th, at St. Peter and Paul's church.

Mrs. Wm Collier entertained the 6inch club at her home on First St. on Tuesday evening. About 20 ladies were present and the evening was spent in playing 6inch after which refreshments were served.

The teachers of the Baptist Sunday school entertained their pupils at a Halloween party at the church parlors last Wednesday evening. A very good time was had by all those in attendance.

On Sunday evening a telegram was received by Grant Beardsley announcing the death of his brother, Vila Beardsley, by drowning. Mr. Beardsley left that evening for Rice Lake where the man was drowned. It seems the deceased had been at that place camping and had gone over the river to get some supplies and on his return was, in some unknown way drowned. Word was received Tuesday evening that the body had not yet been found.

Visiting relatives in this city for a few days.

Mrs. E. C. Ketchum underwent a slight operation at the Riverview hospital on Sunday morning, Drs. Harvie and Hougen performing the work. At this writing Mrs. Ketchum is getting along very nicely.

Mrs. Buddle has accepted a position as clerk in the Drug department of the Johnson & Hill store.

Teeth Extracted Without Pain

The Greatest invention of the age for suffering humanity. No danger from colds, no soreness of gums, no physical debility thereafter. Fifteen years an experienced specialist.

DR. E. R. PERKINS

Has just returned from a successful visit to the largest cities in Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois, where he extracted thousands of teeth regardless of the hundreds of Local Dentists, their antiquated methods and Distant claims.

Hereafter we will make a spring and fall visit to the smaller and a Summer and winter visit to the larger cities.

Our Method is Positively Safe and Painless and Free of Charge if not Satisfactory to the Patient.

No other like it in the entire west. No other operator with so great a reputation, skill or experience as an extractor. The one man of all in whose hands to place your extracting for unequalled results.

Fall Visits Now Being Done. No Other Until Spring. Call Early.

Hotel Witter

Saturday, Nov. 24.

HOURS 9 to 4

LADY ATTENDANT

Celebrated Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. John Broomstedt of Kellner celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Oct. 28th, when a number of guests assembled at their home and spent a very pleasant time. Among those who were in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Broomstedt and daughter Carrie of Rhinelander, Chris Broomstedt, the two Charley Broomstedts, Rev. Krusche, wife and son, and Louis Peterson, Charles Margeson and wife and Mrs. Dan Case.

At the Methodist Church.

The first quarterly conference of the Methodist church will occur on Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, when the presiding elder, Perry Millar will be present. Mr. Millar will also be at the prayer meeting in the evening when he will speak on Home Missions in Wisconsin.

On Sunday the services will consist of a love feast in the morning at 9:30 o'clock with preaching at 10:30. The pastor will conduct the services.

10 21 6t 11 28

State of Wisconsin, Wood County In Circuit Court

August Kemp & Sophia Kemp, Plaintiffs, vs.

Cyrus Woodman and Charlotte F. Woodman his wife, and all the heirs at law of Cyrus Woodman, Charlotte F. Woodman, if any and each and every and all unknown owners and claimants of the lands in the complaint in this action described or any parcel or parcels thereof, Defendants

The State of Wisconsin: To the said Defendants:

You are hereby summoned to appear within twenty days after service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and defend the above entitled action in the court aforesaid; and in case of your failure so to do, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the complaint; of which a copy is herewith served upon you.

J. J. Jeffrey,
Plaintiff's Attorney

P. O. Grand Rapids, Wood County, Wisconsin

Note: To you the defendants named in the above entitled action and to the above and foregoing summons and to each of you:

Take notice that the following is a description of the real estate and premises affected by the above entitled action commenced by said summons, to-wit:

The W½ of SW¼ of Section twenty three (23), Twp. twenty-three (23) north of R range No. four (4) east.

Further take notice that the summons and complaint to said action was duly filed in the office of the clerk of said court at the city of Grand Rapids, in said Wood County, Wisconsin on the 20th day of October, A. D. 1906, and has the to continued and examined and now remains on file in that office.

Further take notice that said action is brought to quiet and establish the plaintiff's title to said lands and each and every tract thereof against any claim and all claims of said defendants or any or either of them to said lands and to each and every parcel thereof and to forever bar and cut off said defendants and each and every and all of said defendants from having or claiming any right or title to or interest to said lands adverse to said plaintiffs. And plaintiffs here refer to said complaint for the full facts on which this action is based and for a more full description of the land affected.

Dated October 20, A. D. 1906.

J. J. Jeffrey,
Attorney for Plaintiff

10 12-By 11 7

State of Wisconsin- County Court for Wood County.

In Probate

In the matter of the estate of Damase Ratelle, deceased.

Letters testamentary on the estate of said Damase Ratelle, deceased, having been granted and issued to Nicholas Ratelle on the 16th day of October 1906, it is now at this special term of this court, ordered, that all creditors of said Damase Ratelle, deceased, do present their claims for examination and allowance to this court on or before the 6th day of May, 1907, which time is hereby allowed and limited for that purpose.

Ordered further, that the claims and demands of all persons against said deceased be presented to, received, examined and adjusted by this court at the regular May term thereof to be held at the probate office in the city of Grand Rapids in said County, on the first Tuesday, being the 7th day of May, 1907.

And it is further ordered, That notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be received, examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time limited for creditors to present their claims be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice for four successive weeks in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a weekly newspaper published at the city of Grand Rapids, in said county, the first publication to be within fifteen days from the date of this order.

Dated October 16th, 1906.

By the Court,
W. J. Conway
County Judge

D. D. Conway
Atty. for Executor

10 31-1w-11-21

State of Wisconsin—County Court for Wood County.

In Probate.

In the matter of the Estate of Ellen A. Payne, deceased.

Letters of administration on the estate of said Ellen A. Payne, deceased, having been granted and issued to Roland S. Payne on the 16th day of October, 1906, it is now, at this term of this court, ordered, that all creditors of said Ellen A. Payne deceased, do present their claims for examination and allowance to this court on or before the 9th day of May, 1907, which time is hereby allowed and limited for that purpose.

Ordered Further, that the claims and demands of all persons against said deceased be presented to, received, examined and adjusted by this court at the regular May term thereof to be held at the probate office in the city of Grand Rapids, in said county, on the first Tuesday, being the 7th day of May, 1907.

And it is further ordered that notice of the time and place at which said claims and demands will be received, examined and adjusted as aforesaid, and of the time limited for creditors to present their claims, be given by publishing a copy of this order and notice for four successive weeks in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a weekly newspaper published at the city of Grand Rapids, in said county, the first publication to be within fifteen days from the date of the order.

Dated October 16th, 1906

By the Court,
W. J. CONWAY
County Judge

J. J. JEFFREY,
Atty. for Estate

9-20 3w

County Court—In Probate.

STATE OF WISCONSIN } ss
IN
WOOD COUNTY COURT }

In the matter of the last Will and Testament of Frank Krzewina, deceased.

WHEREAS, An instrument in writing, purporting to be the last will and testament of Frank Krzewina, deceased, late of Rudolph, Wood County, Wisconsin, has been filed in this office,

AND WHEREAS, Application has been made by Barnes Wenir, nee Krzewina, praying that the same be proven and admitted to probate, according to the laws of this state, and that letters testamentary be granted thereon according to law.

IT IS ORDERED, That said application be heard before this Court, at a special term thereof, to be held at the probate office, in the city of Grand Rapids, Wisconsin, on the 30th day of October, A. D. 1906, at 10 o'clock a. m.

AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED, That notice of the time and place appointed for hearing said application be given to all persons interested, by publishing a copy of this order for three weeks successively in the Grand Rapids Tribune, a newspaper printed and published in said county, previous to said hearing.

Dated Sept. 25th, 1906.

By the Court,
D. D. CONWAY
Atty.
W. J. CONWAY
County Judge

Pneumonia Follows a Cold

but never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar. It stops the cough, heals and strengthens the lungs and prevents pneumonia. Daly Drug & Jewelry Co.

10 21 6t 11 28

State of Wisconsin, Wood County Circuit Court.

SUMMONS

Frank Pinfort, Plaintiff

vs.

Eliza Young, Maggie Young, Mattie Young, Bailey Young and Young, his wife, John W Young and Young, his wife, James Young and Young, his wife, Lizzie Young, Arthur Young and Young, his wife, Dubolin Young and Young, his wife, being all the heirs at law of John S Young, deceased, and the unknown owners of the N½ of the NE¼, of the SE¼, of Section No. 25 in Township No. 24 and Range No. 3, E

Defendants

The State of Wisconsin to the above named defendants and to each of them:

You are hereby summoned to appear within twenty (20) days after service of this summons exclusive of the day of service, and defend the above entitled action in the court aforesaid; and in case of your failure so to do, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demands of the complaint.

O. G. Jackson,
Plaintiff's Attorney

P. O. Address, Antigo, Wis

The dealer can tell you the merits of these goods better than we can explain them in an advertisement.

It costs you nothing to see them at the following stores:

A. P. HIRZY,
J. E. DALY

CITY MEAT MARKET!

Fresh, Salt and Smoked

MEATS.

All kinds of Fish, Poultry and Sausages. Cash paid for Hides and Pelts. Prompt delivery of orders, wholesale and retail.

N. REILAND,

TEL. 275. EAST SIDE. GRAND RAPIDS, WIS

ISAAC P. WITTER, PRESIDENT.
GEO. W. MEAD, VICE-PRESIDENT.
E. B. REDFORD CASHIER.
W. G. SCHROEDEL, ASS. CASHIER.

[Established 1888]

Bank of Grand Rapids

[WEST SIDE]

CAPITAL, $50,000.
SURPLUS, $7,000

"It's what you save, not what you earn, that makes wealth." Investigate our system of Home Savings Banks."

YOUR BUSINESS SOLICITED.

H. W. BARKER'S COUGH CATARRH CONSUMPTION REMEDY 25¢ WILL KNOCK THAT AWFUL COUGH, CATARRH, SORE THROAT, AND LA GRIPPE. SO THAT THEY WILL STAY KNOCKED. MANUFACTURED AT SPARTA, WIS. FOR SALE AT YOUR DRUG STORE.

Fur Sale!

Heineman Mercantile Co.

Wed., Nov. 14,'06

J. C. Borwell, representing Jacob Laskin & Co., one of the largest fur houses in the east, will give us a big fur sale on the above date. He will have with him a big line of

Fur Coats

in Seal Skin, Otter, Krimmer, Russian Pony, Astrachar, Etc, Also will have a fine line of Collars, Muff, Etc.

Don't miss this sale if you contemplate buying anything in Furs. Come and see the goods anyway. It costs nothing to look and if we can't please you in styles and prices it will not be our fault.

HEINEMAN MERCANTILE CO.

GRAND RAPIDS, WISCONSIN

Three of a Kind

Wouldn't seem to beat two pair, in this case. But any old-timer, who has "sat in" with a little party "just to make the play a bit more interesting," will tell you that they always do. But we aren't worrying about what can

Beat Two Pair

one of a kind is all we have and all we want. Of course we've switched the subject and are talking about business now—our own business, too. We aren't caring what else does in business. We intend to do the square thing. We aren't the kind to hold an ace or two up our sleeves. Our stock of Building Material of all kinds can't be beat. In other words it is a royal flush. If you ask those who have dealt with us in the past, they

Any One

Will Tell You

that our Lumber, Sash, Doors, Blinds, Lath, Shingles, Mouldings and everything else you could possibly use in building anything whatsoever are of the best. The best of everything. That's what we sell. Don't we get the jack-pot?

GRAND RAPIDS LUMBER CO.

GRAND RAPIDS, WIS., EAST SIDE.

H. Rablin, Manager east side yard. H. A. Sampson, west side yard.

1 CARLOAD OF BBL. APPLES ON TRACK TO-DAY

AND WILL BE SOLD AT

$2.25 to $2.75

Per Barrel.

A Carload of Flour on Track

AND WILL BE SOLD BY

JOHNSON & HILL CO.

FOR $3.90 per bbl.

THIS IS A NO. 1 PATENT FLOUR TRY IT.

BULK APPLES GALORE SOLD three cars in two weeks.

We have put price down so every one can reach them

PICKED APPLES 50c PER Bu.

REMEMBER Cyclone Flour $3.90 per bbl.

DRUMB & SUTOR, Publishers.

Copyright 1906 by H. Leopold Mayer

Are You From Missouri? We

YOUNG MA

What is it that makes a young man on the streets?

What is it that makes you admire him, he got that elegant suit and what he is

"It is nothing more or less than ad

In ninety-nine cases out of a hu one of OUR STYLES THAT FIT BUILD, HIGHT, COMPLETION A LIFE.

If you will put yourself in our hand have the reputation of being "a co you'll save money besides.

Dozens of styles to se

$8.50 to 25

JOHNSON

Ladies'

One Week Sa
Saturday Nove

Commencing next S with specially reduced pri Dressing Sacks, Kimonas every lady in this vicinity No. 1 in every respect and are cut to cost. We quote

Wrappers and Dressing Sack

Fleeced-lined wrappers worth $1.00, at this sale 65

Fleece lined wrappers worth $1.25 to $1.50, cut below cost 95

Fleeced-lined dressing sacks worth 75c, marked down to 39

Fleece-lined dressing sacks worth 85c to $1.00, marked down to 79

Don't forget we are in Ladies' and Childre new arrivals. Respect

Heinema

GRAND RAPIDS

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®